

A Weekly Record of its News, its Work, and its Thought.

Living

Vol. III. No. 32.

CHICAGO, 162 Washington St.

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1881.

NEW YORK, No. 40 Bible House

Church.

WHOLE No. 136.

G. T. S.

Graduation Day-Degrees Conferred.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

The Annual Commencement of the General Theological Seminary, which was founded 64 years ago, took place on Thursday, at 8 P. M., June 2d, in Trinity Chapel, W. 25th St.

The Commencement Services of our Seminary were probably never before so striking and impressive. It was a beautiful scene, when the white-robed chorister boys, headed by the venerable looking sexton, marched down the tesselated pavements of the broad central aisle, singing the Processional-"Holy, holy, holy," as they went to receive and escort the long line of Bishops, Priests and Deacons, wearing, some of them, their various colored academic hoods; the Dean and other members of the Faculty in gowns and caps; the candidates for degrees in their cottas; and the students of the senior, middle and junior classes, all in college gowns, and swelling with many voices the strains of that grand old hymn.

After the Anthem, which was superbly rendered, the Dean arose and called for the Essay by Edward Horace Cleveland, B. A., of Illinois. The subject was "The Church as an Educator." The duty of the Church in educating the young, in educating the community, and in educating the nation. The next essay was by Percival Hall Hickman, B. A., of Pennsylvania, on Semitic Study in the Church. Mr. Hickman, it is expected, will be retained in the Seminary as holder of the Tallman fellowship.

The graduating class, 24 in number, were then called, and presented themselves before the chancel rail, within which stood Bishop Potter with the Dean and the Secretary, Prof. Hall. As each one in turn responded to his name, the Dean received the parchment from the Secretary, and handed it to the Bishop, who gave it to the graduate. When all had been bestowed, they lingered a brief space, while the Bishop addressed them in a few impressive parting words.

As each, with his precious diploma in hand, came down the marble steps and returned to his place, the sympathetic observer could not help giving a sigh of relief at the consummation of so many years of patient and faithful devotion to the one all-absorbing object-the preparation for the Sacred Ministry, which was to be their life-work. A blessed work, indeed; but, oh! so full of responsibilities, of cares and trials! And how thoughts went back to the anxious, loving Mothers of those young men who had, some of them, perhaps, devoted their sons from earliest infancy to serve the Lord in His Temple, and who on this day experience a joy which none but Mother can comprehend. Happy are they who can enter upon their active ministerial duties, with the consciousness that a Mother's prayers are daily ascending on their behalf, that they may prove faithful to their ordination vows. Next in order was the conferring of Degrees by the Dean, who was seated in a chair with the professors on either side. After the candidates were arranged before him, he arose, and, turning to the Board of Trustees, who were within the altar rail, he addressed them in Latin, and explained what he was about to do. Then Dr. Dix advanced, and on behalf of the Board, as their representative, responded in Latin, signifying their approval. The language in this ceremony was throughout in Latin. The degree of S. T. B. was conferred on the following clergymen: The Rev. Joseph Carter Acomb, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Mound City, Ill.; the Rev. Charles Ferris, Christ Church, Yonkers, N. Y.; the Rev. William B. Frisby, M. A., assistant minister, Trinity Church, New York; the Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, M. A., Rector of the Church of the Messiah, Pulaski, Tenn.; the Rev. Robert S. Gross, M. A., assistant minister Trinity Church, New York: the Rev. Joseph D. Herron, M.A., assistant minister St. Augustine's Church, New York; the Rev. Bradford R. Kirkbride, M. A., missionary at Middleville, etc., New York; the Rev. Charles J. Palmer, B. A., Rector of St. Luke's Church, Lanesborough, Mass.; the Rev. Peter C. Wolcott, missionary to the Indians at Pine Ridge in Dakota Territory.

Theological Seminary." Among those present papers of Boston and Philadelphia; while, in the were Bishop Welles, and Bishop Seymour (the latter place, the Sentinel rivalled the Whig in former Dean of the Seminary), still affectionately remembered by students who were in the before the readers of the other cities, by the local Seminary before he left.

An interesting incident which occurred immediately on leaving the church, was the presentation, in the Sunday-school room adjoining, of a parting gift to Frederick Robert Graves, A. B., plume of "Timothy Tickler," in the successive of Utah, who is to leave the coming fall, for mission-work in China, probably to teach in St. John's College, at Shanghai. The Senior class, with an affectionate appreciation of his worth and devotion, provided for their comrade a set of handsome Eucharistic vestments. It was a pleasant surprise to Mr. Graves; and, in that delphia, who, in a series of essays, entitled "The far-off land to which he goes, it will be a perpetual reminder of the thoughtful kindness of those who were his associates in three of the most important years of his life-those spent in the General Theological Seminary, in preparing for his sacred calling in the Church of Christ.

THE EARLY AMERICAN BISHOPS.

A Series of Biographical Sketches. BY THE BISHOP OF IOWA.

[Copyright by William Stevens Perry, 1881.] CHAPTER VIII.

A contemporary print, entitled "An Attempt to Land a Bishop in America," illustrates the alarm and hatred on the part of those of whom Lord Chatham wrote, that, "divided as they are into a thousand forms of policy and religion, there is one point on which they all agree; they equally detest the pageantry of a king, and the supercilious hypocricy of a Bishop." The scene depicted in this print is on a wharf. A crowd of excited colonists, with open mouths and violent gesticulations, are brandishing staves and clubs. One. in Quaker garb, stands with an open copy of Barclay's "Apology" in his hand. Others, with cropped hair and Puritan faces, are shouting, "No Lords, spiritual or temporal, in New England;" and are hurling copies of "Sydney on Government," "Calvin's Works," and "Locke," at a retreating figure who is climbing the shrouds of the "Hillsborough" ship, which is being thrust off from shore. The Episcopal carriage is dismounted and packed on dck; the crosier and mitre are placed by its side, and the affrighted Prelate, whose rochet and chimere are streaming behind him as he mounts the ropes in haste, is crying, "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace." The legend in front is, "Shall they be obliged to maintain bishops, who cannot maintain themselves?" while a grinning ape, in the foreground, poises a missle to hurl at the Bishop. All this bravery of a mob in pursuit of a single, unarmed unresisting man is under the banner of "Liberty and Freedom of Conscience." We have only to turn the pages of "A Collection of Tracts from the late News Papers, etc., containing particularly The American Whig, A Whip for the American Whig, with some other pieces, on the subject of the Residence of Protestant Bishops in the American Colonies, and in answer to the writers who opposed it, etc. New York: Printed by John Holt, at the Exchange, 1768," in nearly four hundred and fifty pages; to which was added, the following year, another volume of almost the same size, to see the bitterness of the controversy, which sought to prove to the popular mind, at least :

the abuse and railing, which in turn was spread press. The writer of the articles against the Church, published in the Whig, was supposed to be Mr. William Livingston; and an antagonist was shortly found, who, under the nom de numbers of "A Whip for the American Whig," lashed with merciless severity the productions of his opponent. The Sentinel, in Philadelphia, was met in better taste and with more creditable weapons, by the celebrated Dr. William Smith, President of the College and Academy of Phila-Anatomist," exhibits a self-possession and indifference to abuse, coupled with the presentation of unanswerable arguments, which betrayed the writer's conviction that his cause was good. Added to these controversial issues through the of "A Kick for the Whipper, by Sir Isaac Foot," in which the assailants of the Church reached more stately pamphlet discussions between Drs. Chandler and Chauncy, which appeared from time to time, and which are well worthy of perusal after more than a century of oblivion. While this war of words was raging in the chief centre of population along the Atlantic seaboard, the Provincial Legislature of Massachusetts Bay, leemed it time to add its opposition to a scheme so fraught with danger to the "Standing Order." On the 12th of January, 1768, the House of Representatives addressed a letter to their agent in London, Dennis de Berdt, Esq., in which was the following paragraph :

"The establishment of a Protestant Episcopate in America, is also very zealously contended for; and it is very alarming to a people whose fathers, from the hardships they suffered under such an establishment, were obliged to fly their native country into a wilderness, in order peaceably to enjoy their privileges, civil and religious. Their being threatened with the loss of both at once, must throw them into a very disagreeable situation. We hope in God, such an establishment will never take place in America, and we desire you would strenuously oppose it. The revenue raised in America, for aught we can tell, may be as constitutionally applied towards the support of prelacy, as of soldiers and pensioners. If the property of the subject is taken from him without his consent, it is immaterial whether it be done by one man or five hundred; or whether it be applied for the support of the ecclesiastic or military power, or both. It may be well worth the consideration of the best politicians in Great Britain or America, what is the natural tendency of a vigorous pursuit of these measures. Strange to say, this action of the Massachusetts Legislature was followed, a few years later, by the House of Burgesses, of Virginia, which placed upon its records the following vote: July 12th, 1771, Resolved, nemine contradicente, That the thanks of this House be given to the Rev. Mr. Henly, the Rev. Mr. Gwatkin, the Rev. Mr. Hewitt, and the Rev. Mr. Bland, for the wise and well-timed opposition they have made to the pernicious project of a few mistaken clergymen, for introducing an American Bishop; a measure by which much disturbance, great anxiety and apprehension would certainly take place among Majesty's faithful American subjects; and, that Mr. Richard Henry Lee, and Mr. Bland do acquaint them therewith. These clergymen-the first two (Henly and Gwatkin) in Convention, and the latter subsequently uniting in the protest-assigned as their ground for opposing the action of a Convention of the Clergy summoned by the Commissary, the Rev. Mr. Camm, of William and Mary College, which voted to address the King in favor of an American Episcopate; the smallness of the representation, there being but twelve clergymen present out of nearly or quite a hundred settled in the Province; the fact that the Convention had earlier voted down the proposition to address the King; that the Virginia clergy could not with propriety petition for an American Episcopate without the consent and action of the other colonies interested; that "the establishment of an American Episcopate, at this time, would tend greatly to weaken the connection between the mother-country and her colonies, to continue these present unhappy disputes, to infuse jealousies and fears into the minds of Protestant dissenters, and to give ill-disposed persons occession to raise such disturbances as may endanger the very existence of the British Empire in America;" that it was "indecent" for the clergy to take this step without "the concurrence of the President, Council and Representatives" of the Province; that it was but right to ask and await the action of their Diocesan, the Bishop of London: and that the mode of procuring the assent of the clergy of the Province was wanting in decorum and dignity. A bitter controversy grew out of this action of the protesting clergy, though it is evident, both from the grounds, given above and from the pages of the pamphlets published on both sides, that the authors of the protest (to quote the words of Gwatkin, himself), "have not any aversion to Episcopacy in general, to that the Professors and Trustees of the General Presbyterian partizans were published in the an American Episcopate, introduced at a proper time, by proper authorities, and in a proper manner.

> It was in a controversy of this nature, in which the popular mind was deeply concerned, that the Rector of Jamaica found himself involved by his very position as Secretary of the Convention of the New York Clergy. He was not a man to sit idle, when the Church of his love and conviction was assailed; and we find him among the newspaper controversialists, giving and receiving hard blows in his efforts to defend his cause, which was certainly the cause of right and toleration and freedom of conscience, against fanaticism and sectarian hate. In the midst of the opening scenes of this bitter controversy, a new home was found. The death of his father had removed one strong ground for Mr. Seabury's continuance at Jamaica. The people had failed to erect the long-promised parsonage, and the neighboring parish of Westchester, where the late incumbent, the Rev. John Milner, had made columns of the press, and to the blackguardism a younger brother, Nathaniel Seabury, Catechist and Schoolmaster, had sought his services. On the the 3d of December, 1766, he was admitted, their lowest level of scurrilous abuse, were the instituted, and inducted as Rector of Westchester, by Sir Henry Moore, the royal Governor. The first of the papers in this transaction was as follows:

> > I, Sir Henry Moore, Baronet, Captain General, Governor-in-chief, in and over the Province of New York, and territories depending thereon, in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral of the same; do admit you, Samuel Seabury, Clerk, to be Rector of the Parish Church of Westchester, commonly called St. Peter's Church, including the several districts of Westchester, Eastchester, Yonkers, and the Manor of Pelham, in the County of Westchester, in the said Province, with all their rights, members, and appurtenances. Given under my hand and the prerogative seal of the Province of New York, the third day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, seven hundred and sixty-six.

Delaware Church Matters.

H. MOORE.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

It has not been our privilege for a long time, to hear a more forcible preacher than the Rev. Saunders Reed, of S. Paul's Cathedral, Indianapolis, who has very kindly officiated at Trinity Chapel, Wilmington, for the past two Sundays. His treatment of his subjects is attractive; his flow of language, ready; his manner, stirring; and his memory of quotations from various authors, exact. We Wilmingtonians should be pleased to become acquainted with others of your Western clergy.

The Rev. R. Heber Murphy, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, Claymont, has been making efforts to abolish the pew-rental system at his church, and to subtitute free seats. The Rev. Dr. C. S. Spencer, of Immanuel

THE PROVINCE OF ILLINOIS.

Bishop McLaren on the Appellate Court.

From his Convention Address, 1881. This Diocese, in company with its sister Dioeses, of Illinois, came before the Convention to ask its approval of certain powers which they proposed to exercise in federated relations. By concurrent action the Convention granted our memorial, except that the House of Bishops declined to approve the power in regard to an Appellate Court.

I desire to call attention to the fact that the subject of the Provincial System is identical with that of the Federate Council, as those who have made themselves familiar with the progress of this question, for thirty years and more, will bear witness. Such persons will recognize the fact, moreover, that the question owes its rise and persistence to the rapidity with which the Church in America has, under the blessing of God, increased in numbers and zeal. With almost prophetic foresight, Bishop White anticipated the day when another arrangement, involving larger districts than the Diocese, would become necessary. In due course of time, prosperity had its legitimate effect; a diocese was found to be too large to be adequately administered by one bishop, and the Church proceeded at once to provide by law for the division of dioceses. It was in 1835, the very year in which fllinois was admitted to union with the Convention, that the law was passed. In the State of New York, advantage was first taken of the new provision. As soon as division took place, the question of retaining some local and immediate bond of affiliation naturally arose, precisely as it forced itself upon us in 1877. In the General Convention of 1850, Bishop De Lancey, seconded by Bishop Otey, proposed a jointcommittee to report on the expediency of arranging the dioceses into provinces under a General Convention or Council. This proposition came up, and was discussed in subsequent meetings of the Convention, and with what result, finally? Why, that in 1868, the General Convention passed the present Canon, authorizing the formation of a Federate Convention or Council of the Diocese within any State. This was the response to an urgent demand, in which, while the name was avoided, the thing was granted.

It ought distinctly to be noted that this movement did not come from doctrinaires or innovators, but from men who confessed themselves to be impelled by the needs of a rapidly growing Church. Precisely as the General Convention had endeavored to keep pace with the increasing dimensions of the Church, by legislating, to provide for the division of dioceses, that body now made provision for the Provincial Federation of dioceses within any State, by passing its canon on Federate Councils. The Church was simply striving to adapt her organization to the conditions of her enlarged prosperity. What fruit did this canon bear? In 1871, the five dioceses existing within the State of New York, established for themselves a Federate Council, under the provision of Canon 8, and submitted to the General Convention for its approval a Declaration of Powers. The two houses, by concurrent action, approved of these with the exception that they declined to approve of the power to establish an Appellate Court, "for the reason that Article 6, of the constitution, confers upon each diocese in said State the power to institute the mode of trying Presbyters and Deacons therein, including a Court of Appeals, if such diocese elects to institute such tribunal for itself; and whether such Appellate Court shall also be the Appellate Court of any of the other dioceses in said State, is a matter of discretion and concurrent choice on the part of the Conventions of such other dioceses respectively." Such is the language of the Convention. At the passage of this resolution, in the House of Deputies, the Rev. Dr. Haight, of the Committee on Canons, distinctly announced its significance in the following words: "If New York goes on and forms an Appellate Court under the scheme set down here, we shall do what we have a perfect right to do, but this House does not choose to sanction it beforehand." (Vide Daily Churchman, 1871, nineteenth day's proceedings.) My object in this brief resume of legislation by the General Convention, is clearly to indicate the historical genesis and rise of this whole subject of the Province or Federate Council in our American Church, and to show how, when Illinois was enabled, by the creation of two new dioceses, to take up the matter, she had precedent to guide her steps, and the example of definite action by a Federate Council and by the General Convention, to follow. And I call attention to the fact, and with the greater emphasis because there are those who have expressed themwore, when, in the course of probably not many years, our venerable Bishop shall be called to his reward. At present, but little is done by the Diocese for the Bishop; his main support being within the limits of constitutional and canonical selves to the contrary, that Illinois, from the within the limits of constitutional and canonical derived from the congregation to which he min-isters for the principal portion of the year. The subject of Missions came up on Wednes-day evening, when interesting addresses were delivered in behalf of Mexico, and in relation to the subject of Mission to the year. union between the three dioceses, should have forbidden such a suicidal course.

This degree is conferred at the Commencement next succeeding the reception of Priest's Orders, by those who have earned the distinction.

Next followed the degree of S. T. D., accompanied by the scarlet hood, which was conferred on one candidate only-the Rev. Charles Theo. Seibt, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Brockport, Western New York. This degree is not conferred until twelve years after the reception of the degree of Master of Arts, or Bachelor of Theology; nor until the applicant shall have been at least twelve years in Holy Orders.

After the benediction by Bishop Potter, the Recessional, "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" was sung with spirit by the entire congregation, while the choir-boys again led the procession to the main entrance, where they waited till the clergy and students had retired, and then retracing their steps, passed into the Vestry room.

Following the Commencement exercises, the Bishop gave a reception at his residence "to meet 1. The American Whig, ii, p. 7.

"The Bishops, those creatures of Kings, To be Dragons, with terrible stings." 1.

It was in this arena of strife, anger, clamor and evil speaking, that the defenders of the Church's rights and Orders were compelled to contend. Hard blows were given and returned. The Sermon of the Bishop of Llandaff (Dr. Ewer), before the Venerable Society, was assailed on its publication, by Dr. Charles Chauncy, of Boston, leading Congregational Divine, who was bitterly opposed to Episcopacy; and the note of attack was echoed by a Mr. William Livingston, a Presbyterian lawyer of New York, who published "A Letter to the Right Rev. Bishop of Llandaff," etc., which was but "a repetition of the arguments of Dr. Chauncy, presented in the gaudy trappings of a more florid style." (Prot. Epis. Hist. Soc. Coll., i, p. 451.) A vindication of the Bishop's Sermon, written by the Rev. Dr. Inglis (afterwards Bishop of Nova Scotia), terminated this controversy, which was almost immediately renewed in another form, on the appearance of "An Appeal to the Public in Behalf of the Church of England in America," written at the request of the Convention of Clergy, of which Seabury was Secretary, by the Rev. Thomas Bradbury Chandler, D. D., of Elizabethtown, N. J., one of the most able and learned of the American Clergy. This tract, which temperately and cogently discussed the arguments in favor of an American Episcopate, was met with abuse and scurility for argument in the newspapers of the day, of which the American Whig gives us the leading articles; and received the more elaborate notice of Dr. Chauncy, who published "The Appeal to the Public, Answered." The violent invectives and personalities of the New York

Church, New Castle, accompanied by the Rev Dr. Hay, of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Philadelphia, has lately sailed for Europe, to be gone six or eight weeks. Rev. Dr. Roche, of Bridgeton, N. J., officiated at New Castle on last Sunday.

The Revised Version of the New Testament does not seem to meet with much favor in Wilmington. The conservative Wilmingtonians prefer the Old Version (whatever may be its possible shortcomings) to the New, expurgated from these. Nevertheless, our venerable Bishop of Delaware was one of the American Revisers. Bishop Becker, of the R. C. Diocese of Wilmington. is preparing an article for the Catholic World. in which he will undertake to show how the New Version agrees with the Vulgate, "more than Protestants will like." He mentions the omission of the Doxology at the end of the Lord's Prayer; the doubt concerning the account of the woman taken in adultery, as recorded in St. John's Gospel; and the omission of the "three witnesses" from his first Epistle, as points in which the Latin and Revised English agree. So the appearance of the long-looked for Revision promises to start some able literary pens, and to awaken a discriminating critical feeling concerning biblical literature, among both scholars and ordinary readers, that must turn to the profit of some of E. H. E.

The Convention of the Church in Delaware held its annual session last week. The most important matter considered was the question of Temperance, which has been lately stirring up so much attention in the Mother Church, and in several of our Dioceses. The Rev. Dr. McKime gave an address on the evening before the Convention, in which he told us that the first Diocesan Temperance Society was organized in Virginia, the second in Maryland, and now we have a hope that the third will be in Delaware, a com-mittee having been appointed to bring up the matter to-day. Another matter of importance was the appointment of a Committee to report at the next Convention, on the Fund for the support of the Episcopate, a matter which has vexed us for many years, and will vex us still any aversion to Episcopacy in general, to that the work among the deaf mutes, the Rev. Mr. mode of it established in England, or even to Syle, a deaf mute clergyman, being present.

THE LIVING CHURCH.

dioceses, we proceeded, in accordance with the the General Convention, for its approval, the powers proposed to be exercised.

2

In the House of Deputies, the Committee on the mode of procedure. Canons reported a resolution approving the powers as asked, which, with a verbal amendment, was passed. In this action the House of take any initiatory action, whether legislative or interest in the subject, and lead them to memo-Deputies of 1881, went beyond the action of the advisory, under either an approved or non-ap-House of 1871 by approving the power of the proved power. Federate Council to organize and administer an Appellate Court for adjucating cases brought before it by appeal from the Courts of the Dio- of the General Convention? ceses.

In the House of Bishops its Committee on Canons reported unfavorably, mainly on the ground that this was the first time in which the Convention had been asked to legislate for a single State. As this was shown to be incorrect, in point of fact, a substitute for the resolution reported by the Committee was adopted as follows:

Resolved. That this House concurs in Message 15 of the House of Deputies, with the exception of the first of the powers named; with which it does not concur, because it does not deem it expedient to act upon the matter of an appellate system for this Church in the manner proposed.

To this the House of Deputies replied that after considering this objection, they adhered to their former action approving all the powers, and requesting the Bishops to appoint a Committee of Conference. But this failed to bring about agreement. The result of the matter, then, is that the Federate Council finds all its powers approved, except the one which relates to an Appellate Court.

But one step now remains.

At the Conventions of Illinois, Quincy, and Springfield, in 1880, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Federate Council by a majority of two-thirds of the members present may decide upon such powers as may be thought it is contrary to neither, since the constitution needful to be acquired by the Council, and may and canons do not provide for Diocesan courts, submit them to the General Convention for its approval. Provided, however, that such powers thus approved shall not be acquired until the onventions of Illinois, Quincy, and Springfield, have given assent thereto.

Such powers, therefore, as have been approved by the General Convention will be acquired by our Federate Council when such assent is given.

At a meeting of the Federate Council on the 26th of January, 1881, in Springfield, a resolution was passed to proceed to frame a canon providing for an Appellate Court, which canon was to be submitted to the Dioceses with a request for the adoption thereof by the same. In accordance with which resolution, a canon was drafted, approved and recommended to the Dioceses.

The Bishop of this Diocese was and is unable to concur in this action, for reasons which he feels it to be his duty to state. These reasons have reference, firstly, to the Federate Council, and secondly, to the Dioceses of Illinois.

1. As to the Federate Council.

This hody is in an inchoate state, not having yet acquired powers, and therefore incapable of exercising any so as that they shall have the force of law. Hence, it cannot act under either an approved or a non-approved power.

As to the powers approved by the Genera

Having, then, availed ourselves of the lawful within the limits of the State of Illinois. The right granted by the General Convention in Canon 8, and established a Federate Council or Convention by the concurrent action of the three

This makes it quite apparent that had that requirements of the same Canon, to submit to power been approved by the General Convention, the primary step must have been taken by the Dioceses, whose province it was to institute

For these reasons, it would seem to be clear that the Federate Council was not competent to

2. As to the Dioceses.

To what extent are they affected by the action

So far as the approved powers are concerned, thereto, and when this shall have been done, those powers will have been acquired by the Council, which will then be finally qualified to act under them.

As to the power which was not approved, it cannot come before the Dioceses, because by the such powers as were approved can be submitted for their assent.

It seems to me, therefore, that quite as much by our own action as by that of the General Convention, the whole project of a Court of Appeals for these dioceses as connected with the Federate Council must, for the present, be and useful officers, known as "rural deans," who dropped.

It must be borne in mind that there is a distinction to be drawn between the right of the Dioceses to establish a Court of Appeal, viewed as an abstract proposition, and that right as it is involved in the present scheme of a Federate Council.

So far as the abstract right is concerned, I do not entertain a doubt. It has been declared to be ultra vires, but to prove the declaration to have any force, it must be shown to be contrary to the constitution or the canons, or both. But it is contrary to neither, since the constitution either of first resort or of appeal, neither do they forbid them. On the contrary, they remit the whole subject to the discretion of the Dioceses. Moreover, such Dioceses as may be mal vote associated with the idea of preventing grouped into federate relations, under canon 8, separation by retaining a bond of union between are nowhere deprived of their discretionary powers. So far as their abstract right is in- after serious reflection, gave his influence in volved, they have as much freedom in the matter of trial and appeal, as in the election of a ments and difficulties, but also the successful secretary. This was fully and unequivocally recognized by both houses of the General Con- vision of the Diocese was accomplished, and the vention in 1871, in the case of the Federate results are eminently satisfactory. The Federate Council of New York. Suppose the five Dioceses Council has also been established, and when of New York were now to avail themselves of fully prepared for practical operations will, I that action, and proceed to organize and admin- have no doubt, by God's blessing, prove a posisay that they would transcend their right?

But the question of our abstract right is not the real question before the Dioceses of Illinois much indefiniteness in many minds as to the By our own action, we have involved that right system; and I am sorry to add that some have in peculiar surroundings. We have asked the General Convention to approve the exercise of dice, while others have totally misapprehended our right in connection with and by means of the motives and ends of our action. I desire to the Federate Council. We must not forget that say a few words on the general subject, and it we owe the existence of our Federate Council to shall then be dismissed. the permissive canon of the General Convention, to be borne by a harassed Church. .

This vital question will have to be met. I had hoped that to some extent the Federate Council of Illinois might lead the way to a practical solution of the difficulty, but, great as the need is, I cannot deem it advisable to take definite action now in connection with our Federate Council. Perhaps the effect of the non-approval of the General Convention upon our effort to rectify a great wrong, may arouse some minds to a deeper rialize the next convention to state what it conceives to be its own powers, and, if necessary, remit the question to the Dioceses in the definite shape of a constitutional amendment.

prosecute its work under the powers which have action, excessive severity, and abuse of irrethey are now called upon to give their assent been approved, if we assent thereto; and, with God's blessing, good results will follow its labors.

One word with regard to the term "Province." This is a small matter. We have seen by the history of this movement in the Church that the canon on Federate Councils was the final crysaction which they themselves took in 1880, only | talization of the whole discussion in regard to the Provincial system. If the General Convention did not adopt the name, it authorized the thing. The thing is what we have, and while we adhere to the nomenclature of the canon, there is no law or reason why we shall not explain it. The Dioceses of Illinois have very important do not enjoy any recognition or derive any authority from the General Convention, and the same may be said of guilds and convocations all over the Church. It should be made known. however, that the Federate Council of Illinois used no other than the terms of the canon in communicating with the General Convention. It was not by our desire or request that the committee of canons spoke of us as "the Federate Council of the Province of Illinois." The House of Deputies eliminated that expression from the report of its own committee, but it did not have our constitution before it, and consequently its action had no effect on that document. We care but little, however, for names.

When the project of division was undertaken in Illinois in 1877, it was distinctly and by a forthe divided portions of the State. The Bishop, favor of both measures, anticipating impediconsummation of the double project. The dias illustrate the wisdom of the canon under which it has been organized. There is, however,

seen fit to darken counsel by appeals to preju-

It has been intimated that the provincial idea

I do not see how a careful student of the are some who have felt the force of the objecand that it was under the provisions of that history of the Church can fail to perceive that tion, we may admit a certain remote resemblance canon that we asked approval of the powers the same law of necessity which operated under in this that the diocese has its civil counterpart God, to bring the Church of England people in in the county, the province in the state, and the national church in the nation. This ought to cided to call the new Society "The Maryland America into organic association suited to the changed condition of things at the close of the satisfy all that we have an American Church in eighteenth century, begins to be felt by the Pro-America! testant Episcopal Church as she faces present Worthy of being more seriously considered, needs and the prospective growth which will perhaps, is the impression existing in some vastly multiply her numbers in the twentieth minds that this system would establish a hiercentury. The debates and decisions of the archy unsuited to our conditions as a national general convention upon almost every subject church. This is, however, wholly unlikely to that comes before it seem to indicate two conoccur, particularly when we contemplate the fact victions; first, that our garments are not suited that nothing more hierarchical is proposed than is to our growth, second, that we must equip ouralready in existence. At present the senior selves for the yet more abundant growth of the bishop by consecration occupies the place of future. 'The "provincial" movement is the propresiding officer in the House of Bishops, where it at some length. The opinions expressed in duct of these convictions, It is spontaneous, he is simply primus inter pares. In like manand will take care of itself. As it needs no ner in a federate council one bishop presides, man's advocacy, it can be defeated by no man's not by virtue of any inherent authority, but be-civil tribunals, are not the penalties which have in form that an agent of the soverign pontiff and foregone conclusion-nothing can stem the tide prejudice than of sound reason.

Another objection which has been urged is the independence of diocesan Bishops. There is prevent diocesan papalism. So far as I can ascertain the bishops of our Church are the only bishops in the whole Body of Christ who are not under provincial obligations and restraints, and there is no reason why they should be exempt. They are men of like passions with others, In the meantime, the Federate Council will and may be tempted to indulge in arbitrary sponsible authority. We have been spared scandalous instances thus far; but the manifest increase of Episcopal power will surely be attended in time with grievances which can be remedied only by limiting the independence of diocesans, and giving the right of appeal to their clergy and laity. That this increase of power is to some extent due to our Church rejecting the absurd English tradition that the dignity of the episcopate depends upon the extent of territorial jurisdiction, and returning to the primitive idea of small dioceses, seems quite evident. Other causes are at work, but this is very prominent and influential. Now as this tendency must continue, just because growth will necessitate it, the danger of diocesan autocracy will increase, and ence. the only safeguard-one, also, which every rightminded bishop ought to hail with gratificationis the local association of a number of bishops under bonds of responsibility to each other in an organization in which there shall be provided means of righting wrongs for every clergyman and layman in the federated dioceses.

> Others, who are not concerned as to its effect upon the episcopate suggest that the Province would deprive the laity of their rightful position in the Church. This does not by any means follow. The dioceses are entitled to a lay representation in the federate council; and to-day the secretary of our own council is a lavman. Never before in the whole history of the Church have laymen enjoyed this privilege; nor is there the faintest desire in any quarter to deprive them of it. Rather do we invite them, as our brethren in Christ, to cooperate with His ambassadors to the fullest extent in all matters pertaining to the welfare of His Kingdom. It was a mischievous tongue indeed which sought to create prejudice by this utterly mistaken imputation.

An ad populum argument has been put forward to the effect that this system, if realized, would contradict the claim that our Church conforms in its polity to the general features of our national government. How far we have made this claim ister a Court of Appeal, who will undertake to tive advantage to the Church in Illinois, as well is a question. For one I am prepared to claim that it is an absurdity. If that is the corner-stone on which we build our right to live in America, then we must surrender the headship of the Incarnate God, the derived authority of the Apostolate, the perpetuation of the ministry through the ages, in fact everything that justifies us in professing our belief in the holy, catholic, and Apostolic Church. But the alternative is untenable. The claim is absurd. However, as there the canon law of the Roman church seems to of swelling prosperity. Now the very munifibe framed in an illy disguised spirit of jealousy cence of our development will on the present. towards the agent. The charge of a mediaeval basis of representation swell the general convenleaning, seems, therefore, to savor more of tion to unwieldly proportions, while the immense accumulation of business, deliberative and legislative, will make it impracticable for that the provincial system would interfere with that body to discharge its duties adequately. It will not answer to leave the dioceses to the enanother way of putting the objection-it would larged freedom they might then assume. The Church would part like a rope of sand. There must be provided an intermediate bond, not to destroy, but to relieve, not to undermine, but to conserve and aggrandize the authority of the General Convention. With such a bond of union. more closely related, and more sensibly felt, the risk of disintegration would be met just where it would be most menacing, namely, in the smaller body, where disregard of supreme authority and unwise assertion of independence could be most readily indulged. Great national churches cannot be dissolved, under ordinary circumstances. The disruption of a nation will, however, precipitate such an event in spite of every precaution. Except in such an event, which God forbid, we have no reason to fear a process of disintegration, unless we neglect to avail ourselves of the methods of administration which in every age and land have tended to consolidate national churches. The federation of smaller groups of dioceses with synods amenable to and under the control of a superior council, has always had this effect-the very opposite of a disintegrating influ-

JUNE 11, 1881.

> This is all I have to say on the subject. I would have said less, or nothing at all, if I had obeyed the feeling of diffidence with which I have always approached this important subject. But God in His providence put me in a position, where, in 1876-7, I was compelled to express myself, and, having exhausted all means of information afforded in the history of our Church. I saw very clearly that this question was one which was making its own way to the front, and I expressed that as my conviction. It cannot be evaded, and I believe that leaders in the Church. of all orders, in large numbers, recognize the provincial association of dioceses as inevitable. Our Illinois Federate Council may not practically accomplish transcendent results for us, but it will do much if it shall illustrate the value of Canon 8 as as a tentative step towards the final establishment of the provincial system.

Baltimore Church News. Correspondence of the Living Church.

BALTIMORE, May, 1881.

Our Convention has adjourned, and has left no anpleasant memories behind it. The sessions were all free from undue excitement, and though questions were discussed which brought out decided differences of opinion, kindness and brotherly love prevailed in reference to them all. On the evening after the final adjournment, a meeting was held in the Chapel of St. Peter's Church, for the purpose of organizing a Temperance Society. Addresses were made by Rt. Rev. Bishop Pinkney, and the Rev. Dr. Nelson, of St. John's College, Annapolis, the latter of whom expressed his satisfaction with the resolution of sympathy passed by the Convention in regard to this important movement. A Committee was appointed, which in a short time presented a series of rules for the government of the proposed Society, similar to those adopted by Convention, the Council must be governed by the action of the Diocesan conventions of 1880: and what was that action?

1. The resolution by which, acting separately, they adopted the Constitution of the Federate Council, was as follows:

Resolved, That this Convention hereby adopts and establishes the following as the Constitution of the Federate Council of the Province of Illi- power, with the intention to avail ourselves of nois, the exercise of the powers therein specified that right, we could have done so legitimately, not to be operative as having the force of law, until the same shall be submitted to and approved by the General Convention, as contemplated in Canon 8, Title 3, of the General Canons.

the Federate Council to make a declaration of of a Court of Appeals to the discretion of the powers and submit the same to the General Con- New York dioceses. But we did not avail ourvention for its approval, contains the following selves of the opportunity. We submitted the proviso:

Provided, however, that such powers thus approved shall not be acquired until the three Conventions of Illinois, Quincy and Springfield to rectify our mistake by ignoring its action. have given assent thereto.

To this it may be added that the Federate Council, in the memorial to the General Convention, asking its approval of the powers specified therein, used the following language:

represents that it is already bound by the action frain from action on the subject in connection of the several Conventions, not to exercise any of the foregoing powers until they shall have been approved by the three Dioceses acting sep-arately, nor to do anything in conflict with the constitution and canons of the General Convention.'

Now, if the Federal Council is thus forestalled by its own action, as well as by that of the Dioceses which established it, from taking any action of the force of law under the powers approved by the General Convention, until the Dioceses have given their assent, it must be still more incompetent for the Council to take such action under a non-approved power, as that in regard to the Appellate Court is.

It is true, I admit, that the Council has not proceeded to any measure of legislation under that power. It has taken advisory action only. It has drafted a canon and requested the Dioceses to adopt it. But it will immediately appear that it was not competent for the Council to take any action of any sort on the question of an Appellate Court. For at its meeting in June, 1880, when it drew up the declaration of powers, it decided to submit the first power to the General Convention in the following form:

"The organizing and administering an Appel-ate Court for adjudicating cases brought before proposed to be exercised. I think our own action under the canon binds us to accept the canonical decision of the General Convention. There is, I repeat, no question that these Dioceses have the right, abstractly considered, to lodge appellate jurisdiction anywhere, without seeking the approval of the General Convention, and if we had withheld the declaration of that and without just offense. Should anyone have required justification of our action, we could have pointed to the resolution of the General 2. The resolution by which they authorized Convention of 1871, which remitted the question > power to the approval of the General Convention; that was our mistake. Having failed to the opposition it encounters. secure its approval, I cannot think that it is wise

The question submitted and decided was whether the Federate Council of Illinois should organize and administer our Court of Appeals, not whether the Dioceses have the right to establish a Court of Appeals, and I think we are bound to copy the primitive polity in its features of merely "The Federate Council further respectfully respect the decision which we solicited, and reecclesiastical appointment any further than they may be adapted to the necessities of our with our Federate Council. But while I am un-American life. The term "Diocese" is as primiable to convince myself that it is now competent tive as the term "Province" but not more so, and to the Dioceses of Illinois to take such action in as we have practically modified in some particulars, the primitive organization of the Diocese, connection with their Federate Council, I am we may with equal right and reason adapt the keenly sensible of the defect in our organizaorganic union of contiguous dioceses under protion as a Church which furnishes no adequate vincial relations, to the conditions of our land canonical remedies by which persons may be and age. There were causes arising out of the protected against abuses. There is no place where even a complaint can be lodged. The necessities of practical administration which pro-General Convention touches the subject warily, duced the primitive province. Why may not doubting whether it has the right to touch it at like causes, or at least other causes of like force, all, and seemingly unwilling that the Dioceses necessitate the grouping of neighboring diocese which have the right should touch it. In the now? meantime, the evil bears its fruit, particularly is a relic of mediaevalism. It is difficult to peramong the clergy, and numbers are suffering in ceive how a thing which is too literally primitive silence, or dropping out of the ranks. It is pitiful to turn to the Roman Communion, and disenjoys the right of appeal, and, since the Vatimediaeval organizations. But that would be abcan Council, may pass by inferior tribunals and lay his case directly before the Papal See if he papal primary asserted itself, it absorbed the so elect. The right of appeal is founded in the law of nature, and when the right is ignored, cil of T which aggrandized the power of the nature has her vengeance. It is a question whether the frequent scandalous resort to the prerogatives of the metropolitans. A Roman whether the frequent scandalous resort to the prerogatives of the metropolitans. A Roman prerogatives of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans. A Roman prerogative of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans. A Roman prerogative of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans. A Roman prerogative of the metropolitans of a met prerogative of the metropolitans of a met columns of the press, the deluge of controver- Catholic metropolitan, as the Bishop of a met- union more enduring and obligatory. That the to him by his daughter, "The Lord is my Shept by appeal from the courts of the Dioceses sial pamphlets, and the practice of recourse to ropolis or chief city of a province, is little more number of dioceses will largely increase is a herd."

antagonism, Every living effort after progress cause he is designated to that duty by a law which attests its vitality by the scrutiny it excites, and all freely join in making. He is simply primus inter pares. It would be difficult to make it appear that a presiding officer is unsuited to our It has been declared to be a servile following conditions in this land where every governing of primitive precedent in the organization of the body down to the municipal council of a village Church, and that too in respect to a feature of has its president. its organization which was, confessedly, not of divine appoitment. But it is not proposed to It has been intimated still further that this system would endanger our doctrinal position. But it must have escaped the minds of these objectors that the doctrines of the Church, being identical with the dogmas of the creeds, are immutable. The Faith is fixed and final. No power on earth may, by right, modify it. Nobody save the Body of Christ, the Universal Church, may add to or explain it, since the whole Church is the sole organ of the Holy Ghost. Individual teachers may entertain different opinions touching the dogmas, but it would be absolutely ultra vires for a provincial synod or any other ecclesiastical body to decide between opinions. It is questionable whether this objection arises from an intelligent apprehension of the relation of the Church to the Faith once delivered to the saints.

I see no, force either, in the deprecatory suggestion that the provincial system would tend to disintegrate our national church. If it could be can be objectionably mediaeval, unless we are made to appear that such a result would follow, cover that the humblest ecclesiastic in the land ready to grant the identity of the primitive and however remotely, it would be well to drop the question, and expunge the canon on Federate question, and expunge the canon on Federate Councils from the digest. We rightly regard the mind, self reliant, firm, without being obstinate; surd since every tyro in history knows that as the General Convention as a supreme bond of unity powers of the metropolitans, and that the Counand conservator of permanent federation among the diocesses. It would seem that provincial the "Church Temperance Society." It was de-State Temperance Society." Bishop Pinkney was elected president, and the Rev. Messrs. Addison, Mason and Leakin, and ex-Governor Whyte, Judge Hagner, and others, Vice-Presidents.

On Sunday, May 22d, Sermons in reference to the New Version of the New Testament were preached in the Church of our Saviour, by their respective Rectors, Rev. Wm. Kirkus and Rev. J. H. Stringfellow. Rev. Dr. Grammer, of St. Peter's Church, also referred to regard to the book were of the non-committal order.

On the morning of the same day, a Memorial Service for the late Bishop Atkinson was held in Grace Church, of which he was Rector at the time of his election to the Episcopate of North Carolina, The Sermon, which was preached by Bishop Lay of Easton, was an eloquent tribute to the many virtues and excellencies of the deceased prelate. His natural endowments and his amiable temper endeared him to all. His life was one of almost uninterrupted success. Success attended the exercise of his priestly office before he moved to Baltimore, and Grace Church is now a monument of his success as its Rector. He prospered, as Bishop of North Carolina. The speaker had sometimes asked why it was that a man like Bishop Atkinson, with the courage and will to bear up under any burden and dispensation of Providence, should be so blessed of God in all his relations; and the answer seemed to be, "It is not every one who can carry a full cup even." The same undying love that maketh star to differ from star in the firmament, upholds the Creator's intelligent creatures in their respective spheres of duty. As a Churchman, he held the constitution of the Church as of divine authority, committed to the Bishops of Apostolical succession. He was in sympathy with the Oxford-tract movement, and he was Anglican to the backbone. At the first meeting of the General Convention, after the war, he was one of the two Southern Bishops present. Bishop Lay concluded his discourse with a description of the characteristics of the open, frank, yet prudent and cautious in speech, precise in statement, but not prolix. He knew how to relax from labor, but was never indolent; appreciated humor, but was never trifling or un-

BY THE REV. WILLIAM REED HUNTINGTON; D. D. From the American Church Review.

Under the head of liturgical enrichment ought to be classed whatever alteration would really Trinity Sunday, and All Saints' Day. + There serve to enhance the beauty, majesty or fitness of accepted formularies of worship. Excision may, under conceivable circumstances, be enrichment. James Wyatts undoubtedly imagined that he was improving the English cathedrals when he whitewashed their interiors, added composition pinnacles to the west towers of Durham, and rearranged the ancient monuments of Salisbury; but the enrichment accomplished by our nineteenth century restorers has lain simply in the undoing of what Wyatt did.

Again, substitution may be enrichment, as in the case where a wooden spire built upon a stone tower is taken down to be replaced by honest work. It would be an enrichment if in St. George's Chapel, the central shrine of British royalty, the sham insignia now overhanging the stalls of the Knights of the Garter, were to give room to genuine armor. Not merely then, by it would be just so much gained for days when addition, but, possibly, by subtraction and substitution, we may find "the Prayer Book as it is" open to improvement.

Before, however, entering upon any criticism of the formularies in detail, it is important to draw a distinction between two very different things, namely, the structure of a liturgical office, and the contents of it. By structure should be understood the skeleton or frame that makes the groundwork of any given office; by contents the liturgical material employed in filling out the office to its proper contour.

The offices of the Roman Breviary, for example, continue, for the most part, identical in structure from day to day, the year through; but they vary in contents. For an illustration nearer home, take our own Order for Daily Morning Prayer. The structure of it is as follows: 1. Sentences. 2. Exhortation. 3. Confession. 4. Absolution, 5. Lord's Prayer, 6. Versicles, 7. Invitatory Psalms. 8. The Psalms for the day. 9. Lection. 10. Anthem or Canticle. 11. Lection. 12. Anthem or Canticle, 13. Creed, 14. Versicles, 15. Collect for the day. 16. Stated Collects and Pravers. 17. Benediction.

Now it is evident that without departing by a hair's breadth from the lines of this framework, an indefinite number of services, might by a process of substitution, be put together, each one of which would in outward appearance differ widely from every other one. The identical skeleton, that is to say, might be so variously clothed upon that no two of its embodiments would be alike. But is it desirable to run very much after variety of such a sort in a book of prayer designed for common use? Most assuredly, No. To jeopard the supreme desideratum in a people's manual of worship, simplicity; to make it any harder than it now is for the average "stranger in the Church" to find the places, would be on the part of revisionists, an unpardonable blunder.

There are, however, a few points at which the Morning Prayer might advantageously be enriched, and no risks run. It would surely add nothing to the difficulty of finding the places, if for one-half of the present opening sentences there were to be substituted sentences appropriate to special days and seasons of the ecclesiastical year. We should in this way be enabled to phrases at three in the afternoon that were on give the key-note of the morning's worship at our lips at eleven in the morning. very outset. Having once departed, as in the case of our first two sentences, from the English precedent of putting only penitential tion; but the principle is one that must be hanverses of Scripture to this use, there is no reason why we should not carry out still more fully in or virtue goes out of it. We must distinguish our selection the principle of appropriateness. The sentences displaced need not be lost, for they might still stand, as now, at the opening of the Evening Prayer.

THE LIVING CHURCH.

Revision of the Common Prayer. for Ash Wednesday or for Good Friday.* It necting it with the particular infelicity in ques-would also be well to make optional, if not tion; but that the excuse, "We have said all this once to-day; why say it again?" may possibly have something, even if not much, to do with the staying at home, is certainly a fair conjecture.

Without altering at all the structure of the Evening Prayer, it would be perfectly possible so to re-fill or re-clothe that formulary as to give valuable space, if instead of reprinting some it the one thing needful which now it lacksthirty of the Psalms of David under the name of freshness. In such a process, the Magnificat and the Nunc Dimittis would play an important part; as would also certain "ancient collects" of which we have heard much of late. Failing this, the next best thing (and the thing, it may be added, much more likely to be done, considering what a tough resistant is old usage), would and said that whatever differences of opinion had be the provision of an alternate and optional form of Evening Prayer, to be used either in among honest men. He called upon the clergy lieu of, or as supplementary to the existing office. In the framing of such a Later Evensong, the essential qualities of the Church, and to a larger freedom would be possible than in the increase its adaptability in non-essentials to refilling of a form the main lines of which were American life. He was thankful to God for His already fixed. Still, the first plan would be bet- goodness to the diocese. He would go on with ter, if only it could be brought within the range renewed energy and enthusiasm, and urged the of things possible.

Diocese of Illinois.

The Close of a Harmonious Convention.

Reported for the Living Church.

On Wednesday, June 2nd, the Convention resembled with increased attendance. The treasurer's report showed a most encouraging condition of finances. Mr. C. R. Larrabee, the treasurer, read his report, showing that the diocesan fund has amounted to $6,583.71, of which $5,058.91 was expended, leaving a balance of $1,524.80. The diocesan mission fund amounted to $3,754.21, of which $2,684.43 has been paid, leaving a balance of $1,069.78. The aged and infirm clergy fund amounted to $759, of which $380 was expended, leaving a balance of $379. With such a good showing, the Convention did well to raise the Bishop's salary to $5,000, as it was beforet the division of the diocese.

The elections resulted as follows:

Standing Committee-Rev. T. N. Morrison, D. D., Rev. A. W. Snyder, Rev. D. S. Phillips, Francis Peabody, Tracy Lay, E. H. Sheldon. Chancellor of the Diocese-Mr. S. C. Judd. Board of Missions .- The Bishop, the Rural Deans, Rev. R. A. Holland, Rev. Frederick Courtney, Rev. Arthur Ritchie, Messrs. A. F. Seeberger, Emory Cobb, J. M. Banks.

Trustee of General Theological Seminary-James K. Edsall.

The Committee on legislation reported a series of resolutions. The first was, that the Convention give its assent to the powers of the Federate Council of the province of Illinois, which are approved by the General Convention.

The second was as follows: Resolved, That while this Convention declines to adopt the proposed Canon for the erection of an Appellate Court in connection with such The case is altered when we come to the Order derate Council, for the reason that the Canon. for Evening Prayer. Here there is a demand, if adopted, would tie the Appellate Court to and not indeed for any structural change, but for render it essentially connected with and depenvery decided enrichment by substitution. The dent upon the Federate Council, yet this Conwording of the office is altogether too exact an vention heartily approves and reaffirms the proposition declared by joint resolution of both houses of the General Convention in 1871, "that echo of what has been said only a few hours before in Morning Prayer. It betokens a poverty article 6 of the constitution confers upon each of resources that does not really exist, when we diocese in a State the power to institute the allow ourselves thus to exhort, confess, absolve. mode of trying presbyters and deacons therein, including a Court of Appeals, if such dioceses intercede, and give thanks in the very same elects to institute such tribunal for itself: and whether such Appellate Court of any other of the dioceses in said State is created, is a matter of discretion and concurrent choice on the part work from Chicago parishes: Ascension, $300; Calvary, $75; Epiphany, $160; Grace, $500; St. Andrew's, $50; St. James', $600; St. Mark's, $75; St. Stephen's, $15; Trinity, 250; Cathedral, $100; The total amount now pledged is $3,650.

Mr. Judd offered a resolution that the bishop with two clergy and two lay members of the Convention, be a committee to revise the Constitution and Canons, and report to the next Convention. Rev. T. N; Morrison, D.D., Rev. Clinton Locke, D. D., Messrs. S. Corning Judd, and J. K. Edsall were appointed the members of the committee.

The bishop congratulated the Convention upon the harmony that had characterized its meetings. been had, were only such as were expected and laity of the diocese to help protect all clergy and laity to help him spread a Catholicity that is not Roman, so that it shall be embraced by thousands where it is now received by hundreds.

Consumption Cured.

physician, retired from practice, by An old having had placed in his hands, by an East India missionary, the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases has felt it his duty to make it known to his suf-fering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail, by ad-dressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherer, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in the various forms; also as a preventative against Fever and Ague, and other In-termittent Fevers, the "Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of CCalisaya," made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from Fever or other sick-ness, it has no equal.

TAKE TH

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

We No other line runs Three Through Pas-senger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Ne-vada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

vada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California. The Shortest, Speedlest and Most Comforta-ble Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galves-ton and all points in Texas. The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman '16-wheel) Falace Sleeping Cars. run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. The famous C., R. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Re-volving Chairs for the exclusive use of first class passengers.

Class passengers. Steel Track and Superior Equipment, com-bined with their Great Through Car Arrange-ment, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort. Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given by applying to

JAMES R. WOOD, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. T. J. POTTER, General Manager, Chicago.

Passing on to the declarations of absolution, there is an opportunity to simplify the arrangement by omitting the alternate form borrowed from the Order for the Administration of the Lord's Supper, where only it properly belongs. This, however, is a change likely to be resisted on doctrinal grounds, and need not be argued.

Coming to the Venite, we find another opportunity to accentuate the Christian Year. It may be said that the rubric, as it is already written, allows for the substitution of special anthems on the greater festivals and fasts. This is true; but by giving the anthem for Easter a place of honor, while relegating anthems for the other great days to an unnoticed spot between the Selections and the Psalter, the American compilers did practically discriminate in favor of Easter and against the rest. The real needs of the case would be more wisely met, if the permission to omit Venite now attached to "the nineteenth day of the month" were to be extended to Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. and special New Testament anthems analagous to the Easter one were to be inserted along with the respective Collects, Epistles and Gospels, for Christmas Day and Whitsunday.

By this change, we should put each of the three great festivals of the year into possession of an invitatory anthem of its own; and we should obviate on the fasting days, by the simple expedient of omission, the futile efforts of Choir-master and organist to transform Venite from a cry of joy into a moan of grief.

This brings us to the Psalter. Here we have an opportunity to correct the palpable blunder by which it has come about that the greatest of the penitential psalms, the fifty-first, has no place assigned it among the proper psalms either j'+ it.

Doubtless liturgical worship owe sure of its charm to the subtile power of repetidied and applied with the most delicate tact, between similarity and sameness. The ordered recurrence of accents is what makes the rhythm of verses; but for all that, there is a difference between poetry and sing-song, just as there is a obligatory, the use of "proper psalms" on days

other than those already provided with them; e.

g. Advent Sundays, the Epiphany, Easter Even,

would be a still larger gain in the direction of

"flexibibity of use," as well as a great economy of

Selections, we were to provide for allowing "select" Psalms to be announced by number, in the same manner that "proper" Psalms are now announced. Instead of only the ten selections we now have, there might be made available twenty or thirty groups of Psalms at absolutely no sacrifice of room. It has been objected to this proposal that the same difficulty which now attaches to the finding of the "proper Psalms" on great days, would embarrass congregations whenever

"select Psalms" were given out; but this is fairly met by the counter consideration that if our people were to be educated by the use of select Psalms into a more facile handling of the Psalter, the "proper Psalms" must of necessity be found and read. The services, that is to say, would run all the more smoothly on the great days, after congregations had become habituated, on ordinary days, to picking out the Psalms by num-

Another step in the line of simplification, and one which it is in order to mention here, would be the removal from the Morning Prayer of Gloria in Excelsis, seeing that it is never, or almost never, sung at the end of a Psalm unless at Evening Prayer. As to the expediency of restoring what has been lost of Benedictus, after the second lesson, the present writer offers no opinion. There are some who warmly advocate the replacement, and there is, unquestionably, much to be said in favor of it. It is unlikely that any doctrinal motive dictated the abbrevia-

Pausing a moment at the Creeds for the insertion of a better title than "Or this" before the Confession of Nicæa, we pass to the versicles that Here, again, it would be enrichment to restore the words of the English book, although the task of finding an equally melodious equivalent for O, Lord, save the Queen, might not be easy.

Happily, the other versicles are such as no

Answer-And make thy chosen people joyful.

These are all the alterations for which the present Morning Prayer, considered as a form of Divine Service for Sundays, would seem to call.

It will be observed that they are far from being of a radical character, that they affect the structure of the office not at all, and touch the con-civil revolution can make obsolete. It will never Endue thy Ministers with righteousness.

tion

follow.

be amiss to pray:

tents of it but slightly.

difference between melody and monotony. Moreover, the taste of mankind undergoes change as to the sorts of repetition which it is disposed to tolerate. No modern poet of standing would venture, for instance, to employ identical epithets to the extent that Homer does, making Aurora "rosy-fingered" every time she appears upon the scene, and Juno as invariably "ox-eyed." People were pleased with it then; they would not be pleased with it now. It is possible in liturgies so to employ the principle of repetition that no wearying sense of sameness will be conveyed, and again it is possible so to mismanage it as to transform worship into something little better than a "slow mechanic exercise." Mere iteration, as such, is barren of power; witness the endless sayings over of Kyrie Eleison in the Oriental service-books, a specie of vain repetition which a liturgical writer of high intelligence rightly characterizes as "unmeaning, if not profane."‡ Now the common popular criticism upon the Evening Prayer of the Church is that it repeats too slavishly the wording of the Morning Prayer. If this is an unjust criticism, we ought not to let ourselves be troubled by it. On the other hand, if it is a just criticism it will be much wiser of us to heed than to stifle the voice that tells us the truth. It might seem to be straining a point, were one to venture to explain the present very noticeable disinclination of Churchmen to attend a second service on Sunday, by con-

*The rationale of this curious lapse is simple. The American revisers, instead of transferring the Com-mination Office in toto to the new book, wisely de-cided to engraft certain features of it upon the Morning Prayer for Ash-Wednesday. In the pro-cess, the fifty-first Psalm, which has a recognized place in the Commination, dropped out, instead of being transferred, as it should have been, to the proper Psalms.

†See the Convocation Prayer-Book. *Prayer-Book Interleaved, p. 65.

the Conventions of such dioceses respectively. Then follows the draft of a Canon, forming an Appellate Court, of which the judges shall be the bishops residing in the State, and one clerical and one lay assessor from each diocese, elected by ballot by the Convention thereof.

The third resolution repealed the old Canon providing for the Court of Appeals. The fourth, fifth, and sixth resolutions provided for the insertion of the foregoing Canon in the book, and a memorial to the General Convention to enact some system of Appellate Courts for the whole Church. The resolutions were adopted.

Rev. T. N. Morrison, D. D., and Mr. F. S. Stahl, of Galena, were elected as clerical and lay assessors of the Appellate Court.

The report of the trustees of St. Luke's Hospital, presented by Dr. Locke, showed that the hospital was full all the time. The money for a bed for incurables is paid in, an endowment for a bed for sewing-women is completed, and the endowment for a bed for crippled children is in fine progress. Mrs. W. F. Whitehouse and Mr. Edwin Sheldon are about to endow a bed, costing $4,000, in memory of Wm. B. Ogden. Mr. N. K. Fairbank has given a lot of land, north of the present property on Indiana Avenue, which cost him $10,000. Other gentlemen of the city have contributed $15,000 for the purchase of seventy feet on Michigan Avenue, in rear of the present property, and money is now being raised for the erection of new buildings. The total number of house-patients has been 359; Dispensary, 1,638. The receipts have been $13,580.56; expenses $13,049.35, leaving a balance of $632.22.

The Committee on Church Extension made a favorable report, and called attention to St. Thomas' Church for colored people. Dr. Tolman Wheeler has offered to build a church for this promising mission if a suitable lot can be be procured.

Rev. C. H. Malcolm, D. D., of the "Church Building Commission" of the American Church, made a few remarks upon the purposes of his

The following were the pledges for mission commission.

ABRAIN AND NERVE Vitalized Phos-Phites. FOOD. COMPOSED OF THE NERVE-CIVING PRINCIPLES OF THE OX-BRAIN AND WHEAT-GERM.

Physicians have prescribed 300,000 packages with the best results in all forms of impaired vitality, mental exhaustion, or weakened digestion, it is the best preventative of con-sumption and all diseases of debility it gives rest and sleep to infants, children, and adults, by strengthening the brain and nerves with the food they actually require. For sale by Druggists or Mail, $1.00. F. Crosby, 664 and 666 Sixth Avenue, New York.

The Libing Church.

June 11, 1881.

Subscription.			-		-	-	$2.0	B 00	Yean
Subscription, To the Clergy						-	- 1.4	50	44
Advert	isin	g Ra	ates,	per	ag	ate li	ne, 15 ct	8.

C. W. LEFFINGWELL, D. D. NEW YORK. No. 40 Bible House CHICAGO. 162 Washington Stree

Until July 1st, 1881, the LIVING CHURCH will be sent to new Subscribers, three months for 25 cents. Only the first thousand subscribers on this plan can receive back numbers of Bishop Perry's and Dr. Warring's Series.

Trinity Sunday.

The Feast of Trinity is an institution of the Western Church, established during the thirteenth century. Throughout the East the Sundays are numbered from Pentecost. Trinity Sunday does not commemorate any new fact or truth; it is the summary and substance of all revealed truth-the climax of the Gospel record. It is the Gloria of the Christian Year, the highest, holiest period of time, the commemoration most comprehensive, that has been consecrated to the glory of God by His Church on earth.

To the mystery of the Holy Trinity all revelation tends. This is life eternal to know the only true God and Jesus Christ Whom He has sent. With Pentecost the last great truth was given, and the Spirit came to be the guide and teacher of men. By the light of those fiery tongues we may read the record of inspiration, and by that spiritual illumination we are prepared to contemplate the mystery of the Divine Nature in all Its fullness and completeness.

It is fitting that the distinctive glory of the Christian religion should be enshrined in a holy day. It stands out, thus, with a distinctiveness that no form of words could give it. The perverse ingenuity of man may explain away the mystery of each separate portion of God's truth, or magnify ore portion by the sacrifice of others. But here all truths unite. They cannot be separated or distorted. While Trinity Sunday stands in the Calendar of the Church, the Creed and the Articles cannot be misunderstood. The faith of the Church is distinctly Trinitarian. It allows no confusion or compromise of this fundamental truth. The Triune God is its object of worship. As Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, it praises Him, prays to Him, and celebrates the mystery of man's Redemption in His Name. Trinity Sunday commemorates the Faith once delivered to the saints. Though not one of the earliest in the Calendar of the Church, it is all the more needful as time goes on and distance obscures the clear witness of the primitive Church to the truth of the Triune God. This day is the banner day of the Christian Year, the AMEN of the Creed, the Doxology of the Calendar. It is the last of the commemorative Sundays in the year, and gives name to the longest season. That name is distinctive of the Christian Faith, and has been chosen by the Church as the best expression in human word of the mystery of the Divine Nature. To some of the wise of this world the name is a stumbling-block, an offence. "Three in one," say they, "it is absurd !" Arithmetic is called in to estimate the Infinite, and the plainest principles of reason and analogy are disregarded. The truth is, man himself embodies as great a mystery. He is himself triune. His body, his animal vitality, and his rational mind, are all distinct and vastly differing entities. Man is a trinity of natures in one person, for these three are one. If his body is injured, he says, "I am hurt;" if his appetite is not satisfied, he says, "I hunger;" if he suffers in spirit, he says, "I am afflicted." But arithmetic says it is all impossible, a contradiction, an absurdity. Man, with three-fold nature and single personality, need not be confounded by the revelation of a God of three-fold Personality and one Nature. Let him explain and understand himself-his brother whom he hath seen, before he denounces as impossible and absurd the revelation of a God Whom he hath not seen.

De Profundis.

A shallow infidel, mouthing to a congenial crowd the stock objections to Christianity, is a sorry sight. It makes the heart itself to the receptive soul all that the sick to think that men who, like Anthony, "have immortal longings in them," should empty themselves of all holy aspirations and become the clacqueurs of a smart platformist. These men are not the shallow creatures they seem to be. Even the orator himself has depths in his nature, that his flippant blasphemy gives you no reason to suspect. For they are men. We have a common nature. What you know of yourself, you may predicate of your neighbor. There are moments when the smile dies out of your face, when life's gold dulls to lead, when there sits in your heart a shadow which you cannot drive away. It would seem as though there are crises in the history of the soul when the invisible world envelops it, and the eternal things bear down upon it like mountains for weight, and when the voice of one's solemnity or despair is a cry de profundis. If darkness. you have passed such moments, you may be sure the man who sits next you in church or car has. You may be sure the jolly sceptic who jeers at God has. That sense of overwhelming solemnity, that mysterious sadness, more terrible than a crushing sorrow would be, that impression of the proximity of infinite realities, comes the development of the solar system from have thought so, or else so many commento him, just because he is a man with a man's nature. He may dismiss God from | tifically be called the Nebulous Stage. his thoughts, but he cannot shake off his manhood; and, in those awful crises of impression, you may be sure he is an awed had prepared for the occasion by laying his account should not be pronounced false attention to the wants of mothers and children. being, very smileless; quite a contrast, surely! Reason cannot reason away the voice that comes de profundis. Sarcasm, epigram, wit, have lost their potency now. The stage lights are out. The dim taper of conscience is burning in the heart.

If, now, as the solemnity grows to its climax, the nature that is capable of feeling it would follow it; if, instead of hastening back to the glare of the world, the soul would bend and say, "Out of the depths have I cried unto Thee, O God !" if, in one word, the sceptic would but recognize the possibility of a practical solution of all difficulties whatsoever, by testing whether our holy religion has any mission to a man who enters the depths of which we have spoken, how glorious might be the result !

The deepest thing in our nature is conscience. It will stir the soul in its lowest depths. It creates a sense of imperfection, suggests need, and sends the arrow-like thought of accountability through the heart. The man who owns the wound, heart, in the sense of recognizing them, According to that great Astronomer and Mathematician, the solar system existed meeting them, supplying them all to the full, and leaving nothing to constitute at that time only as a mass of infinitely attenuated matter, something like a gas or soul longs for, of peace, joy, hope, and vapor. The earth then was an integral virtue. But men who draw back from the part of that immense nebulous body, and hard-working mothers may enjoy a few days impulses of their solemn moments will consequently no more had form or shape, of rest during the summer months. About $400 never know it. They will laugh on, and than has, for example, a ton of water in is yet needed, and for this amount the good Sisthe clouds which darken the sky before a scoff on, and-die !

GENESIS I. AND SCIENCE. A Series of Papers by Charles B. Warring, Ph. D. [Copyright, 1881.]

OUR FIRST EVENING. THE THEME.

GENESIS 1.5.-In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the scientists, Moses says, the world was earth was without form and void, and called at once into being, a vast, solid globe, incomparably larger than the sun darkness was upon the face of the deep. And God said, Let there be light, and and stars. Here is one of those contradictions, an important one too, which compel there was light.

And God saw the light that it was good. scientists to refuse to believe this story." And God divided the light from the into existence a solid globe? Where, too, And God called the light Day, and the darkness called He Night; and the evening and the morning were the first day. * ran his eye up and down the page, and Cosmic time, corresponding to these then said: "I do not see any sum asserverses, reaches from the "beginning," to the period when the earth became non-luminous. Within these limits is included must be implied, and Moses himself must a nebulous mass. It may therefore scien- tators would not have given out that idea to the world." OUR DISCUSSION.

on my table certain books which I knew for what is not in it. I added, that I also would be needed. Among them, and was a believer in the Nebular Hypothesis, most important, were a Hebrew Bible, perhaps more of a believer than he, and Lexicon, and Concordance, a copy of the more ready to carry it to its extreme con-Septuagint, and our English Bible, also sequences. As far as I could judge it would and the work now in progress is of great benefit Dana's Manual of Geology, and Herschel's not be easy, even now, with all our boasted to the needy neighborhood. The Rector, Rev. Outlines of Astronomy. As he took his knowledge and with the help of a copious seat he glanced over the table and said, scientific terminology, to describe the "This looks like business; but I do not earth's condition, while yet an unsegresee any Commentaries on the Bible." I replied, that perhaps they were more fitting terms than those which Moses has essential to his arguments than to mine; used and which are rendered in our verthat all that I was concerned with, was the sion, "without form and void." These words of Moses himself, and those I proposed to take in their simplest and most literal meaning. Others had told us what Moses meant to say; my purpose was to vanity;" and in, "He maketh the judges let him tell his own story in his own way, of the earth as vanity;" and, "graven im-The Professor thought that seemed fair ages are all of them vanity;" and, "they enough.

I then took up the Bible and read : "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth," and asked whether that was true.

He replied, "Undoubtedly there was a reginning of the present order of things, † dered in each place by void, or its equivaand the universe must have originated in lent, emptiness. an Ultimate Cause; i. e., in the will of God. Many persons, however, do not believe in a personal God. They would say, 'In the beginning the Ultimate Cause produced the heavens and the earth.' They would object to this expression, 'The Will of cease, desire to put on record the following res-God.' " I replied, that, for my part, I had no objection to his styling the Author of all things, the Ultimate Cause, or the First Cause. I was myself a believer in a personal God; but whether on good grounds or not, was outside of our present discussion, since that question had no bearing upon the truth or falsehood of the physical statements in those twenty-seven verses. They commence their account at the "beginning," and our first business was to inquire what was the condition of the earth at the earliest period at which philosophy takes cognizance of it. Laying his hand upon the Astronomy lying before him, and turning over its leaves, he answered, "Laplace improved, and gave anew to the world the theory which commonly goes by his name, and, as far as I can see, it gives a true description of our world's original condition.†

JUNE 11, 1881.

New York City Church News.

Reported for the Living Church

The "Sisters of St. John Baptist" intend completing St. Anna's Cottage, a farm house at an eligible spot on Long Island, in which poor and ters appeal, as also for an endowment-fund with which to render the Charity permanently useful. The Rev. Dr. Houghton will receive any offerhowever irregular, but any one ton among ings that may be made.

The Rev. Dr. John Cotton Smith celebrated the twenty-first anniversary of his Rectorship of the Church of the Ascension, New York, on Ascension Day. Several former assistants of the parish were present. After the appropriate Seresis, for, according to all the commenta- vices of the day, at which the sermon was tors who have not been shamed out of it by preached by the Rector, a select company partook of lunch at the Rectory, and subsequently gathered in the Sunday-school room of the church, where informal speech-making was indulged in.

On Thursday morning of last week, June 2d, a quiet wedding took place at Calvary Church, New York, in which the groom was the Rt. Rev. Thomas U. Dudley, D. D., Assistant Bishop of Kentucky, and the bride, Miss Aldrich, daughter of the late Herman D. Aldrich, of No. 200 Madison Ave. The Service was said by the Bishop does he say, that "it is larger than the sun of Louisiana; the Presiding Bishop and the and stars?" I handed him the Bible; he Bishop of New York being present in the Chancel. The bride wore a plain dress of white satin. There were no ushers, bride's maids, nor groomsmen. The congregation, which included a numtion, in so many words, but certainly it ber of the clergy, was not large.

The Sea-side Nursery of St. John's Guild, which is being erected at Cedar Grove, Staten Island, will in all probability be completed and ready for summer work early in the present month. The cost will be about $9,000. A physician will reside at the Nursery during the sea-The Professor was promptly on hand. I sible only for his own words, and certainly son; and, assisted by a Matron, will give careful The kitchen and laundry will be located in a building separate from the main structure.

An effort is begun for paying off the floatingdebt of St. Ambrose Church, corner of Prince and Thompson streets. It is missionary ground, J. B. Wetherell, gives his services free, and he has for some time provided an assistant at his own expense. Some $3,000 are needed for immediate relief, and an appeal is made to the Churchmen of New York. The Bishop heartily endorses the movement, and the circular is signed by Dr. Dix, Dr. John Cotton Smith, and others. There ought to be no doubt of a speedy attainment of the result desired.

In New York, on Tuesday, May 17th, the Ladies' Association connected with the Children's Fold, held their annual reception at the Home, corner of the Boulevard and 93d St. The attendance was somewhat affected by the rain. The children, 105 in number, entered the Chapel, where a short Service was held, followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's Church, after which the visitors inspected the dormitories and household arrangements. It has been decided to increase the number of inmates, and a new building is talked of.

The parish of the Epiphany, New York, under the Rectorship of the Rev. Uriah T. Tracy, is at esent holding its services in the Reel and seeks no pain-killing anodyne, but lets the agony drive him whither it will, will find himself at God's feet.

That man is vain in his imaginations and his foolish heart is darkened, who mocks at the doctrine of the Trinity. It ever has been, is now, and ever shall be the Faith of the Church.

One of the deepest things in us is our hungry longing for a perfect ideal. We cannot find it in anything that is of the earth. We dream of it as somewhere, but we never attain it until we awake from our dreams and recognize the supreme fact of God. Only the Divine Ideal can meet and satisfy the hunger of the soul. "O that I had wings like a dove, that I might fly away and be at rest!" The man who wrote those words was not afraid nor ashamed to follow the promptings of his deeper nature.

Human weakness never realizes itself until it cries de profundis. These infidels, who make the great hall resound with their shouts of laughter, will be getting sick and dying one of these days. Or, they will get a telegram, some day, that a wife or daughter or a son is dead. Dead ! That is a fact, not a doctrine. You cannot make it read "Alive," do your best. There never has been an infidel in the world who could. Even Ingersoll can't. He can joke -jeer-satirize-vilify; a great many marvellous things he can do; but he cannot give you any comfort when your wife or child dies. He sought comfort himself when his brother died. He seems to have got it, but how? By faith ! With his latest breath, his brother had said, "I am better now;" and then this unbeliever, this ruthless iconoclast, said, "Let us believe, in spite of doubt, and dogmas, and fear, that those dear words are true of all the countless dead." Thus in the utter prostration of self in the hour of sorrow, the infidel reaches out after something above him. Caught by sorrow, and compelled to acknowledge that he believed !

Christianity is a religion that addresses itself to the deepest needs of the human the chain of causes, and leaps to the infinite.

* The Common Version, except as to divisions into paragraphs. In the course of these discussions will be found such criticisms on the common rendering as I may have to offer, and farther on, a proposed version in which I have sought to get as close to the original as possible.

which i nave sought to get as close to the original as possible. + "All modern science seems to point to the finite duration of our system in its present form." Prof. Newcomb, Popular Astronomy, page 489. Prof. Tait, in his Recent Advances in Physical Sci-ence, page 22, says: "It (the principle of the Dissipa-tion of Energy) enables us distinctly to say that the present order of things has not been evolved through infinite past time by the agency of laws now at work, but must have had a distinctive beginning, a start beyond which we are totally unable to penetrate; a state, in fact, which must have been produced by other than the now visibly acting causes." And again, on page 26, "All portions of science, and that beautiful one, the Dissipation of Energy, point unanimously to a beginning." The philosophy which, to avoid this conclusion, talks about a straight line returning upon itself, and of space which has four or more dimensions, is wor-thy of those agnostic scientists who, for reasons sim-liar at least in motive, talk of worlds where two and two may make five.

two may make five.

Bohu occurs but three times, and is ren-

The Late Mrs. Ryerson.

rain. The clouds have shape and form,

the thousands which they contain, has,

"It is easy," he continued, "to see in

Stop a moment, I replied. Where does

I reminded him that Moses was respongated part of a vast nebulous mass, in more words are tohu and bohu. Tohu occurs twenty times in the Bible. It is rendered vanity in the phrase, "less than nothing and trust in vanity." "To go after vain thoughts." "I have spent my labor for nought," etc., etc. What more accurately descriptive word can be found for matter

ten thousand times less dense than air?

Moses say, "the world was called at once

this the superiority of science over Gen-

while there, none."

The Board of Directors of St. Luke's Hospital, missing greatly the presence of their dear friend and sister, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, at this, the first meeting of the Board since her deolutions

Resolved. That in the death of Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, St. Luke's Hospital has sustained a painful loss. Her noble character, so strong and yet so tender; so determined, and yet so wil-ling to adopt any mode of action settled on as best for the interests of the Hospital; her generosity, her untiring endeavors in her Parish and among her friends to procure money for the needs of this Charity; her wise counsel, her humble Christian faith, all these will long live in our memory, and form our example. May she rest in peace, and may perpetual light shine upon her!

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her afflicted family. June 2nd, 1881.

On page 3 we give the first section of a valuable paper on Revision of the Common Prayer, by the Rev. Dr. Huntington. This will be continued through several numbers. We note here that the revision advocated is not like that recently attempted on the Bible; it does not consist of changes in language dear by the hallowed use of centuries, the substitution of modern phraseology for the old form of sound words. The intention and method of the movement is perhaps best indicated by the phrase first used by Dr. Huntington in his Resolution offered to to the General Convention, 1880, "The Enrichment of the Liturgy."

No apology is needed, we trust, for devoting so much space this week to Bishop McLaren's timely and temperate discussion of the Provincial question. Nothing has yet appeared, we believe, calculated to give such general satisfaction and to accomplish so much for the understanding and settlement of this question and that of an Appellate Court. The action of the Diocese of Illinois on the Appellate Court, while not in accordance with the plan proposed by the Federate Council, will give to the Diocese all the advantages sought, and its action cannot be construed as in any way dictated or influenced by the legislative body of the Province.

It is reported that Pere Hyacinthe is about to visit this country.

M. E. Church, 50th St.

The Church of the Reconciliation, East 31st St., a Chapel of Ease of the Parish of the Incarnation, New York, is in need of enlargement. Under the ministration of the energetic minister in charge, the Rev. C. S. Widdemer, the congregation, which has already once overflowed the building, is again taxing its increased capacity to such a degree, that further provision of some kind will have to be made. The recent Confirmation class numbered 50. The Sundayschool numbers 700 scholars. There is a flourishing Young People's Association, a Saturday sewing-school, and a "Kitchen Garden," for the instruction of young girls in practical household work. The Church of the Incarnation has lately purchased a three-story edifice adjoining the Chapel, at a cost of $10,000, for a Mission House.

It seems to be quite distressing to some people that the LIVING CHURCH, in two years, has risen to be one of the leading papers on this side of the Atlantic. People who have an interest in maintaining party organs, and those who are vexed because they cannot use the LIVING CHURCH for their personal ends, must of course egard its progress with displeasure. But they cannot by fair competition nor by slanderous detraction, to any great extent affect its onward

During the present month only, the special offer for three-month subscriptions, at the head of this page, will be continued. We would suggest the propriety of prompt action on the part of friends who wish to give the paper a trial.

GIVING TO GOD .- The Rev. Canon Wilkinson, of the St. Peter's, Eaton Square, London, in preaching, on a recent occasion, said: "No one that I have ever met, who has really studied the subject, has come to the conclusion that the Bible warrants setting apart less than one-tenth: and those whom God has prospered can do much more. I am not judging any one; I am only telling you the result, so far as I am aware, of all thoughtful investigation of the Bible on this subject. And I know an instance of one, not so rich as many in this church; who never used to give more than a casual offering on the Sunday, and possibly an occasional subscription; who now, since he has studied the Bible on this subject, has given £400 at least, this year, for the work of God at home and abroad."

JUNE 11, 1881.

THE REVISION REVIEWED. Some Views of the New Version.

From our English Correspondent.

LONDON, May 19, 1881. The Southern Convocation began its adjourned session on Tuesday. The most notable busiwhich it has yet had before it, however, has been the presentation of the first report of the Committee to which the revision of the Authorized Version was entrusted. Appended to this report was a copy of the New Testament, which was thus formally published. It is thought that some two or three more years must elapse, before the Old Testament Company begin to see the end of their labors in view.

Although the presentation of the Revised New Testament to Convocation was supposed to be the signal for its publication, it had, in point of fact, been on sale some hours before. It should be explained that the work has been a most costly one. It occupied, for more than ten years, the large and distinguished band of scholars and divines to whom it had been confided; and many of them had to make a long journey to London, every time they attended the meetings of the Company. The only way of recompensing the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, which had jointly undertaken the burden, was by the sale of the books; and as there had been threats of an attempt to invade their copyright, the Universities adopted the plan of providing themselves with an immense stock in advance. The results of this policy seem to have been very satisfactory, for I hear that a certain house in this city had sold last night no fewer than thirtyfive thousand copies. It may, therefore be concluded that an enormous number must already an elegant little volume, the nominal price of which is a shilling, but it is actually procurable for ninepence. The Syndics and Delegates of the Universities' Presses have sent to every member of the two Convocations a set of all their editions, as well as a copy of the Greek text which the Revisers used for their work.

It need hardly be said that the Revision has called forth a great deal of criticism; but it is, of course, too soon to attempt anything like an analysis of the opinions expressed in the public prints. Yet it is not difficult to prophesy what those several results will be. There already appears a strong disposition to regret the enterprise. People begin to see that the singular advantage which this great English-speaking race has hitherto enjoyed in the possession of a version which all religious denominations joined in regarding with reverence and even with enthusiasm, is gone forever; or, at any rate, that we must not expect for a hundred years to come that any English Bible will rise to the position of dignity and authority from which the version of King James, after a reign of 270 years, has been dethroned. On another point opinion seems to be also unanimous. It is, in regretting that the Revisors did not more rigidly adhere to their own rule of making the least possible change in the Version before them. "The frequent inversions"-they say-"of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorized Version, and give an archaic color to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified." So, no doubt they think; but the impression produced upon one's mind, after a hurried examination of their work, is that it is full of wanton changes. It is, for instance, surprising to find such an alteration as "Is it I. Lord?" for "Lord, is it I?" Again, it is difficult to understand why they should have substituted "Faithful is the saying," for "This is a faithful saying." (I. St. Tim. I.: 15.) Another large class of changes is that of new words substituted for others which appear to have precisely the same force; as for instance, "Which bear witness of me," for "Which testify of me.' A still worse case will be found in the last words of Ephesians, where "in sincerity" has given place to "in uncorruptness." The substitution of "Love" for "Charity" in I. Cor. xiii., meets with almost universal reprobation. In some instances our premonition of the solemn event: Revisers have translated what was plain English into a phraseology which is scarcely intelligible. For instance, everyone understands what St. James means, when he says that the tongue "setteth on fire the course of nature;" but what is meant by setting on fire "the wheel of nature" is not so obvious. The strong point of the Revision is the care which has been bestowed upon the exact translation of the Greek article, as well as of the Greek tenses and particles in general. In this manner, many delicate shades of meaning are brought out; and some erroneous opinions lose what support it was supposed they derived from Holy Writ. The volume also contains the results of modern scholarship and textual criticism. A few of these will cause the reader something like a spasm of disappointment. For instance, the magnificent apostrophe in the Lesson appointed to be read in the Burial Service is made to run-"O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?" The famous text which has inspired so many sermons "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian" disappears into space, and we have "with but a little persuasion thou wouldst fain make me a Christian." However, the rejoinder of St. Paul acquires a new felicity. It is, "I would to God, that whether with little or with much not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds." The Lord's Prayer as given by St. Matthew, is strongly objected to. The petition "Thy will be done, as in Heaven so on earth," is a palmary instance of the mischief which has arisen from a pedantic attempt to represent the order of the Greek words. Other expressions in the Pater Noster are much criticized; but the concluding phrase is likely to give rise to a hot controversy. It is-"Deliver us from the evil one." I confess, however, that I think the Revisers are right. The ancient Liturgies used always to add to the Lord's Prayer a sort of emphatic reiteration of its concluding words. Here is the Embolismus, as it is called, from the Liturgy of St. James : And lead us not into temptation, Lord God of Hosts, Who knowest our infirmity, but deliver us from the Evil one, and his works, and all his insults and devices, for Thy Holy Name's sake, by which our humility is called. For Thine is the Kingdom, etc.

It must not be supposed that the Convocation is at present, in the smallest degree, committed to the new Revision. Yesterday, the Bishop of Canterbury took pains to make it clear that nothing had been done beyond the presentation of the Report of the Committee; and the Lower House, in passing a vote of thanks to the said Committee, sternly repressed the attempt which the mover (Archdeacon Allen) made to comment upon the Revision itself. Archdeacon Denison and the Dean of Chichester (Dr. Burgon) went a great deal further and reproached the Committee for exceeding the authority given to it by the House, by accepting dissenters (one of them, Mr. Vance Smith, being a Socinian) into their body upon equal terms. The scandalous profanation of the Blessed Sacrament, by its administration to the whole "mixed multitude," including Mr. Smith, was also brought up; but only 8 members, as against 75, felt themselves bound on this account to resist the vote of thanks.

Personal Mention The address of the Bishop of Springfield, until June 18th, will be 424 West 23d Street, N. Y.

We are pleased to learn that our dear brother, cluded that an enormous number must already have been disposed of. The cheapest edition is is much improved in health, although there is no immediate prospect of his being able to resume the discharge of his pastoral duty.

> We learn that Bishop Huntington has under instruction three ministers of various religious bodies, who have applied for Holy Orders in the Church, namely, Charles H. Quidley, Unitarian, of Vineland; Dr. Hartzele, Universalist, of Buffalo; and Mr. Lauret, of Cayuga County.

The Rev. F. P. Davenport has resigned his charge at Tullahoma, Tenn., and has accepted thr Rectorship of the Church of the Redeemer, Cairo, Ill. Please address accordingly.

The Rev. John B. Draper, recently of Petersburg, Ill., has entered upon his duties as Assist-act Minister of St. Luke's Church, Baltimore.

The Rev. Stephen H. Granberry sails for Europe June 18, and will be absent about four months.

The Rev. John F. Potter has returned from Southern California, and may be addressed until further notice at Turner's, Orange Co., New York.

The Rev. J. M. C. Fulton has resigned the Rectorship of the Church of the Ehiphany, Providence, R. I., to take effect the last Sunday in June; and has accepted an election to the Rectorship of St. Paul's Church, Oxford, Chenango County, N. Y. The Rev. Mr. Fulton will enter upon the duties of his new parish the first Sunday in July.

The Rev. N. F. Putnam, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., has been called to Peekskill in place of the Rev. W. F. Lewis, who has gone to La Grange, Ill.

The Rev. F. M. Gregg, of Burlington, Iowa, has accepted a call to Christ Church, Ottawa, Ill.

The Rev. C. L. Mallory, of the Cathedral, Milwaukee, has declined a call to St. Andrew's, Chicago.

The Rev. W. W. De Hart having resigned the rectorship of Grace Parish, Bath, he has received a call to St. Paul's Church, Portland, Maine. Mr. George Franklin Pratt, A. B., of the pres-

Miscellaneous.

On Wednesday, June 15, the Graduating exercises of St. Mary's School will be held in the Study Hall, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Friends of the School are cordially invited. The Rector desires to provide entertain-ment for guests, and a notice or intention to be present and probable time of arrival, will be re-ceived as a favor.

Special Notice.

THE CHURCH SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIANITY AMONGST THE JEWS.

Mr. William Alexander Smith having resigned the Treasurership of this Society, parishes and individ-uals are requested to forward their offerings here-after to Mr. William G. Davies, Treasurer, 146 Broad-way, New York. C. ELLIS STEVENS, Sec'y. 32 Bible House, New York, May 21, 1881,

ST. JOHN'S CLERGY-HOUSE OF REST, EAST LINE, N. Y.

Incorporated 1881. $3000 per Annum. $5,000 Endows a Life Foundation.

a Life Foundation. The Clergy-house is situated between Saratoga, Ballston, and Round Lakes, in a dry and salubrious climate, but a short distance from several varieties of mineral springs; and is intended as a resting-place for aged or infirm clergymen, Any reverend clergy-man desirous of a quiet and enjoyable home is re-spectfully requested to correspond with the Secretary The Rev. WALTER DELAFIELD, Ballston Spa, N. Y. Contributions to be sent to GEO. L. THOMPSON, Esq., Ballston Spa National Bank, Treasurer.

WANTED.—For the Summer Supply duty in vacant parishes, or in absence of a Rector. Address Rev. S. B. Duffield, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

A young lady, a native of France, now in the Sen-ior Class of St. Mary's School, Knoxville, Ill., desires a situation as teacher or governess, after her gradu-ation in June. Refers to the Rector, to whose care letters may be addressed.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS.

BANKERS.

120 Broadway (Equitable Building).

NEW YORK.

LETTERS OF CREDIT AND

CIRCULAR NOTES

Issued for the use of travelers in all parts of the world. Bills drawn on the Union Bank of London. Tele-graphic transfers made to London and to various places in the United States. Deposits received subject to check at sight, and interest al-lowed on balances. Government and other bonds and investment securi-ties bought and sold on commission.

EIGHT to TEN per Cent. Interest On long time loans, with best security in the world.

DAKOTA WHEAT LANDS. in the famous valley of the Red River of the North, constituting what is known as the "Golden North-rest." Loans negotiated without charge by the Valley

Course incortance and a second for sale at from $4 Choice lands are also offered for sale at from $4 to $12 per acre. Selections made from official survey rotes and certified examinations. Write for reference and particulars.

HERBERT ROOT, Valley City, Barnes Co., Dakota.

Receive Deposit Accounts.

For sale some very Choice Investment

10Per Ct. Discount to Clergymen.

"Screw the Finger as Tight as you can, that's rheumatism; one turn more, that's gout," is a familiar description of these two diseases. Though each may and does attack different parts of the sys-tem, the cause is believed to be a poisonous acid in the blood. Purify this by the use of Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient. It will do its work speedily and thoroughly. It is the great friend of the sufferer from rheumatism and gout.

NEW YORK

JUST READY,

Lectures on the

First Prayer-Book of King Edward VI.

By MORGAN DIX, S. T. D.,

Rector of Trinity Church, New York. Paper covers-price 35 cents net; by mail, 38 cents. Cloth covers, price 75 cents net; by mail, 32 cents.

The Book of Hours.

In which are contained offices for the Seven Canonical Hours, Litanies, and other devotions. Compiled by

MORGAN DIX, S. T. D.,

Rector of Trinity Church, New York. Price, cloth, red edges, 75 cents. French morocco, red edges, $1.

TEST THE VALUE OF THE

REVISED NEW TESTAMEMT

WITH A COPY OF THE

VARIORUM NEW TESTAMENT

Just issued by EYRE & SPOTTISWOODE.

In this book the Authorized Version is, so to speak, republished with the places liable to change marked as they occur. It will aid public opinion to form itself on the subject of Revision by the constant compari-son of the Authorized Version with the materials from a review of which the changes must be made. And the reader will be enabled to form an inde-pendent opinion as to the need and the value of the other ways with the indexide the index.

banges made by the revisers, and as to the judg-ment exercised in the numerous cases in which the balance of authority is uncertain or nearly equal.

Price 85 cents; by mail, 93 cents.

Revolution.

To keep in good humor the good people who delighs a good books; to wake up the slow booksellers who re inclined to go to sleep in the summer, instead of, ke a 'possim, in the winter; and to prevent our

m good books; to wake up the alow booksellers who are inclined to go to sleep in the summer, instead of, like a possum, in the winter; and to prevent our friends, the Cheap Books, book publish-ers, from the summer, instead of, we have concluded to publish a few more cheap books. If we are to name him at all, we must, of course, head Shakespeare the list with the immortal Shakespeare the list with the immortal out of his fourteen other prince, and will give any one of his fourteen other prince plays, in beau-tiful syster will be a fourteen the start, "for the beaution that any or Centus, and will be any the same the same price you may have the the start," for mer price at the start of the breaderick the Great, "former price at the start of the breader of the dreat, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the breader of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of the start of the start, "former price at the start of t

List or Carlyle's "Robert Burna," or Lamarane "Life Washington Irving. of Mary Queen Washington Irving." of Christ."

Queen W & SHIIIS UUII II VIIIS. of Soci," or Thomas Hughes's "Mailiness of Christ." Washington Irring's wonderful, delightini, heretofore inaccessible "Sketch Book," which contains the incom-parable Rip Van Winkle, you can A Dime. have for a dime. For the same price A Dime. Tom Brown at Rugby," the best boy's book ever written, except "Robinson Crusoe," which for east, To the Great," former price

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY. Instruction in Political Sciences.

Instruction in Political Sciences. The following regular courses of study are open, without examination, to competent students not can-stude the number of exercises per week. The following regular days of the U.S. to constitutional and Political History of the U.S. to (850, 61) HI. Forms of Government and Political Constitutions, since 1789, [2]—POLITICAL ECONOMY. (10) Will's Principles of Economy; financial Legisla-tion of the U.S. [3] H. Cairnes' principles of Politi-cup of the U.S. [3] H. Cairnes' principles of Politi-cup of the U.S. [3] H. Constitutional Law of the U.S. [4] HI. Public International Law and History of Modern Treates. [6] V. Roman Law; Institutes of Gaius and Justinian. [3] V. The Roman Law of theritance. [1] VI. The Legal Institutions of the Premer. Information address F. W. Jussing, Secre-tary, Cambridge, Mas.

Church Bookstore. Racine College

SCHOLARS RECEIVED AT ANY TIME.

For information apply to

DR. STEVENS PARKER, Warden.

HAMNER HALL MONTGOMERY, ALA.

The Diocesan School for Girls & Young Ladies. The Rt. Rev. The BISHOP OF ALABAMA, Visitor. The Rev. GEO. M. EVERHART, D. D., Rector. The next School Year begins October 3. The charges are made at the lowest figure possible for a school of its grade and appointments. Send for Catalogue. The Board and all School fees charged to the clergy. "at half rates"

Mrs. Sylvanus Reed's

Boarding and Day School, A Church School for Young Ladies and

Nos. 6 and 8 East Fifty-third Street, NEW YORK. (Central Park. Bet. 5th and Madison Aves.)

(central Park, Bet, sin and matison Aves.) French and German practically taught. Careful training in Primary and Preparatory Departments. The Collegiate Course of Study meets all demands for the higher education of women. Arrangements for health and comfort on a generous scale. Students may enter the Department of Psychology, Logic, and Critical Literature, or attend lectures as a special course.

a special course. During the past year Mrs. Reed has extended her house by building large dining and class rooms. The 18th year will begin October 3rd, 1881.

Brattleboro, Vt. A Family School. Large and commodious house, finely located. School of Languages in session dur-ing the summer months. If desired, children re-ceived for the summer only, and with or without tu-ition. For Circulars and particulars address Mrs. E. J. IVES.

St. Margaret's Diocesan

School for Girls, Waleroury, com. The sixth year will open (D. V.) on Wednesday, Sept. 15th, 1880. Instrumental music under charge of J. Baler, Jr., a private pupil of Plaidy, of Leipsic Conservatory. French and German taught by native teachers. The REV. FRANCIS T. RUSSELL, M.A., Rector. School for Girls, Waterbury, Conn.

Trinity College,

Hartford, Ct. Examinations for admission will be held at Hart-ford, on Monday and Tuesday, June 27th and 28th, 1881; also on September 13th and 14th. Commence-ment is Thursday June 30th, 1881. For Scholarships and for Catalogues application should be made to the Directed at the President, T. R. PYNCHON, D. D., Hartford, Ct.

De Lancey School for Girls. Geneva, N. Y:

Rt. Rev. C. A. Coxe, D. D., visitor. For circulars, address the Misses Bridge, Principals.

Mrs. M. G. Riggs

To be obtained through all booksellers, or of & J. B. YOUNG&Co. St. Helen's, Cooper Union, - - New York. The Literary g class in the ed and accepted a call to Grace Parish, Bath, Me.

Mr. Arthur Quincy Davis. A. B., also of the graduating class, has accepted a call as assistant to the Rev. Arthur Ritchie, of the Church of the Ascension, Chicago, Ill.

Obituary.

MRS. M. H. SWIFT .- The following, abridged and slightly altered from the Ottawa Free Trader, bears testimony to the purity of life and moral worth of an estimable lady recently called hence with a very brief

estimable lady recently called hence with a very brief
estimable lady recently called hence with a very brief
premonition of the solemn event:
Our people were greatly surprised and saddened by the news, on Thursday evening, the 19th inst., of the sudden death of Susan W., wife of Hon. Milton H.
Swift, at their residence in this city. Mrs. S. had been in her usual health during the day; and, in the evening, had gotten ready with the other members of the family, to attend an entertainment. While waiting for the carriage, she suddenly felt a difficulty of breathing, induced by disease of the heart; and in twenty-five or thirty minutes from the first indication of the attack, she had quitely and painlessly—as if falling into a sweet sleep—passed into the land beyond.
Mrs.Swift, and one of her sisters—Miss S.H.B. Miles, now the worthy matron of St. Luke's Hospital Chicago—were two of the few ladles who revived the Church at Ottawa in 1844, when Christ Church was an obscure missionary station. From her childhood up, as a member of the Episcopal Church, few have sustained through life a more consistent fidelity to that sacred relation. Ever taking a deep interest and an active hand in all Church enterprises; in its works of devotion, Charity, Sunday School, and Missionary labor, she was in the best sense a true woman as well as a devoted Christian; and, having ample means at/her command, her charities were no less freely than judiciously bestowed.
During the thirty-five years or more of her residence in Ottawa, she had ever held a prominent place in our local society, of which no member was held in higher, affable, sociable, fond of society; entertaining, as freely as she accepted it from otherts; with a kind and pleasa

- NASH.—Entered into rest on Saturday morning, May 21st, at Cambridge, Ill., Mrs. Carrie D. Nash, wife of the Rev. F. B. Nash. Mrs. Nash was well known as a teacher, having taught at Brownell Hall; at St. Mary's, at Rock Island; and at other places in the West and South.
- SAMPLE.—Quite suddenly, in Washington, D. C., Sunday, May 29, 1881, Mrs. Isabella D., wife of A. Russell Sample, of South Bend, Ind. Buried at South Bend, Thursday, June 2, 1881. A bright life gone to the world of light.

DARDEN.—Entered into rest, on May 29th, 1881, at Columbus, Colorado Co., Texas, in the 56th year of his age, Wm. J. Darden, Esq., a Vestryman of St. John's Church from its organization.

The Evangelist, Boston, Mass. Visitor, Rev. C. C. Grafton, S. S. J. E. Prepares pupils for the Harvard and other College Examina-tions. For terms apply to CHARLES HILL, 69 Pinckney Street, Boston, Mass.

Will reopen her school for Young Ladies and Misses at her residence, Rutherford, N. J., Sept. 14th. Boarding pupils limited to six. Girls fitted for college. Circulars on application.

St. John's School.

21 and 23 W. 32nd St. New York. Between Broadway and Fifth Avenue, New York. BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LA-DIES AND CHILDREN,

Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector.

The Selleck School.

Norwalk, Conn. The academic year of this school commences on the third Wednesday of September, and closes on the last-Thursday of the following June. Pupils received at any age, or prepared for College, for the United States Military and Naval Academies, or for business-Terms: for board and Tuition, $350,00 per annum.

De Veaux College,

Suspension Bridge, Niagara Co., N.Y.

FITTING-SOHOOL for the Universities, West Point, Annapolis, or business. Charges, $350 as year. No extras. Competitive examinations for scholarshipa at the beginning of College Year, first Wednesday in September; applications for the same to be filed ten days previously.

Rev. GEO. HERBERT PATTERSON, A.M., LL.B., Prest.

Syracuse, N. Y. BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. Under the supervision of the Rt. Rev. F. D. HUNTINGTON, S. T. D.

eleventh school year will commence on esday, September 14th. 1881. For Circulars ap-MARY J. JACKSON, Syracuse, N. Y.

Cleveland. Ohio. Next term begins Sept. 1, 1881. A healthy and pleasant location; ample and attractive accommoda-tions. Music in all its branches. Drawing and Paint-ing. Freach and German taught by masters. For catalogues or information, address S. N. SANFORD, President, Cleveland, Ohio.

College of St. James.

Grammar School. Diocesan School of Maryland. Bishop Pinkney Visitor. Re-opens on Wednesday, September 14th. For Circulars and information address HENRY ONDERDONK, College of St. James, Washington Co., Md.

The Misses Nisbett,

43 East 41st Street, New York.

Two English ladies, the daughters and sisters of clergymen, receive a few boarding and day pupils. Instruction based on sound Church doctrine. Resi-dent Parisian governess. The best professors and teachers engaged.

School of St. John,

MADAME CLEMENT'S FRENCH PRO-TESTANT SCHOOL. Established 1857. Fall term commences Sept. 15, 1881. For particulars address MADAME EUGENE PAULIN, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE LIVING CHURCH.

Calendar.

JUNE, 1881.

- Friday. Fast. Whitsun-day.* Monday in Whitsun-week. Tuesday in Whitsun-week. Ember Day. Fast.†
- " St. Barnabas. Fast.
- Trinity Sunday.‡ Friday. Fast. 1st Sunday after Trinity. Friday. Fast. Nativ. St. John Bapt. 2d Sunday after Trinity.

- 29. S. Peter.

* Whitsun-day. Proper Psalms, A.M., 48.68. P.M. 104. 145 Proper Preface in Communion Office. † Ember Week. One of the two prayers "For those who are to be admitted into Holy Orders," is to be used daily. ‡ Trinity Sunday. Proper Preface in the Communion Office.

Trinity Sunday.

And they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, Which was, and is, and is to come.

REVELATION iv. 8.

Let us pray for the spirit of obedience, of true dutifulness. So will He vouchsafe to take up His abode with us. The Spirit of Truth, Whom the world cannot receive, will dwell in us, and be in us, and Christ will love us, and will manifest Himself to us, and the Father will love us, and They will come unto us, and make Their abode with us. And when at length the inevitable hour comes, we shall be able meekly to surrender our souls, in much weakness and trembling, with much self-reproach and dread confession, yet in firm faith, and in cheerful hope, and in calm love, to God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost; the Blessed Three, the Holy One. Three Persons, One God, our Creator, our Redeemer, our Sanctifier, our Judge.

DR. NEWMAN.

Three in One, and One in Three, Ruler of the earth and sea. Hear us while we ligt to Thee Holy chant and psalm.

Three in One, and One in Three, Dimly here we worship Thee; With the Saints hereafter we Hope to bear the palm. DR. G. RORISON.

A Rare Volume. Written for the Living Church.

Who has not felt the weariness and dissatisfaction that comes from the perusal of works of part of the Church's polity, and then further on, citing of passing interest? I do not refer to In their productions there is a high purpose, and a moral tone, and whoever reads with discrimination is blessed and profited.

books that are a source of great delight and of What wonder that the average heart of that refreshing. I have just been reading in "Quarle's Emblems;" that quaint collection of curious pic- faith! * * * * But what else is there in Europe tures, which the author illustrates by as quaint verse. One can scarcely appreciate the extreme from and despised ? Why, a religion indicted by oddity of the emblems, unless he examines them carefully in connection with the Scriptural head- demeanors and usurpations, so many offences ings, and the accompanying poems. Let me give a few specimens.

Francis Quarles was born in 1592, a year before our revered George Herbert, whose genius seems somewhat similar. I think there is more of the deep heart in Herbert; perhaps because I have studied him more, and know him better. When I shall have gathered in all the treasures of the volume before me, and shall also become familiar with his "School of the Heart," it beneficent, for the State to think lightly of may be that I shall esteem Quarles as equal to separation from her fellowship. Indeed, such is my long-tried and valued friend of Bemertons. Many of the Designs in his book, are said to that separation is further off than it was ten have been borrowed from the emblems of Hermannus Hugo; but the verses are Quarles' own, and have in them very much both to please and profit. F. B. S.

The Outlook of the Church. Convention Sermon by Bishop Littlejohn. Reported for the Living Church.

The Bishop drew a picture of the existing religious state of Europe and this country, and detailed the leading facts which mark the rationalistic tendency of the times. They were facts not to be escaped from, but admitted. Nevertheless, however much men might doubt their Father in heaven, they could not crush the natural yearnings of the heart that could only be satisfied by religion. The doubting and alienation were not so much against religion itself, as against Calvinism, and other false systems; and a glance below the surface of things would reveal the fact, that after all, comparatively few deny the ground principles of Christianity when fully and fairly presented, apart from speculative subtleties.

"Across seas," said the Bishop, "what have the masses fallen away from, ceased to believe in? Is it the Gospel as its Author and Finisher the system. Do not those who as Churchmen taught it? Is it the Church as left in the primitive times by its Apostolic master builders and rulers ? Is it the discipline, or the virtues, or the duties, or the aspirations of the Christian life, as that life is pictured in the written charter of Christianity, or as it has been lived in all ages by holy men and women, whom the world, even the secular papers, having reference to the Holy 30,000 of which he acquired at a single purchase. in its wildest license of sin and unbelief, has Eucharist. In the Sunday Tribune a preacher He had eight houses filled with books-two in never thought of, but to admire ? No, none of is represented as saying: these has been mistaken or maligned. What then, has been? * * * * Why, in Germany, a religion, which began its career as a reformed phase of Christianity by dropping out a normal fiction, that have no other motive than the oscillated for a whole century between pictism lengthening of sensational chapters and the ex- and rationalism-a religion whose spirit was ground out of it in the mills of a remorseless such authors as Scott and Dickens, and Hugo. criticism, whose Christ was dissected and analysed, evaporated into myths and diluted into in any such line of "united Protestantism" as fable, until it might, indeed, be said by simple this?

folk, that their wise men had taken away their Lord But, aside from novels, there are peculiar and they knew not where they had laid Him. strong race could neither trust nor love such a calling itself Christian, that millions have broken the common mind of the world for so many misagainst truth, reason and liberty, that time would fail me to name them. Aside from the known Emblem eleventh, Book 1st, represents the skeptical tendencies of the day, there is more world going to destruction. The globe is in a than enough, in the recent history and present carriage drawn by goats driven by the Devil. condition of Lutheran and Vatican Christianity those who hold and openly teach such error? The Cross pierces the globe. To the Cross a to account for the alienated and hostile attitude rope or chain is attached, and our Lord is hold- of multitudes of the German and Latin races." Turning to our own land, the Bishop attributed name has become significant of principles which 43 inches high), died in New York the other day. The Bible verse is-"Ye walked according to the non-church going spirit less to a direct hostil- are subversive both of its original intent, and of His real name was George W. Morrison.----The ity, than to an indifference born of material Catholic Christian truth. Can, then, those who prosperity. Flushed with unparalleled successes, profess themselves believers in the "One Cathmen had forgotten to worship God in their devotion to mammon. What facts were there, on the other side, to demonstrate that healthy blood was flowing through Ought they not summarily to part company with the arteries of the Faith with undiminished the name? energy-facts that prove that nothing has been lost amid all the modern assaults, upheavals and The Doxology of the Lord's Prayer. apostacies? No part of her vital organism, no fraction of her original dower of truth had been wrested from the Church. There are facts of her essential life, in which she is unassailably strong. The Bishop pointed out at length: 1. The consciousness of spiritual things in the riding a hobby-horse, and playing with simple breast of every Christian, an experience resting toys; while the attending angel hides his face for on the same basis of certainty as the sensation of heat or cold. 2. The Inspired Records of Chris-

schools. Her hold on the two great universities of the land-the centres of the intellectual life of the nation-has weakened at some points, but only to gather new strength at others. Her agitations and controversies are the signs not of decay, but of rising life. All her lines are converging toward greater liberty and greater energy of action. She is becoming too strong, too useful, too her attitude, such her growth and power to-day, years ago."

The Bishop spoke of the attention which religion attracted in the press, and in all methods of public thought and action, and to the unparalleled vigor of present missionary activity. Whenever men weary of pleasure, fortune and fame, as aims worthy of their power, and cast about for a motive deep enough and strong enough to satisify their longings, they still, in spite of all that the modern spirit may say to the contrary, fall back upon that voice that said, "I am the way, the truth and the life," and as they gaze upon the Divine figure once outlined on the Eastern sky, and still lighting up the whole heaven of human hope with its glory, exclaim, "Thou and Thou only, hast the words of eternal life."

What is Modern Protestantism? To the Editor of the Living Church:

What is Protestantism? Is it not time that those Churchmen who protest themselves "Protestants" look into this question? Names change their meaning, and systems change their characcall themselves "Protestants," need to do it under careful qualifications?

We are led to this query, by the evident drift brother of the Bishop. It was a miscellaneous of modern Protestantism beyond all its bounds collection in every department of literature, of consistent protest against Romish error; and purchased with little regard to cost. He is beespecially by two recent Protestant utterances in lieved to have possessed in all 110,000 volumes, meal. The bread and wine are to us such as we use on our tables, -not one jot or tittle holier. Thus far we stand, then, in the line of united Protestantism.

Now let it be distinctly noticed, not merely that this view is utterly destructive of the teachtestant" Churchmen prepared to take their stand

Again, in the same paper we find the Christian Union, a Protestant paper, quoted as saying:mented grape juice, or milk or water, or whatever it will, in the place of wine. In our belief it has the right to dispense with the Lord's Supper altogether, if in its Christian judgment exigencies arise in which that ordinance becomes a means of danger, not a means of grace.

This is again utterly at sword's points with the doctrine of the Church, both as to the Holy Eucharist, and as to the prerogatives of the Church relative to the Christian Sacraments. Are Protestant Churchmen ready to be classed with anged its base and character, that the very olic and Apostolic Church," either consistently or safely call themselves "Protestants" so long as the name has so flagrantly parted from the thing? F. S. J.

News in a Nutshell.

The Fortune Bay outrage claims have been settled. The Gloucester fishermen get $75,000. -The Illinois Legislature, after being in session for five months, has adjourned.----A crate of Georgia peaches was shipped North, on the 30th ult. ---- There seems to be a revival of Decoration Day; it was observed more extensively this year than almost any year since the War .--The International Monetary Conference has adjourned till June 30th.----It is asserted that the majority-if not all-of the recent outrages in Ireland have been in the richest agricultural districts, where the farmers are well off.----The Boston fund for the widow of John Brown now amounts to $1.400 .---- Relic-hunters have carried away nearly all of the timber of the ill-fated steamer Victoria, which survived the wreck at London, Ont., on the 24th ult. It appears that about one-half of those on board perished; 238 corpses were taken from the wreck-The immigration to the United States for May was 76,812, exceeding anything ever known at Castle Garden.-The new light-house at Eddystone will be visible in clear weather for 171 miles. It is to be 133 feet above high water. It will be in house plants, and the care of miniature greenhouses. full working order by March, 1882.---England These volumes are designed to offer valuable sughas four Universities, France fifteen, and Germany twenty-two, while the single State of Ohio boasts of thirty-seven .---- The National Exposition at Tokio, Japan, has proved a great success; during the first fifteen days over sixty thousand visitors were admitted. --- The Southern Presbyterians are revising their "Directory of Worship." Among the parts expunged by the reter. Re-adjustments thus become necessary, in is to be devoted to the different forms of worthe case of those who have not gone headlong ship, and that worldly conversation and recreawith the false or extravagant drift of the party or | tion lawful on other days must be avoided. The revision also expunges fasting, and substitutes for it "humiliation."-Probably no private library ever surpassed that of Richard Heber, London, two in the country, and one each at This is in no sense a Sacrifice to us. It is a Paris, Brussels, Antwerp, and Ghent, besides little book to have lying 'round, when a man who smaller collections elsewhere. When sold, in has been working his brain needs something to cure 1834, they fetched $285,000, a little more, it is an attack of the megrims. 1834, they fetched $200,000, a little more, it is said, than half what they cost. — We are deeply pained to hear of the death of the only daughter of Mr. H. Hitchcock, superintendent of a division of the C. B. & Q. railroad. He has resigned his position to devote himself to agricultural inter-set. We trust he may find the rest and change ings of the Church, but that it is declared to be of the C. B. & Q. railroad. He has resigned his the view of "united Protestantism." Are "Pro- position to devote himself to agricultural interhe so much needs. ---- The Sultan is in a quan-

Tunis is a vassal of Turkey, or a peer under the of the year. They come to English readers through protection of France. The result of it all will Any Church has the right to substitute unfer? probably be the annexation of Tunis to the recbeen passed by the Michigan Legislature, proyear, for those who publish accounts of rape, incest, seduction, murder, or executions.---The formal presentation, to the city of New York, of richly suggestive that they cannot fail to be apprethe statue of Admiral Farragut, took place in Mad- ciated for the valuable homiletic aid, undesignedly ison square, on the 25th ult.-Castle Garden is afforded, as well as for their proper object and prientirely overrun, and wholly insufficient to accommodate the great crowds of immigrants daily arriving.—The Indians in North Carolina are to be removed to the Indian Territory.—Com-we den, Professor of Literature in the Dublin Uni-versity. Harper & Brothers, Franklin Square, New York. Jansen, McClurg & Co., Chicago. Price $1.75. The fact is, Protestantism has so utterly to be removed to the Indian Territory .---- Com-

Current Literature.

BUILDING A HOME, by A. F. Oakey; How to Furnish a Home, and The Home Garden, by Ella Kodman Church, are the first of a series of "Home Books" published by D. Appleton & Co., New York City. They are generously illustrated, issued in uniform style, 12 mo, and bound in cloth. Price 60 cents arech

These books are devoted to matters of home and household, interesting subjects, certainly, to all of us. They are written in a plain and practical style, which cannot fail to commend itself to housekeepers in general, and particularly to those just starting homes for themselves. The author of "Building a Home" combats the idea that those having light purses must be content to live in houses devoid of beauty. "Beauty consists in a harmonious relation which is as attainable in a cottage as in a palace." He treats of the essential features of dwellings and suggests general treatment, and shows "that a house fit to live in, however small and plain in structure, may be something more than four walls, a roof, and some internal divisions of space." In "How to Furnish a Home" we find useful and economical hints as to how we may beautify our houses, and make cheeful, homelike, and at the same time, tasteful and artistic homes of them, without any great outlay of money. In the "Home Garden", the writer treats of gardens and gardening, treatment of ground, how and what to plant. Directions are given for the culture of gestions to those of moderate means, and are worthy of careful consideration.

ANECDOTES OF PUBLIC MEN. By John W. Forney. Vol. II. New York: Harper & Brothers. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $2.00.

This light and easy book would make an admirable travelling companion. It is replete with interesting stories, yarns, jokes, repartees and witticisms, with here and there a pathetic relation, connected with the names of a multitude of public characters; some, visers is the teaching that the whole Sabbath day of this generation, but most, of that which is past or just passing away. Forney's first book was very popular and met with large sales, and all who read it will be sure to want this second. He has the merit of telling a story well and without prosiness: but as we read one after another in the wonderful lot, that saying of Andrew Johnson's suddenly flashes on our recollection, "Forney is a dead duck," and then, we just slightly fear that, perhaps, some of these anecdotes of his may only be canards. There is a sweet, ingenuous modesty in some of his passages; as, for instance, in writing of a meeting between himself and the "illustrious Everett," two years before the war; he remarks of him, "He seemed anxious to hear what I had to say, and possessed the secret of listening, so rare among public men." Altogether,

These volumes form the first installment of Abbe Duquesne's Meditations. The two remaining voldary; he would like to know whether the Bey of umes, making four in all, are promised in the course the hands of Dr. Pusey. If, however, anyone expects to find in these pages the controversial spirit, which has been associated, at times, with the name ognized possessions of France.—A bill has of the great Oxford doctor, he will search in vain. As a work of Meditations, it is one of the best that viding a fine of $1,000, and imprisonment for a has appeared. Its devotional tone is characterized by a quiet strength, not always discoverable in similar works. The topics chosen, too, embrace the whole period of our Lord's life, and are so rarely and vate spiritual helps.

ing back the world from the evil that threatens. this world, according to the Prince of the air." Ehp. ii: 2. Quarles writes:

"O whither will this mad brain world at last Be driven? rive?" Where will her restless wheels ar-

"Rull, gracious Lord! Let not Thine arm for-

The world, impounded in her own devices. Think of that pleasure that Thou once didst take Amongst the lilies and sweet beds of spices. Hale strongly, Thou Whose Hand has power to slack

The swift-foot fury of ten thousand voices; Let not Thy dust-devouring dragon boast His craft has won what Judah's lion lost. Remember what is craved; recount the price it cost!

Emblem second, in Book third, shows an idiot shame.

The Bible verse is-"O Lord Thou knowest my foolishness, and my sins are not hid from Thee. Ps. lxix: 5.

The author says:

"Seest Thou this fulsome idiot? In what measure He seems transported with the antic pleasure Of childish baubles! Canst Thou butadmire The empty fulness of his vain desire? Canst Thou conceive such poor delights as these Can fill the insatiate soul of man, or please The fond aspect of his deluded eyes Reader! such very fools art thou and I; False puffs of honor; the deceitful streams Of wealth; the idle, vain and empty dreams Of pleasure, are our traffic, and ensu Our souls, the three-fold subject of our care, The toil for trash; we barter solid joys For airy trifles, sell our Heaven for toys. We snatch at barley grains, whilst pearls stand by Despised; such very fools art thou and I."

Once more. Emblem ninth, in Book fifth, exhibits the globe with the Cross, to which a man's ankle is chained, while the man struggles to mount up toward a beckoning angel.

The Scripture sentence is-"I am in a straight betwixt two, having a desire to depart and to be with Christ. Phil. 1.: 23.

A portion of the poem:

"I cannot do an act which earth disdains not; I cannot think a thought which earth corrupts not; I cannot speak a word which earth profanes not I cannot make a bow earth interrupts not;

If I but offer up an early groan, Or spread my wings to Heaven's long longed-for throne.

She darkens my complaints, and drags my off"rings down tianity, handed down from the fathers, not a book or chapter dislodged; their historical accuracy confirmed not weakened by criticism, and their ethical validity strengthened in its hold over the modern conscience. 3. The history of the "City of God," stretching back over 3,500 years. The race has no other history so rich in precedent and suggestion, so full of the noblest types of heroism and self sacrifice, or so built up link by link on unselfish labors for the relief of human misery and the elevation of the mind and heart. 4. A Christian literature in the past and present, the rightful peer in intellectual and present, the rightful peer in intellectual wealth, of any other. 5. The present masterful influence of the Kingdom of Christ, the most act of Praise; while in the Liturgy, and Antecontrolling influence ever existing, and only to made. In the American Prayer Book, framed a be accounted for by a Divine origin. 6. The great fact of the perfect and Divine personality of Christ. That Life, on which all else was built was and must remain, the sublimest conseption of man. If we would find the grandest ideal of life and love and law, we must find them in Him, the Author of our faith, the Builder of the Church. The Bishop pointed to the Church of England as a brilliant exception to the sad falling away of multitudes in the Old World. "That Church is as in a full Morning Service the Lord's Prayer steadily advancing," he said. "She now teaches and spent more than $30,000,000 on Church

To the Editor of the Living Church:

The report of the changes which will appear in the revised version of the New Testament, states that the Doxology will not be appended to the Lord's Prayer.

The Doxology was used in the Early Eastern Church, not by the Priest, but by the people (who began at the phrase "but deliver us," etc.), in this form: "For Thine is the Kingdom, and the Power and the Glory, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, now and always, and for ever and ever.' The very ancient Liturgy of St. Mark has it in the form in which it appears in the New Testament, and so has that of Armenia; evidence of the practice of the East about the year 300, when Armenia was Evangelized from Caesarea. (Freeman.)

The Western Church never used the Doxology before 1662. The Church of England, in 1549, and again in 1552, in reforming the Service, did not introduce it; but, in the last reviscentury age, it was added in the Ante-Communion, a fault now recognized.

The Doxology, given only in the Gospel by St. Matthew, has been so long rejected by the best critics, that it will not be wondered at that at the first opportunity it will be omitted from the Gospel, and subsequently from the Prayer Book. The Church of Rome has never used it. Protestants, who have no form of Prayer, seldom use it, and so will not be much disturbed. It will chiefly affect the Anglican Communion, under occurs four times.

It may be further noted, in evidence that the two-thirds of the children of the realm in her elementary schools. She has built, or rebuilt, or the Eastern Ritual, rather than that of the repaired more than ten thousand churches and twenty-two cathedrals, at a cost of $200,000,000, and within the past twelve years, she has raised modore Nutt, the well-known dwarf (being only location of the White House is said to be very unhealthy. There are many men who would be willing to run the risk of living in it for four vears .---- We do not say that talking wives are a hindrance to genius, but it is a strange coincidence that the wives of Prof. Bell, the inventor critics.

of the telephone, and Prof. Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, were both mutes.----Miss Bettie Green, of Forsyth Co., Georgia, has two silk dresses which she made herself, having raised the worms, spun the silk, colored, and woven it the English Church. The grandeur of that Reformwith her own hands. ---- The stampede to Europe this year bids fair to be greater than ever. Seven hundred sailed on one day last week. It is thought that near a hundred thousand Americans dock." So much for the author's appreciation of will visit Europe this summer. Estimating the the Church in which Shakspere learned his Cateaverage expense at $1,000, the New World pays a million dollars annually, to see the Old Curiosity THE LIFE OF GEORGE THE FOURTH: Including His Shop .---- There is not a Chinaman in the State of Vermont.----The beautiful Cathedral of Milan has just been re-consecrated. A man recently shot himself in it. The building was stripped of its ornaments, and closed for twentyfour hours. The rite of Consecration was then held, an immense crowd attending.----Commissioner LeDuc gave a tea-party in New York, the other day. The noticeable thing about it was that the tea was raised in the United States. There is a plantation of two hundred acres near Charlestown, which will eventually, it is claimed, furnish abundance of tea.—Italy's new Cabinet has been formed, and things are working smoothly again. — Small-pox has made an alarm-ing increase in London, England, in the last fortnight. — Germany is rapidly losing its population; during the last decade enough ablebodied men have left the country, to make three ood army corps. Last year, fifty-six per cent. of the emigrants from Germany were males.

An effort is being made to make the Church of the Ascension, Claymont, Delaware a Free Church. The matter was proposed at a late meeting of the Vestry, and favorably considered. On Sunday evening the 15th, a public meeting of the congregation was held, at which addresse were made by the Rev. Messrs. Hodge, Secretary of the Free Church Association, the Rev. Mr. Nelson, of Germantown, and Mr. W. W. Montgomery, an enthusiastic layman of Radnor. The Rector, the Rev. Mr. Murphy, then explained the plan of the "Envelope System," as applied to the Weekly Offertory, and forms of pledges were circulated in order to test the ques-tion. It is wonderful how the plan of "Free Church" is extending both East and West. May it continue to grow until it includes all in the

Another book on the inexhaustible theme of the "Myriad-minded." This new contribution to Shaksperian Literature is an attempt to get at the mind of Shakspere, by a study of his plays, chronologically, thus seeking to show the growth, and the successive changes and developments of his genius. The attempt is not a new one; the theme, however, is so interesting and so vast, that the student of Shakspere may well be pleased to hear from different

The author treats in the first chapter of his "environment," the Elizabethan Age, an environment in which Shakspere throve, in which he put forth his blossoms and bore fruit. A study of the Elizabethan Age requires a consideration of the Reformation of ation, the author fails to realize. To him the Anglican Church is a "manufacture;" Anglicanism, a "little neatly-ordered enclosure;" and he has a little fling at those "born and bred in the Anglican padchism!

Letters and Opinions. With a view of the Men, Manners and Politics of his Reign. By Percy Fitz-gerald, M. A., F. S. A. Illustrated. New York: Harper & Brothers, 1881. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $2.00.

The "Georgian Era" is now sufficiently remote in the past to invest its history, or rather the details of its history, with all the charm of novelty; and, although the subject of the Memoir before us has not left behind him a fragant memory, there is much in the story of his life and surroundings that is calculated to interest the statesman, the politician, and the historian; and, in no less degree, the moralist and the student of human nature. Mr. Fitzgerald's enter-taining and well-written narrative has all the charm of an elaborate work of fiction, with the superadded advantage of being a relation of actual facts. While it introduces us to the private and social life of "the first gentleman of Europe," and traces his career literally from the cradle to the grave, it affords us an insight into the politics of the day.

THE LITTLE MOTHER, and Other Tales and Sketches. By the Author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc. Franklin Square Library, New York: Harper & Brothers. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price 10 cents.

Of the same Series (Franklin Square Library), for sale also by Jansen, McClurg & Co., we call attention to the following: The Life of George the Fourth, Including His Letters and Opinions, with a view of Including His Letters and Opinions, with a view of the Men, Manners, and Politics of his Reign. By Percy Fitzgerald, M. A. F. S. A. In two parts: 20 cts. each. The Wards of Plotimus. A Novel. By Mrs. John Hunt. Price 20 cts. The Glen of Silver Birches. A Novel. By E. Owens Blackburne. Price 15 cts. Social Etiquette and Home Culture. The Glass of Fashion. A Universal Hand-Book of social Etiquette and Home Culture, etc., etc. By the Lounger in Society. Price 20 cts. A book which, we suspect, contains a great deal more than its title promises, or would seem to indicate.

The Supreme Court of New York has granted the order to change the name of the corporation of "Scribner & Co." to "THE CENTURY CO."—the order to take effect on the 21st of June. The July issues of SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY and ST. NICHOLAS will have the new corporate imprint.

C. COLLARD ADAMS.

JUNE 1 1, 1881.

The Household.

In our small American rooms, we want to leave the floor as free as possible, and to put on the walls whatever can be conveniently given to their keeping. This clearing of the floor, and so making up somewhat for the scrimped rooms we most of us live in, is a point of no little importance in relation to comfort, and yet is one we seldom give much thought to. The tendency is to crowd our rooms beyond their capacity, by which we make ourselves very uncomfortable, and destroy the value, as decoration, of many pieces, and their real usefulness as articles of furniture. There is hardly anything with which we can produce a prettier effect in rooms where we want to break up the wall, and yet have nothing particularly good, as engraving or picture, to hang upon it, than those Japanese paintings of birds and flowers and native men and women which come painted on gauze, and with which the Japs themselves ornament their screens. Secured to the wall by a drawing-pin at each of the four corners, they give a bright and cheerful look to a dull room, and are always pleasant to see, even when they are of the cheaper sort. The best ones are often much better worth having for spirited design, and the mastery of their painting, than any work done by the professed decorators; indeed, for their flowers and birds there is no decorative work of our day that can at all compare with them. One of the prettiest modern rooms I ever saw was in the house of a distinguished artist in one of the London suburbs, and the sole decoration on the walls was one of these screen pictures in each of the wall divisions; but these were of very rare beauty, both in design and execution, and the tone of the room had their color for its key.

CLARENCE COOK.

THE following directions for knitting an infant's shirt, should have preceded the directions all the unending brightness of the eternal years. for making the little socks, which we gave in the issue of May 28th. Saxony is the best material upon the ears of the children who lived in the for these shirts and socks, as it washes better than any other wool: Cast on 81 stitches for don children perhaps would not have understood one-half of the shirt; 1st row, knit plain; 2d row, the teaching quite as well as they did. They purl; 3d row, knit plain; 4th row, *knit two to- would not have seen the flowers fade away upon gether, two plain, over, knit one, over, knit two, slip one, pass slipped stitch over, knit one, repeat from * all the way across; 5th row, purl; 6th row, like fourth; 7th row, purl; 8th row, like fourth; 9th row, knit plain; 10th row, purl; 11th row, knit plain. All this forms one row of scallops; make as many as you like. Then for the words, spoken only a few Sundays before, when body, knit two and purl two until deep enough. he explained that clause in the Creed, "The res-Make a row of holes at the top to run either a urrection of the body, and the life everlasting," cord or ribbon through. Make another half like came back with new force, as they found the this, and sew the two together, leaving a place at sweet primroses and violets just in the same the top on each side to sew in the sleeve. Use small-sized bone knitting needles for the sleeve. before, and as many years back as they could re-Cast on 45 stitches and proceed as for the body, member. They were a bright, merry set of making two rows of scallops. Then bind off 11 children, varying in age from ten to fourteen. stitches on each side, and with the remaining They were gathering flowers now to take to the stitches on the needle make a row of holes by church, to deck the font and altar for the great putting the thread over and knitting two together, glad festival. bind off, sew to the body part and finish with a There was one girl sitting a little apart from little scallop in crochet if you like. The "stars" where the others stood, a strange contrast to in knitting are used to prevent useless repeti- them all-a little, pale, puny looking thing, who tions, thus: suppose the directions ran-knit looked as though a breath of that soft April two * over; knit two together; repeat from * wind might blow her away. The others went up twice, purlone. Written out in full this would to her every minute, carrying in their hands the be: Knit two, over, knit two together, over, knit white violets they had found, and throwing them two together, over, knit two together, purl one. into her lap. "Here, Effie, are they not beauti-The "stars" save the repetition of the words ful? There really are enough for your wreath, I

THE LIVING CHURCH.

FOR THE CHILDREN. STORIES ON THE CATECHISM.

The Resurrection of the Body, and the Life Everlasting.

WHITE VIOLETS.

Something of Easter joy is in our hearts, as fitter emblem can we find of the risen life than these sweet works of our Father's Hand, hidden for so long by the winter's snow, and the keen, chilling blasts, and now bursting forth in all their new beauty to gladden our eyes, and whis-

And what is the tale of hope they bring to us?

ground, dead and unseen, and now have risen

into life, so shall we, God's own baptised children, pass through the grave and gate of death to our joyful resurrection. The storms of suffering and sickness will blow over us, the chill hand of death must be laid on each one of us, the Church's word of blessing and of hope will be said by God's priest over our grave, and our eyes will be closed forever upon the things of earth. But there is no sadness in all this, if we have tried to live as God's own children should live, and to be faithful members of the Holy

Catholic Church; for just as the April sunshine has called the little flowers back to life, so the sunshine of God's love will rest upon us in Paradise-that place of departed spirits which Jesus visited when he was taken down from the cross, and then a day will come when, because of that rising from the dead on the first Easter day, we too shall rise from the grave to dwell forever with our risen and ascended Lord; and then we shall live with him, not for a little time, not just for a brief space, but for ever and ever, through sweet little country village of Rockingham. Lon-

the hedges in the little cottage gardens, and then rise up again with such sweet newness of life with the soft spring days; but, to a group of girls who were standing about under the shadow of the budding trees on a little grassy knoll, on that

Easter eve when my story begins, their Vicar's places where they had found them the year

Such words as these had very often fallen per their tale of hope to our hearts.

included, were all very happy. When next they listened to the words of triumph and hope on the glad Resurrection Feast, they thought of one who had gone from amongst them to be with Jesus, in the rest He has made so glorious.

One bright May day Effie's grandmother died. The child was very sad at first, but she always talked as if she should go to her, and to her father and mother very soon, and the thought of we search for the flowers that have been buried the life everlasting seemed ever present to her all the winter in the earth, and have raised their mind. heads now to greet the resurrection morn; for no

There had been an idea in the poor old woman's head for many months that, if Effie could out get to one of the London hospitals, she would come back quite well. She had a married daughter living in the great city, and she had written to her on the subject, and it had been settled that she was to take Effie up in June to see what could be done. Even this, that just as they have lain in the

Mrs. Hoskins came to her mother's funeral, and arranged to take her niece back with her. She was a great, rough-looking woman, not a bit like what the Rockingham folks remembered of Effie's delicate, gentle mother, but she was kind enough to the child, and told wonderful stories of cures which she had heard of, which the London doctors had worked.

Effic herself did not want to go from Rockingham. "I would rather bide here, Alice," she said to her friend, "only, perhaps, if I got just a little better, I might learn to do the straw work, and then I could come back, and live with you, and pay your mother for my lodging."

And poor Alice could only murmur, "Yes, my darling, yes;" for in her heart she felt that the child she loved so well would never again sit under the spreading trees, and revel in the sunshine and the flowers.

The parting came-a sad one to Effie's companions, a sadder one to herself. "Alice, if I don't come back, if I die away from you and from the white violets, there will still be the life everlasting."

To be continued.

BIBLE STUDIES.

NO. XIX.

Written for the Living Church.

A nondescript animal, in the vision of a godly prophet, representing a mighty empire. The beast was ravenous, and destructive, subduing and trampling down whatever came in its way; and also going abroad for the express purpose of conquering and devouring. It was a terrible creature, making men to fear and shrink from it. For many centuries it committed its dreadful ravages, until at last restrained by an invisible and irresistible power.

Who had this vision ? What empire did the beast represent ? What power restrained it ?

Prompt Action of Compound Oxygen in Lung Diseases.

Lung Diseases. The promptness with which Compound Oxygen acts in throat and lung diseases is very remarkable. Mrs. Alice A. Daniels, of Ramseys Station, Alabama, sends, without solicitation, and for publication, a statement of the results of its use in her case, from which we make a single extract. She says: "In four days after commencing to inhale the Compound Oxygen, chills, fever and nightsweats were all gone! My appetite, which before was at its lowest ebb, soon became good. My strength increased very rap-idly, and improvement has been steadily going on ever since the first inhalation. My oough slowly be-came milder, and to-day I can truthfully say that I am almosta well woman." Send for our Treatise on Compound Oxygen. It will be mailed free. Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1109 and 1111 Girard Street, Phil-delphia, Pa. lelphia, Pa.

The Marquis of Calinaux was so exceedingly cau tious in everything, that he wrote at the end of hi will: "It is my last wish that I may not be buried alive, . . . . as far as this may be possible.

The Bible in Chains!

A few centuries ago the few Bibles in existence were commonly chained in the churches and accessible only to a few. Those who attempted to free them, translate them, and give them to the people, had the stake and the scaffold for their reward. The Revised Version of the New Testament was completed, printed, and bound months ago in England, but that the English publishers might be able to monopolize its sale, and make a few hundred thousand dollars the more, it was withheld from the public. The Copyright Law in England is such that at least two newspapers, which, by some method, secured copies of portions of it, and published extracts, with comments, were compelled to desist from repetition of the "crime," and to publicly apologize for their "wrong." We are in favor of an equitable international copyright law that will give authors due reward for their labor, but Americans will not care to see such an English law transferred to this country.

On the morning of May 20th the British monopolists unbound the chains. At 6.80 P.M. of the same day our beautiful edition was all in type, and of the various editions of the entire Testament and the Gospels published separately, we shall endeavor to manufacture as many as 50,000 copies a day till the demand for them is met. We have taken pains to make the work typographically one of the most perfect ever published in this country. The type is large and beautiful, nearly double the size of that of the monopolists' cheap edition, at prices low beyond comparison with theirs.

The Revised New

We publish this in large beautiful type, in various styles as follows, at the prices affixed:

Young's Great

Bible Concordance.

New American copyright index edition. 1 vol. uarto, Popular Edition, cloth, $2.25; postage, 37 ents. Hall Russia, sprinkled edges, $2.75; postage, 7 cents. Scholars' Edition, half Turkey, marbled does $4.50 to not not slicents.

dges, $4.50; postage, 81 cents.

of cenes. Sciences's contion, hair Turkey, marbled edges, $4.50; postage, $1 cents. Our new edition of this magnificent work may fairly be called the "Webster's Unabridged of Re-ligious Literature," By its ald the unlearned English reader is given ready access to the information here-tofore accessible only to those learned in the Hebrew and Greek languages, or by the ald of expensive and often inaccessible Greek and Hebrew Lexicons and Concordances. In connection with the new version of the Bible, particularly, it groves especially inter-esting and helpful, giving what no other work sup-plies, clews to the considerations which have led scholars to make the varying translations which have been given to the world in the centuries past, enabling the intelligent reader in large measure to decide for himself what is the meaning that will best satisfy his own understanding and the demands of his own conscience. Specimen pages sent free on request.

Cruden's Concordance is child's play compared with this gigantic production.—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon.

A great improvement on Cruden.-Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

The most elaborate of all works of its kind.-The Methodist, New York.

A monument of immense, intelligent, useful labor. -The Observer, New York.

Every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible reading and study.—*The Trib-*une, New York.

This volume, the result of an immense amount of Iabor, is a decided improvement on them all.—Chris-tian Observer, Louisville.

Is by far the most complete and convenient work of its kind that has heretofore been published.— Lutheran Observer, Philadelphia.

This work is not only for the learned, but is adapted to the use of all who can read the English Bible. -Presbyterian Banner, Pittsburg, Penn.

It is the best Concordance extant. It is one of the marvels of the American Book Exchange.—North-ern Christian Advocate, Syracuse, N. Y.

It is a long way ahead of any work of the kind we have ever seen. It is the cheapest book we ever saw, except the Bible.—Christian Advocate, Charleston, S. C.

ee on request

New Testament, New Version: Paper .... Cloch. Half Russia, glit top. Full Morocco, glit edges. Gospel of Mathew, paper.... Mark, "Luke, " John, " The Four Gospels

estament

In theirs, This wonderful book for students and Bible readers! It is the masterpiece of our times. Any Bible student will find it invaluable.—Religious Telescope, Dayton, Ohio. No other English Concordance is half as valuable as this one. It is as far in advance of them as Web-ster's Unabridged is of Johnson's of fifty years ago.—Church Advocate, Harrisburg, Penn.

ago.—Church Advocate, Harrisburg, Penn. There are some books we do not hesitate to recom-mend as the best of their kind. This is one of them. The American Book Exchange has not done a better thing than to furnish this reprint at such easy fig-ures.—Central Baptist, St. Louis.

It is undoubtedly a most valuable contribution to our theological liferature, and will find its way into the libraries of all who are interested in the study of the Bible. The price at which it is sold excites our wonder.—The Churchman, New York.

Ceikie's Celebrated Life of Christ.

The Life and Words of Christ. by Cunningham Geikie. A come Edition, extra cloth. 80 cents: postage, 9 cents. Aldus Edition, fine heavy paper, wide mar-gins, extra cloth, with elegant designs in black and gold, 85 cents; postage, 13 cents. Aldus Edition, half Russia, gilt top, $1.00; postage, 13 cents. Profoundly interesting-marvelously cheap.-Al-bany Evening Times.

The best of all the lives of Christ-a marvel of cheapness.-Portland Christian Mirror.

A great and noble work, rich in information, ele-gant and scholarly in style, earnestly devout in feel-ing.-London Literary World.

It is a work of profound learning.—Archbishop of York.

Simply indispensable to students of gospel history. -British Quarterly Review.

Awork of gigantic industry, of the highest literary rank, and breathing the spirit of true faith in Christ. --Dr. Delitzsch, the Commentator.

It seems to me among books a pearl of great price, and a man might well sell a thousand others to be-come possessor of this one.—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Will last when we have all passed away—is by far the best.—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. The most interesting book we have ever read on the subject.-Churchman, New York.

Standard Religious Books.

We also publish cheap editions of the following works, every one of which is indispensable to a library of religious books.

Smith's Bible Dictionary, cloth, 50 cents; half Rus-sia, sprinkled edges, 75 cents. Postage, 10 cents. Kitto's Cyclopædia of Biblical Literature, 2 vols., illustrated, cloth, $2; half Russia, gilt top, $3. Post age, 35 cents.

Works of Flavius Josephus, 1 vol. quarto, cloth, $1.50: half Russia, sprinkled edges, $2. Postage, 38 $1.50; cents

Legends of Patriarchs and Prophets. By S. Baring-Gould. Extra cloth, 50 cents. Postage, 8 cents. Rollin's Aneient History, 2 vols. in 1, quarto, cloth, $1.75; half Russia, sprinkled edges, $2.25. Postage, 42 cents.

Milton's Poetical Works, cloth, 40 cents; postage, 7 cents. Half Russia, gilt top, 80 cents; postage, 10 cents.

Terms to Clubs.

Where there is no special agent for our publica-tions, we allow the following terms to clubs. On 3 copies of any one book 5 per cent discount: on 5 copies, 10 per cent; on 10 copies 15 per cent; or on $50 net selected from the list, 15 per cent discount. Descriptive catalogue and illustrated pamphlet describing book-making and type setting by steam will be sent free on request.

AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, 764 Broadway, New York. JOHN B. ALDEN, MANAGER.

"It cannot fail to facilitate washing, and at the

"It cannot fail to facilitate washing, and at the same time save much wear and tear of clothes." —Am. Agriculturist. "The washer does exactly what is claimed for it, and is cheap at ten times the cost."—New York Tribune. We send No. 1 Washer prepaid to your nearest railway express office in any part of the United States east of the Rocky Mountains for $3.50. As to the reliability of this company we refer to the Mercantile National Bank of New York or any express company in New York.

New York or any express company in New York. In ordering, write plainly your name, post office, county and State. Also the name of the express office to which you wish the wesher for-Warded. CASH MUST ACCOMPANY ALL ORDERS. Remit by Post Office order, registered letter or Draft on New York.

General Agents: Clarke & Co.; Chicago, Alden & Chadwick, 120 Dearborn street; San Francisco, Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch; St. Louis, Logan D. Dameron; Atlanta, Ga, J. J. & S. P. Richards; Baltimore, W. E. C. Harrison; Rich-mond, Randolph & English; Pittsburg, James Robison; Grand Rapids, Mich., Eaton, Lyon & Co.; Minne-apolis, S. M. Williams.

MACHING

"over, knit two together.

and dust, if our gown be so covered with ruffles make me think of heaven." and tucks that we know its "doing up" will cost Monthly.

QUERY.-In the LIVING CHURCH Household life must be a life of suffering. Department of April 20th you mention a house in Philadelphia where they make a rug which is of the House referred to?

other large cities now.

GREAT care must be exercised in putting away winter clothes; clean paper sacks, or even old cotton or linen pillow cases will do to hold them, providing there are no holes in them. Take the garments that are to be laid away outdoors on a summer day; let them hang on a line for several hours, brush and beat the dust all out, then put into the bags, tie them up so that no moth can get in, and lay them on clean, dry shelves, or hang them up.

TALK as little as possible about dress. Make can, and let becoming and tasteful dress help when I am dying, some one would bring me effectually dwarfs the mind than constant thought and conversation about ruffles and frills, feathers and flounces, trimmings and tacks.

ONE of the prettiest scrap-bags for sittingroom or bedroom is made in a simple manner by taking a good-sized Japanese parasol or small umbrella; take a piece of fine wire and make in a ring, catch it to the partly opened parasol with thread, and tie a bright ribbon to the handle. Of and light scraps.

think."

And Effie lifted her great brown eyes from the IT is always wiser and more tasteful to have wreath she was making with singular dexterity, washable garments as plainly trimmed as possi- and said in her soft, low voice, "Thank you. I ble. Not one of us can be regardless of damp did so want it to be all white violets; they always

They did not answer; they were accustomed to us at a laundry the price of the whole dress, or the child's remarks; she never really seemed if done in our own kitchen, a day's ill-temper quite one of themselves. Her mother died when from the handmaid. Clothes should pass so she was born, and no one thought the poor baby thoroughly from the mind of the wearer from would live a week; it was always ailing, always the moment the toilette is complete, that nothing fretting. Its poor old grandmother nursed it with but the instinctive and unnoticed care to pre- the most tender, loving care; but sometimes, in serve them from unseemly contact should con- spite of all her affection, she almost hoped that cern him or her until their removal.-Scribner's it would please God to send his angel to take her darling to Paradise, for she knew that the little

Alice Grant, the eldest girl in Rockingham school, was the one whom Effie loved the most of not very expensive, and which will give good all her little friends; it was Alice she liked to satisfaction. Will you please give me the address have with her when the pain was at its worst;

Alice who used to listen wonderingly to the ANSWER.-This query has come to us from strange, holy thoughts which were poured into several of our readers, and we take this means no ear but hers. It was Alice who stood by her of answering. The address is, or was, William as she wound the sweet flowers into a lovely Pollock, Carpet Manufacturer, 937 Market wreath, and sighed as she gazed upon the long, Street, Philadelphia, Penn. We believe that the thin white fingers, which seemed to her to have same article may be bought in New York and grown much longer and thinner within the last few months.

"It is beautiful, Effie darling," she said, at last; "I think it is the best you ever made."

"I am so glad, Alice, because you know the Vicar said I might just lay it at the base of the font; and it ought to be beautiful to go there, because you know when we were baptised, God promised us that if we were good children, we should rise again from the dead, and live with him forever and forever, in the life everlasting. And then we shall be all pure and white, like the flowers; that is why I wanted to make my wreath white to-day. And, Alice," and the child's voice yourself and your children as beautiful as you sank into a low, awed whisper, "do you know if, you to do it, but when once your "things" are some of those flowers, it would make me so on, think no more about them. Nothing more happy; for then I should think of all the Vicar has told us about the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come."

> And Alice, trying hard to keep back the tears which stood in her eyes, could only answer, "When that day comes, my darling, I will try to bring you some white flowers."

The wreath was laid at the foot of the font; the course, this is serviceable only for bits of paper Easter services were bright and joyous, as they E. W. B. always were at Rockingham; the children, Effie

Itching Piles-Symptoms and Cure.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure. The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, in-tense itching, increased by scratching, very distress-ing particularly at night, as if pin worms were crawl-ing in and about the rectum; the private parts are sometimes affected; if allowed to continue, very serious results may follow. "DR. SWAYNE'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT is a pleasant sure cure. Also for Tetter, Itch, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Erysipelas, Barbers' Itch, Blotches, all Scaly, Crusty, Cutaneous Eruptions. Price 50 cents. 3 boxes for $1.25. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price in currency, or three cent postage stamps. Prepared only by Dr. Swayne' & Son, 330 N. Sixth Street, Philadelphia Pa., to whom letters should be addressed. Sold by all prominent druggists. prominent druggists.

A poor memory is a very inconvenient thing. So a man found it who lately called on a friend, and in the course of conversation asked him how his good father was. "He is dead; did you not know it?" answered the friend. "Indeed! I am distressed to hear it," said the visitor. "I had no idea of it;" and he proceeded to express his sympathy. A year after he called again and forgetfully asked. "And how is your good father?" The clever reply was, "Still dead."

A joint-stock company has recently bought the old "Rockbridge Alum Springs," of Virginia, and more recently within the past few weeks, the "Jordan Alum" also. The two are now consolidated in one property and under one management, the whole to be known as the Rockbridge Alum Springs. The Board have selected Mr. William Frazier as General Superintendent of the combined establishments, who was formerly for many years in charge of the original Rockbridge Alum. His long experience, as well as his aptitude, will commend him to the confi-dence and respect of the guests.

A sudden death has often happened to an honest endeavor to deal honestly with the public in the face of dishonest competition. Not so, however, with "Champlin's Liquid Pearl" for the complexion, which is fast exterminating all vile so-called French mixtures, which leave the skin finally in a horrible state.

The Robbins Washer.

The fact that 50,000 of the Imported Robbins Fami-ly Washer and Bleacher have been sold is a guaran-tee of its usefulness. Any method that relieves the women of the household of this most toilsome drudgery will be hailed with delight. Our readers should examine the advertisement of the Bissell M'fg Co., and see what their washer will do for them.

Kenosha Water Cure, Kenosha, Wis., a quiet home-like resort for invalids. Chronic Diseases, Nervous Diseases, Diseases of women. For circulars, address N. A. Pennoyer, M. D., or E. Pennoyer, pro-prietor. References: The Bishop of Minnesota, the Sisters of St. Mary, Kemper Hall, Kenosha.

Grand Avenue Hotel, Milwankee. 909 Grand Avenue, C. A. Buttles, Proprietor. Hotel contains 90 rooms, with dining room 40 feet square. New and elegantly furnished, and surroun-ded by a large lawn. All the home comforts can be had which could be desired by tourists or travellers. Terms $2.00 to $2.50 per day, or special rates made by the week or month. by the week or month

Important to Travellers. — Special induce-ments are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found else-where in this issue.

It cannot be denied that Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, which has held the first place as a family medicine for the past forty-one years, has relieved more suff-ering, externally and internally, than any other sim-ilar preparation. It should be kept in every house-hold.

12

WITHOUT LABOR, BY USING THE

Improved Robbins Family Washer and Bleacher.

THE LATEST AND BEST.

Manufactured under Patents of Oct. 3, '71, and Dec. 21st, 1880 ing. We speak from our own knowledge."-Chicago Inter-Ocean. "From nearly a year's acquaintance with this company and their Robbins Washer, we unhesi-tatingly recommend them."-Farmer's Review of Chicago

The original and only perfect self-operat-ing washer in the world. No rubbing required. No more yellow clothes, nor hard work on washing day. It will wash anything from a lace curtain to a hore blue het horse blanket. It reduces the labor so that a mere child can

It will do work quicker and better than can be done in any other way. It will not wear or injure the most delicate fabric, good soap and soft water only being used. It is perfectly simple in its principle, and cannot wear out or get out of order.

cannot wear out or get out of order. With over 50,000 of the Original Rob-With over 50,060 of the Original Rob-bias Washers in successful operation we confidently recommend the Improved washer, which will work in any round or flat bottomed boller or iron pot, as perfect in every respect. Send for descriptive circulars. "The best we have ever known, we speak from experience." - Youth's Companion. "The Robbins Family Washer and Bleacher is as represented."-N.Y. Weekly Sun. "We have confidence in recommending it to the attention of our Lady readers."-N.Y. Christian Advocate.

Christian Advocate

"We would pay many times the price asked rather than do without one."—Farm & Fireside. "A truly wonderful article, which is destined at no distant day to work a complete revolution in the method of accomplishing the family wash-

or Drate on New York. Good Agents wanted, both Mule and Female. Send for sample and secure a business that will pay you well. When you order or write please mention this paper. Address, BISSELL MANUFACTURING Co., 50 Barclay St., New York.

Collectors Card

1st. Buy Seven Bars Dobbin's Electric

Soap of your Grocer.

2d. Ask him to give you a bill of it.

3d. Mail us his Bill and your address

4th. We Will mais YOU FREE seven

Beautiful Cards in six colors and gold, representing Shakspeare's

"Seven Ages of Man." I. L. Cragin & Co.,

116 South Fourth Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

5 PerCent Discount to A cents on our Publications. Write us giving full partitioulars of past experience naming choice of territory. Complete Outfit for nomi-nal sum of 40c, circulars for 4c., W.M. WOOD CO. (Draws: 100) MA Washington Bt Obiogen

Say not Adieu. Ballad. T. or S. Operte, Merrily, Cheerily. Waltz Song. S. Menninger, My Childhood's Home. S. or T. J. E. Perring, Old Inn Sign. Song and Chorus. Jas. E. Stewart, Only to see Her Face. Song and Chorus. Jas. E. Stewart, The Smile. Waltz Song S. La Villa, Pasted Not. Ballad. T. or S. Fairlamb, Angel's Kiss. Bailad. S. Florence Belknap, Come Again, Jamie. Ballad. J. B. Campbell, Kiss the Baby Once for Me. Will S. Hays, Bright Imaginings. Caprice. Chas. Kenkel, Queen of the Meadow. Polka Caprice. Chas. Ken-kel, Whispering Pines. Concert Piece. H. Lessing, Blue Grass Meadow. Easy Waltz. L. Kellar, Address Geo. D. Newhall & Co., Cincinnati, .60 .50 .40 .40 .40 .75 .40 .40 .35 .40 .50

NEW MUSIC.

Address Geo.D. Newhall & Co., Cincinnati, O.

In Health and Disease, and on the proper Treat-ment of the THROAT and LUNGS, By ROBERT HUNTER, M. D. Donnelley, Gassette, Lloyd & Co., Publishers, Chi-cago, and all Book ellers. Price 25 cents. Sick per-sons can obtain copies free by applying to Dr. Hun-ter, 108 State St., Chicago.

REPAIRS FOR STOVES manufactured at Troy, Al-bany, Rochester, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and else-where, at W. C. METZNER'S, 127 West Randolph S. biotago, Ill.

DIOCESIANA.

From our Correspondents.

8

The Right Rev. Geo. F. Seymour, D. D., Bishop of Springfield, Ill., acting for the Bishop John's Church; representatives of other city of Pittsburgh, visited Trinity Memorial Church, Warren, Pa., on Monday evening, May 23, preached, and administered Confirmation.

On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, a special Ordination Service was held in the same church, when the Rev. George A. Holbrook, assistant minister in St. Paul's Church, Erie, was advanced to the Priesthood; the Bishop again preached. The candidate was presented by the Rev. Henry Purdon, D. D., Rector of St. James Memorial Church, Titusville; the Rev. Henry S. Getz, Rector of Trinity Memorial Church, Warren, and the Rev. Harry L. Yewens, Rector of reenforced by the clergy. On Tuesday evening, the St. John's Church, Franklin, uniting in the imposition of hands.

This Ordinance was the first ever held in this Church, and, on this account, was a matter of E. M. Pecke told of his encouraging and enterunusual interest.

of Confirmation was administered in St. John's morning there was a Discussion and Conference Church, Youngstown, Ohio, by the Bishop of upon Guilds and organized methods of Churchthe Diocese, on the evening of the Sunday after work; and the formation of Burial Guilds was Ascension Day, to a very interesting class of recommended. There is an English Society, seven men and eight women. The Bishop with a branch in this country-the Guild of All preached from the text, 'Almost thou persuadest | Souls-which attends to this kind of work. On me to be a Christian.' (Acts xxvi:28.). The Thursday evening, the Rev. E. A. Larrabee discourse was masterly and unanswerable in its preached an effective sermon upon the subject of arguments, and the exhortation 'to lead a godly and a Christian life,' one of the most earnest, mental Grace." The preacher indicated clearly eloquent, and impressive, we have ever heard. the necessity of our co-operation with grace, Such a sermon, so simple, so practical, so full of and the certainty of God's working in us when the best of reasons for being a Christian, could we do so. not be otherwise than instrumental in doing great spiritual good, if published and placed in engaged in the Diocese of Pittsburgh, and the the hands of the men of the world-that large Dean, Rev. J. D. Easter, D. D., was detained at and important class found in nearly all parishes. home by ill-health. In spite of these unavoida-Hundreds were unable to gain admission to the ble absences, however, which were very much church. The Rector of the parish (Rev. S. Max- regretted, the meeting was an exceedingly pleaswell) was assisted by the Rev. A. R. Kieffer, of ant one, very much enjoyed by those present. Warren, Ohio. The Bishop appointed Mr. Ascension Day was observed in Holy Trinity Henry Baldwin as lay-reader, to be under the Church, Danville, by an Early Celebration at supervision of the Rector of St. John's, who 6:30, with eleven communicants; and by matins has organized a Mission full of promise, at Hub- and sermon at 10 A. M. bard. Ohio. No city in Ohio grows more rapidly than Youngstown, and no parish in the Diocese has more promising prospects than St. John's."

On the Sunday after Ascension Day, the Bishop visited the Parish of the Good Shepherd, Memphis, Tennessee, which is in charge of the Rev. Canon Klein, of St. Mary's Cathedral. The Rev. Herbert A. Grantham, Deacon, resides in of ground covered, and, at the first glance. it the Rectory, and conducts the Services. The Bishop preached, and celebrated the Holy Com- fashion, all modern objections, both in and out munion. In the afternoon a special Confirma- of the Church. There is a smartness in the tion was held in the Cathedral, at which the work; as, for example, the very deft manner in venerable Rector of Calvary Parish presented which-in the first section-Dr. Pusey, Canon three candidates. On Monday, the Bishop vis- Farrar, and Mr. Spurgeon are brought to agreeited St. Alban's Mission, Atoka, Tipton Co.; ment on the question of "Eternal Punishment," held Services, and preached at night in the vil- while the lecturer himself, having given unlimlage school-house. On Tuesday, he visited ited time and thought to that important issue, Ravenscroft. In the neat chapel, recently erected had arrived at his point of "a wise discriminaby the earnest efforts of Mrs. Alston-the widow tion, the Church's need." of the late Rev. Philip W. Alston. Morning I am unable to say whether he had considered the people ought to esteem them ordained to it." since, possibly, there is "no need." The Rev. Charles F. Collins presented Mr. The Assistant Bishop has been in the city dur-Opian Alston, a highly esteemed and well read ing the present week, confirming small supplecolored man to be admitted Deacon. Mr. Alston was a cousin of the late Rev. Wm. Alston, Rector of St. Philip's Church, New York, He is the third colored person admitted to the Ministry of the Church in this county. The Rev. Charies F. Collins-who has charge of all the There was no marked attendance anywhere, but Missions in Tipton and adjoining counties-is extremely anxious to secure the services of one or more unmarried clergymen to help him in his work. His address is Brownsville, Tennessee.

by the Rev. Edward A. Bradley, of Iadianapolis. The evening discourse was the Anniversary as several of the candidates were heads of fami-Sermon before the Young Women's Guild of St. lies.

Guilds being present by invitation. On the 17th, 18th and 19th of May, the Bloomington Deanery, Diocese of Springfield, met in Holy Trinity Parish, Danville, Ill. Rev. Messrs. Pecke, Moore, Tomlins, Draper, Elmer, Hopkins, Larrabee, Simpson and Taylor, were in attendance. The Rev. J. W. Coe was invited to a seat in the Chapter. There were celebrations at 6:30 A. M., on Wednesday and Thursday, Matins following at a later hour. The Evening Services were choral, the surpliced choir being

Rev. Mr. Draper preached a very forcible and logical sermon on the office of the Church as a witness to Christ. On Wednesday evening, Rev. prising mission work in Tuscola, Douglas Co., and Rev. W. C. Hopkins spoke of Missions, A correspondent writes as follows: "The Rite and Mission-work in general. On Thursday "Personal Holiness, the proper result of Sacra-

The Bishop was unable to be present, being

From Louisville, Ky.

Our late Council was rather a marked one in its action, and all feel that it can hardly fail to have beneficial results.

Bishop Dudley's Lectures have been received here, but there is hardly time, as yet, to frame a correct opinion of them. There is a large amount looks as if they were written to answer, after a Prayer was said by the Rev. Isaac Edgar Blook, the views of the "average Kentuckian." on all a colored Deacon; after which the Bishop points discussed. That he is against "lights on preached a sermon, "declaring how necessary or about the altar," I am perfectly sure. The the office is in the Church of Christ, and how "wise discrimination" is not to be exercised here; delivered at St. John's, Detroit, on Sunday, 29th, (a young man) and two daughters, were confirmed. This service was especially interesting,

Just before the Bishop's visit, the Church had been very much improved by the putting in of a double memorial window, for a former Superintendent of the Sunday-school, and for his wife and five children, all killed, several years ago, when a fearful tornado passed through the place. This window, with three other double windows of stained glass, was purchased by the offerings of the children of the Sunday-school-an earnest band of workers.

A zealous Christian Presbyterian lady, of Tuscumbia, placed upon the plate on Easter Sunday $40 toward the purchase of two chairs for the chancel. The chairs, costing $50, were in their places when the Bishop visited the Church.

From Pittsburgh, Pa.

B. F. M.

Bishop Seymour, who has been making visitations for Bishop Kerfoot, in the Erie and Warren Deaneries, brought his labors to a close at Bradford, on Monday evening, May 30th; having been on duty every day since May 10. Everywhere, the Bishop has left a most favorable impression, and quickened devotion by his earnest preaching of the Holy Gospel. The Bishop of the Diocese and the clergy of the two Deaneries visited, gratefully acknowledge the kind help extended to them, and the thorough manner in which the work was done. The Bishop's last Sunday in the Diocese was spent in the flourishing town of Smethport, the county seat of McKean County. Here, on "Expectation Sunday," in the beautiful Parish Church (decorated for the occasion by floral offerings), the Bishop addressed the children and teachers of the Sunday-school at 10 A. M.; and, at 11 A. M., with a crowded congregation, began the Divine Office, and after the Nicene Creed was recited. preached the sermon on the Antithesis of Christmas Day and Ascension Day, showing the depth of Christ's humility, to reach us with His love, and the height of His exaltation, to raise us to His glory. It is hard to conceive beforehand, what power over other souls one soul, moved to its very depths by God's Word and Holy Spirit, may have. Resistless as the mighty rushing wind, the effect cannot be escaped. Souls are convicted of sin, if not convinced of Christ's righteousness as Savior; and the result is, light for the conscience, or the conscience against the light. The Rector of St. Luke's, the Rev. J. Heber McCandless, presented seventeen persons, who received the Confirmation, and afterward, the Holy Communion.

In the evening, the Bishop preached on the Decay of the Spiritual Life, and the end thereof in hopeless death in the scornful man, whose life is defiance unto God. The sermons were well calculated to rouse and to strengthen.

On "Decoration Day," Bishop Seymour went to Bradford; and, by invitation, delivered the oration at the memorial services before a vast crowd of people; being frequently interrupted by applause, as he poured forth the thoughts inspired by the occasion. The Bishop went East on the night train, after a final Service and Confirmation at Bradford; and was to be at the meeting of the Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, on Wednesday, June 1st, at 4 P. M.

St. James' Church, Milton Centre, in the

Get These Good Books The standard, beautiful, and incomparably cheap books of the Literary Revolution are in demand far beyond our resources for manufacturing them. We must manufac-ture and sell quickly immense editions of these books in order that we may afford the low prices, and fer our capital to and sale of still While You Can that we may trans-the manufacture other standard books for which we are having most urgent demands. If, therefore, you want any of the books named below, order them promptly, as we Lall after a few days cease to manufacture these editions, and they will then not be obtainable in the market.

Books 2 Cents. Handy form, paper covers. The Gospel of Matthew, Revised Version.

Books 3 Cents. Handy form, paper covers. Formerly sold at $1.25 each.

each. Carlyle's Life of Robert Burns. Macaulay's Life of Frederick the Great. Shakespeare's Hamlet. "Merchaut of Venlee. "Id other principal Plays, each. Lamartine's Life of Mary Queen of Scots. Thomas Hughes's The Manliness of Christ.

Books 5 Cents.

Handy form, paper covers. The Choice of Books, by Charles F. Richardson. The Light of Asia, by Edwin Arnold. Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress; price 6 cents. Books 10 Cents.

Handy form, paper covers. The Sketch Book, by Washington Irving. Robinson Crusce, by Daniel De Foe. Tom Brown's School Days, by Thomas Hughes. Hypatia, by Charles Kingsley. Last of the Mohicans, by J. Fenimore Cooper. The New Testament, Revised Version.

Books 15 Cents.

Handy form, paper covers. Knickerbocker, by Washington Irving. Jane Eyre, by Charlotte Bronte. Romola, by George Ellot. Uarda, an Egyptian Princess, by Ebers. Corinne, by Madame de Staël. Ivanhoe, by Sir Walter Scott. Last Days of Pompeli, by Bulwer. John Halifax, Gentleman, by Mrs. Mulock Craik.

Books 25 Cents. Beautiful books, elegant cloth binding. The Light of Asia, by Edwin Arno'd. The Choice of Books, by Charles F. Richardson.

Beautiful books, siegant cloth binding. Knickerbocker, by Washington Irving. Homer's Iliad, translated by Pope. Homer's Odyssey, translated by Dryden. Works of Virgil, translated by Cary. Last of the Mohicans, by J. Fenimore Cooper. Tom Brown's School-Days, by Thomas Hughes. Reminiscences, by Thomas Carlyle. The Koran of Mohammed, translated by Sale. The New Testament, Revised Version.

Carlyle's Heroes and Hero Worship. Smiles's Brief Biographies.

Books 35 Gents.

Bounds books, elegant cloth binding. Creasy's Decisive Battles of the World. The Sketch Book, by Washington Irving. Jane Eyre, by Charlotte Bronte. Corinne, by Madame de Staël. Hypatia, by Charles Kingsley. John Halifax Gentleman, by Mrs. Mulock Craik. Last Days of Pompeli, by Bulwer. Ivanhoe, by Sir Walter Scott. Romola, by George Ellot.

Books 40 Cents.

Beautiful books, elegant cloth binding. Carlyle's History of the French Revolution. Goethe's Wilhelm Meister, translated by Carlyle. Milton's Poetical Works. Tasso's Jerusalem Delivered. Baron Munchausen and Gulliver's Travels, illus-trated trated. Æsop's Book of Fables, illustrated.

Books 50 Gents.

Beautiful books, elegant cloth binding. Adventures of Don Quixote, Illustrated. Masson's Evench Dictionary (formerly $1.50). American Patriotism.,-Famous Orations. Geikie's Life of Christ. Smith's Bible Dictionary. Green's Larger History of the English People, 2 vols., $1. Grote's History of Greece, 4 vols., $2. Chambers's Cyclopædia of English Literature, 4 vols., $2.

A Cyclopaedia War. CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPÆDIA REDUCED FROM $30 TO $6, The Library of Universal Knowledge, 10 per cent larger than Appleton's, 30 per cent larger than Johnson's; 15 vols., large type, $15. ORDER QUICK, BEFORE THE WAR IS OVER. Specimen pages free.

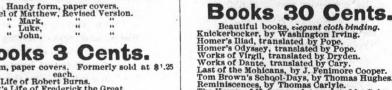

5,000 Booksellers slander or supply our publi-cations. Terms to Clubs

We allow the following terms to clubs: On 3 copies of any one book, 5 per cent discount: on 5 copies, 0 per cent; on 10 copies, 15 per cent; or on $30 net selected from the list, 15 per cent discount. Descriptive atalogue and illustrated pamphlet describing book-making and type-setting by steam will be sent free on equest.

AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE.

764 Broadway, New York. JOHN B. ALDEN, MANAGER. Ceneral Agents: Boston, H. L. Hastings, 47 Cornhill; Philadelphia, Leary & Co.; Cincinnat!, Robert Clarke & Co.; Indianapolis, Bowen, Stewart & Co.; Idianapolis, Bowen, Stewart & Co.; Cleveland, Ingham, Clarke & Co.; Chicago, Alden & Chadwick, 120 Dearborn street; San Francisco, Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch; St. Louis, Logan D. Dameron; Atlanta, Ga., J. J. & S. P. Richards; Baltimore, W. E. C. Harrison; Richmond, Randolph & English; Pittsburg, James Robison; Grand Rapids, Mich., Eaton, Lyon & Co.; Minneapolis, S. M. Williams.

For several years, the Detroit clergy have united in an Ascension-Day Service; most of the parishes waiving their own parochial appointments, in order to take part in this union Service. The recent Asension-Day Service at St. John's Church was noteworthy in several particulars. It was attended by upwards of four hundred persons, a large number of these being men, and about one-third receiving the Holy Communion. The chancel flowers were rich and tastefully arranged. The music was of the most elaborate character, the choir of St. John's being assisted by representatives of other city choirs. There were eight or nine vested clergy in the chancel, besides a number of clergymen in the congregation. The Bishop preached a sermon of great power, on the presence of the departed Christ to believers, everywhere, and in all time succeeding the day of His Ascension; and had there only been a proportionally well arranged and well attended Service in every other parish and Mission in the city, the Church in Detroit might have considered the day worthily observed.

On the evening of Ascension-Day, the Bishop preached and Confirmed seven persons at St. Peter's Church. Detroit.

On Sunday, May 29, the Bishop drove from Detroit to Dearborn, where, in the morning, at Christ Church, he preached, and Confirmed ten persons. Early in the afternoon, with the missionary, the Rev. H. J. Brown, Jr., he drove over to Wayne, and held a Service in the Hospital of the County House. The organ was played by an insane inmate of the County Asylum. Two inmates, one white, and the other colored, and both paralyzed, were Confirmed. Then, driving over to Romulus, a Service was held in the schoolhouse, which was crowded, most of the congregation being men. And at 10:30 p.m., the Bishop returned to Detroit, after an interesting day, and fifty miles of driving-a long "Sabbath-day's journey."

mentary classes, at some of the churches.

Ascension Day was more generally observed, in this respect, than heretofore in Louisville, Churches being opened for Divine Service which had not previously recognized the Festival. a step in the right direction has been taken, and this is something for which to be thankful. The Rector of St. John's has taken possession of the Parsonage, which has not known its lawful possessor for years. He proposes to give a "house-warming" on the 27th, which undoubtedly will be enjoyable.

The Rev. Charles E. Craik, the assistant minduties, and has won everyone by his earnestness and sweetness of disposition. A re-organization large. of the work of the Parish is assuming a definite shape, with promise of great usefulness.

The Convocation of Louisville meets the first of June, to plan for additional missionary effort in those parts of its limits which are destitute. LOUISVILLE, May 25th.

From Alabama.

On the Fifth Sunday after Easter, the Bishop of the Diocese visited Trinity Church, Florence-On this occasion, he confirmed five persons, four of whom were males. One of these was a very worthy colored man, who, years ago, had been for a very long period of time, sexton of the church. He was baptised the day previous, his former mistress acting as witness, coming ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL-BED FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

forward with him, and standing by him during Confirmation Service.

On Saturday afternoon, Bishop Wilmer administered Confirmation to a sick lady, residing in the country, not far from Florence.

At Easter, by the united offerings of the congregation, and of the children of the Sundayschool of Trinity Church, of this town, the balance of the debt upon the Rectory was paid off. This Church, one on the Missionary list of the General Board, weak in strength, and few in number of communicants, has now a comfortable home for its minister. Of those outside of the Parish who assisted in the purchase and improvement of this property, the Rev. Dr. Saul, of Philadelphia, contributed very largely and generously.

On Saturday, the 21st, the Bishop officiated in Tuscumbia, confirming twelve persons, four of whom were males. On this occasion, a father

Two interesting and powerful sermons were and mother, with three of their children, a son

Diocese of Albany, was recently consecrated by Bishop Doane. It is a frame building, measuring 22x40 feet, and is surmounted by a bell, the gift of Mr. Samuel Haight, of Ballston. The altar and reredos are of Rutland marble. The building will seat 90 persons. Sunday Services at St. James' Church, in that village, will until further notice be as follows: Sunday-school, 2 P. M.; Service, 3 P. M. Also, Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The Rev. Henry B. Ensworth, Rector of Christ Church, Portsmouth, Ohio, preached a sermon before the Knights Templar of that city, on Ascension Day, the church being crowded. His energy in church work, and his scholarly ability, ister of Christ Church, has entered upon his have won golden opinions within the bounds of his own Parish, and among the community at

> On the Sunday after Ascension, an elegant pair of polished brass Altar-vases, from Geissler's, New York, was presented, by members of the Sunday School, to St. Mark's Church, Evanston, as a memorial of one of their number, Mary Louise Richards, recently entered into rest. The Vases were presented and blessed with due ceremony, during the Sunday School Service, immediately after the Cantate, and before the Creed. The special Office and order used was as follows: The Lesson (Ex. xxvi-8); The Presentation; and the Magnificat.

Acknowledgements.

Contributions are solicited for the endowment of a bed for crippled children. The sum of $4,000 is sought to be raised for this purpose. All who feel disposed to aid in this good work, are requested to send their contributions to Mrs. A. Williams, Treasurer of the fund, 2834 Prairie Ave., or to Rev. Clinton Locke, 2824 Prairie Ave., Chicago.

An Easter Offering, from Calvary S.S. Ba-

A. H. Abbott & Co., 147 State St., Painting and Drawing Material.