

A Weekly Record of its News, its Work, and its Thought.

Living

Vol. III. No. 26.

CHICAGO, 162 Washington St.

SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1881.

NEW YORK, No. 40 Bible House

WHOLE NO. 133.

"Simply Trusting; That is All."

Written for the Living Church.

I do not guide my fragile bark; I could not steer clear of the strand, The raging whirlpools, shoals of sand; And I should greatly fear the dark.

When billows high around me roll, I should grow faint and sick with fears. My eyes would hold such floods of tears, I should grow blind and lose control.

And I should drift afar aud near, The sport of every idle gale; too, some pirate-ship might hail, And then, ah me! what fate so drear? I, too.

But now. I neither know nor care Whether the sea be wild or calm, Whether the winds blow bane or balm, Or whether skies be dark or fair.

For there is One sits at the helm, Who fears not shoals, nor storm, nor dark; To port. He'll safely guide my bark, And suffer naught to overwhelm. MILDRED MAYNE. Moravia, N. Y.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

A Royal Wedding.-The Czar and his Trials.-The Nihilists .- The Ex-Cannibals of Fiji.

They have been celebrating a grand wedding in Vienna; and in these days of Nihilism and buried beside every post of a chief's new house, contempt of royalties, it must have been a great consolation to the Emperor and Empress to have witnessed such a display of popular loyalty. The Viennese literally lost their heads with joy and excitement. The contracting parties were Rudolph, the heir to the Austrian throne, and Stephanie, the pretty daughter of the King of Belgium. She, brought up in quiet and retirement, was rather overcome by all the noise and pomp; and at the Altar, fairly broke down and sobbed aloud. This is a very unusual thing in the case of royal personages; for they are taught, above all things else, to control the feelings, and of course it made a great sensation, and all the missionary work in the way they do. Now, you ladies in church considered it their bounden duty to follow her example, and there was quite find the same cordial reception by kindly men a display of white handkerchiefs, and a good and women. Every village on the eighty inhabdeal of "gush."

The new Czar of Russia is having a hard time of it. It was quite enough to have Nihilism on his hands; but he has, in addition, a revolution in the Baltic provinces; a flood along the Dwina; a tremendous anti-Jew war in Southern Russia, all the Jews flying for their lives. He does not seem to have any personal fear; and the other day drove out in an open carriage, without a guard. It looks bad for him, however, when a nobleman can speak as one spoke at the meeting of the district of Samara to take the oath. "When its members, thirty-seven in number, had taken the oaths to the new Emperor, the President, M. Yourasoff, proposed that a loyal address should be drawn up, expressing condolence on the assassination of Alexander II., and congratulation on the accession of Alexander III:, M. Shdanoff, the representative of the nobility in the Bussulouk district, expressed the opinion that the moment was inopportune, 'for,' he added, 'in the course of the last few years we have sent five addresses without any result. Nor did they express our true feelings. What was then, and still is, in our minds, remains unspoken.' M. Naoumoff also spoke against the proposal, saying: 'Words cannot express what is now in our thoughts. We know not what awaits us. Rather than repeat empty formalities we should remain silent.' The President insisting, another member, M. Noutadoff, referred to the responsibility for the addresses. 'Did we in them.' he observed, 'say a word about burdensome taxes laid upon the peasants, oppression of labor by capital, absence of all guarantee for personal safety? No. Then if we say nothing of these things, better hold our tongues altogether.' "The whole assembly, with the exception of three members, including the President, voted against the proposed address. This bold declaration of opinion (says the correspondent) is very significant of what is now going on in the provinces. There is no doubt that what M. Shdanoff alone has ventured to express aloud will find an echo from Archangel to the Caucasus." The execution of the assassins of Alexander did not go off smoothly. There was a rush made at the police in several places, and ladies waved their handkerchiefs at the prisoners from very many windows. It seems to be a mistake, that all the Nihilists are atheists. These all accepted the services of clergymen, and kissed the crucifix in their last moments. Some details as to the manner in which they passed their last day are as follows: "Reesokaff asked for three wax tapers, such as are carried in church, a copy of the New Testament, and one of the small consecrated loaves that are made and sold by the monks. When not praying, he smoked cigarettes, and in the course of the day, offered his services to the government as a spy. Sheliaboff spent his time in writing page after page about the trial, committing to paper what he was not allowed to utter in his speech-a vain labor. Peroffskaya wrote to her mother to waste no devoted his last hours to drawing up a memoir on the subject of his discoveries, which he addressed to the High Court of Justice. In this document, he avowed his desire that his name should be immortalised; and he made a gift of his inventions to the State, on condition that all profits should go to the amelioration of the lot of the children of political criminals."

Miss Gordon Cumming, the sister of the man who was in the habit of bagging six or seven lions and an elephant or two every day, in South Africa, has written a book on the Fiji Islands. It is most interesting. As regards the cannibalism, that is all over; but, now and then, a lingering regret for the human fleshpots is shown; as where we are told how "a horrible old ex-cannibal crept close to Mr. Langham, and then, as if he could not refrain, put out his hand and fifty barrels of cider, for the production of which stroked him down the thigh, licking his lips and there was "a screw-press and cider mill of a new exclaiming with delight, 'Oh, but you are nice and fat.' " They always ate human flesh with a sort of tomato sauce. One chief had eaten fortyeight; but, becoming a Christian, was compelled to change his diet. Miss Cumming says: "Think of the sick buried alive; the array of widows who were deliberately strangled on the death of never built, by the Jamaica Church-folk. It any great man; the living victims who were and must needs stand clasping it, while the earth was gradually heaped over their devoted heads; or those who were bound hand and foot, and laid on the ground to act as rollers, when a chief launched a new canoe, and thus doomed to a death of excruciating agony; a time when there was not the slightest security for life or property, and no man knew how quickly his own hour of doom might some; when whole villages were depopulated simply to supply their neighbors with fresh meat! Just think of all this, and of the change that has been wrought, and then just imagine white men who can sneer at may pass from isle to isle, certain everywhere to ited isles has built for itself a tidy church, and a good house for its teacher or native minister, for whom the village also provides food and cloth-Can you realise that there are nine huning. dred Wesleyan churches in Fiji, at every one of which the frequent Services are crowded by devout congregations; that the schools are well attended; and that the first sound which greets your ear at dawn, and the last at night, is that of hymn-singing and most fervent worship, rising from each dwelling at the hour of family prayer?"

The Late Mrs. Paddock. COMMEMORATION SERVICE.

Special Service, with Celebration of the

A

THE EARLY AMERICAN BISHOPS. A Series of Biographical Sketches.

BY THE BISHOP OF IOWA. [Copyright by William Stevens Perry, 1881.] CHAPTER VI.

We have a glimpse of the home of Mr. Seabury at this period of his life. It was situated half a mile east of the village of Jamaica, on a "plantation" comprising twenty-eight acres of good land. The dwelling house was good, one end of it new. In the description it was styled "genteel." The "dry cellar under the whole house" was a noticeable feature. There was a well of good water, a new barn and a smokehouse. The orchard was large enough to make invention that grinds fifty barrels of apples in an hour." Besides the homestead there were "fourteen acres of woodland two miles from the farm, and eight acres of salt meadow that cuts twenty loads of salt hay." This was not the "glebe" nor was this the "parsonage," promised, but was the clergyman's own (1) property. The picturing one can conjure up in mind from these details is that of a pleasant old-time home, with its abounding good cheer, and roaring fires, and downy beds and sheets redolent of lavender and well-filled "dressers" and "presses" and stately spare chambers" and earved Mahogany furniture in the well-kept "sitting-room," and the cozy study, with its shelves laden with the folios and quartos of Anglican Theology. The Jamaica "rectory" must have been an attractive home. The dignified and courtly Commissary, Dr. Henry Barclay, the rector of Trinity Church, must have been a visitor there from time to time. Here too, doubtless, came the good and learned Dr. Samuel Johnson, first president of King's College, in New York, and the father of the Connecticut Church. To him Seabury was especially endeared as the classmate and personal friend of his youngest son, who died of the smallpox in England, where he had gone for Orders after graduation. With him may have come the witty and accomp ished Myles Cooper, afterwards LL.D., and c anson's successor at King's. Possibly Abraha's Jarvis, just admitted to Orders, who was to be a life-long friend and his successor in the Episcopate, made here his first acquaintance with the already distinguished young clergyman, like himself, of Connecticut birth and training. We cannot doubt but that Thomas Bradbury Chandler, who received his Doctorate from the University of Oxford but a little later, and who was the intimate friend through life of the rector of Jamaica, came here at times to talk over in the pleasant study or be-preaching," of which the records give us the following particulars:

"Met at John Comes's inn, 1764, September 3, Samuel Smith and John Troup, Church-wardens; William Sherlock, Benjamin Whitehead, Thos. Hinchman, John Comes, Robert Howel, Thomas and Richard Betts, Vestrymen.

There having been a good deal of contention and uneasiness in the parish between the three towns concerning the turns of Divine Service, it is proposed for the sake of uniting all in brotherly love and peace:

1. That Newton and Flushing each have service at their chapels everythird Sunday, except it fall on Christmas, Easter, or Whitsun-day;

2. Besides preaching at Jamaica every third Sunday, the minister will return from Newtown or Flushing and preach at Jamaica in the afternoon, winter and summer: all which he can do if the people are punctual in attending. Thus the Jamaica people will have service every Sunday. This will, the rector hopes, be agreeable to the Vestrymen of Jamaica, and will take off a great load of odium and reproach from-Samuel Seabury. (4)

Agreed to for one year by the Vestry, and afterwards during pleasure

The condition of Hempstead, since his honored father's death, had not been overlooked by the rector of Jamaica, and the following letter on file among the archives of the Venerable Society displays the laudable anxiety on his part, that his father's place should be worthily filled:

JAMAICA, L. I., June 28, 1765.

REV. SIR:-The enclosed petitions from the Church-wardens and Vestrymen of the parish of Hempstead, I have been desired by them to forward to the honored Society. They have called and presented to that parish the Rev. Mr. C. (5) the Society's present missionary at Brunswick, New Jersey; and, as the Church-people at Hempstead are very much pleased with Mr. Cutting, and very desirous of having him for their minister, and as I think (from an acquaintance of twelve years), that he is well qualified to supply that parish, and that he will do real service therein to the cause of virtue and religion in general, and to the interest of the Church in particular; I hope the Society will not think me too presuming when I say that I think that his removal thither, will be attended with happy consequences.

Though the congregation there is large, yet a reat part of it is composed of those who have had no religious impressions made on them by their parents in their younger years. They come to Church rather from habit, than a sense of duty and love of religion. Their continuance to come to church will, therefore, depend in a great measure upon the good opinion they have of their minister; and the principal opportunity he will have of doing them good, will be by cultiva-ting their good opinion, and gaining an influence upon the rising generation. For these reasons the more considerate and religious people among them have been very anxious to get a minister among them that the congregation were pleased with; and for these reasons they are now solicitous to obtain Mr. Cutting's removal among them.

It is evident to the most superficial observer that where there have been the greatest number of Quakers among the first settlers in this couneir infidelity and a disregard to all religion successor of his predecessor. The next letter we find among the archives of the Venerable Society, to whose loving care we owe the preservation of these interesting communications from the founders of our American Church, is the following touching communication, written on the 17th of April, 1766:

(6) the Society's Missionaries; the ship they were in being wrecked near the entrance of Delaware Bay, and only four persons saved out of twentyeight. Their death is a great loss in the present want of clergymen in these colonies, and indeed I believe one great reason why so few from this Continent offer themselves for Holy Orders is because it is evident from experience that not more than four out of five, who have gone from This is the Northern Colonies have returned. one unanswerable argument for the absolute necessity of Bishops in the colonies. The poor Church of England in America is the only instance that ever happened of an Episcopal Church without a Bishop, and in which no Orders could be obtained without crossing an ocean of three thousand miles in extent. Without Bishops, the Church cannot flourish in America, and unless the Church be well sup-ported and prevail, this whole continent will be over-run with infidelity and deism, Methodism and New Light, with every species and every de-gree of scepticism and enthusiasm; and without Bishop upon the spot, I fear it will be impossible to keep the Church herself pure and undefiled. And that it is of the last consequence to the State to support the Church here, the present times afford a most alarming proof." [New York MSS. ii., p 229.]

It was with the deepened sense of the need of the Episcopate, which this letter so fully reveals, that we find the Rector of Jamaica uniting with his brethren of New York, together with some of the clergy of New Jersey and Connecticut in the formation of a "Convention" of which he was at once appointed Secretary. There had been from time to time in the past gatherings of the clergy for conference, as well as the more formal conventions summoned by the commissaries of the Bishops of London at their visitations; (7) but none of these conventions were of greater importance to the Church in America than this gathering of the clergy of the two contiguous governments of New York and New Jersey for counsel and defence. The vellum-bound folio in the neat handwriting of the future Bishop lies open before us as we transcribe its initial page. (8) [See next issue.]

6. The Rev. Samuel Giles and the Rev. Hugh Wil-son, the latter a nephew of the Rev. Hugh Neil, of Pennsylvania, were drowned on the 5th of April, 1766, on their return from a voyage to England for Holy Orders. They were licensed for Pennsylvania, Dec. 23, 1765. (Vide Hawkins' Missions of the Church of England, 125, 300, 325 and the P. E. Hist. Soc., Collec-tions, I, 117, 154.) 7. Vide "the Acts of Dr. Bray's Visitation, held at Annapolis, in Maryland, May 23, 24, 25, Anno 1700;" folio. London 1700, Reprinted from the rare original in the appendix to Dr. Hawks' Eccl. Contribution, ii Maryland; also "A Sermon preached at the King's Chapel in Boston, N.E., at a convention of Episcopal Ministers in the year 1736." Boston, 1733, (by the Rev. James Honeyman, of Narragansett, R. I., one of Seabury's predecessors in the parish of Jamaica); James Honeyman, of Narragansett, K. L., one or Seabury's predecessors in the parish of Jamaica); also "An Exhortation to the Clergy of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, Sep. 24, 1729, by the Rev. Archibald Cummins, Commissary," etc., Annapolis, 1729; also the Hist. Col. of the Am. Colonial Church, I, Virginia, U. W. Nevel and there the existing light that is a com-IV., Maryland, where the original minutes of a number of these conventions are to be found.

A. Paddock, the deceased wife of the Bishop of or possibly, under the apple-blossoms of that Washington Territory, was held at St. Peter's goodly orchard, the affairs of Church and State. Church, Brooklyn, on Thursday morning last, Learning, who come to New York about this May 12th. The Services were conducted by time to receive an ad eundem Master's degree Bishop Littlejohn, assisted by the Rector of St. from King's College, would not pass by the home Peters (the Rev. Mr. Tibbals), and also by the of Seabury without at least crossing its thresh-Rev. Robert Lindsay, of St. Thomas' Church, old. Ogilvie, coming down to the city from his Grace; Schenck, of St. Ann's; and Haskins, of surely visit his classmate and early friend. St. Mark's, and the Rev. Messrs. Peck, of Calvary, and Cornell, of St. Stephen's, Brooklyn. The Rev. Mr. Tibbals announced that it was intended to endow a bed in the Sheltering-Arms Nursery, of Brooklyn, as a memorial of Mrs. Paddock, who was the foundress of the Institution.

Bishop Littlejohn made a brief address: "I shall not," he said, "enter into the mystery of his father passed away, we read as follows: the dispensation by which God has taken from us one who gave such great promise of future usefulness. We leave this alone with Him. We have no certainty that anything we may do in the way of Prayers and Services, to commemorate destiny in any way; but there is no doubt that such Prayers and Services are full of Divine in-fluences to those left behind. Neither shall I endeavor to portray the character of the beloved desting in any way; but there is no doubt that fuences to those left behind. Neither shall I endeavor to portray the character of the beloved town in particular has a continual. I had almost those who have departed, will affect their future departed. It is enough to know how dearly her and exhorters; and the poor Church of England name is held in the hearts of the people of this is on every occasion misrepresented, as popish parish. They well knew those traits of her char- and teaching her members to expect salvation on acter, which suggested so many points of re-semblance between her and Tabitha, Priscilla, and other noble women mentioned in Holy Writ. Whatever is loving, tender, and true, in connection with the names of these women, all appear in our remembrance of her to-day. The Holy Communion, which is to be administered in this church to-day, is at all times a solemn Ordinance, but on this occasion, it has a special significance for us. There are three specific purposes which we have come here to serve this morning. First: That we may testify our sympathy with that bereaved household four thousand miles away, which has not yet had time to pitch its tent in the desert, so to speak. Second: To thank God that he has permitted such a character as was the deceased, to live among us; and Third: On our bended knees, while receiving the Holy Communion, to implore Him Who is the Dispenser of all mercies, to enable us all to follow in her footsteps.

After the Bishop's remarks, followed the Cele-bration of the Blessed Sacrament.

In the afternoon, the Woman's Missionary Association of the Diocese of Long Island met Peroffskaya wrote to her mother to waste no time or trouble in assuaging the wrath of her father; for what she had done he would never forgive. Keebaltchich, the maker of the bombs, Holy Eucharist, commemorative of Mrs. John side the glowing embers of the wide fire-place, With these among his friends and visitors the rector of Jamaica was not dependent even upon the families of note in his immediate vicinity for congenial society.

The quiet, uneventful life of our country-parson was not to pass in the unvarying routine of prayers and preaching and pastoral work. In the report for the closing half of the year in which

JAMAICA, L. I., Oct. 6th, 1764.

REV. SIR.—Since my last letter to the Honored Society, we have had a long visit from Mr. White-field in this colony, where he has preached fre-quently, especially in the city of New York and in this Island; (2) and, I am sorry to say, I think account of their own works and deservings. have in the most moderate manner endeavored to set these things in their true light, and I think not without success. None of my own people have been led away by them, though I have not been without apprehensions on their account; and I hope that friendly disposition and mutual in-tercourse of good offices, which have always subsisted between the Church-people and Dissenters since I have settled here, and which I have constantly endeavored to promote, will meet with but little interruption. (3)

This excitement and the jealousies between the outlying chapel congregations and the parishioners of the Jamaica Church, at length culminated in a new arrangement of "the turns of

1. Onderdonk's Jamaica Church, p 64.

Onderdonk's Jamaica Church, p 64.
 Under date of New York, Aug. 25, 1794, Mr. Whitefield writes to a friend: "Still I am kept as it were, a prisoner in these parts, by the heat of the weather. All dissuade me from proceeding south-ward till the latter end of September. My late ex-cursions upon Long Island, I trust have been blessed. It would surprise you to see about a hundred car-riages at every sermon in this new world. I am, through infinite mercy still kept up. Works of the Rev. George Whitefield, M. A. 111, 314; vide also Dr. Gillies' Memoirs, p 242.
 New York MSS, II. 336-7.

8. New York MSS. II, 336-7.

have taken the deepest root; and if they have not entirely corrupted the religious principles of the other inhabitants, they have at least very much weakened them, and made them look upon religion with indifference. This seems to me the reason why it is so hard to bring the people of that parish or this to comply with the Sacraments of the Christian Church, or to think themselves under any obligations of duty to attend the public worship of God. This also seems to be the Montreal, Canada; the Rev. Drs. Snively, of self-denying labors among the Mohawks, would reason why the people of Hempstead, though able to do considerably towards the support of their minister, are so very backward. They have learned from the Quakers to consider it as a mark of an avaricious and venal spirit for a minister to receive anything of his people by way of sup-port, and while they continue in these sentiments, (and it will be hard to bring them to better way of thinking, because their temporal interest is against it) I fear little can be done with them in that particular." [New York MSS. pp 347, 348.]

The friendly offices of Mr. Seabury were suc-

4. Onderdonk's Jamaica Church, p 64.

4. Onderdonk's Jamaica Church, p 64.
5. The story of this estimable clergyman's life reads like a romance. Born of a good family at Great Yarmouth in the county of Norfolk, England, in the year 1724; left an orphan at the age of nine years; matriculated at Pembroke College, University of Cambridge, when but seventeen years old, taking his "B. A." degree at twenty-three; he was forced after completing his University course, to give up a tour upon the Continent undertaken in company with a wealthy college friend, in consequence of the failure of his meant of support. Returning to London and happening, while as yet quite undetermined as to his future, to enter a coffee house at the moment when a Virginia Captain about to sail was crying out, "Who's for America," the young graduate resolved at once to seek his fortune in the diately conveyed himself and his meagre wardrobe on the ship, which was then lying in the Thames for the captain. Having nothing with which to pay for the cost of the voyage, he became "a redemptioner" bound to pay his indebtedness for his passage money by the sale of his time during a term of years after his arrival for the reimbursement of the Captain. Winning this officer's confidence and respect by his intelligence, capability, and integrity during the passage; he was sold in this temporary servitude to a Virginian lady, the mistress of a large plantation, who made him the steward of her estate. After serving acceptably in this place for a time, he was transferred to a position of a somewhat porary servitude to a Virginian lady, the mistress of a large plantation, who made him the steward of her estate. After serving acceptably in this place for a time, he was transferred to a position of a somewhat similar nature in New Jersey, where he was quite unexpectedly discovered in the midst of his toil by another Cambridge man, the Hev. Samuel Cooke, who had known him at the University. Mr. Cooke, who was one of the Society's Missionaries in the neighborhood, speedily brought his friend to the no-tice of President Johnson, of King's College and the clergy of New Yerk. The ablities of Mr. Cutting procured him a tutorship in Languages and Moral Philosophy in the college, and on the retirement of the president into the country on the breaking out of the institution. In 1763, Mr. Cutting resigned his position in the college and crossed the ocean to re-ceive Holy Orders. On his return he was appointed to the mission at New Brunswick, previously held by his friend Seabury. He subsequently filled several important posts in the Church and at the General Convention of 1792, to which he was a deputy, was made Secretary of the House of Bishops. He died honomed and beloved on the 24th of January, 1794, in the seventieth year of his age. the seventleth year of his age.

New York Items.

The anniversary exercises of the House of Rest for Consumptives, New York, took place on Thursday, May 5th. The Institution is pleasantly located at Tremont Station, within the city limits, but in the midst of rural surroundings. A company of ladies and gentlemen went out from the city by special train, and passed a most enjoyable afternoon. Buildings and grounds were found to be in excellent condition, having lately undergone the usual spring renovation. A brief Service was said in the Chapel by the cessful. His friend received the appointment to Rev. Mr. Blanchard, of Fordham, after which Hempstead, and in every way proved a worthy the President (the Rev. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's, New York) read a report showing that the long-standing debt of the House had been paid off. He then outlined a plan for the erection of new and much-needed buildings, estimated to cost $80,000. The completed designs of the architect were exhibited, creating no little amount of interest and enthusiasm. The new accommodations will make room for 150 patients. Brief addresses were made by the Rev. Messrs. De Costa, Blanchard and Guilbert.

> The Sisterhood of the Good Shepherd have ust held their twelfth anniversary. The Sisters have care of St. Barnabas' House and Day-nursery, New York, under the direction of the City Mission Society; and of Christ's Hospital, Jersey City; the House of the Good Shepherd (a seaside Sanitarium), at Ashbury Park, N. J.; and a School at Wilmington, N. C. Regular visitations are made at Bellevue Hospital, the hospitals on Ward's Island, the House of Detention, the Essex Street Prison, and the Nursery and Child's Hospital, New York. At Christ's Hospital, Jersey City, 136 patients have been cared for, and the erection of a new building is looked forward to as a pressing need. At St. Barnabas' House, 1,700 persons have been under care during the year, and 209 children in the Day-nursery. Lodging has been given to 21,186 persons; and 116,850 free meals have been served. The Sanitarium at Asbury Park has been paid for in full, and has proved a place of rest for the Sisters when worn out with their continuous labor, as well as a great benefit to the sick children of the poor, during the heat of summer.

ROMANISM AND CATHOLICITY.

Bishop Seymour's Views. From the Chicago Times. I.

I am led to address you, not with a view to reply to those who have been pleased to answer me and criticise me in public and in private, because it would be simply impossible in any communication which could be allowed admission even in your ample columns to do this, but simply to restate the general position of the distinction between Romanism and Catholicism, and to call attention to the fact that holy scrip. ture and ecclesiastical history are utterly inconsistent with and contradictory to the root principle of Romanism as it has been formulated and is held to-day. I have many, very many, other things to object to Romanism besides its root error as to the constitution and government of the Church of God; many things to say about its errors in doctrine and corruptions in practice. But one thing at a time. Slay Goliath and the Philistines, when they see that their champion is dead, will turn and flee. I could not, even if I would, cover the whole ground of antagonism between Romanism and Catholicism in a single lecture. Of this my critics complain, while they wander over the field shooting here and there at random, hoping that by chance some shaft will hit. I am not to be diverted, however, from my purpose. I have directed my artillery at the fundamental root-error of Romanism, and at that I propose to continue to keep attention fixed until the public are enlightened as to the grand distinction between Romanism and Catholicism. If any one wishes to study some of the distinctions as to the detail, I would refer them to the Rev. Dr. Littledale's "Plain Reasons Against Joining the Church of Rome," published in London by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and for sale in this country at a very moderate price.

To come to the purpose of this letter. My contention is that the distinction between Romanism and Catholicism is that Romanism—by which I mean the theory and system of church government on which Rome has acted for the last eight hundred years, and for which she has made herself fully responsible by the Vatican decrees of 1870-is an absolute reversal of Catholicity, negatives the idea as presented by Christ and His apostles, by Rome herself in her earliest and best ages, by the rest of Christendom outside of her obedience from the first, and uninterruptedly to the present time. The idea of the church as presented by Rome is that of a pyramid having its apex below the clouds in the pope. - He is in vice Christi; he is os ecclesiæ; he is in the place of Christ, and the mouth of the church, and that by divine appointment. He alone has received mission and jurisdiction from God. He rules all and is ruled by none. The whole world is his domain, and every cardinal, patriarch, metropolitan, archbishop, and bishop, receives his mission, jurisdiction, and orders not from the church in the land or country where he resides, but from the pope in Rome. The pope by has changed the old First Lesson for Easter the entire earth and the islands of the sea. He is by divine right the mouthpiece of the church.

claims to be to-day, could this fact, which is recorded in the eighth chapter of the Acts of the Holy Apostles, in the fourteenth verse, have possibly occurred? "Now when the Apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them the bishops in the Roman obedience sending the pope and the bishop of Ostia on a mission today. Such a state of things and such an act can to the Galatians, second chapter and the eleventh and following verses: "But when Peter was come to Antioch I withstood him to the face because he was to be blamed." Imagine any ecclesiastic, in the view of church government as formulated and held by the church of Rome to-day, with-and dissimulation. This simply could not be.

Or still again, in another direction, could it be possible that St. Peter should have been in the same relation to the church in which the pope, as

(II. Corinth. xi., 28): "Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches ?" Had these words occurred in St. Peter's epistles they would probably have replaced those which are now inscribed upon St. Peter's at Rome. Not one particle of evidence, directly or indirectly, can be found in holy scriptures to suggest, much less sustain, the view that St. Peter was left on earth as the sole representative of Christ as in the place of Christ, and the mouthpiece and voice of the church. That he enjoyed a primacy among the apostles is clear. He was primus inter pares, no doubt, but a primacy is fundamentally different from a supremacy. Ecclesiastical history refusts Rome, and explains how she departed from the truth and came to be what she is to-day—uncatholic, national, narrow, curialistic, Italian. I am not unfamiliar with the passages usually adduced by Romish controversialists from the Fathers Ante-Nicene and subsequent in support of the claims of the bishop of Rome to-day. We had some specimens in a letter which recently appeared in the columns of the Times. I will make a few remarks upon them which will have a general application. First, any one accustomed to weigh evidence, will at once see that they do not begin to prove the propositions which they adduced to establish. They may show that Rome was the most important of western churches; undoubtedly she was. She is the only church in the west which can be proved to be of apostolic origin, founded, namely, by St. Paul, as scripture shows. Probably St. Peter was with him, as early tradition asserts. In the east there were many apostolic churchesthat is, churches founded by apostles. Hence, Rome in the west, for this reason and many others, enjoyed a preeminence. No one disputes it. But this does not prove that the pope is, by divine right, the head of the church on earth and the ruler of Christendom. Again, many of the early writers speak of the church of Rome as being founded by St. Peter and St. Paul. This statement of the case is fatal to Rome's claims today that the pope is the successor of St. Peter. and inherits his prerogatives as the sole, solitary, absolute spiritual monarch of the world. A duumvirate will not suit their purpose, hence they usually quote the passages, and in arguing from them they conveniently drop St. Paul out of the firm. I am not disposed to deny that St. Peter was at Rome. Indeed. I am inclined to believe that he was in the imperial city twice-first, about the time of the martyrdom of St. James, and a second time when he, with St. Paul, were put to be cared for. death. But no logical consequences follow from St. Peter's being at Rome once or twice, or many times, or throughout his entire life, which can help the claims of the pope to-day in the slightest

The New Lectionary. To the Editor of the Living Church:

To be continued.

I believe that there is a general feeling of regret that the Joint Committee on the Lectionary divine right is supreme law-giver and ruler over Morning, or even proposed to change it. It seems a very real loss not to hear on that day the of that country. account of the institution of the Passover, with and speaks for her. She cannot speak without the striking passages:

"And this day shall be unto you a memorial; him. The assembled episcopate have no voice. and ye shall keep it a Feast to the Lord through-out your generations; ye shall keep it a Feast by that alone, had fully doubled, and the increase no will, no independence of mission or jurisdiction. They are simply the creatures of the pope an ordinance forever. 14th.) Also verses -that is, his creation-and absolutely subject to 24th and 25th. And this): "And it shall come to and dependent upon him. If this view had been in Christ's mind when He stood upon the Mount What mean ye by this Service? That ye shall in Christ's mind when He stood upon the Mount say, It is the sacrifice of the Lord's passover, of Ascension and was about to leave the earth V. 26th and 27th. etc. and go up to the throne on high, He would This Lesson presents most vividly, to crowded have said unto Peter: "Go thou into all the world congregations, the historic continuity of the and preach the gospel to every creature." But He Church throughout all ages. It harmonizes did not so say. His words are, addressing the with the Easter Anthem, which it explains and eleven: "Go ye into all the world," etc. Had St. illustrates. In fact, there is every reason for re-Peter been appointed by divine commission to taining it. rule the whole church, such a fundamental and I hope that every Clergyman and layman who most important verity would have clearly been is of this opinion will send a postal card to that revealed in holy scripture, and would have apeffect to Rev. Dr. Harrison, of Troy, in accordpeared in the administration of the church as ance with Bishop Lay's invitation for suggestions illustrated in the pages of the Acts of the Holy to the Committee, published lately in one of our Apostles and the apostolic epistles; but not only Church papers. I am authorized to say that is no such fact revealed, or incidentally disclosed, there is a difference of opinion, in the matter of but events are recorded and statements made the Easter Lessons, among the members of the which are absolutely contradictory of such a con-Committee themselves, and they only desire to dition of church government and administration. know the general mind of the Church. For instance, on the supposition that St. Peter We will have the good old Lesson back in its was in the place of Christ, and the mouth and usual place, if we but send enough postal cards, voice of the church, the absolute unlimited ruler asking for it, to the Secretary of the Committee, of Christ's body which the bishop of Rome Rev. Francis Harrison, D. D., Troy, N. Y.

degree.

THE LIVING CHURCH.

WOMAN'S WORK. Interesting Monthly Meeting in N. Y.

Reported for the Living Church.

The Monthly Meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary have this week closed for the season. The Committee on Work for Foreign Missions met in Trinity Chapel School-room, on Monday, the 2d inst. The meeting was one of special interest. The President (Miss Cornelia Jay) made the startling announcement that news had just been received of the death of Mrs. Paddock, wife of the newly consecrated Bishop of Washington Territory. All present knew something of the worth of that devoted Churchwoman; and it was felt that an almost irreparable loss had befallen her own family and the Church at large.

The Report shewed that over seventeen thou and dollars had been contributed by the Auxiliary to the Mexican Mission, and about thirteen thousand to other fields abroad. Mr. Graves, who expects to sail for China the coming Fall, made a few happy remarks, and referred to what he had seen (probably in the LIVING CHURCE) regarding Dr. McKim's earnest words at the previous meeting on the duty of prayer, and the power of prayer. He said he was making an effort to have introduced into the Seminary, the Prayer for Foreign Missions set forth by our Board of Missions.

Miss Mead was next introduced. She is to leave New York, on the 11th of May, for Osaka, an important station in Japan. She seems young to enter upon such a work, and probably every heart responded "God be with you!" Mr. Quinby is still unable to plead the cause in public. and Dr. Bunn, late of China, but now of Richmond Hill, Staten Island, spoke of the work in Japan, as he had himself been there, and was well informed in regard to that country. He pleaded more especially for funds to build a hospital in Osaka to aid Dr. Laning who has there given nine years of patient service, and with remarkable results, having gained an influence over native doctors; something which our missionaries in China have not been able, as yet, to accomplish. Dr. L. has delivered medical lectures to Japanese students and physicians, and has visited native medical schools and dispensaries. Mr. McKim writes that in his opinion Dr. Laning's is the most important work we have in Japan. Many persons come a long distance from the interior of the country, and are obliged to return home without being assisted, for want of a suitable place where they can

The Rev. Mr. Kimber, our Foreign Secretary, had just received a letter from Dr. Syle of New Jersey, formerly of China and Japan, containing information of deep interest. It stated that a delegation of Christians from the Sandwich Islands had been sent to Japan, where they were kindly received by men high in authority, "perhaps by the Emperer himself," who gave to the delegates official assurance that no obstacle of any kind now existed to the introduction of the Christian religion into Japan, and into every portion of the kingdom. This unrestricted. freedom occurs for the first time in the history

As an encouragement to the Auxiliaries to persevere in their good work, Mr. Kimber stated that during the fourteen years of his connection he attributed largely to "Woman's Work." Interesting letters from those in the different foreign fields were read, and Miss Stevens of New Jersey was introduced. She is expecting to sail in September for Shanghai. Bishop Penick has made warm friends here during his short stay, and earnest prayers will go with him and his bride to their distant home, around which gather so many sad associations. The Committee on Work for Domestic Missions met in Grace Chapel, E. 14th st., on Wednesday, the 4th inst. Further particulars had been received in regard to the death of Mrs. Paddock, and it was stated that a Memorial Service on her account would be held in St. Peter's Church, Brooklyn, (her husband's late parish) on Thursday, the 12th inst., at 3 P. M. In reviewing the year's work, it was found that a large number of boxes of varied value, had been sent to missionaries in the Home field, by the different Parish Branches, and letters of grateful acknowledgment were read and listened to with deep interest. The Rev. Mr. Olmstead made some valuable suggestions, and as an encouragement, stated that the Report of the Woman's Auxiliary at the last General Convention, had astonished every one by the large amount which they had contributed to the Mission-work of the Church. The Niobrara League met in the Sunday School Room of the Transfiguration, E. 29th st., on Thursday the 5th inst. Prayers were said by Dr. Houghton. The President (Mrs. John Jacob Astor) being absent, almost for the first time during its eight years' existence, the Vice-President, Miss Fanny Morris, occupied the chair. The Treasurer's Report shewed an increase over all previous years, the gross amount being $7,051. The collection taken at the General Missionary Meeting, when Archdeacon Kirkby preached, was $250, which sum was appropriated for a scholarship for four years at St. John's school, Fort Bennett, the scholarship to bear the name of the Archdeacon. Mrs. Astor made him a life member of the League, by paying into its treasury one hundred dollars. A very interesting letter was read from the Rev. J. W. Cook, of the Yankton Indian Reservation, in which he mentions facts regarding the flood came; for, as they had never known a rise in the Missouri like the one which finally came, they did not believe what was prophesied, and therefore, when in its awfulness it burst upon them, they saved nothing but themselves. The immense cakes of ice. over two feet in thickness, carried everything before them, and now cover the bottom lands which the poor Rector of St. Stephens', Wilkes-Barre, and Pres-Indians cultivated, to such an depth, pile upon pile, that the heat of the summer sun will scarcly cause them to disappear before the Autumn.

The little church at the "Point of the Timber." which is of so much interest to some of our bondale; John S. Beers, of Towanda; and T. F. earlier missionaries, was carried bodily a dis- Caskey, the Rector of the parish. tance of four miles, and deposited, apparently in good condition; though no one has as yet been able to get near enough to ascertain correctly. But words fail-only those who were eye witnesses can ever know the half.

A touching letter was read, from Leach Lake, White-Earth Mission (Eumegahbow's). The poor creatures, who are in a half starved condition, the sum of twenty-five dollars. It is to be | best co-operate with their Rector?" hoped they will not be forgotten by those who believe it is more blessed to give than receive.

During the summer months, children throughcollect their offerings of everything and everything, for use or for pleasure, which may be suitable to send to the little Indian children in a Christmas Box. It is desirable that whatever is faith in the future of the Church. intended for this boy, should be received at 21 Bible House, by or before the 1st of September.

Convocation Services, and other News. From our Baltimore Correspondent.

BALTIMORE, May, 1881.

Convocational Services were held during the first week of this month, at the Mission Church of St. John the Baptist, under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Rich, Dean of the Convocation of Baltimore, from Tuesday to Friday inclusive. The Service consisted of the Celebration of the Holy Communion, daily, at half past six o'clock Rev. R. Whittingham, of Pikesville, Baltimore County, and the Rev. P. N. Meade, of Elk Ridge Landing, Howard County, were "Home Duties and Obligations."

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Pinkney visited St. Peter's Church (Rev. J. E. Grammer, D. D., Rector) on the morning of the 3rd Sunday after Easter, and preached, and confirmed a class of twenty-three persons. At night he preached at Memorial Church, Rev. Wm. Dame, Rector, and confirmed twelve persons. On the morning of the same day, Rev. Walter W. Williams, D. D.; the newly elected Rector of Christ Church, entered upon his duties. He took for his text those words of our Lord, "I have meat to eat that ye know not of," and treated them as having reference to the conscience, the inner life, the guiding star which is visible only to the individual who follows that particular light. Dr. Military Institute, and the University of Virginia. which Parish he was called to be associate Rector

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

The North-Eastern Convocation.

The Convocation held its 147th session in Grace Church, Honesdale, beginning Monday, April 25th. Present, Rt. Rev. M. A. De W. Howe, D. D., L.L. D.; Rev. Henry L. Jones, ident of the Convocation; Revs. E. P. Brown, of Troy; John Scott, of Pleasant Mt.; Geo. D. Stroud, of Tunkhannock; Horace E. Hayden, of Wilkes-Barre; Joseph P. Cameron, of Green Ridge, Scranton; Charles E. Betticher, of Car-

After a Sermon by the President of the Convocation, the Bishop of the Diocese confirmed a class of nineteen persons.

The Convocation met on Tuesday morning for the transaction of business. At 10:30, there was a Celebration of the Holy Communion. The where there is a very flourishing branch of the Sermon (on the Resurrection) was by the Rev. G. D. Stroud, of Tunkhannock. In the afternoon, the Convocation met for the discussion of have sent to Dr. Twing, for missionary purposes, the topic: "In what way can the Laity of a parish

On Wednesday, the Rev. John Scott preached on the beautiful prophecy of Zephaniah: "For then will I turn to the people a pure language. out the Church, will have an opportunity to that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one consent." It was a noble Sermon, dwelling rejoicingly upon the good in the present age, and kindling with enthusiastic

In the afternoon, another public discussion was held on the topic: "What can we do to make the character and claims of the Church recognized outside her fold?" The closing Service was held at 7:30, with a Sermon on Cross-Bearing, by Rev. Mr. Jones.

The Convocation will hold a special Midsummer session at Pike, Tunkhannock, and Springville, when the following topics will be discussed: 1. The proper observance of the Lord's Day. 2. The duties of Sponsors in Baptism.

Grace Church, Honesdale, is a beautiful edifice, of gray stone, of the Gothic style of architecture, facing the Park. It was built during A. M., and 4 and 6 P. M. The subjects of most the Rectorship of the late Rev. R. B. Duane, of the addresses, which were delivered by the about twenty years ago. The graceful spire was erected a year ago, as a memorial of Mr. Z. H. Russell, a faithful layman of the parish.

The Rectory, which stands by the side of the church, is one of the handsomest and most convenient in or out of the Diocese. It is under the special charge of the ladies of the parish, to whom the credit of the erection is due.

Grace Church parish was organized Feb. 13. 1832. The Rector has awakened great interest and enthusiasm, by preaching a Sermon in which he called upon the members, resident and nonresident, to commemorate its semi-centenary next year. The Sermon suggests the preparation of the heart for Jubilee Worsbip, and that this inward preparation find outward expression in: 1. The Memorial of Words; the presentation of records of the Church's history. 2. The Memorial of Sacrifice; gifts of gold and silver. for Communion Vessels; of fine linen, purple Williams is a native of Norfolk, Virginia, and and scarlet, for the covering and decoration of received his secular education, at the Virginia the Holy Table, lectern, and pulpit, and of money to extinguish the Rectory debt. 3. The and his theological education, at the Theological Memorial of Piety; tablets, windows, and other Seminary of Virginia. For ten years he was offerings in Memoriam. 4. The Memorial of Rector of a Church in Georgetown, D. C., from Beautg; coloring and decoration of the walls,

HENRY E. HOVEY. St. Barnabas' Rectory. Brooklyn.

Ordination at Detroit, Mich.

On the morning of Sunday, May 8, at St. Peter and John." Imagine the cardinals or all Paul's Church, Detroit, Bishop Harris ordained Mr. W. H. Osborne to the Sacred Order of the Diaconate. The Sermon was by the Rev. Geo. Worthington, S. T. D.; the candidate was presented by the Rector of St. Paul's (the Rev. R. not be conceived as possible in the present status W. Clark, Jr.). The Rev. Mr. Osborne was of the church of Rome. Or again, consider recently a well-known Methodist minister at what St. Paul says about St. Peter in his epistle to the Galatians, second chapter and the eleventh studies, preparatory to our Ministry, at Bexley Hall, Gambier, Ohio, to which institution he now returns for further study, engaging in the meanwhile in missionary work in the vicinity of Gambier. His first sermon, as a clergyman of the Church, preached at St. Paul's, Detroit, on the evening of the day he was ordained, is most highly spoken of, and we may safely say that such accessions from the dissenting bodies are to standing the pope to the face, and publicly de- such claring that he was to be blamed for dissembling, be welcomed.

On the afternoon of Sunday, May 4, Bishop Harris preached at St. Matthew's Mission, De-troit. Our eolored friends of this prosperous Mission are quite enterprising, and manage to capture all the clerical celebrities that visit Detion of this state of things emerge anywhere in St. Paul's epistles, and notably in his Epistle to the Romans, or in St. Peter's letters also? Or, once more, could any ecclesiastic at the present day in the Roman obedience say with St. Paul of St. George's Church, New York. On the resignation of the venerable Dr. Tyng, some three years ago, he was elected to the full rectorship of Forbes, publisher, Honesdale. that important Parish, which he has just left for his present position in this city.

Michael and All Angels, Rev. Wm. Kirkus, Rector. amounted to the liberal sum of $3,060. A debt of $10,500 hangs over the church, towards the payment of which a large-hearted lady had offered to contribute $5,000, provided the balance should be made up by the 1st of July next. There is but little doubt that by that time, this beautiful church will be free from debt.

Oskaloosa, Iowa. Correspondence of the Living Church.

We have no special Church news to report: but, in a general way, this parish is improving. We have lost some of our people by removal, but others have taken their places. A Confirmation Class is ready for the Laying on of Hands; but the Bishop has not been able to visit us as yet, in the course of the present Convention year. Our congregations are improving; and in many ways the parish is making progress. Our church building is so situated-the Roman Catholic Church on one side of it, and the Presbyterian on the other-that it seems to express about our position as to the Faith and practice of the Church; affiliating neither with Rome nor Geneva. We treat our neighbors kindly, but we let them manage their own affairs in their own way, and we do the same.

Quakerism is strong in this city, this being the seat of their Yearly Meetings, and there is a quiet but strong influence against our Church. In view of the above facts, it is suggested that it would be a good field for Miss Smiley to exercise her peculiar gifts in. What think you? I have not seen the Bishop, to ask his advice, but of course should consult him before taking any action in the matter.

Our Easter Services, both in church and Sunto trim the church, and they seemed to have excelled themselves in making the House of God look beautiful. Our church was crowded, and arches, and ceiling, and enrichment of the chancel. The Sermon is very suggestive. Copies can be procured, no doubt, of Mr. A. Gilbert

The ride from Carbondale to Honesdale is an interesting one. Passengers are carried by a The Easter Offerings at the Church of St. Gravity Railway, the cars being drawn up steep inclined planes, and running down long grades until a high mountain has been passed over: the last long sweep taking the passengers into the beautiful village, after a feast of charming cenery. H. C. B.

> At the Cathedral, Milwaukee, during the week preceding and including Palm Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Kittson, of St. Paul, Minn., assisted by the Rev. Mr. Riley, of Minneapolis, conducted an interesting and most valuable series of Services. There were Early Celebration of the Holy Communion, instructions and meditations in the morning and afternoon, and sermon in the evening, each day. By God's blessing many hearts were touched, and a very marked character given to the devotions of Holy Week. In the multiplication of Services of this character, weeks of prayer and meditation, and in a return to the primitive practice of a more frequent administration of the Holy Communion, we shall greatly increase the zeal and spiritual life of the Church. The Parish of St. Paul's was the recipient, on Easter morning, of a most beautiful Eagle Lectern of brass. The Easter offering at the Cathedral was $710; at St. John's $995.-Wisconsin Calendar.

The Rev. Edmund B. Tuttle, who died in New York, on Friday, the 29th ultimo, was born in Auburn, N. Y., in 1815. He was at one time engaged in missionary work among the Swedes in Chicago; and, after the breaking out of the war, was appointed hospital chaplain in the army, and assigned to duty at Camp Douglass. After the camp was broken up, he undertook the establishment of St. Mark's Parish, Chicago, of which the Rev. F. B. Fleetwood is the present Rector. In 1867, he was appointed Post-Chaplain in the day School, were the most delightful I have ever army, and served in that capacity for many years, enjoyed. We have some ladies who know how in the Far West. Availing himself of a long leave of absence, he went abroad; and resided for a length of time in the Island of Jersey. After his return to his native country, he took up the devastation made by the recent floods, and the prolonged calamity which it had brought upon those Indians who were just beginning to learn the white man's ways. They would not heed the warning to remove their little possessions before

From our Detroit Correspondent.

HERE AND THERE.

In spite of daily efforts to the contrary, Bradlaugh is still excluded from his seat in Parliament .---- The natives of South Africa have begun war again upon the Boers. The peace-commissioners, to conclude the terms of peace between the latter and the English, are in session, and rapidly arranging the details. England's magnanimity is well worthy of a Christian hation .---- The French-Tunis war rapidly approaches settlement; envoys are endeavoring to arrange the terms of peace .---- The statue of Stonewall Jackson was unveiled in the Metairie Cemetery, New Orleans, on the 10th. Many people were present, and Jefferson Davis made a speech .---- The marriage of the Crown Prince of Austria and Princess Stephanie, of Belgium, was solemnized at Vienna, on the 10th inst. accompanied by a magnificent display.---The Senate of Pennsylvania has passed a resolution looking to the removal of the dust of William Penn from its present resting place, in an English Church-yard, to Philadelphia.----The wonderful increase in immigration led fourteen seacaptains to take more than the legal number; they have all been indicted .--- The Chinese treaty has at last been ratified by the Senate; it must receive another ratification at Pekin, in November, before it can become operative .-Now that the floods have begun to subside on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, sufferers are figuring up their losses; the reported amount already reaches many millions of dollars .-Parliament has adopted an address to the Queen, praying for the erection of a monument to Beaconsfield, in Westminster. In the Commons, there were 54 votes against it .---- The late census reveals the fact that the people of the United States pay over $26,000,000 yearly for their daily newspapers.---Sir Edward Thornton, who has been English Minister at Washington for nearly nine years, is to succeed Lord Dufferin, at St. Petersburg .---- Trees, by hundreds and thousands, were destroyed by ground mice, in Wisconsin, during the winter, owing to the great quantities of snow.----The Marquis of Salisbury has succeeded Beaconsfield, as the leader of the Conservatives .---- Experiments over the cable between Dover and Calais have demonstrated that they will readily serve as telephonic wires. A patent for an electrophone has been taken out. -The celebrated rail-road magnate and millionaire, "Tom" Scott, is seriously ill, and no hopes are entertained of his recovery .---- The lumber cut on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Superior, the past year, reached the enormous amount of 22,000,000 feet. ---- There seems to be a prospect, at last, of New York city getting its streets cleaned; a compromise has been made, and work will be begun at once .--- A new comet has been discovered by Prof. Fisk, of Rochester, N. Y. This is the first of the season .--- The New York State Geological survey has lasted over forty years, has cost over one million dollars, and is not nearly completed yet .--- John M. Wilson, United States Consul at Panama, who has lately returned, says that no serious work has been begun on the De Lessep canal, and doubts if the celebrated French engineer designs to do any .---- Siberia's population was increased over 12,000, last week, by State crim . inals from Russia .---- Statements are made, showing that 97 per cent. of the cattle in Colorado and adjoining States, survived the winter; thus contradicting the previous reports of unequaled loss. ---- The Grand-Duke Nicholas, whose complicity in the Nihilist plots has been made clear, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life. ---- An anti-Hebrew petition was recently sent to Bismarck, containing over 250,000 names. -Queen Victoria, it is said, will accompany her son Leopold to Italy, in September, for the benefit of the Prince's health, which has been very poor of late. ---- Count Leon, who claimed to be a son of Napoleon I., and who created considerable disturbance at one time in trying to obtain recognition, has just died at an advanced age, at Pontoise.----The Greek ambassador has returned from Constantinople, and says that the Porte is desirous of surrendering the ceded territory without delay.

good effect on our school boys, helping to re- the good, when they die, will go to the Happy mind them, in the midst of their games and Hunting Grounds, where it will not be very cold studies, of the duty of praising their Maker, and in Winter, and in Summer there will be no musalso encouraging a spirit of self-denial; for they quitoes. But the bad will float in a stone canoe give up half an hour each day of their play time for His Service. We all, no doubt, would agree that there can be no better training for Candidates for Orders, or for the development of a manly character in boys, than the daily practising of some act of self-denial. And in proof of be eaten up by musquitoes in the Summer. this the fact may be stated, that, of our three oldest boys, who will shortly leave us for the purpose of entering college, all are anxious and intend, at present, to work in some position for we stretch out our hands to Him, nothing comes the Church they now serve as choristers. It is to us; but when you speak to Him, He does hard to see, unless boys are surrounded with Church influences and brought up amidst Church to Him, something does come back to you." privileges, how the mere fact alone of singing in The Missionary to these Indians never meets a weekly choir will tend to develope in them the with opposition; and he has this advantage, he desire to give themselves up to the service of finds very little of positive error in the mind of God, in His Church, either as Candidates for the red man, which has to be eradicated or over-Orders, or in some other position.

There are two things, which we surely need in the Church: more schools for boys where definite Church teaching is one of the principal Christ's sake, to devote themselves to the work in the Diocese of Moosonee, he would not say of teaching in parish schools-not for the emol- that every one is as good as he ought to be, but uments of their office, but for the love of their he would say that he believes the members of Divine Master and of His children.

> CHAS. HILL, Head Master School of St. John the Evangelist.

Missionary Work Among the Indians. Archdeacon Kirkby's Reminiscences.

Reported for the Living Church.

The Chippewayan Indians are a very extensive and intelligent tribe. They stretch across the country, from Churchill, on the west shore of Hudson's Bay, to the Mackenzie River, and on beyond into Alaska. One of the problems has been to locate these Indians.

Archdeacon Kirkby's predecessor hit upon a plan by which any Indian can be taught in one month to read and write perfectly. Their language is monosyllabic. Starting with the French vowel sounds of a, e, i, o, as a basis, and representing these respectively by a triangle, placed in different positions, it is a very simple process so to arrange these and other simple characters, that they can be made to express any word they wish to use. This has been developed from the alphabet invented in 1825 by George Guess, a full-blooded, and wholly uneducated Cherokee Indian, who had been told that white people could make paper talk, but who had himself never seen anything of the kind.

This invention by Guess is spoken of as one of the most extraordinary events in the history of mind and literature. The whole number of syllables in the written language invented by Guess is eighty-five. In the simple form exhibited by Archdeacon Kirby there are only seventeen; and a still more simple form is used for another tribe, containing only nine syllables.

The books which they have been able to print, y using these characters, can, with the aid of a single Indian, who has himself been taught, take the place of a Missionary teacher to a large number of Indians, when they are off during the Winter, away from the trading posts.

Once, on reaching Trout Lake, which had never been visited by a Missionary, the Archleacon found before him a congregation of a least 250 Indians, who, with their Prayer Books and Hymnals, joined most heartily in the Service. How could this be accounted for? Some years before, a young Indian had been sent to this place, for the purpose of teaching the inhabitants to read. He took with him a box of the Church at large, and giving rise to frequent books, portions of the Bible and Prayer Books, and Hymnals. After remaining with them a few months, he came away. With simply the Word of God to teach them, these people kept the Lord's Day holy, doing no hunting, but quietly spending the day in holding religious Services. Archdeacon Kirkby has visited the tribes dwelling on the western shores of Hudson's Bay, among the inland lakes, along the Mackenzie River, and those beyond the mountains in Alaska, near Fort Yucon. All these journeys he has performed on foot, or in a canoe. Four times he has crossed the Rocky Mountains, and he has the honor of being the first Missionary to cross the Arctic Circle, and to preach to the heathen in that strange land of frost and darkness, and, as he expresses it, "to set up the Standard of the Cross, where 'may it wave till the King Himself comes, whose right it is to rule." At Great Bear Lake, 2,500 miles distant, which is crossed by the Arctic Circle, he came upon relics of Sir John Franklin's visit. He stood upon the same spot where Franklin had stood, and while resting upon the very post which Sir John set up for his sun-dial, he talked to the Indians. Here comes in a little anecdote illustrating the large-heartedness of that great explorer. Musquitoes in this region are a terrible scourge. They attack with a vehemence wholly unknown to us. An old chief who knew and remembered Sir John, told the Archdeacon how these fierce insects once gathered in a large swarm on the face of Franklin, who drew up his arm and caught a handful at a grasp, as is commonly done, but ir stead of consigning them to instant death, he lifted his hand above his head, instant death, he lifted his hand above his head, bit. John the Evangelist, who volunteer to sing in week days at Evensong, and on Sundays at he one Service held in that portion of our new hurch which is at present built. The Indian shows his appreciation of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering instant death, he lifted his hand above his head, and flinging them from him into the air, said, the one Service held in that portion of our new thurch which is at present built. The Indian shows his appreciation of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering instant death, he lifted his hand above his head, and flinging them from him into the air, said, the one Service held in that portion of our new thurch which is at present built. The Indian shows his appreciation of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering into the dath, he lifted his hand above his head, and flinging them from him into the air, said, the one Service held in that portion of our new thurch which is at present built. The Indian shows his appreciation of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering integration of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering the service held in that portion of the mus-there is no doubt that the fact of volunteering duito, in his conception of reward and punish-till just within sight of the Happy Hunting

Grounds, where he will stop and never be permitted to enter. He will see in the distance the pleasures which the good enjoy, while he will forever be frozen to death in Winter, and will

All these Indians seem thoroughly prepared to receive Christianity. They say, "When we speak to the Great Spirit, He does not hear, and when hear you, and when you stretch out your hands come, as is the case with other heathen, and therefore, it is in a condition to readily receive the truth. And when he does receive it, he becomes a faithful and earnest disciple of the features; and a body of men who are willing, for Lord. In the congregation of his little church met by another Associate, by whom she was put > his parish there, to equal the average of any congregation here or in England, and that those who are educated for the ministry make most worthy and earnest pastors to their own people.

The last Sermon he heard an Indian preach, he remembered well. The text was from Hebrews iv .: 9, "There remainsth therefore a rest to the people of God." "Do you hear, brothers?

Do you hear? Rest! The rest of purity-the rest of peace-the rest of joy! Have you never. when paddling your cance over the lake, looked down into its waters and seen your own image reflected there? And the more calm and clear the waters were, the more distinct your image is calm and at peace, then God can look down and see his own image reflected there. Here, that image may be disturbed, or may even pass away, but in Heaven it will remain. Yes, brothers! there remaineth there, a rest to the people of God."

An item of interest connected with the Archdeacon's first coming to this country, is that it was also his wedding trip. He had been married just three days, when he sailed from England, to enter upon his life as a Missionary. During all these years, he has gone from home every Summer, on a journey alone and on foot. from three to four hundred miles distant, and his family could never hear from him till he walked into the house on his return. When the eldest of his three children was seven years old, they were all sent to a home in London, provided by the Church for such Missionary children. Ten years ago, four more were sent, and when the Archdeacon arrived in England a short ten years, and for the first time they met together to enter upon their life work, far up the Indian promotion of the Master's work. Country, on the Mackenzie River, where they were born, to preach the Gospel to the heathen of their native land. Their photographs show them to be manly, bright and handsome; worthy to walk in the footsteps of such a father.

The Girls' Friendly Society.

to sing every day in church has a remarkably ment in the world to come. He believes that be; nor will they be tempted to stray away from the sheltering arms of their spiritual mother, on the plea that they "know no one in the Church." Their membership-card and guide-book will be a passport and guarantee of good character everywhere; and the care of the Associates will follow them from place to place through all their

A few months ago, the rector of a New Hampshire parish in which a branch of the G. F. S. is in operation, finding that one of its members was about to return to her home in Scotland, bethought himself of calling the Society's agency to his aid, in securing to her a safe journey to the metropolis whence she was to sail. A little correspondence sufficed for the necessary arrangements. The young girl was met on her arrival in Boston (her first halting-place) by the matron of the G. F. S. Home, which has been established in that city, where she passed the night; and next morning was seen safely on board the train for New York, and arriving there was on board the steamship for Glasgow.

This is but one among many instances, of the good the Society is doing.

As yet, it has failed to secure a foot-hold in the Great West, though numerous letters of enquiry, received of late, give promise, that ere long, organizations may be effected at some important points.

The members of the G. F. S. frequently remove to the Western States; and those who are commended to its care from England and Ireland, in the majority of cases turn their steps Westward, on their arrival in this country. All that we can do at present, is to recommend them to the care of the hard-working clergy, and we long for help from the large-hearted and energetic women of the West. Every Western Bishop who would be? It is just so with the soul. When it has been applied to has given his cordial approval to the Society's plan.

> May we not then, hope that soon the G. F. S. which now numbers 22 Branches, and more than 700 Associates and members in New England, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland) will be represented as well in the Western towns and cities, where the need for its organization is so apparent? If there are any ladies who, on reading this article, feel an interest in the Society's work, they may help it on, even prior to the establishment of a Branch where they live, by notifying the President (Miss Edson, Lowell, Mass.) of their willingness to be enrolled as Associates, to whose friendly care members might be committed.

Full information in regard to plans and methods of working can be found in the G. F. S. pamphlet for 1881 (price 5 cents) which will be forwarded on application.

If the clergy generally could but see how, in parishes where the society is in operation, its time ago, he had not seen any of his children in members swell the ranks of the Sunday-school and the Confirmation classes, they would gladly an undivided family. . Two of his sons are soon avail themselves of so efficient an agency for the

> ALFRED EVAN JOHNSON. Chaplain Lowell Branch G. F. S. A. St. Anne's Rectory, Lowell, May 4th, 1881.

"The habit of fault-finding, once suffered to grow up between the two that constitute the head of the family, descends through all the KENOSHA WATER CURE, Kenosha, Wis., a quiet home-like resort for Invalids. Chronic Diseases, Nervous Diseases, Diseases of women. For Circulars, address N. A. Pennoyer, M.D., or E. Pennoyer, pro-prietor. References: The Bishop of Minnesota, the Sisters of St.Mary, Kemper Hall, Kenosha.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELLERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found else-where in this issue.

wanderings. In illustration, mention may be made of cer-tain interesting facts alluded to in the Paper read by the President of the G. F. S. for America, at the Annual Meeting held in Boston, April 27th.

THE CREAT

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

137 No other line runs Three Through Pas-senger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha. Lincain. St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming. Montana, Ne-vada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California. California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comforta-ble Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott. Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galves-ton and all points in Texas.

ton and all points in Texas. The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman 16-wheel) Poince Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C. B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking (Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Re-volving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

class passengers. Steel Track and Superior Equipment, com-bined with their Great Through Car Arrange-ment, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury

Instead of a disconfort. Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada. All information boott Rates of Fare, Sleep-ing Car Accommodations. Timber States ing Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given by applying to

JAMES R. WOOD, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, T. J. POTTER, General Manager, Chicago,

To the Editor of the Living Church:

In some of your late issues, I have noticed several articles on choirs, and in that of April 2d I see one of your correspondents states that, in his opinion, the best training school for Candidates for Orders are choirs of men and boys. Reference also has been made, in your correspondent's letters, to the Choir of the Church of the Advent, Boston, under the care of the Mission Priests, S. S. J. E., and the thought has suggested itself to me that perhaps some of your readers might be interested in hearing something about our school and the school-choir connected with the Church of the Advent, which supplies the want, that I understand, was felt by the late Bishop De Lancey, viz.: a training school for the Ministry, not of boys already fixed in their desire for the Ministry, but for boys whose training would be such as to fit them to become Candidates for Orders, and perhaps to inspire the desire. This is not accomplished by schools intended for choir boys alone, as the experience in England has shown.

We have at the Advent two choirs. The one for the Sunday music, and the school choir, recruited from amongst the boys of the School of St. John the Evangelist, who volunteer to sing on week days at Evensong, and on Sundays at the one Service held in that portion of our new church which is at present built.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

The quiet but thoroughly practical work which this Society has been doing since its organization in America a little more than three years ago, is by degrees attracting attention throughout inquiries in regard to its aims and methods. The brief item which appeared in your issue of the 30th ult., acceptable as it was from the kindly interest that its insertion manifested, was in some respects liable to give an erroneous idea to those unacquainted with the Society's workings. The term-"Girl's Friendly Aid Society," there used, would be not unlikely to convey the impression that it is designed to be a charitable Association for the giving of temporal aid to those in need. The Society, is on the contrary, intended to unite and strengthen in the bonds of friendliness and mutual interest, and in conformity with Churchly ways, those who are honorably earning an independent livelihood, and who very rarely seek or are willing to accept assistance from others. The lives of those who are thus by their own exertion providing for their maintenance are often beset by imanifold temptations; and the strength which comes of the association of girls and young women of pure and virtuous life, and their friendly intercourse with the ladies who act as Associates of the Society, is of inestimable value.

The experience of every clergyman whose field of labor lies in any one of our manufacturing centres, soon teaches him how difficult it is to make sure that new comers shall promptly avail themselves of the Church, and the means of all imperfections in a very short time. grace to which they have elsewhere been accustomed; and, when they remove to other towns and cities, how uncertain it is that they will in their changed surroundings continue to profit by the same, after his personal ministrations in their behalf, shall of necessity have ceased. Now this difficultyt is one which he G. F. S. grapples with branches. Children are more hurt by indiscrim inate, thoughtless fault-finding than by any other one thing. Let us deem all fault-finding that does no good, a sin.

"I'm a skeptic," said an immature person of the masculine gender, in a vain-glorious strain. "An epileptic?" asked an old lady, somewhat hard of hearing. "Poor boy!" you look like it, so you do." While the smile went round, the youth went out.

COMPOUND OXYGEN IN EPILEPSY. COMPOUND OXYGEN IN EPILEPSY. The following is an extract from a letter received from a patient who had used Compound Oxygen for Epilepsy. It is dated March, 1879: "I commenced taking the Compound Oxygen last April (1878) for ep-ilepsy, and have taken four months' treatment. It has helped me more than all the medicines which I have taken for the last five years. Have only had spasms one time since I commenced taking the Oxy-gen. I think I am entirely cured of the spasms, and I have not taken the Oxygen regularly for several months, and my health is better in every way than for several years before." Our Treatise on Com-pound Oxygen, which is sent free, will be found of great value to all who are suffering from any chronic disease. Address Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1109 and 1111 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

An exchange says the Egyptian obelisk cannot stand our climate. It will have to. It is asking a little too much of the people to change their climate to suit the oblisk.

Indigestion. Dyspepsia, nervous prostration, and all forms of general debility, relieved by taking Mensman's Peptonized Heef Tonic, the only proparation of beef containing its entire nutritious properties. It is not a mere stimulant, like the ex-tracts of beef, but contains a blood-making, force-generating, and life-sustaining properties; is invalu-able in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork, or of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork, or acute disease; particularly if resulting from pul-monary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Propri-etors, New York.

A large majority of New York city favorite ac-tresses, together with Mme. Adelina Patti, and very many society laics, unite in praising "Champlin's Liquid Pearl." It is harmless to the skin, removing VESSEL FOR AFRICA. The barque "Liberia" will (probably) sail from New York for Monrovia, Cape Palmas, &c., Liberia, West Coast of Africa, on or about the last of May. The Secretary of the Foreign Committee will forward any packages sent to his care, (28 Bible House, New York). It is necessary that he should be advised by mail of the contents and value of each package. This in-formation is required at the Should be advised. the contents and value of each package. This formation is required at the N. Y. Custom House.

PROOF It is a first-class paint, with linseed oil, zind, pure lead, or iron for a base: without adultera-tion. The above combined with chemicals renders wood absolutely proof against the beginnings of fire as started by sparks, onders, burning shar-ings, kerosense oil, etc. A house or a block of houses painted in all their parts with this paint would be safe from fire within themselves. Man'd solely by the CHICAGO FIRE PROOF PAINT CO., 116 & 118 Franklin St., Chicago, Ilis.

ESTABLISHED A. D. 1870.

YOUNG CHURCHMAN THE

Will enter upon its Twelfth Volume with the April number. The Young Churchman has reached a large circulation, and is now distributed regularly in near-ly four hundred Sunday Schools.

If y four numera sunday schools. The Young Churchman is handsomely illustrated; is the largest child's paper in the American Church; contains a greater variety of matter, and is as use-ful in the family as in the Sunday School. The Young Churchman is malled, postage free, to single subscribers at 25 cents per annum. In quan-tities of ten or more copies to one address, at the rate of the cents per annum, advance payment.

of 16% cents per copy. per annum, advance payment. Specimen copies sent on application. Address

The Young Churchman, Milwaukee, Wis.

ESTABLISHED 1836. S. Brainard's Sons. SHEET MUSIC AND MUSIC BOOK PUBLISHERS. CHICAGO and CLEVELAND.

The largest Catalogue and the largest manufactur ers in America, with a single exception.

An immense variety of music for every season and occasion.

Catalogues and bulletins of novelties sent free. Please send postal.

"The Land and the Life, or Sketches and Studies in Palestine,"

Following the course of the Lord's Life according to the Catholic Faith. "We rejoice in this book as a protest against the purely scientific and secularistic tenderness of modern travellers." Published by A. D. F. RANDOLPH & CO., N. Y Price $1.25. (With 24 Illustrations.)

ASPARAGUS." "THE VERY OF ESSENCE

Cures all irritative diseases of the kidneys and bladder. By its mild and strengthening action it purifies the blood better than purgatives. It relieves liver and skin diseases. It prevents heart diseases, rheumatism and dropsy. It is of invaluable help to F. CROSBY, 666 6th AVENUE, New York. For Sale by Druggists; Or by Mail 50 cents in Postage Stamps children who are troubled with diuresis at night.

THE LIVING CHURCH.

The Libing Church. May 21, 1881. Entered at the Chicago P. O. as second-class mail matter Subscription, - - $2.00 a Year To the Clergy, - 1.50 Advertising Rates, per agate line, 15 cts. C. W. LEFFINGWELL, D. D. NEW YORK. No. 40 Bible Hou CHICAGO. 162 Washington Street.

Until June 1st, 1881, the LIVING CHURCH will be sent to new Subscribers, three It is a very sad condition for a human bemonths for 25 cents. Only the first thousand subscribers on this plan can receive back numbers of Bishop Perry's and Dr. Warring's Series.

Pity the Poor!

On one of the coldest and darkest nights of our last cold, dark winter, as the writer ests of impostors who make a trade of was hastening from the office of the LIVING begging. It is as much the duty of the CHURCH to a place of refreshment and of a magnificent building near the Board helpless poor who have no faculty of getof Trade. In the dim gas-light that flick- ting on in the world; for the improvident, boy?" was the question asked by a passing burdens that are too heavy for them. pedestrian, who was scarcely able to stand lieve the child's want and suffering.

The figure of that shivering child with their own lack of energy and thrift. his bundle of papers unsold, his little all, his last hope, dimmed all the light and cheer of the great city; and the sound of that plaintive voice echoed in every wail of the night-wind. The whole sad picture of the day's struggle and the night's despair of that little human heart, dispelled so sad, so pitiful, so forlorn.

That was a touching scene, that dusky group gathering to buy out the little fellow's stock of papers; and who can doubt that they who had stopped to listen to the cry of anguish, went on their way with more abiding joy in the memory of a good deed done, than the half frozen vagrant felt who clutched his pennies and vanished in the darkness !

And what of the thousands who suffered in silence that dreadful night—families that shivered around fireless hearth-stones, the sick and maimed and helpless creatures that live on in misery when skies are bright and winds are warm-what must be their state at such a time? How very dreary and dreadful must the winter be to those who have not fire and food and home! How hard and hopeless life must seem to them ! It is true that many of them have themselves to blame, but that does not relax the pinch of cold nor allay the pangs of hunger. They are wretchedly shiftless and unthrifty, perhaps lazy, perhaps intemperate. Yet they have feelings, they are human. They are susceptible of pain of body and distress of mind. It is pitiful to see even a brute suffer, much more one who is cast in the mould of humanity. In the presence of a sore distress the sympathetic soul heeds not the unworthiness of the sufferer. It is enough to know that he is human and in misery. Sorrow and pain are the keys that unlock the secret chambers of charity all over the world. We do not plead for indiscriminate charity towards all that are in need. It is a selfish and indolent charity that takes no trouble to bestow its charity aright. What we do plead for is active and universal charity that seeks to find out and relieve the wants and woes of humanity. We urge upon the strong the duty of helping news sent us by a parish priest, the followto bear the burdens of the weak. The fact that a man is strong and prosperous is the indication of a duty to minister the received into the Church by this rite." gifts he has received. pacities, opportunities, inheritance of to equalize these things, to the extent, at least, of saving the weak and unfortunate from the results of their own folly from the results of their own folly.

they will always be worthless and needy. They deserve nothing and therefore shall have nothing. Consider, kind-hearted reader, how it has come about that so many people are "good for nothing." They had a bad start in life, have known nothing but unthrift from infancy, were born vagabonds, and bred to be beggars.

ing to be in. Humanly speaking, there seems to be no help for it, but a prudent charity may somewhat mitigate its misery. Better a few dollars wasted than a few pence too little, in the effort to smooth the hard way of the world's unfortunates. We have no wish to further the intercharitable to detect and expose these, as it shelter, he was startled by the moans and is to relieve the actual suffering of those cries of a little boy. The poor child was who cannot hold their own in the battle crouching and shivering on the stone steps of life. We plead for the great throng of ered with every gust of the sharp north unfortunate creatures, that cannot stand wind, the pitiful spectacle was presented alone in the struggle for advancement. of a lad not nine years old, overcome with We plead that the law of "the survival of cold and hunger, his little body bent the fittest" may not be applied inexorably double in the effort to cherish its warmth, to men, but that the law of Christian and a bundle of papers held convulsively charity may prevail, and that the strong under his arm. "What is the matter, my may strive to help the weak to bear the

The wisest and largest charity cannot, against the icy gale in which the lad lay of course, equalize the varying conditions shivering. "I can't sell any papers," the of life and fortune among men. But it feeble voice replied through chattering may soothe the asperities of poverty and teeth; and the wail of misery and childish soften the miseries of misfortune, in some despair that followed, still rings in the degree; and this it ought to do, even if ears of more than one who paused to re- the objects of its benevolence are not accounted worthy, and are suffering from

"Our Chicago Correspondent" of the Southern Churchman sometimes varies his reports of concerts and secular affairs, by giving an account of the savings and doings of some of the city clergy. He lately reported the lecture of a prominent Recall other thoughts and memories. It was tor, and quoted him as saying : "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.⁴ The Word, then, was the first thing created, and by the Word of God all other things were created."

> If this is not Arianism, what is? If the lecturer said this, he is liable to be presented. But we venture to say that no clergyman of the Church in Chicago ever made such a statement. The inaccuracy of "our correspondent" is further exhibited in the same report, where he makes

The hand of charity is too often closed penitence), "the spirit of wisdom and to the unthrifty poor, for the reason that, understanding, the spirit of counsel and no matter how much is done for them, ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness, and the spirit of holy fear."

> The Chicago Times of last Saturday, with characteristic enterprise, gave a cable despatch of three columns, purporting to give the new and old readings of the principal passages affected by the forthcoming translation of the Bible. It will be remembered that the General Convention of 1880 declined to take any action with reference to this translation until some action be had by the House of Convocation of the Mother Church. Whether the changes indicated in the Times report are W. Corbyn, Horace Clark D. D., F. R. Starr, N. as appointed to be read in the Churches, seems to us extremely doubtful.

the situation as shown by the statistics the day. gathered in Mackeson's Guide to the Churches of London and its Suburbs: "Taken as a whole, the picture which the figures present of life and activity, of a consider order and decency in the conduct of the Services, is a matter for intense satisfaction."

THE Preface to Dr. Warring's series being concluded, and the pressure of various Convention Reports, and of other matter of immediate interest, being very publication of the next chapter of the papers on "Genesis I. and Science."

It is announced in a local paper that 'last Sunday, Rev. Father Kane, of St. Joseph's Church, made known to his congregation his intention of delivering serpalianism has no right on earth given to it by the Creator, and far less right will it have in heaven"!

THE Church Times points out how the same cell which George Fox, the Quaker, once occupied, and he has been sent there by the authority of a Quaker Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, Mr. Bright !

without the LIVING CHURCH. At present, it is all of the Church we have in Pike

WESTERN TEXAS.

Consecration of the Cathedral St. Mark's, San Antonio.

St. Mark's Day was truly "an high day" with the Church-people of San Antonio; for it brought the happy consummation of years of labor and of prayer, in the Consecration to the worship of Almighty God, of the beautiful Cathedral of St. Mark's.

Among the clergy who were present and participated in the Services, were the following: The Rt. Rev. the Bishops of Tennessee, Texas, Western Texas and Northern Texas; the Very Rev. S. H. Green, Dean of St. Matthew's Cathedral, Dallas, Texas; the Very Rev. G. C. Harris, S. T. D., Dean of St. Mary's Cathedral, Memphis, Tenn.; the Very Rev. W. R. Richardson, Dean of St. Mark's Cathedral, San Antonio, Texas; the Revs. W. T. Allen, J. B. Trevett, W. of sufficient importance to require an of- B. Fuller: Deans, E. G. Benners, J. J. Clemens, ficial sanction and the revision of the Bible S. M. Bird, B. A. Rogers, Walter Nott, (Buffalo, N. Y.,) and Edgar Orgain, Chaplain to the Bishop of Tennessee. There was present also the surpliced choir of Christ Church, Houston, consisting of thirty members who, with

THE English Churchman thus speaks of their organist conducted the Musical Services of

By the exercise of remarkable ingenuity, the raditions of "this Church" were scrupulously followed; resulting in the apportionment of some fragment of the Service to nearly each one of the clergy in attendance. If ever such an unvastly increased provision of the means of Catholic and unnecessary "Use" as this is to be grace, and of the general disposition to discountenanced, it surely should be upon such an occasion as that which brought so many of the clergy together in San Antonio.

> The Services of the morning having been concluded (the sermon being preached by the Bishop of Tennessee,) the clergy re-formed in procession, and retired, preceded by the choir singing Hymn 232, as a Recessional.

Thus closed a most interesting event in the history of the Church in this frontier field. The great, we defer, until another issue, the Services, though long, were well sustained throughout, moving with smoothness and precision; and the interest of the large congregation seemed never to flag. All the available space was filled with extra chairs and benches, and yet many were forced to stand.

Bishop Quintard's sermon was a very eloquent sage from St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians vi: mons in which he will prove that Episco- 9, "In due season, we shall reap, if we faint not." Having treated his subject in a general way, he referred to the rapid growth and increase of our country, and the marvelous spread of the Anglican Church, throughout the world. He Antonio. paid a tribute to the labors of the Right Rev.

Alexander Gregg, by whose earnest efforts the whirligig of Time has once more brought Church in the United States had been brought its revenge. Mr. Green occupies the self- to understand the magnitude of the work in the state of Texas.

> In 1859, when the Rev. Alex. Gregg was consecrated Bishop of the then recently-organized diocese of Texas, he was sent to a jurisdiction by the Rev'ds H. G. Perry, of All Saints, Chicathat was in extent almost equal to the original go, and F. N. Luson, of St. Paul's Mission, Aus-

A LADY correspondent, writing from fifteen years he traveled over this enormous ju- remarkably good. A very able sermon was de-Pike County, Ill., says: "We cannot do risdiction, and then appealed to his brethren of livered by Canon Knowles, of the Cathedral, County. The parish at Pittsfield, ten As a result of his appeal, two missionary juris- ber of the Church. A beautiful comparison was vices, the visiting choir being still in attendance and acquitting themselves, if possible, even more acceptably than in the morning.

Bishop Gregg, of Texas, who was at one time a resident in San Antonio, gave by special request a brief historical sketch of the Parish.

Bishop Garrett of Northern Texas preached with his usual wonderful eloquence and power. which were both sorely tried and emphasized, by the bursting upon us, in the midst of the sermon, of a terrific thunder storm mingled with violent rain and hail. But the speaker seemed to rise in energy and power, with the warring elements, and, with a marvellous skill, wove the very tempest into his discourse, and used it to illustrate his subject, holding his audience spell-bound through it all.

Dean Richardson then in a few brief sentences expressed for himself and the congregation their heartfelt appreciation of the kind and brotherly interest and sympathy which had brought so many brethren of the Bishop and Clergy (many of them from quite a distance), to share in their rejoicings. He referred also to the choir-boys of Houston, who had travelled all the night before to be with them, and to sing-like those children in the sacred story of old—"Hosannas to the Son of David," in what has just been consecrated to be His Holy Temple.

The Services of the evening were not without a diverting incident, to break in upon the solemnity of the occasion. While the good Bishop of Texas was giving his historical sketch of the parish, a veritable "Church Mouse," envious, no doubt, of the notice that the swallows had attracted in the morning, climbed upon the Altar, and made himself so much at home there, that it was thought necessary to dislodge him. But he was not disposed to retreat, until, by a quick nervous blow from one of the clergy, he was landed squarely upon one of the Rt. Rev. Fathers, much to his momentary surprise and dismay.

It had been announced that after Evening Service a reception in honor of the visiting clergy and Bishops would be given at the Guilbean Mansion, the residence of Brig. Gen. Augur, U. S. A., and of Col. Blanton Duncan. But the violence of the storm of course prevented the carrying out of this part of the programme, much to the regret of all visitors and citizens alike, at thus missing, what from Gen. Augur and Col. and forcible exposition and application of a pas- Duncan's well-known grace and courtesy as hosts, and that of the ladies of their respective families, would have been a most brilliant and enjoyable conclusion to the more solemn engagements of a day, which to us shall henceforth be truly "a redletter Day" in the Kalendar of St. Mark's, San Northeastern Convocation of Illinois. Correspondence of the Living Church.

A meeting of this body took place on the evening of May 2d, in St. Mark's Church at Evanston, pursuant to a call of the Dean. Sixteen of the clergy were present. Evening Prayer was said Thirteen States of the American Union. For tin. The attendance for a week-day Service, was the House of Bishops (not for relief from labor, Chicago, on the text "Go work in my vineyard." but) that they should realize the golden opportu- The vineyard was shown to be the Church first, nities God was giving to the Church in Texas. and, second, the heart of the incorporated memmiles distant, is without a clergyman; and dictions were set off from the diocese of Texas, drawn between the workings of God in nature, the lecturer, who is a master of English, say: "Looking like a thing is true !" Our contemporary may possibly be "doing a good work" in Virginia, but this looks like (pardon the phrase!) his Chicago enterprise is not very well managed.

An esteemed correspondent in Pennsylvania wants to ask a "searching question." He has been told, "with every appearance of information," etc., that the LIVING CHURCH is near its last gasp, is making frantic efforts to secure subscribers to tide over its present stress, and will shortly be "absorbed," as so many of its predecessors have been. He likes the paper, but does not propose to aid or abet it if the report is true. There must be some naughty people lieing around Pennsylvania, and it will be considered a favor if some friend there will send us the names of parties who are attempting to injure this paper. We will give them a speedy notoriety in our editorial columns. A good conscience, good digestion, and a good bank account, enable the publisher to preserve his equanimity amid such detractions, and he threatens to stop issuing supplements, if they are to be construed into premonitions of journalistic suicide.

Not long since, in an item of Church ing words occurred in connection with Confirmation : "Thirty persons have been order. Baptism, and Baptism only is the Divinely The things of this world-talents, ca- appointed means by which persons are "received into the Church." Confirmaphysical, material, mental and social ad- tion is the Divinely appointed means vantages, are very unevenly distributed. through which are conveyed to the soul What is easily attainable by some, is utterly larger measures and special gifts of the impossible to others. We must try wisely Holy Spirit of God. By it, are added to posing obstacle, such, for instance, as im- cumbrance.

that is the only church-building in this and to-day there are in the State of Texas three desolate county."

THE Bishop of London is reported to have remarked of Dean Stanley: "He is the principal Non-conformist in my Diocese."

Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

Missionary Conference to be held in St. Luke's Church, in the city of Rochester, on the 31st of May, and the 1st and 2d of June, 1881.

TUESDAY, May 31st-Evening-.Sermon by St. Luke's Church, Philadelphia.

WEDNESDAY, June 1st, A. M.-The Holy Communion, Address by Bishop Coxe, Informal Disdussions; Domestic Missions, Indian Missions.

A very beautiful incident occurred in the midst Both opened by the Rev. Dr. Twing, Secretary of these Services, strikingly illustrating that of the Domestic Committee. Evening-General beautiful verse in one of the special Psalms ap-Missionary Meeting. Speakers-The Rev. Corpointed for the occasion (the 84th): "Yea. the nelius B. Smith, Rector of St. James' Church, New York; the Rev. John W. Brown, S. T. D., sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest where she may lay her young, Rector of Trinity Church, Cleveland, Ohio; the Rev. William A. Matson, D. D., Rector of the even Thine Altars, O Lord of Hosts! my King and my God!" For two little swallows that had Church of the Resurrection, Richmond Hill, L. I. found a lodgement high up among the timbers of THURSDAY, June 2d, A. M .--- Informal Discussion, Foreign Missions. Opened by the Rev. the roof immediately over the Altar, were through it all-plying their busy vocation in building Joshua Kimber, Secretary of the Foreign Comtheir little nest; and some of the bits of straw mittee, followed by the Rev. Samuel R. Fuller, Rector of Christ Church, Corning. "The Mexi- and twigs and moss which they occasionally can Branch of the Church." Opened by the dropped would fall upon the very Altar-steps. Rev. Abbott Brown, General Secretary of "The Then the saucy little fellows, with a wondrous League," etc. "Mome Missions to Colored Peofearless innocence, would fly down into the very ple." Opened by the Rev. William M. Hughes, midst of the surpliced throng; and, alighting at the feet of our Right Reverend Fathers, would Rector of St. John's Church, Buffalo. (Appointed by the Bishop of Western New York.) catch up their tiny burdens, and wing their spiral flight heavenward again. Did they know, I won-Note-If there be time, impromptu addresses upon the work in Greece and Haiti will be in der, that the Church was smiling upon their labors? I expect that some of the Choir-boys GENERAL MISSIONARY MEETING-Evening .-(and possibly some others) gave more attention Speakers : The Rev. Francis Lobdell, Rector of to the sermon the little feathered messengers St. Andrew's Church (Harlem), New York; the were preaching upon the text above named, then Rev. William S. Langford, Rector of St. John's they did to the eloquent Bishop of Tennessee. Church, Elizabeth, N. J. The closing address to be made by the Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D., Rector of Grace Church, New York. Oh! may we have builded, may we yet build as wisely and as well as they; only not for us be the wood, hav and stubble, but the cold and silver wisely and as well as they; only not for us be the wood, hay and stubble, but the gold and silver by Mr. Charles Comstock, Senior Warden. and precious stones of hearts purified seven times

On the 4th Sunday after Easter (May 15th),

Bishops and forty-six clergymen. In 1859, fifty Unquestioning submission to the will of God, as communicants were reported in St. Mark's parish, San Antonio, and but 430 in the entire State. To-day, the number of communicants in this missionary jurisdiction is doubled, while the morning (at which a goodly number of the faithcommunicants in this parish have increased from ful received), and another at 10. At the former, 50 to 275.

"Twelve years of faithful persevering labor, on the part of Dean Richardson," said the Bishop, "have resulted in increasing the number of communicants from eighty to 275, and in giving you this beautiful House of Prayer."

We regret that we are unable to give a more extended notice of the Bishop's striking and and was substantially a eulogy of the Pontiff's the Rev. C. George Currie, D. D., Rector of most impressive sermon. Our account of it speaks of its closing words as being especially beautiful, winning for the distinguished preacher "golden opinions" from all who had the privilege of listening to it.

within the Deanery were made by their respective priests, and among them was one by Mr. Luson, of the work done at Austin, within the past year, from May to May, where it was showed that while for the previous year the Mission had raised $292, this year it had raised $2,000; fifteen hundred of which had been raised and expended on a church-building, erected on a lot given, and worth $2,500-since October last. This called for gratitude to God; but the time had come for the church-people in this Convocation to help support the Missionary. Upon this report, a committee was appointed to raise $200 a year to keep Mr. Luson at work at Austin, and obtain from the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, further aid.

The next meeting of this Convocation was appointed to take place at Highland Park, on the last Tuesday and Wednesday of June. The essayist is Rev. W. H. Petrie; but, instead of a sermon, it was decided to have three ten-minute addresses, by Rev'ds Messrs. Fleetwood, Morrison, Jr., and Benedict.

A resolution was passed, providing for the election by the Deanery, subject to the approval of the Right Rev. the Bishop, of the Priest to conduct the next Clerical Retreat, whenever the same should be held.

After the adjournment, the Deanery was hospitably entertained at a generous lunch provided

The Convocation adjourned, after having in the fire, and of bodies brought as living stones fitly framed together for an holy temple in the nod behavior of field theorem the Scientific Sciences and successful meeting of Lord, and habitation of God, through the Spirit ! the N. E. Deanery. The next one gives prom At night, there were also most interesting Ser-? of being even more so.

and the same God in the Kingdom of Grace. revealed, and obedience in the use of means appointed could alone secure the desired result. There was an early Celebration at 7 the next the Rector of the Parish, Rev. Dr. Jewell, was Celebrant. At the latter, the Rev. Dean Locke, of Grace Church, Chicago; the Rev. Edward Ritchie, acting as Deacon. The essayist for the occasion was the Rev. Mr. Kinney, and the subject-"The Pontificate of Pius the 9th." The essay was able; showed vast research for facts. course in his time. Some criticisms were made on the positions taken by the essayist, but in a friendly spirit. Reports from Mission fields

MAY 21, 1881.

DIOCESE OF SOUTHERN OHIO.

Annual Convention.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

The 7th Annual Convention of this Diocese assembled at Christ Church, Cincinnati, on Tuesday, May 10, at 9 o'clock. There was a large attendance of both clerical and lay deputies.

After Morning Prayer, the Convention was called to order by the Bishop. St. Matthew's Parish, of Mount Lookout, was duly admitted on report of Committee. Rev. C. H. Young was unanimously elected Secretary, and the Standing Committees were appointed.

At 11 o'clocks the Ordination Services took place. The sermon was preached by the Rev. F. M. Hall, and was an able and thoughtful production, founded mainly on the thought that the Ministry was a "vocation." The Bishop then proceeded to ordain Mr. Edward M. McDuffey (presented by the Rev. D. W. Rhodes) to the Diaconate; and to advance the Rev. Paul M. Sterling (presented by the Rev. S. Means), and the Rev. J. W. Gilman (presented by the Rev. J. G. Rose), for Priests' Orders. Mr. McGuffry is to take charge of the parishes of Urbana and Greenville. The Rev. Mr. Sterling is Rector of the Church of the Resurrection, Fern Bank, and the Rev. Mr. Gilman is in charge of the Parish of Soudon.

The Bishop's Address was read in the beginning of the afternoon session. It was largely devoted to a statement of the legislation of the General Convention, and to practical suggestions growing out of it; and to the meeting of the Bishops of Pittsburgh, Michigan and West Virginia, with the Bishops of Ohio and Southern Ohio, at Gambier, last year, to consider the interests of the college and theological seminaries at that point.

In summing up his annual episcopal work, he the priesthood; that there were six candidates for Holy Orders; that ten clergymen had been received and nine transferred; the present number of clergy being fifty-three; the whole num- ester. bes of parishes forty-eight; the whole numberof parishes and missions, sixty-seven; confirmament of a general Diocesan Missionary for des- of work done. titute points. The Address was referred to appropriate committees.

In the evening a missionary meeting was held after Evening Prayer. The Rev. Alfred S. Blake, Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary Commitpresent the re are eleven missions, embracing sev- vada. enteen parishes and mission stations, receiving ton. The report especially dwelt on the necessity of largely increased contributions.

The report of Mrs. Montgomery Rochester, Director of the Southern Ohio Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was then read. It showed that the work done by the Missions. Over $5,000 had been contributed ing greatly in that branch of the mission work. and expended, in money and valuable articles.

The remainder of the session which was protracted to a late hour, was devoted to warm and earnest Addresses from a large number of clergymen and laymen. The speeches were supplemented by the very practical result of increased the subject of uniformity in the Musical Services of the Church was referred by the last Convention, reported that in their work they found the clergy to be generally in favor of uniformity of Church Music, and in favor of some ade, and then by water floods.

system of choir festivals, as they are carried on in some other dioceses of the Church. The Committee are persuaded that such festivities would serve an important purpose, in the improvement of the whole character of the music of the diocese. Because of the difficulties attending the latter in widely separated churches, they recommended the clergy and choirs of Hamilton County to undertake a festival of their own, either acting by themselves, or with co-operation from abroad. The report was accepted as one of progress, and the committee was continued. The Bishop appointed the following Committees : For Visiting Gambier-Rev. Mr. Rose, Mr. Charles Short and Mr. E. M. Wood.

Examining Chaplains-Rev. C. L. Fischer. Rev. J. T. Webster, Rev. Wm. Bower, Rev, John H. Ely, Rev. Charles H. Babcock.

The next meeting of the Convention was appointed to be held at Trinity Church, Newark, on Wednesday, May 10, 1882, and the Convention adjourned. During the two days of the session, the ladies of the Associate Mission of the Church in Cincinnati, which includes all the parishes, served a lunch for all delegates and visitors in the basement of the Church. It was elegant in all its appointments, and was a very agreeable centre of social enjoyment.

We cannot pass over the proceedings of the Convention without a notice of the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, which was held on the day preceding the meeting ot the Convention, at the Church of the Advent; Mrs. Mary H. Rochester (Director), presiding. There were present, representatives from sixty-six parishes stated that there had been four ordinations to in the diocese. The business meetings were conducted entirely by the ladies, no gentlemen being present; and in the evening the Opening Service of Worship was conducted by Mrs. Roch-

Reports were read from all the parochial Societies, which were of a highly encouraging chartions, 420; sermons and addresses, 160. He acter. Every pledge made had been fulfilled, especially dwelt on the necessity of the appoint- and there had been a large and effective amount

A letter was read from the wife of Bishop Spalding, asking for assistance for the hospital at Denver. Aid to the amount of $300 was at once pledged by the delegates. The delegates also undertook to raise money enough to purtee, read the Annual Report, showing that at chase a scholarship in the college at Reno, Ne-

Mrs. Rochester, who had been commissioned help. All of these are supplied except Hamil- by the society to consult with the Bishop in the preparation of a simple Form of Service, and an Order of Business to be used at the meetings, reported back to the Society; and the Form and Order of Business were adopted.

Mrs. Buford, of Southern Virginia, who has been doing extensive missionary work among Christian women of the Diocese was of the most the freedmen in her section of the State, and effective kind, both for Foreign and Domestic was present, by invitation, interested the meet-The meeting adjourned at half-past 9 o'clock.

The Floods in Dakota.

Correspondence of the Living Church. We have just passed through one of the longest and hardest winters known to our white inhabitants, which ended in the middle of April, with a thaw and flood. The details have been already published in the secular papers, and it is true, we have had much suffering and great loss of property, especially in the valleys of the Missouri and Sioux Rivers. Here, in Elk Point, we had an overflow, and my home in the north part of the town was flooded with three feet of water. We were driven to the upper chambers, and were comfortably provided for until the water subsided. Friends living on higher ground, came to our assistance in boats. Our Chapel being on a more elevated site, was saved from overflow, and most of the people in the south part of the town, as well. The settlers in the

THE LIVING CHURCH.

Personal Mention.

Rev. D. A. Sanford, missionary for Mitchell, Dakota, reached there May 4th. He was detained eleven weeks in Iowa, first by snow-block-

The address of the H. Forrester is changed from Albuquerque, to New Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The Rev. F. H. Potts has changed his resi-dence from Mattoon, Ill., to Davenport, Iowa. Address accordingly.

St. James' Church and Cemetery at Milton Centre, N. Y., on Tuesday, May 24th, at 10 A. M. The Bishop will visit St. John's Clergy House and Chapel, East Line, at 3 P. M.

The second number of the American Church Review, under the new management, is at hand. A most attractive volume of 300 pages, handsomely printed. A notice of it will be given in our book reviews, but we desire to call attention here and now to the work that Mr. Baum is doing, and to commend it to the consideration of all who have any pride or interest in our Church Literature.

Potices.

Married.

SCHROEDER-SCHLUND.-May 12th, by Rev. H. Judd, of Grace Church, Oak Park, Ill., at the resi-dence of the bride's father, Christian Schlumd, Carrie Elizabeth, and Wm. H. L. Schroeder, all of Harlem, Ill.

Died.

SEAMANS.—Entered Into Life, on the evening of Friday, May 13, Mary Elizabeth, wife of Stephen H. Scamans, of Wauwatosa, Wis., and daughter of Isaac Hitchcock, of West Troy, New York. "At eventide it shall be light."

Miscellaneous.

A young lady, a native of France, now in the Sen-ior Class of St. Mary's School, Knoxville, Ill., desires a situation as teacher or governess, after her gradu-ation in June. Refers to the Rector, to whose care letters may be addressed.

APPEAL.-St. Bartholomew's Mission for Colored Pcople, Pittsborough, N. C. This work is commended to the charity of the faithful of Christ's Church. We urgently need at least $400 to help pay for the Mis-sion property, and to put the school-room and chapel into decent order. We have a large Sunday School; public worship semi-monthly, and a parochial school of nearly sixty pupils. The parish has been willingly taxed to the utmost of its splitty. We can but or taxed to the utmost of its ability. We can but appeal for help. EDMUND N. JOYNER, Rector. Peal for help. EDMUND N. JOYNER, Rector. H. A. LONDON, Treasurer. Pittsborough, N. C. Reference to Bishop Lyman.

By HENRY C. POTTER, p. p.

Rector of Grace Church, New York.

Second Edition. 12mo, 22 Sermons, 348 Pages, $1.75

"It is to be hoped that this most readable and use-ful volume may have a wide circulation, since it deals at once gracefully and boldly with living ques-tions. It is a thoroughly manly and common-sense book, in which facts are squarely faced and handled without affectation or sentimentalism. With such ouestions as the reasonetheuse nuisance and the

"The sermons are the best presentation of the

A CYCLOPÆDIA WAR

An honored publishing house whose history is reputed to extend back into the last century, and whose wealth has been estimated at $8,000,000, is that of J. B. Lippincott & C., Philadelphia, Thelargest and most important publica. J. B. Lippincott & C., Philadelphia, Thelargest and most important publica. J. B. Lippincott & C., Philadelphia, Thelargest and most intervent the publica of the second state of

THE LITERARY REVOLUTION

boy, and from CHAMBER'S ENCYCLOP/ÆDIA the Character of the place, CHAMBER'S ENCYCLOP/ÆDIA the Character rati (b-d-b-gs) being far more numerous than customers for books. But by Jan. 1879, the Revolution had accumulated sufficient strength to print one small volume, which was increased to a product in 1880 of over one million volumes. Its business offices and $6.00, factories several other buildings elsewhere in the city, and it gives employment to about 600 hands. One item of its present large list of standard publications is an adition of Chamber's Encyclopædia, in 15 handy beautiful cloth-bound volumes, which it is selling at the low UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDCE price of $6 per set (lately reduced UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDCE from $7.50). This edition is a verbatim reprint of the London edition of lassu (instead of that of 18-sixty something, as in the case of the Lippincotts, with the alteration of a few census figures). Chamber's Encyclopædia, however, is a foreign work, and it could scarcely be expected that such a work, edited and published for a foreign market, would give as much prominence to American topics as American readers might desire. To supply these and other deficiencies, we TRIUMPHANT are now issuing under the title of Case of the Lippincotts, with the alteration of a few densities in the second a work, edited and published for a foreign market, would give as much prominence to American topics as American readers might desire. To supply these and other deficiencies, we TRIUMPHANT are now issuing under the title of "Library of Universal Knowledge" TRIUMPHANT are now issuing under the title of "Library of Universal Knowledge" TRIUMPHANT are now issuing under the title of "Library of Universal Knowledge" TRIUMPHANT a new edition in fifteen large octavo volumes, large type, in which a large force of American editors and writers have added about 15,000 topics, covering about 3,000 octavo pages, thus thoroughly Americanizing the work, and making it nearly 40 per cent larger than the original Chamber's, 10 per cent larger than Appleton's, and 20 per cent larger than Johnson's Cyclopædias. Of this edition, ten volumes are now ready for delivery, Volume XI. will be ready May 20, and the remaining volumes at intervals of a few days thereafter. Price per volume in cloth, $1; in half Russi, gilt top, $1.50. "First come, tirst served," is an old motto which we have supplemented by "Lowest prices to earliest purchasers," and accordingly, on this edition, we are for a few days offering the 10 volumes now published at the not price of $8.75. This price will very shortly be increased. Of course the 15,000 topics of new matter added in this edition are not to be found either in the Lippincott edition, nor in our own $6 edition. Both of them, however, are excellent works, remarkably cheap, and serve a good purpose for those who cannot afford the new and enlarged edition. Specimen pages show-ing type EIVE THOILSAND ROOK-SELLEFRS and serve a good purpose for those who cannot an of the new and enanced cutton. Specifier pages snow-ing type FIVE THOUSE THOUSE AND BOOK-SELLERS. and giving FIVE THOUSE in request. Throughout the United States and Canada are prepared to either abundantly supply or liberally slander our publications. We give liberal terms to clubs where no book-seller acts as agent. Descriptive catalogue and illustrated pamphlet describing book-making and typeseller acts as agent. Descriptive catalogue setting by steam will be sent free on request.

AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANCE, JOHN B. ALDEN, 'Manager. 764 Broadway, New York.

CENERAL ACENTS: Boston, H. L. Hastings, 47 Cornhill: Phila-delphia, Leary & Co.; Cincinnati, Robert Clarke & Co.; Indianapolis, Bowen, Stewart & Co.; Cleveland, Ingham, Clark & Co.; Cincinnati, Robert Clarke 120 Dearborn street; San Francisco, Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch; St. Louis, Logan D. Dameron; Atlanta, Ga., J. J. & S. P. Richards; Baltimore, W. E. C. Harrison; Richmond, Randolph & English: Pittsburgh, James Robinson; Grand Rapids,, Mich., Eaton, Lyon & Co.; Minneapolis, S. M. Williams.

viz.:

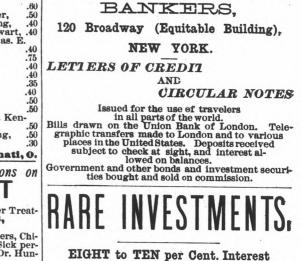

NEW MUSIC.

Say not Adieu. Ballad. T. or S. Operte, Merrily, Cheerily, Waltz Song. S. Menninger, My Childhood's Home. S. or T. J. E. Perring, Old Inn Sign. Song and Chorus. Jas. E. Stewart, Only to see Her Face. Song and Chorus. Jas. E. Stewart, The Smile. Waltz Song S. La Villa, Parted Not. Ballad. T. or S. Fairlamb, Angel's Kiss. Ballad. S. Florence Belknap, Come Again, Jamie. Ballad. J. B. Campbell, Siss the Baby Once for Me. Will S. Hays, Bright Imaginings. Caprice. Chas. Kenkel, Queen of the Meadow. Polka Caprice. Chas. Ken-kel, without affectation or sentimentalism. With such questions as the tenement-house nuisance, and the pauperism which develops parallel with the growth of charitable institutions, the author deals not as a mere theorist, but with knowle'ge of the facts, and as an earnest student of remedies. One of the most thoughtful and useful sermons in the volume is that on 'The Dangers and Failures of Institutionalism.'''-New York Tribune. kel, Whispering Pines. Concert Piece. H. Lessing, Blue Grass Meadow. Easy Waltz. L. Kellar, dangers which beset people of wealth with which we are acquainted, and their excellence is quite as much in their spirit as in what they say. Dr. Potter is a master of the art of wise speech."—New York Times.

Address Geo.D. Newhall & Co., Cincinnati, O. Just Published: Practical Observations on FOOD and DIET

"For a thoughtful treatment of social problems from the stand-point of a helpful Christian spirit, we refer our readers to these sermons."-The Literary World. In Health and Disease, and on the proper Treat-ment of the THROAT and LUNGS, By ROBERT HUNTER, M. D. Donnelley, Gassette, Lloyd & Co., Publishers, Chi-cago, and all Booksellers. Price 25 cents. Sick per-sons can obtain co∵ies free by applying to Dr. Hun-ter, 103 State St., C ☆ cago. "It is an encouraging sign of the times when such pledges to Diocesan Missions for the coming year; as much as $1,000 additional being pledged on behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary by Mrs. Rochester.

On long time loans, with best security in the world.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS.

On Wednesday morning, the Convention again assembled at 9 o'clock, and was opened by Morning Prayer, said by the Rev. E. M. W. Hills, of Dresden, the Rev. Mr. Stanley, of Cincinnati, and the Rev. Mr. Ensworth, of Portsmouth. After Morning Prayer, the annual alection was proceeded with and resulted as follows :

For Treasurer of the Diocese-Mr. A. N. Whiting. For Standing Committee of the Diocese-Rev. S. Benedict, D. D., Rev. I. N. Stanger, Rev. J. M. Kendrick, Mr. Channing Richards, Mr. A. H. McGuffey, Mr. W. J. M. Gordon. For Members of the Missionary Committee-Rev. A. F. Blake, Rev. J. T. Webster, Rev. H. L. Badger, Rev. C. H. Babcock, Rev. C. H. Young, Mr. W. B. Marsfield, Mr. R. S. Smith, Mr. A. N. Whiting, Mr. E. M. Wood. For Ed-ucation Committee—Rev. J. F. Ohl, D. D., Rev. C. S. Bates, D. D., Mr. H. C. Strong, Pro-fessor Lawrence Rust. For Trustee of Diocese Mr. M. M. Granger. For Ecclesiastical Court, Rev. John Boyd, D. D., Rev. Peter Tinsley, Rev. J. N. Rippey, Rev. T. J. Melish, Rev. J. T. Webster. Rev. J. M. Kendrick was re-elected Registrar of the Diocese.

The committees, to which the various portions of the Bishop's Address had been referred, reported; but in the main there was but little of general interest. The subject of the amendment of the Ratification of the Book of Common Prayer, gave rise to majority and minority reports of the Committee, and awakened some sparks of feeling; but the subject was laid on the table till the next Convention.

Dr. Pise, of the Committee on Canons, to Canon 2, relative to qualification of voters, reported an amendment providing that "In electing a vestry, every member of the parish, of months preceding the election, and who has serving of from one to ten per cent. of the Communion Alms for the widows and orphans of the deceased clergymen and for the aged, infirm and disabled clergymen, presented a resolution embodying the substance of the suggestion, which was adopted.

Rev. Mr. Fischer, of the Committee to whom

During the winter, I kept up Church and Sunday-school Services, and there was no break except one Sunday in Lent, and some week-day Services, in the time of the overflow. With the thermometer at forty below zero, our Chapel was as comfortable as a parlor, so that we worshipped God with every outward comfort. But the very severe weather has greatly diminished my suc-many of them lost all their cattle and grain.

cess in building up our interests, notwithstanding my provision for the convenience and comfort of the people. But we have fruit from the day-school. We have not "labored in vain, nor spent our strength for nought."

The Mission at Elk Point is one of prospective good; and the town is likely to become one of the most important in Union County. So that the Mission of the Church here, and all that whom was recommitted for revision Section 2, has been expended for it will show good results in good time. I am hopeful and work with good cheer, in this time of toil and sacrifice. God is good; and God is faithful; He is our refuge and legal age, who shall have been such for six help. We trust and hope in His mercy and love, through Jesus Christ.

Vermillion, fifteen miles up the Missouri River. signed the articles of parochial association, and is the location of my other Mission. The winter signed the articles of parochial association, and has contributed to the support of the parish as it may appoint, either as pew rent or otherwise, shall be entitled to vote." The report was adopted. Rev. Mr. Tinsley, of the committee appointed to consider the Bishop's suggestion for the re-vigorous and prosperous town in a few years. I shall now remove the Chapel to the Bluffs, in the hope of the future success of the Mission. It was well that we did not remove the Chapel last fall, as was intended, to the lower part of the town now swept away. Now we go to the Bluffs, as soon as I can get another hundred dollars to accomplish the work. J. V. HIMES, e work. J. V. HIMES, Missionary at Elk Point, D. Ty.

a volume as this comes from the press and finds plenty of readers, for this is a book destined, unless we are very much mistaken, to pass through many editions."-Christian at Work. "Reading them, we thank the Head of the Church for preparing and ordaining such a messenger of the Gospel and placing him at such a post for command-ing utterance. We earnestly commend the book to all makers of sermone, and then to the multitude of hearers."—Christian Union.

"Dr. Potter's style is clear and bright; he uses simple, unaffected English, and there is evident sin-cerity and carnestness in all that he says. Few ser-mons will bear reading from a book as well as these." —The Living Church.

163 Wabash Av. C. J. LEWIS & CO., 22d Street. DAKOTA WHEAT LANDS, In the famous valley of the Red River of the North, constituting what is known as the "Golden North-BALTIMORE Manufacturing Loans negotiated without charge by the Valley Shoe Loans negotiated without the second s DEPOT. For Men's, Women's, and Children's Hand-Sewed Shoes. HERBERT ROOT, Valley City, Barnes Co., Dakota. Ladies' and Gent's Boots and Shoes made to Meas-ure; a perfect fit guaranteed; at the old stand, 155 Twenty-second Street, also at the New Branch Store, S. W. Corner Wabash Avenue and Monroe St. R. GEISSLER, N. B.—Persons when visiting this city should call and leave their measure, for they can then order by postal card or otherwise, when Boots and Shoes are needed. 127 Clinton Place, N. Y., near 6th ave. Church Furnisher. John Stevenson & Co.. Art Worker, and Designer in Wood, Marble and Metal. Importing Tailors, MEMORIAL TABLETS NOW IN PROGRESS OF EXECUTION, For St. Luke's Church, New York, St. Paul's Church, Sing Sing, N. Y. 206 Dearborn Street, SEND FOR CIRCULAR. Honore Block. UDSON 10Per Ct. Discount to Clergymen. W. H. WELLS & BRO., Stained Glass Works 48 & 50 Franklin St., Chicago. A. H. MILLER N. W. Corner State WELER, and Washington Sts. SPRING STOCK OF CHICAGO. 07 State Street, Before the Great Fire corner Randolph & Clark Sts. Carpets, Curtains. U Furniture MADE TO ORDER. Directions for measuring, samples of materials, styles of garments with prices, sent free upon application by mail._____ Coverings, NOW OPEN. mail. Pieces for Mending sent with each suit. A great saving of trouble, and an economical way to clothe your boys. Address Latest Designs. LOWEST PRICES. POOLE & CO., 54 and 56 Duane St., N. Y. 5 PerCent Discount to Agente on our Publications. Write us giving full par-ticulars of past experience naming choice of territory. Complete Outfit for nomi-pal sum of 400, circulars for 40... WA, WOOD to Co., Drawer 1004) 214 Washington St Chicago. BS Bend stamp for dircular. Prof. 8. North, Syracuse, N. Y

THE LIVING CHURCH.

Calendar.

MAY, 1881.
1.	2d Sunday after Easter, and Feast (of St. Philip and St. James.	MA .
6.	Friday. Fast.
8.	3d Sunday after Easter.
13.
15.
20	Friday, Fast,
22.	5th Suuday after Easter.
23.	Rogation Day. Fast.
24.	Rogation Day. Fast.
25.	Rogation Day. Fast.
26.	Ascension Day.*
	Friday Fast.
20.	Sunday after Ascension.
* T	Proper Paalma: A. M., 8, 15, 21, P. M.,	24, 47, 103,
Pron	er Preface in the Office for Holy Con	mmunion,
ndi	through the Octave.

Rogation Week.

I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men. . . . For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour. I. TIMOTHY ii. 1, 3.

We who are bound to love our neighbors as ourselves must also pray for them as for ourselves, with this only difference, that we may enlarge in our temporal desires for kings, and pray for secular prosperity to them with more importunity than for ourselves, because they need more to enable their duty and government, and for the interests of religion and justice. This part of prayer is by the Apostle called Intercession, in which with special care we are to remember our relatives, our family, our charge, our benefactor, our creditors; not forgetting to beg pardon and charity for our enemies, and protection against them.

BISHOP JEREMY TAYLOR.

Ascension-Tide.

For all we love, the poor, the sad, The sinful, unto Thee we call; O let Thy mercy make us glad: Thou art our Jesus and our all. F. W. FABER.

Let not your heart be troubled: . . I go to prepare a place for you. ST. JOHN xiv. 1, 2.

Let us then conquer the world, let us run to i mmortality, let us follow our King, let us too set up a trophy, let us despise the world's pleasures. We need no toil to do so: let us transfer our souls to heaven, and all the world is conquered. If thou desirest it not, it is conquered; if thou deride it, it is worsted. Strangers we are and sojourners, let us not then grieve at any of its painful things. Let nothing disturb thee in this foreign land, for thou hast a city whose Artificer and Creator is God, and the sojourning is but for a little time. S. CHRYSOSTOM.

> A fragment of a rainbow bright Throught the moist air I see All dark and damp on yonder height, All clear and gay to me.

An hour ago the storm was here, The gleam was far behind, So will our joys and griefs appear When earth has ceased to blind.

Grief will be joy, if on its edge Fall soft that holiest ray:

Joy will be grief, if no faint pledge be there of heavenly day. JOHN KEBLE.

The Ascension.

The day of our Lord's Ascension into heaven, its credentials; and the more he knew of the records and credentials of Christianity, the more Furnished by a Correspondent of the Living Church did he believe that the contents of Christianity the human race. . . . Not only was he a affected, and I find it necessary to avoid anything Christian, but he believed in historic and in ec- like overwork, for I have a great responsibility clesiastical Christianity, which included the Sac- resting upon me, which is, my husband's entire raments of their holy religion. He wished to dependence on me for companionship, in all the say that the supreme revelation of God to him various items which it comprehends. I hold it was the Person of Jesus Christ. If that or any a sacred duty not to do anything to interfere congregation was to have a permanent growth as with it. If I had anyone near me to assist in the frankness of settlement, and he asserted that if have their time more than fully occupied. he had to bring up a family in very many of the I have the satisfaction of informing you that I tween the Unitarian Chapel and some other, he How shall I thank you sufficiently for your was free to say that he would choose that his prompt attention to my request. Everything children should attend some orthodox rather was in the most perfect order. I only wish that than the Unitarian place of worship. Why? He you could be present at our Sunday Evening wanted not only positive religion, but the insti- Service, and hear the hymns sung by a choir of tutions of religion; for himself, he wanted Bap- Greek girls, and watch as we do those sweet tism, Confirmation, and the Holy Communion. lines of "God's doctrine, distilling in their hearts He wanted the historic institutions of religion, like the drops from Heaven on the tender grass." and that was why he would bring up his family A little girl about ten years old, said to me the in a place of worship where those were given." We are told that this remarkable speech "seems heard it. Who, after this, will deny that there enough to translate this hymn. I like it so is a strong Catholic reaction going on in the much." They repeat the Collect for the day, and ranks of Dissent?

Our Foreign Missions.

Dr. Bunn, late Medical Missionary of the Board of Missions in China, going over the several stations occupied by the Board, gives the following facts of general interest:

"China .-- The first Missionaries of the American Church to China, sailed in 1835. Rev. Wm. and said by him during the General Convention, J. Boone went out in 1837, and in 1844 was made and we considered it a subject of thankfulness to Bishop of China, taking up his residence in Shanghai, in the following year. It was nine years after the establishment of our Mission to China, before the first English Church Missionaries went there, and Bishop Boone was the first Protestant Bishop of China. It is only within a few years that the English have set up a cathedral in Shanghai, for thirty years the See city of an American Bishop. Japan.-The first Protestant Missionaries to this country, were Rev. C. M. Williams and Rev. J. Liggins, American Churchmen, who went there in 1859. In 1866, Mr. Williams was made Bishop of China and Japan. In 1870, he rehis residence in Japan, and has ever sume since lived there. It was not until a number of years afterwards, that the first English Church Missionaries went to Japan, and to this day the English have never had a Bishop there. It has been recently announced that it is in contemplation to consecrate an English Bishop, to reside in Osaka, a city where, for more than ten years, we have had a Mission, and where we now have a force of eight Missionaries.

Africa.-Our only Mission in Africa is that to our own daughter Republic of Liberia. This was founded in 1835. The first white Missionary (the late Rev. Thomas S. Savage, M. D.), landed Christmas Day, 1836, and was joined by Rev. Messrs. Payne, Minor, and others, on the 4th of July following. Mr. Payne was made Bishop in 1851. The English have never had a Missionary there; but three years ago, our American Bishop Penick being actually in the field, Bishop Crowther, of the English Church Niger

Mission, upon the invitation of four disaffected (though now reconciled) Clergymen of the than the horrors of the condemned. Dr. New-American Mission, 'intruded' into the Jurisdic- ton expresses a truth when he says, that the be-

ATHENS, March 4, 1881.

were a finality in the history of the religion of For the past year my nerves have been greatly a Christian congregation, it must not only have its selection of subjects, such as you desire, from roots in the frame and in the nature, but in the the numerous manuscripts I have, it would be Divine personality of that vision of Galilee- easy to prepare communications which would no that man of Nazareth. They must doubt interest the Church at large. But such a not expect from him anything but absolute person I have not. All engaged in the Mission localities of England, and had to choose be- have received the box with its valuable contents. other evening while singing the hymn,

"For thee, O dear, dear Country, to have given great satisfaction" to those who "Oh, that I were older and knew Greek well a hymn. The larger girls select what hymn they like. It almost affects me to tears to hear the touching manner in which they are said; making their hearts.

> You have a great privilege in having such frequent intercource with our venerable Bishop. We read, with deep interest, all that was done God, that He had not only granted him a long life, but continued to him those faculties of mind which enabled him so successfully to discharge the duties of his responsible and arduous situation. Our refrain to his sentiments of praise-"I will praise Him for all that is past, and trust Him for all that's to come," is-"Goodness and Mercy have followed us all the days of our life;" and do we not daily realize the precious promise -"Even to your old age I am He, and even to hoar hairs I will carry you."

Mr. Hill and I have been somewhat startled by an article in the Evening Post of the 8th of February, entitled "Drifts of Belief." We should like to know what our venerated Father in Christ thinks of these "Drifts." We think them drifting the Church away from the corner-stone of its foundation-the Atonement of Christ. Take away the belief in the future punishment of the wicked, and you deprive the righteous of his due reward. Keble teaches a very different doctrine; read his Christian year, second Sunday in Lent. We ask with him :

But where is, then, the stay of contrite heart? Of old they leaned on Thy eternal Word, But with the sinner's fear their hope departs, Fast linked as Thy great name, to Thee, O Lord. It was the error of Calvin and his school, that they did not preach the "love of Christ," rather than the horrors of the condemned. Dr. New-Current Literature.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH COLONIES IN AMERICA. By Henry Cabot Lodge. New York: Harper & Brothers. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $3.

This will prove to many readers the most attractive book of the season. It is very hand-somely printed and bound. The author disclaims originality, but we fail to see any need of such disclaims. No historian is original, in one sense, but he may be an artist in the management of his material, as we think the author of this short history has shown himself. His inten-tion has been to answer the questions, "Who and what were the people who fought the war for Independence and founded the United States; what was their life, what their habits, thoughts and manners?" A separate account is given of each colony down to the year 1765. The condi-tion of the people in the period just preceding the Revolution is admirably given. The author's Lowell Institute Lectures were the basis of the present work. Of course, we have here an exaggerated estimate of the influences of the Puritans in the formation of the nation. We are told that they bore with them to Plymouth "the seeds of a great nation, a civilization and a system of government which was to confront that other system founded far away to the South, on the rivers of Virginia, and was destined to prevail, etc. The Puritan element, we concede, was an important one in the composition of the race; in the formation of the body politic and in the re-ligious, social and public life of the country. It was very much for good and somewhat for evil. But to make it the germ and source of everything good on the continent, and to attribute to it all the grand, aggressive and cultured civiliza-tion of to day, is not a little absurd. The fact is, Puritanism, with all its sterling and rugged worth, was terribly bigoted, narrow and obstructive. Religious intolerance survived in New England, long after it became unknown in every other colony. There was never a more unmiti gated despotism in modern times than the Puritan Church and State in Massachusetts. To suppose that we owe everything to those people one feel that the sacred words are written on and to their institutions, seems a little wild, when we consider what the Dutch did in New York. the Roman Catholics in Maryland, the Quakers in Pennsylvania, and English Churchmen in the Old Dominion.

After all, our author does not dwell upon Puritan pre-eminence, though he naturally has his prejudice that way. Full justice is done to the work and worth of every colony, and in the most graphic and descriptive style. A chapter is added on Preparing for the Revolution, and one on the War for Independence. There is a chrono-logical table and an excellent index.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL HYMNAL AND SERVICE BOOK .-- Compiled and edited by Charles L. Hutchins, Rector of Grace Church, Medford. Published by the Editor, Medford, Mass., 1881. Barely had Mr. Hutchins' new and improved edition of the CHURCH HYMNAL been launched on a prosperous voyage thuough the various seas and gulfs of musical preference, ere his lesser crafts of "service" and hymnody, for children's worship, which we are now to notice, were set forth to find, as they surely will, a welcome haven in every Church port on this continent. The new Sunday-school manuals are quite a marvel of cheapness, strength and intrinsic value. Mr. Hutchins has published them in four editions as follows :

EDITION A contains Morning and Evening Prayer, and Liturgy arranged for Choral Service; all the Morning and Evening Canticles, with four simple and double chants for each, and blank staves for the insertion of other chants. Four short Services (to be read) for Sunday-schools; short Choral Service, for the same purpose; all the Collects of the Prayer Book with harpinal notes; the selection of Psalms, pointed for chanting, and having two Anglican and one Gregorian Chant for each Psalm.

The price of this edition, postpaid, in paper bound, is 50 cents. Cloth bound (scarlet) 75 cents. EDITION B has all that the above contains, ex-

MAY 21, 1881.

late Francis E. Lawrence, D. D., Pastor of the Church of the Holy Communion, New York, with an Introductory Sketch of his Life. New York, Anson D. F. Randolph & Co. 12 mo. cloth, pp. 386. Price $1.50. The priestly life spent in the ministries of twenty-seven years in this one parish, was a life of which the Church may well cherish the memory. First as Assistant, and then as his succes-sor in this parish of his foundation, Francis Lawrence was always a true disciple of Dr. Muhlenberg. There sprang up, under his wonderful energies, besides merely parochial organizations —a Dispensary, which has proved a blessing to thousands in that portion of the great city; an Employment Society and Workingmen's Club, of pure success and metriphese; a Home for the of rare success and usefulness; a Home for the Aged; a Home for Convalescents; a Shelter for Respectable Girls; a Day-Nursery and Babes Shelter; and, connected with these all, the Siserhood of the Holy Communion.

SERMONS ON THE CHRISTIAN YEAR. By the

This volume gives an insight into the warm and earnest heart and busy brain, and is another demonstration that the true pricest is most apt to be, after all, the truest preacher. The many who loved him will read again, with a sort of sacred joy, these burning words, now doubly sacred. Other hearts than theirs will not fail, we think, to beat the quicker, for coming in contact with this fervor-quietly, deep, and rising ever into something of real poetry. The love of Art, and of God's own beautiful things in nature and in life, a keen culture, always abased in humility beneath the spirit of adoration of the Maker, and of loving devotion to the souls of men, clear thinking, and a rarely original power of imagination—these are characteristics. We do not praise blindly. Lawrence was not a great man, as the world counts greatness. But he was in earnest, and his were more than ordinary gifts, over which hung, unconsciously to him self, the halo of a saintliness.

MEMOIRS OF PRINCE METTERNICH, 1773-1815. Edited by Prince Richard Metternich. The papers classified and arranged by M. A. de Kemkowstrom. Translated by Mrs. Alexan-der Napier. Two Volumes. New York: Harper & Brother's. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $2. Printed also in Franklin Square Library style, in four parts, price 20 cents each.

So far as the knowledge of the reviewer exends, no good biography of the great Austrian Chancellor has before appeared. It is all the more surprising inasmuch as his career was so interwoven with the great events of a great histo-ry-making epoch. Beginning with his mission to Dresden, in 1801, he was for nearly a half century, a prominent figure in European affairs of the State. For over thirty years he had the chief direction of Austrian affairs, which he administered with rare sagacity, tact and talent. His relation to Napoleonic politics, and his pervalue to the history of the period, are of great value to the history of the time. "I have made history," he said, "and therefore have not found time to write it." These memoirs are made up from notes, correspondence and papers left by the great Prince. They are full of interest, political and personal, and give a vivid picture of the eventful age. The two volumes comprise about 1700 pages, well printed and substantially bound, for a very small price. The Harpers have our thanks, on behalf of the reading public, for these attractive and interesting volumes.

SPIRITUAL MINISTRATION TO THE SICK. An Essay read before the Eastern Convocation of the Diocese of Massachusetts, in St. John's Memorial Church, Cambridge. By the Rev. Charles Arey, D. D., Rector of St. Peter's Church, Salem, Mass. Salem, Salem Press. 1881. Paper, pp. 53.

Dr. Arey's little monograph comes to us in fine dressing-heavy paper, wide margins, uncut paper. We are very glad the author was peruaded into printing it. Among the many needs of the parish priest, none is greater than that of Churchly advice and counsel for the momentous and delicate duties incident upon ministration to the sick. Not a few of the clergy, with or without experience of their own, will find these wise words suggestive and helpful.

forty days after His resurrection from the dead, has been observed as one of the great Church festivals from the beginning of Christianity. The greatness and tremendous practical import of it, to all mortal men, lies in the fact that when the Son of God took our nature and ascended with it into heaven, He thereby exalted our human nature, and published to mankind the certainty of a heavenly world in which they may everlastingly and gloriously dwell. This festival then, beyond question, takes rank along with Christmas and Easter, in as much as the final exaltation of human nature in heaven, is the key and consummation of Christ's coming down from heaven in our nature to redeem it, and His rising from the dead to proclaim victory over death to a world of sinful and dying men. This festival is in fact the fruit in its season of the Easter germ and flower, the inseparable sequence and HOW TO KEEP A SITUATION .- Be ready to outworking of the resurrection. It follows, throw in an odd half-hour or an hour's time. therefore, forty days after that anniversary, and when it will be an accommodation, and don't is accordingly appointed for the 26th day of this seem to make a merit of it. Do it heartily. month. Whatever her individual children may Though not a word be said, your employer will make a note of it. Make yourself indispensable think of it, the Church sets this day conspicuto him, and he will lose many of the opposite ously among the greatest days of her rejoicing, having signalized its importance by a selection men who watch the clock to see the very second of special Psalms, by a full Morning Service, including Gospel and Epistle, and by a Celebration their working hour is up-who leave no matter of the Holy Eucharist, with a proper preface in what state the work may be in, at the precise inthe Communion Office. Whatever business or stant-who calculate the exact amount they can slight their work and yet not get reproved-who engrossment may occupy Christ's people at such are lavish of their employer's goods-will always time, it is evident that those who are at all earnest in the prosecution of their religious vows, be the first to receive the notice, when times are will have the forethought to arrange their affairs dull, that their services are no longer required. so as to give the necessary time on this holy-day to the higher Services to which it graciously invites them. If such a rule were to prevail, in- from a paper a set of resolutions complimentary of a certain preacher, and he finished with the stead of celebrating Ascension-day as we now remark, "I wonder what he has been doing that generally do, with an empty church, and a world full of secularized and indifferent Christians, we makes that necessary." Whenever we meet a man should "go with the multitude into the house of with a crutch, we suppose he is lame; and when God," and throng His Altars "in the voice of we see a prop set against a gate-post, we suppose praise and thanksgiving among such as keep the post is rotten. No minister should allow himself to be endorsed too much.-Exchange. holy-day."-Monthly Chronicle.

Dr. Laird Collier, so well known for many years, as a leading Unitarian minister of Chicago, recently made the following striking observations, in the course of a speech on the occasion of his registration as minister of the Newhall street Unitarian Chapel, Birmingham: "It was due to them," he said, "that he should state his theological belief. First of all he was a cism, Deism, Theism, Humanitarianism, or can you go?"

tion, and administered Confirmation, and advanced two Deacons to the Priesthood.

sions of the Church of England.

It is proper to add, that so far from wishing to undertake work that has been already assumed by another Branch of the Church, the American Church, through her Mission Board, has repeatedly declined invitations to undertake Missionary work in India, because she considered that in assuming political rule, England had also incurred responsibility for the religious welfare of her Indian subjects. The latest of these declina- the whole fabric of our salvation. tions occurred at the last General Convention, in response to a request, signed by the Arch-bishop of Canterbury and by the Bishop of Ran-goon, that the American Church should found a Mission in Burmah."

Once upon a time we heard a brother read

"No man or woman can create a true home who is not willing in the outset to embrace life heroically, to encounter labor and sacrifice.

Only to such, shall this divinest power be given to create on earth that which is the nearest image of heaven."

nal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord." "Here St. Paul tells us the cause of man's punishment, and the way by which to escape; and St. John tells why sinners are condemned; because they believe not in the Name of the only begotten Son of God." Universal salvation we cannot but consider as a most insiduous heresy, undermining

Some years ago, one of the stately columns of the Ancient Temple of Jupiter Olympus, was thrown down during a hurricane. The storm did not cause its fall; it was discovered that some insignificant animal had burrowed under its foundation, and when the storm came and beat upon it, its foundation being destroyed, its equilibrium was lost and great was its fall. May the Great Head of the Church preserve Her from this perversion of truth, undermining the precious hope in a Saviour's Atonement to which alone the righteous cling-which were secured kind before he will part with you. Those young to them by the glorious Resurrection of the Redeemer, when the Justice and Mercy of the God of love were united. These modern views are only a re-echo of the old lie-"Thou shalt not surely die!"

I enclose a photograph of a statue lately found. It is supposed to be a copy of the famous statue of gold and ivory which adorned the Partheum. I send one to------in a different position. Remember me to the dear ones at the West. Again let me thank you for your most valuable presents. With the assurance of our Christian love to you and yours,

FRANCES M. HILL.

It is folly to underrate the value of grace and ease of bearing. Some of our wisest men and most earnest women lose their effect in society by a slouching, uneasy manner, which annoys their companions, and even themselves. It is greatly the fault of the mother if the child's body does not furnish a fit expression to noble thoughts within. First, let her enable it to move freely on broad, low-heeled shoes; secondly, let her give it inherent vigor and grace of motion, by plenty of exercise in the open air, and by training her to womanly and courteous habits of "Boston is a capital place to live in," said an eminent publisher, "because then you can go to thought. A girl who is unselfish, modest, and Christian; let them set that over against Agnosti- New York. But, if you live in New York, where gentle in mind, is not likely to be awkward or coarse in bearing .- Scribner's Monthly.

cept the music. That is, it is of such a size and lief in future punishments was tacitly admitted shape, and sold at such a price, as to be adapted to the use of scholars who do not need the muby all men; and so it was, because it was a part sic. For convenience, the different portions of Church as to priority, 'Christian courtesy,' and of the grand structure of Redemption. "The the Liturgical Services are paged the same as in 'common courtesy,' in her relations to the Mis- wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eter- Edition A. This edition is in limp cloth. scarlet. at 25 cents.

EDITION C contains a large number of Psalms and Canticles from the Old and New Testament, arranged and pointed for chanting, with accompanying Chants (in all one hundred and seventy. single and double Chants), and all the hymns and carols contained in Edition A. The Liturgical portions, however, are omitted; and the prices and styles are the same as in Edition A.

EDITION D is the same as the foregoing, but in smaller form and without music, at 25 cents for limp cloth.

Mr. Hutchins offers the liberal discount of 20 per cent, when the books are ordered (with accompanying remittance) in quantities and sent by express. But if sent by mail there is no discount. Everything connected with the books is of the highest and best order. All who want to introduce the books into their schools, should state exactly which edition they wish sent, and order from the Rev. Charles L. Hutchins, Medford, Mass.

STEPPING HEAVENWARD. By Mrs. E. Prentiss, Author of the "Flower of the Family," the "Sunny Books," "Little Lou's Sayings and Doings," the "Home at Greylock," "Urbane and his Friends," etc., etc. New Stereotype Edition, with a sketch of the Author. New York, Anson D. F. Randolph & Co. 12 mo. cloth np. 426. Price $175. cloth. pp. 426. Price. $175.

Another edition of "Stepping Heavenward" is matter for satisfaction; and Messrs. Randolph & Co. have done their part thoroughly, and given it to the public in very attractive form. These graphic, sensible, fascinating sketches of real life, so widely popular in our land, in Eng-land, and even on the Continent, during the past twelve years, need no introduction from us. The reader will gladly avail himself of the brief biographical notice which prefaces the present volume, to learn something of the author.

and "Susie Kingman's Decision," began in No. 80 of Harper's Young People, May 10. The former is by W. L. Alden, Author of "The Moral Pirates," and relates the cruise of four boys in a small yacht along the south shore of Long Island. During a dense fog they drift out to sea and meet with many adventures. "Susie Kingman's Decision" is the story of a May Party, written for girls by Kate R. McDowell, and is fresh, breezy and full of interest. Both serials are il-

The publishers will furnish Harper's Maga-The publishers will furnish Harper's maga-sine, beginning with the June number (which is the commencement of Volume 63,) and Harper's Young People, beginning with Number 80, pub-lished May 10, 1881, (containing the first instal-ment of the new serials), the two periodicals together, for one year, on receipt of five dollars.

IN MEMORIAM. By Rev. John Nicholas Norton, D. D., late Associate Rector Christ Church. Louisville. By the Wardens and Vestry of the Parish, in grateful love to God for the Example of this, His Faithful Servant. John P. Morton & Co.

This fitting Memorial volume contains 32 pages, is handsomely bound, and has a fine portrait on steel, of the noble priest who is the subject of the sketch. It contains notices taken from various newspapers, minutes of the Vestry, the Memorial Sermon by Bishop Dudley, and other tributes. The LIVING CHURCH has al-ready noticed, with respect and admiration, Dr. Norton's career.

CULTURE AND COOKING, or Art in the Kitchen. By Catharine Owen. New York, Cassell, Petter, Galpin & Co.

Reader, don't skip this as a notice of another cook-book! It is really a very entertaining book about doing things well, which all women onght to know how to do, even if they are not obliged to work with their hands. There is something pitiable, if not contemptible, about a woman who is not "handy" about housework. This little book is a hand-book of domestic economy, and is bright, practical, useful and interesting. The more recipe-books one has, the better will this book be appreciated, for it will aid in using them. It ought to have a place in the curriculum of all girls' schools!

THE HISTORY OF A MOUNTAIN. By Elisée Reclus. Translated from the French. By Bertha Ness and John Lillie. Illustrated by L. Bennett. New York, Harper & Brothers; Chicago, Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price, $1.25. This is one of a series of charming books by a distinguished French writer, the aim of which is to make philosophy easy and attractive to the young, by presenting it along with the beautiful and picturesque in nature. Among the topics treated are: Peaks and valleys, rocks and crystals; fossils; clouds; fogs and storms; avalanches; glaciers; the animals of the mountain; mountain worship; Olympus and the gods; genii, etc. The book is lavishly illustrated.

GOLDEN DAYS has more than fulfilled the promise with which it started. No. 23 contains the opening of a new story of travels in Austra-lia, that land of wonders, and a sketch which will be specially valued by boys, inasmuch as it gives full and complete instructions, aided by illustrations, in all that a party can possibly want who intend camping out during the present season.

FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY. From Exile. By James Payne. Price, 15 cents; Thomas Car-lyle, the Man and His Books. By Wm. Howie Wylie, 25 cents; Lord Beaconsfield, a Study. By George Brandes. Price 15 cents; Memoirs of Prince Metternich, in Four Parts, each 20 cents. New York, Harper & Brothers; Chicago, Jansen,

Two New Serials, "The Cruise of the Ghost lustrated.

MAY 21, 1881.

The Household.

of health. At a late Scientific Congress at Strasburg, it was reported that, of sixty-six persons who had suddenly died, an immediate and faithful post mortem showed that only two persons had any heart affection whatever; one sudden death only in thirty-three from disease of the heart.

Nine out of the sixty-six died of apoplexy-one lungs were so full of blood that they could not work; there was not room for air enough to get in to support life. It is, then, of considerable practical interest to know some of the common,

every-day causes of this congestion of the lungs,

a disease which, the figures above being true,

a lounger or listener, or speaker, while the body is weakened by continued application or abstinence, or heated by the effort of a long address

-these are the fruitful causes of sudden death in the form of congestion of the lungs; but heart, and regarded as an inevitable event,

Amusements of some kind, children must and will have. It depends upon you, mother, whether they will have them under your eye and with your special co-operation, or whether repressed and chidden at home, they steal slyly away to other and quieter, but perhaps, disreputable sports. To forbid children doing everything they like, is not training them. Children who are constantly hushed and repressed, so far from being trained, grow up spiritless and subdued, or sullen and defiant. Even noise, trying as it is sometimes to us, is a necessary part of a child's play, just as is his constant, restless activity. To play "bear" or "blind man's buff" without the noise, is like "playing Hamlet, with the part of Hamlet left out, and the ghost and

No tonic should be used to insure a healthy growth of hair; all that is needed, being, to keep the scalp wholly free from any rheum or dust, and to excite the surface by frequent and prolonged brushing. This should be done by bathing the whole head in cold water frequently, and by thoroughly drying and brushing until the softness and oiliness returns to the hair. Successful hair-restoratives are simply mild tonics, scalp, in applying them.

queen in the bargain."-Scribner's Monthly.

throw people off their guard.

FOR THE CHILDREN. Rock a Bye, Baby. Hall's Journal of Health claims that people

Rock a bye, baby, in the tree-top, When the wind blows the cradle will rock; do not die of disease of the heart as often as many suppose, and believes that scores of lives When the bough breaks the cradle will fail, might be saved from sudden death, reported as Down tumbles baby, and cradle, and all. heart disease, by a judicious regard to the laws

Rock a hye, baby; the meadow's in bloom; Laugh at the sunbeams that dance in the room; Echo the birds with your own baby tune, Coo in the sunshine and flowers of June.

Rock a bye, baby; as softly it swings, Over thy cradle the mother love sings; Brooding and cooing at even or dawn, What will it do when the mother is gone?

Rock a bye, baby; as cloudless the skies, Blue as the depth of your own laughing eyes; out of every seven; while forty-six-more than two out of three-died of lung affections, half of Sweet as the lullaby over your nest, That tenderly sings little baby to rest. them of congestion of the lungs, that is, the Rock a bye, baby; the blue eyes will dream Sweetest when mamma's eyes over them beam; Never again will the world seem so fair sleep, little baby there's a cloud in the air.

Rock a bye, baby; the blue eyes will burn And ache with that pain which your manhood will learn: kills three times as many persons at short notice Swiftly the years come with sorrow and care, [bear. as apoplexy and heart disease together. Cold feet, tight shoes, tight clothing, costive bowels, Rock a bye, baby; there's coming a day Whose sorrows a mother's lips can't kiss away; sitting still until chilled through after having Days, when its song will be changed to a moan been warmed up by labor, or a long, hasty walk, Crosses, the baby must bear all alone. going too suddenly from a close, heated room, as Rock a bye, baby; the meadow's in bloom: May never the frosts pall the beauty in gloom, Be thy world ever bright as to-day it is seen; Rock a bye, baby; "thy cradle is green." Church Union.

STORIES ON THE CATECHISM. which, being falsely reported disease of the

The Communion of Saints.

THE LITTLE OLD WOMAN'S LITTLE HOME. [Concluded.]

The girls listened very attentively to Miss Duncan's words, and then they all trooped out again into the soft November sunshine, only leaving Katie standing in the doorway, answering her kind teacher's questions respecting her grandfather's health.

"He's very, very bad, ma'am-a little better than yesterday, but still awful bad."

"I hope he will soon be able to get about again. Then the bravely repressed sorrow broke out into one great sob, and poor Katie said:

"Oh, ma'am, he said to-day it could not be many days before he was taken, and I'm to ask the Vicar to come; he wants his last Communion to-morrow morning, if Mr. Duncan will be so good as to come."

"I am sure he will, my child; I expect him here every moment; you had better sit down and wait you get where they are, will you pray for him for him.'

Poor, little old woman ! Miss Duncan could hardly resist a smile as she perched herself upon the edge of a chair, and drew her great shawl more closely around her, looking such a queer and received from the Bishop's hands the sevenold-fashioned thing, so grave and so important; fold gifts of grace to enable them to fight the but it was only for a minute, then she broke good fight which by their baptismal vow they whose success depends on the friction on the down and said :

he thinks I'll be so lonesome when he's gone; newly-confirmed children of the Church drew A suggestion may be offered to young married people, who find themselves in a "whole house," but, indeed, I don't think I shall be, though it near to the ever blessed Trinity in the most Holy will be hard to bear; but you see, ma'am, per- Sacrament, and were made one with the saints as the saying is, that they should not be in haste to furnish all the rooms at once, but that they haps he and mother will be nearer to me than on earth, and with the saints in Paradise. It should take the matter easily, furnishing only they were here."

"Katie, my child, come here!" And poor the strong wind had got up into a gale; when great deal of recreation by keeping one or two of Katie knelt down by Miss Duncan's side, and the darkness of night came on, the gale had and wider opened his big blue eyes, more and the rooms empty for a year or so, and visiting the kind old lady took off grandmother's bonnet, risen into a hurricane. Like wildfire the tidings more surprised he looked, as he heard the angry them often in company, to discuss how they and unfastened the huge shawl, and stroked the flew through the little village that a ship was on thick brown hair, and drew the poor little heated the rocks to the east of the cliff, and four or five the foot of the stairs. Frank was trying very Then there's the pleasure of picking up things. face more closely to her. "My child, do you re- brave fellows went out in a boat to the rescue. hard to get the ball away from Nannie, and she In my humble opinion, this is the only way to member your mother? Will you tell me about Booming of guns was distinctly heard through her?" Then bit by bit Katie told the story of the roaring, raging wind. "I'll light a fire and get a place ready for some her life, and this was it : "Grandfather and grandmother had some of the poor fellows that may be brought ashore,"

THE LIVING CHURCH.

He lay all day looking at the sea. "You'll learning to believe that the all-merciful Father bide here till father comes," were his last words, has forgiven the sins of his wasted life, and that "and I'll tell mother, when I see her, what a the prayers of those he has lost and of the child good little maid you've been, and we'll ask that who is spared to him, are among the many blessyou and he may come to us in Paradise, and ings vouchsafed to him. He earns his living as we'll all be one there, Katie, one with Jesus for a fisherman, honestly, soberly, industriously. ever and ever." Sometimes when the wind blows, and the sea

That night as the waves played upon the shore and the sun sank to its rest behind the cliff, another "righteous soul" was carried by angels into the "Hand of God," and Katie was alone. Never alone really, never out of the sight and care of ministering spirits, never far from those who have gone before, for we believe in the Holy pray for those whose "earthly toil is not yet o'er. Catholic Church, and that Church bids us confess our faith in the Communion of Saints.

Weeks and months passed away, and that little lonely girl lived in the room where her grandfather had died. She was a good needlewoman. and the village people used to give her plain work to do. Her grandfather's little store of money had long been exhausted. During the last months of his life the had tried to earn all now. The good folks of Clearview often won-With burdens the wee dimpled shoulders must dered why she stayed there, but none but the Vicar and Miss Duncan knew the real reason of what seemed so strange. "I promised to 'bide here," was all she said, "and I mean to."

The Hudsons wanted her to live with them. but she would not listen to their entreaties. "I must have a little home of my own," she used to say, and it sounded so comical coming from "the little old woman's" lips, that even Maggie, with all her devotion, could not resist a smile. "You must be so lonesome, my dear," good Mrs. Hudson used to say; "'taint so bad in the day, but when night comes on ain't you afraid?"

And Katie would only open her blue eyes wonderingly and answer, "How could I be frightened when God and the angels are near me, and I know grandfather and mother are asking them to take care of me?"

"She's a good little soul as ever breathed, but she's queer in her head," Mrs. Hudson remarked to her nearest neighbor. "Never did any one that was 'all there,' think such strange thoughts." The new year was but two days old when Mary Grant took her last look upon the sea she loved so well, and closed her eyes upon the things of the world to open them, we may humbly hope, in the land of the blest. Katie had been very constantly with her during the weeks that had passed since her grandfather's death, and to her rubber ball down stairs. she had said, "I want my little home for father; that God will bring him back; and, Mary, when oldest.

too?" And Mary only said, "Yes, dear," and asked no questions of her little friend.

There came a March day when Katie and some of Miss Duncan's class knelt at the holy Altar were bound to fight. A few more days, and in "He's fretting himself because of me, because the quiet of the early Sunday morning those ands, the little man made his way; and wider, nd wider opened his big blue eyes, more and nore surprised he looked, as he heard the angry words. The childreu stopped to finish their quarrel at the foot of the stairs. Frank was trying very

A peculiar powder strewn upon graves. He who caused it to be sprinkled there, was a young man high in office and authority, and of excellent wisdom and judgement. This act was a proof of she could, and she did her best to keep herself his pious zeal. His name meant "God a healed." As a little boy his heart was inclined toward God, and when but sixteen years old he began to show his enmity toward idolatrous worship. At twenty he made a positive onslaught, and purged the land from false images and unholy rites. What was the powder or dust? Upon whose grave was it strewn? Who was the young man, the instigator of the deed ?

ANSWERS TO BIBLE STUDIES.

"Maggie S. Houston," of Rochester, N. Y. and "H. R. K.," of New York City, have sent correct answers to number 13, to the following effect: David is the King spoken of. The rebellion was that of his son Solomon. The river is the Jordan, and Barzillai, the Gileadite is the one who sustained David's army; and a kies was the token given him by David. The whole being found in the latter part of II. Samuel and I.

The children had been up in their mamma's room, after breakfast that Sunday morning learning their text, and when they had it perfectly and were coming down stairs again for a run in the garden, while nurse was busy, Nannie and Frank fell to disputing. And what do you think it may should arry the great OFFERS THE MOST FAVORABLE CONDITIONS TO ALL PERSONS, it was about? Why, who should carry the great

Nannie wanted it because she had thought of he's coming here some day. I pray every day, it first, and Frank wanted it because he was the

"You're a-mean, selfish boy," said Nannie. "You're a pig," said Frank.

"I'll just tell papa what a horrid boy you are, said Nannie.

"And I'll tell mamma I wish she'd sell you to somebody. I don't want such a sister," answered Manhattan Life Insurance Company Frank

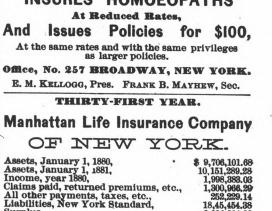

So these naughty children went on from bad to worse, saying all sorts of unpleasant things to one another-so very unkind that they were ashamed enough whenever they remembered them afterward.

All this time baby Ben was coming down stairs behind them. Slowly, one foot at a time, holdwas a blustering March morning; before evening hands, the little man made his way; and wider,

PERRY DAVIS'

A SAFE AND SURE

Surplus, 2,006.814.90 Solid, conservative, economical. See new form of Policy—plain, liberal, incontesta-ble, non-forfeitable. Non-participating, very low rates, fixed premium policies issued, as well as the ordinary participating, ordinary rets rolicies.

A. H. Abbott & Co..

147 State St.,

E. R. P. SHURLEY & CO.,

WATCHMAKERS AND

Removed from 55 S. Clark St., to

No. 103 Randolph Street, Chicago. (Round the corner.)

THE DINGEE AND CONARD COMPANY'S

Beautiful Ever-Blooming

The Best in the World.

EWELERS.

Drawing Material.

Painting and

J

Kings.

shall be fitted up when times are a little easier. furnish a house; produces the prettiest results, and is cheapest in the end.-Clarence Cook.

the rooms they actually need. They may get a

"It is well that one of the sunniest rooms in the house be the children's nursery. It is good philosophy, too, to furnish it attractively, even if the sum expended lower the standard of parlor luxuries. It is well that the children's chamber, which is to act constantly on their impressionable natures for years, should command a sunnier aspect than one which serves for a day's occupancy of the transient guest."

put a wet cloth over a very hot iron, and hold the some one else, one night, and he was put in prisvelvet lightly and smoothly in the steam which rises. This is preferable to the old way of he came out. But she never believed he had dampening the back of the velvet and drawing it | done wrong, and she was always praying for him, over the iron. Velvet ribbon, and even sack and she made grandfather promise that he would backs which have been badly pressed, may, if be kind to him, and she made me promise to treated in this way, be made to do good service.

There will come a time, before many weeks, when eggs will not be plenty and will be dear; it is good to be able to make cake without them. soda, dissolve this in hot water before putting into the milk, one cup of chopped raisins, two cups of flour, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful each of nutmeg, cinnamon, and cloves. If you have no sour milk, use sweet milk and cream of tartar, dust the raisins well with flour and put them in last.

Flour is like butter, it absorbs smells readily. It should not be kept in a place where there are onions, fish, vegetables decaying, or other odorous substances, nor in a damp room or cellar. Keep it in a cool, dry, airy room, where not exposed to a freezing temperature, nor to one above 70 degrees, and always sift before using.

Among well-bred people, a mutual deference is shown; attention given to each in his turn; and an easy stream of conversation maintained, without vehemence, without eagerness for victory, and without any airs of superiority.

Whatever tends to make our family life clearer and stronger, is doing the best and noblest service for society.

Small or large, the dining-room ought to be a cheerful, bright-looking room.

said Mrs. Hudson. money once, just a little, and they lived in a pretty cottage near Crediton, and mother was their child. She never gave them trouble all her life. and when she grew up she married father. I never told no one of it before, ma.am-'twas our secret, grandfather's and mine; but he said he must tell the Vicar, to-morrow, and, you see, you belong to the Vicar like. Father was a tailor in Exeter, and he lost some money in his The best way to restore the pile of velvet is to business, and folks said he took some away from on, and mother was taken ill and she died before love him always, and then she went away; and maybe she's always praying for him now just as she did here. It's three years agone since that day when the angels took her away. Father was Take one cup of sour milk, one teaspoonful of in prison then, and grandfather wrote to him and told him to come to us here as soon as he got out: but he has never come, and he has never written; and when grandfather's gone, I am to bide here and wait for him, for no one in the old place knows where we are."

> At that moment the Vicar came into the room, and all Katie's old shyness returned. She gave her grandfather's message, and received Mr. Duncan's assurance that he would be with him the next morning at nine o'clock; and then she wrapped herself up again, and wished Miss Duncan good-bye, going out of the room more awkwardly than ever, so bewildered was she at being kissed by her kind loving teacher.

> On the morning of All Souls' Day, John Carroll received his last Communion. Katie knelt by his side (she was to be confirmed before Easter), and as she saw the smile on his sad old face, as he fed upon the Heavenly Food, she knew that the end that was coming would be a happy one to him. And no thought of her own loss was in the poor lonely child's heart; perhaps even then angels' voices were telling her that he was going to be one with the Father, and the Son and the Holy Ghost in the dear land of rest; and because of that union, he would be near her always, praying for her always.

"And so will I," answered Katie. "They may be glad to come to my little home, when they come to shore all cold and wet."

I cannot tell you how nobly those Clearview sailors behaved; how, at the peril of their own for a moment. lives, they saved the crew of the ill-fated vessel, which turned out to be a schooner bound for Wrangerton, the nearest large seaport town. "There's one more hurt than the others; where shall we take him?"

"Please, my little home is ready, and there's such a bright fire, and there's grandfather's bed ready."

"And the little old woman is a rare nurse," said one of the sailors, "he'll have her place to himself; let us carry him there."

They laid the injured man upon John Carroll's bed, and he was left in Katie's charge until the doctor, who was gone to a patient at a distance. should come and prescribe for him.

The child went up to him, and then, as she looked, her face was deadly pale, and a feeling Seven years in school from day to day. of thankfulness, too deep for words, came into the poor little heart.

"Father, I have bided here for you, and you've come to my little home at last.'

Edward Finchley raised his head and looked into the eyes which were so like those of his dead wife, and then he said in a hoarse, low whisper: "I have come home to die; I was wild and cruel to her and I broke her heart; but Katie, little Katie, your father is not a thief. I met the other man in the backwoods of Canada, he that did it-I mean that stole the money. I've come home to tell her father all about it.

Where is he?" "Grandfather's dead, father, he's not here;

but he and mother have been praying for you all this long, long time, and they know it all now you may be quite sure."

The poor man could not understand what she meant. For days he lay there, too weak to move or speak, and Katie never left his side. No real true old woman could have nursed him more tenderly than she did.

And he got well at last. He lives now in the little home, a humbled, penitent man; and he is worth of advertising for twenty-five cent ticket."

had got as far as pulling his hair, the naughty girl, when the baby stopped on the lowest stair and preached his sermon to them :

"Ickle chillen," said he, "love one anodder." That was every word he said. It was the text the children had been learning in their mother's room such a short time before. Nannie dropped her hands, her face flushed, and turned half away from baby Ben, and nobody said anything

"Here, Frank," said Nannie at last, holding out the ball, "you may have it, I'm going to be good."

"So am I," said Frank. "You shall have the first toss, Nannie. I'm-I'm very sorry I was so cross.'

So the two went off to the garden, hand in hand, ashamed of having been so naughty, while the baby curled himself up in papa's big chair in the study, and there nurse found him, after a long hunt, fast asleep with his thumb in his mouth.

A modern philosopher has apportioned man's full existence as follows :

Seven years in childhood's sport and play-Seven years to find a place and a wife-Seven years to pleasure's follies given-Seven years by business hardly driven-Seven years, for some a wild goose chase Seven years for wealth, a bootless race Seven years for hoarding for your heir-Seven years in weakness spent and care— Then die and go—you should know where?

Consumption Cured,

Collectors Card An old physician, retired from practice, by having had placed in his hands, by an East India 1st. Buy Seven Bars Dobbin's Electric missionary, the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous complaints, after having tested its won-derful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suf-fering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail, by ad-dressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherer, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. missionary, the formula of a simple vegetable Soap of your Grocer. 2d. Ask him to give you a bill of it. 3d. Mail us his Bill and your address th. We Will mail YOU FREE seven Beautiful Cards in six colors and gold, representing Shakspeare's

L. Cragin & Co., 116 South Fourth Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

" Seven Ages of Man."

Our Great Specialty is growing and distributing these Heautiful Roses. We deliver Strong Pot Plants, suitable for immediate bloom, safely by mad, at all post-offices. 5 Splendid Varieties, your choice, all labeled, for $1; 12 for $2; 19 for $3; 26 for $4; 35 for $5; 75 for $10; 100 for $13. Send for our New Guide to Rose Culture (60 pp. ele-gantly illustrated) and choose from fover Five Hun-dred Finest Sorts. Address THE DINGEE CONARD CO., Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester Co., Pa. -21 -28 35

The Interim.

From Easter's praises till Ascension's song— The while the risen Lord, in converse sweet Taught his disciples, listening at His feet, The things which to Heaven's Kingdom here belong;

When, to those chosen from the larger throng That once did follow hungering for that meat Which Jesus gave them, in some safe retreat The Master lived the faithful souls among What shall the soul do, but, in wondering lore, Sit listening, with a readier ear and eye More quick to note those precious wounds, and prove

By reverence its adoring loyalty ? Be meeker, Christian, than thy wont; nor move From Jesus, till thou rise with Him on high ! F. H. R.

The Installation of Canon Harrod,

And Other News from Fond-du-Lac. Correspondence of the Living Church.

The installation of the Rev. Geo. W. Harrod as Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, Fond-du-Lac, occurred on Thursday, April 28th. The Bishop, with the Canon elect, the Rev. Messrs. Bartlett and Gardam, and Junior Canons Stanley and Rucker, entered the Cathedral, the Canon elect taking his place at the Litany Faldstool. The Canon elect presented his certificate of election and confirmation, which was read. The statement of duties pertaining to his office required by Statute II. of the Cathedral was also read. Psalm 133, "Behold, how good and pleasant a thing it is, brethren, to dwell together in unity," was then chanted, after which the versicles, "Lord, have mercy on us," etc., were said, followed by the Lord's Prayer and several Collects. The Bishop then approached the Faldstool, and taking the Canon elect by his right hand, led him to the stall prepared for him, and formally assigned it as his place in the Cathedral, and, causing him to be seated, ad ded the benediction, "The Lord bless thee, and keep thee, and preserve thy going out and thy coming in, forevermore." After Evening Prayer, the Rev. Mr. Harrod received a cordial welcome from a number of the congregation at the Bishop's office.

The annual visitation of Christ Church, Green Bay, took place, Thursday, March 31st. Eight persons were confirmed. The resignation of the Rector, Rev. G. W. Harrod, is much lamented tails from the Bishop's Address. by the people, but he leaves the parish in excellent condition, at peace among themselves, and free from debt; and a foundation laid on which a good workman can build boldly. Easter Day at Green Bay was rainy, but the bright Services and liberal offertory (about $320) were the proper farewells to a faithful pastor.

On Palm Sunday Evening, Bishop Brown Mission he confirmed six, on Monday in Holy ago. Week. Since Easter, this Mission has paid off the last installment of debt. The little church will soon be finished and consecrated. At Trinity Church five persons were confirmed.

At the early Easter-Day Celebration in Oconto, there was a good attendance and a very joyous Service. At 10:30, A. M., Morning Prayer was said, and Holy Communion celebrated in Marincompleted during the summer; and, when com- edifices in all, added within two years to those ample provision was made not only for the clerical and lay delegates, but for the visitors who were present.

At 3 P. M., an essay was read by the Rev. Ezra Isaac, of Crosswicks, on the best plan of extending the mission work of the Church. The essay was a very able one, and was listened to with great interest by all, and the clergy present gave their own experience of the work which they had done in the mission or parish. The question chosen for discussion next time, was the proposition made by the Executive Committee, as regards concentrating efforts upon the more promising fields. After Evening Prayer, stirring addresses were made by the Rev. J. Y. Burk, C. M. Perkins, C. W. Duane and the Bishop. The latter closed by saying that it would not be a missionary meeting unless they had a collection. A collection was then taken up, which amounted to $25.71, which, together with other gifts during the day, made over $50. When we consider what a loss this church has met with by removals and death, lately spoken of by the Rector in his anniversary sermon, we see this was quite a generous gift. Indeed, we heard the Rector say, lately, that he was proud of his This assumes a fixed amount, which the Missioncongregation, for with all their losses they had not diminished one iota of their contributions for outside work; the parish work was also prospering. The service of the Convocation closed by the singing of the hymn, "Jesus shall reign," and with the blessing of the Bishop. Many of the clergy stayed over night, and all enjoyed themselves, and felf that it was a day long to be remembered.

Church Growth in Florida.

At the close of the recent session of the Diocesan Council at Jacksonville, Florida, a Missionary Meeting was held in St. John's Church, in that city, on the evening of the third Sunday after Easter. Upon this occasion, Bishop Young as honest men among their neighbors made statements with regard to the growth of the Church in his diocese, and of its promise for the future, which, we are sure, will not only interest but surprise most of our readers. The particulars are of such importance that it is difficult to condense them within the limits at our command, but we do our best; gathering the de-

In 1870, there was one communicant for every 322 of the entire population of the State. In 1880, the population was one to every 172; showing a gain, in ten years, of no less than 150 per visited Grace Church, Oshkosh. At St. Paul's ratio it bore to the whole population ten years moreover, made the gratifying statement, that, moreover, made the grantying contrast, have within the last few weeks, a sum of $1,500 had been deposited, subject to his order, in bank in New York, for the erection of a church on Fort George Island, which will be completed this ette. The offering was for the completion of a summer; and also, that a few days since, a sum new church for this Mission, and amounted to of a thousand dollars more was given him by a $300. This Mission, since Easter, a year ago, gentleman of Hartford, Conn., to be approprihas contributed more than $2,700 to build and ated, at the Bishop's discretion, to aid in the furnish a church. It is expected that it will be erection of churches; thus making twenty church

THE LIVING CHURCH.

The Georgia Convention. Correspondence of the Living Church.

The Convention of the Diocese of Georgia met in Christ Church, Savannah, on the 4th of May. Few lay delegates could attend from the interior and upper part of the State; yet a sufficient number of our prominent Churchmen were present, to sustain the interest of the meeting. We have arrived at the grand point in Georgia, of giving to missions the first and most important place in the proceedings and doings of Convention. Therefore on Wednesday evening, after organization (which is accomplished in a few minutes), the Convention gave attention to the hearing of the Reports of the Deans of the four Missionary Districts into which the Diocese is divided, and entered upon the discussion of the system of supporting our missionaries by the apportionment of the needed amount to be raised, between all parishes and missions, with the advice and consent of the representatives of each parish. The discussion turned upon the right of the Convention to assess; and, at the end of an able debate on Thursday night, the Canon to assess or apportion was carried by a large majority. Board (consisting of the Bishop, th) four Deans and the Treasurer of the Mission Fund) divide among the missionaries appointed by the Bishop. While the Bishop has therefore rightly the power to appoint the man, the Board are his advisory Council in the distribution of the Fund.

The Convention also passed a very important resolution, authorizing the Treasurer to pay our missionaries quarterly in advance; and, if necessary, to negotiate a loan for the needed amount. This must give new life and vigor to our missionaries, who in times past have suffered sadly be cause of delay in receiving their promised stipend. Now, every man is certain that his money will be on hand the day it is due. We can bid them, therefore, go to their work; and, while they yet live by faith, have the desired privilege of living J. IVES.

H. K. REES, Missionary at Cave Spring, Georgia. May 12th, 1881.

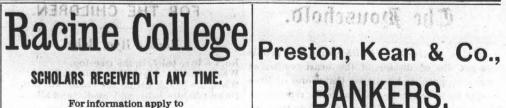

The Electro Magnetic Company, at 205 Clark Street, have received the following letters, which speak for have received the following letters, which speak for themselves: NEWTON JUNCTION, N. H., May 1, 1881. DEAR SIR:-While I do not think the Electro Mag-netic Pad will cure everything, I have received more benefit from the use of them than I ever did from all the medicines I ever used. I find it much pleasanter than taking pills and other remedies. I would not be without the Pad for double its price.

Yours respectfully, MRS. JULIA A. DAVENPORT.

ing a gain, in ten years, of no less than 150 per cent. upon the increase of the population. So that the numerical increase of the Church has not only kept pace with the increase of the pop-ulation, but has doubled, and nearly trebled, the ratio it bore to the whole population ten years ago. Further, within the last two years, eighteen churches have been built, or are now in building with funds in hand to finish them. The Bishop, moreover, made the gratifying statement, that,

DR. STEVENS PARKER, Warden.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY Instruction in Political Sciences.

The following regular courses of study are open,

The following regular courses of study are open, without examination, to competent students not can-didates for a degree. The fees are in no case less than $30 nor more than $150 a year. Figures in [] de-note the number of exercises per week. CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY. I. Constitutional Gov-ernment in England and the United States. [2] II. Constitutional and Political History of the U. S. to 1850. [3] III, Forms of Government and Political Constitutions, since 1789. [2]—POLITICAL ECONOMY. I. Mill's Principles of Economy; financial Legisla-tion of the U. S. [3] III. Cairnes' principles of Politi-cal Economy; Giffen's Essays in Financia [] III. Public Finance. [] III. Constitutional Law of the U. S. [1] III. Public International Law and History of Modern Treates. [3] IV. Roman Law; Institutes of Gaius and Justinian. [3] V. The Boman Law of Inheritance. [1] VI. The Legal Institutions of the Franks, Anglo-Saxons, and Normans. [3] The next academic year begins Sept. 29, 1881.—For further information address F. W. TAUSSIG, Secre-tary, Cambridge, Mass.

HAMNER HALL MONTGOMERY, ALA. The Diocesan School for Girls & Young Ladies.

The Rt. Rev. The BISHOP OF ALABAMA, Visitor. The Rev. GEO. M. EVERHART, D. D., Rector. The next School Year begins October 3. The charges are made at the lowest figure possible for a school of its grade and appointments. Send for Catalogue. Board and all School fees charged to the clergy "at half rates," Alm Alta

St. Helen's,

Brattleboro, Vt. A Family School. Large and commodious house, finely located. School of Languages in session dur-ing the summer months. If desired, children re-ceived for the summer only, and with or without tu-ition. For Circulars and particulars address Mrs. E. J. IVES.

St. Margaret's Diocesan School for Girls, Waterbury, Conn. School for Girls, Wulleroury, comm. The sixth year will open (D. Y.) on Wednesday, Sept. 15th, 1880. Instrumental music under charge of J. Baier, Jr., a private pupil of Plaidy, of Leipsic Conservatory. French and German taught by native teachers. The REV. FRANCIST. RUSSELL, M.A., Rector.

Trinity College,

Examinations for admission will be held at Hartford, ford, on Monday and Tuesday, June 27th and 28th, 1881; also on September 13th and 14th. Commence-ment is Thursday June 30th, 1881. For Scholarships and for Catalogues application should be made to the President, T. B. PYNCHON, D. D., Hartford, Ct.

De Veaux College,

Suspension Bridge, Niagara Co., N.Y. FITTING-SCHOOL for the Universities, West Point, Annapolis, or business. Charges, $350 a year. No extras. Competitive examinations for scholarshipe at the beginning of College Year, first Wednesday in September; applications for the same to be filed ten days previously. Rev. GEO. HERBERT PATTERSON, A.M., LL.B., Prest.

The Selleck School,

Norwalk, Conn. The academic year of this school commences on the third Wednesday of September, and closes on the last Thursday of the following June. Pupils received at any age, or prepared for College, for the United States Military and Naval Academies, or for business. Terms: for board and Tuition, $356,00 per annum.

Female Seminary,

BANKERS,

MAY 21, 1881..

100 WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO,

Transact a regular Banking Business.

Make Collections on liberal terms.

Buy and Sell Foreign Bills of Exchange on all the principal cities of Europe.

Furnish Travellers and Commercial Credits.

Buy and Sell Government, State, Municipal and School Bonds, also standard R. R. Bonds and other roods Securities. Deal in Land Warrants and Land Scrip.

Hartford, Ct.

CHURCH	FURNISHING.
+ J. & R	LAMB. +
59 CARMINE ST., N. Y	., 6th Ave. Cars pass the door.
Fair Linen.	Chalice Veils, Corporals, Sacramental Covers. Hand- made Linen Fringe.
Font Ewers*	in polished Brass, lined with pure tin. New designs, with Texts and Symbols.
Alms Basons, New Designs.	in Sterling Silver. in Polished Brass. in polished Bronze in Polished Oak. Suitable for Gifts.
Altar Vases	in heavy, solid Brass, highly polished with Chased Sym- bols of XP. IHS.
	Suitable for Memorials or Gifts.
Alms Chests	to receive the offerings. Made in walnut or oak, with heavy brass mountings and locks.
Hand Work'd	Gold-silk Embroideries, in large and small designs, suit- able for transfer on silk, cloth, or velvet. (Book-mar ker designs.) +
Eaole	Heroic siz Polished Bronze. In Polished Brass on Trinity base with four li-
Lecterns. New Designs.	ons, in Polished Brass on conventional forms, in Carv- ed Walnut on plain and ela- borate pedestals; also in rich- ly Carved Oak.
Stained Glass	Memorial Windows. New de- signs in progress of work. Very beautiful designs in Do- mestic Glass, admirably ad- apted to use in sitting-rooms and nurseries.
Sterling Silver	Communion Services for the sick. Pocket sets for easy transportation. Glass Cruet: also Glass Vescels for carry ing the wine.
Send for H	land-book by mail.
McCULL	Y& MILES,
	A company on 1

MANUFACTURERS OF STAINED, ENAMELED, EMBOSSED, CUT AND COLORED. GLASS, 183 & 184 Adams St., | CHICAGO.

Mitchell,

Vance & Co. 836 & 838 Broadway, N. Y.

Designers and Manufacturers of Ecclesiastical

Gas Fixtures & Metal Work.

pleted, paid for and consecrated.

At 3, P. M., Service was held by the Missionary at Peshtigo. The rain kept many from the Service, but those who were present enjoyed it heartily. An offering of $231 was made for a new church at this station.

back in Oconto, where another good congregation awaited Evening Prayer. So ended Easter Day, one to be gratefully remembered in this wilderness.

Burlington Convocation.

Correspondence of the Living Church. A regular meeting of the Convocation of Burlington, N. J., was held in Trinity Church, Moorestown, on the 3d instant. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Bradin, of Millville, from Mark vi., 7: "And he began to send them forth by two and two." The preacher took the ground that more work could be done by the missionaries of to-day, if they went to their fields by twos; two were not sick together; two were not disheartened at the same time. One could do the visiting while the other was preparing to teach the people. After the sermon, the Bishop that a branch of that Society exists in every proceeded with the Communion Office, in which he was assisted by Dean Hills. The following clergy answered to their names at the roll call :

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of the Diocese, Rev. Dr. Hills, (Dean) and Revs. Geo. M. Bond, B. M. Bradin, J. Y. Burk, A. Crawford, C. W. Duane, G. W. Fisse, Ezra Isaac, J. H. Lamb, L. H. Lighthipe, Thomas McClintock, John McKim, G. M. Murray, C. M. Perkins, Rev. N. Petitt, J. Rev. R. H. Weller making a few closing re-A. Spooner, R. L. Roche, D. D., H. H. Weld, marks. D. D. The Rev. Wm. Matthias, of Michigan, was there as a visitor. There were also present five lay delegates from the following parishes: St. Andrew's, Bridgeton, St. Mary's, Burlington; from its own secular stand-point, and "leaving St. Mary's, Colestown; Grace, Haddonfield; St. Paul's, Camden, and Trinity, Moorestown.

The Ex. Committee reported they would like to concentrate their efforts upon the more prom- Florida, on the success of the efforts they are ising fields, and put an itinerant missionary at work. The Treasurer reported a balance of over $600 in the treasury, but said in explanation that eminently conservative a body in any community he had just received collections from some of as a source of satisfaction to all lovers of law the churches that only made contributions once and order, of good morals, and of the social elea year, and that in one month the stipends for the next month would be due.

The Dean announced as the preacher for the next meeting, the Rev. J. Y. Burk; Alternate, Rev. A. Crawford; Essayist, Rev. N. C. Hyde; St. Paul's, Oshkosh,6; Fond du Lac, 18; Ripon, Alternate, Rev. J. D. Hill.

previously existing in this Diocese. Buildings were, moreover, churchly in style, designed by professional architects, and almost all with windows of stained glass. None is burdened with debt, none has any but free sittings.

Besides the church edifices already spoken of, At 8:30 P. M., the Missionary found himself the Bishop referred to two others, begun over two years ago, which were already sufficiently advanced to be occupied without discomfort; while at seven other points, there is a good prospect for the completion, during the coming year, of as many more. This will make twenty-nine church buildings erected in the Diocese of Florida, within the brief space of three years. We very heartily congratulate both the Bishop and the Diocese upon such marked manifestation of church-life and progress. May these multiplied earthly temples be types and forerunners of that Spiritual Temple, whose living stones are souls redeemed by the Blood of the Incarnate Son of God!

At the conclusion of his Address, Bishop Young paid a glowing tribute to the Womens' Auxiliary Society, for the aid which it had rendered to Diocesan Missions. We understand parish and mission in the Diocese. In this connection, he particularly complimented and thanked the ladies of St. John's, Jacksonville. who have contributed during the past year, $772; this being nearly double the amount that they have raised in any previous year.

The Bishop was followed, at some length, by the Rev. Messrs. Rodifer and Williams; the

It is gratifying to observe that a secular journal, like the Jacksonville Daily Florida Union. looking at the progress of the Church merely entirely out of view"-as it says-"the more weighty considerations of religion," does not hesitate to congratulate the Church-men of putting forth for the extension of their Faith; and adding: "We regard the building up of so vation and improvement of society."

FOND DU LAC CONFIRMATIONS .- Berlin, 2; Appleton, 9; Green Bay, 8; Trinity, Oshkosh, 6; 12; Sheboygan, 6; Waupaca, 6; Stevens' Point, Lunch was partaken of in the Rectory, where 9; Centralia, 3; Warsaw, 1; Medford, 4.