Living Church.

A Weekly Record of its News, its Work, and its Thought.

Vol. V. No. 1.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1882.

WHOLE No. 209.

Ready for Advent.

This popular Almanac and Calendar begins with the Christian Year. The following are some of its important fea-

- 1. A beautiful Calendar and Hagiology, printed in red and black, beginning the trouble of going to church. No, the Chriswith Advent, and giving both the old and the new Lectionaries.
- 2. Notes and tables, ecclesiastical, political, and scientific.
- 3. The History of the Holy Catholic Church.
- 4. Full historical, geographical, and statistical accounts of every country in the world, revised to date by the Ambassadors in Washington.
- 5. A list of the Episcopal sees of the world, with names and residences of the Bishops, prepared by the Rev. Dr. Chas. R. Hale.
- 6. Complete Diocesan and General Clergy Lists, with statistics of every Diocese in the U.S. In every case these Lists and statistics have been corrected by the Bishops or the Secretaries of the several Dioceses, and may be relied upon as accurate.
- 7. A Table of the American Succession, showing the line of consecrators of each Bishop.
- 8. A list of churches having weekly and fortnightly Communion.
- 9. The signatures of the English Bishops, kindly furnished by the Lord Bishop of Rochester.

The above is by no means a full list of the contents of the ANNUAL.

PRINT 95 CENTS POSTPAIN E. & J. B. Young & Co., Publishers, 6 Cooper Union, N. Y. City.

A remittance must accompany all orders for

The American Church Congress.

Correspondence of the Living Church. The eighth annual meeting of the Congress, which has now become a recognized institution of the Church, was opened on the 24th inst. at demanding united efforts of the Church. "It Richmond, Va., with a large attendance. The must be remembered," he said, "that these are Bishop of the Diocese, Dr. Whittle, presided. not heathens but Christians, the percentage of The Bishop of Louisiana, Dr. Galleher, gave a Church membership among them being larger succint review of the object and scope of such meetings.

After the religious exercises, the Bishop-President spoke a few words of welcome, and the congress was formally declared open. The first evening session was fully attended, the subject, "the position and work of the laity in the Church," being of interest to the great body of the Church -the laity-but the paper of the Rev. Arthur Brooks, of New York, was devoted to a glorification of the laity at the expense of the clergy.

The topic of the next morning was "The Priestly and Prophetic Functions of the Christian Ministry." There was, as might have been expected the expression of very divergent views. Every possible view of the subject was taken, from sacerdotalism to the negation of all distinctive rights and privileges of the Priesthood. In listening to such a discussion, the question cannot but present itself to the mind that the Congress would do better to devote itself to plans of work, and to increasing what may be called the adaptability of the Church, than in spending its time on questions which can never be settled to the satisfaction of all parties, and to the healing of all prejudices. The great function of the Priesthood is to win souls to Christ. Let it devote itself to that function, in shirt sleeves, or in gorgeous chasuble, no matter how, but let it do its work. The first speaker was the Rev. W. R. Huntington, of Worcester, Mass, who contended for the pre-eminence of the prophetic as opposed to the priestly office; preaching, he thought, was the great duty of the ministers. He was followed by the Rev. I. D. McConnell, of Philadelphia, who denied the existence of either a a Christian Minister are but those of commandment; to declare and pronounce the absolution and forgiveness of sin.

The Rev. F. Courtney, S. T. D., of Boston, said that there had been but one true Priest, our Lord, that there were but three sacrifices under the New Dispensation, our bodies, rraise and thanksgiving, and alms. For the offering of these the whole people were a royal Priesthood. Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, could not be-lieve in sacerdotalism. The priest was the cen-tral figure of the Old Dispensation, but Christ did away with all priesthood. Even in the Eucharist, the important part was the peoples', not

The last appointed speaker was the Rev. D. H. Greer, of Providence, R. I., who showed how the Church's fundamental idea was worship.

If the Church had nothing but preaching there would be no reason for her existence—nothing to differentiate her from the various other religious bodies. He would go further. He would say, why go to church at all, when one could remain at home and read a better sermon than he could hear at church, when the sermons of a Stanley or a Robertson lie upon our study table? If the Church had nothing more to offer than preach-ing, men had as well read for their edification these masterly productions and save themselves tian ministry rests upon a more secure basis than that of preaching. They were to elevate men to the idea of worship of a supreme God. The age is material, men are educated for gain. The leading thought now is, how much horsepower is found in the forces of life; the prevailing idea of civilization is the facility of getting from one place to another. It is the exalted of-fice of the Christian ministry to redeem the race from this coarse, vulgar, degrading secularism. This will be done, not by preaching alone, but by bringing men into contact with the elevating influences of worship. The speaker wished there was more of worship in the Christian Church, not only Sunday but every day in the week. He would have the doors of our churches opened and thronged with worshippers. The first promise of the ritualist is a good one. So far, the speaker said, he was a ritualist, no further. He thought that man might be taught to worship with his intelligence as well as with a superstitious imagination or an æsthetic taste. The God he would have presented is a God revealed everywhere. The revelation in nature is equal in authority with the Revelation in the Bible. God's dealings with men in all history are as instructive as His dealings with the Jewish race Religion cannot feed on what God did once, but what He is doing to-day, in the living present— only in this way can the breach be healed be tween heart and brain. Man cries out for a God to worship and we give him a God of the past We must give man a living God, a God that appeals to the entire nature of the creature.

At the night session the hall was densely packed, the aisles even were crowded, and it was hard to obtain standing room. The topic was "The Relations of the Colored Race to the Church." The greatest interest was evinced in the various papers which were read and it was noticeable for the first time that several very respectable colored persons of both sexes were seated in the hall. They were no doubt attracted by the topic of discussion, involving as it did the religious welfare of their own race. They listened to each speaker with marked attention and seemed cuttarry impressed with the various views ex-

The Bishop of South Carolina, Dr. Howe, read an able and instructive paper setting forth the difficulties which met the Church in dealing with this problem. He maintained that the existing machinery was insufficient for the work. and opposed a separate jurisdiction for the colored people. He showed that for a generation or two this work is to be essentially missionary, than among the whites. The duty of the Church, then, is to bring them to a knowledge of the Gospel, as this Church hath received the same, to a knowledge of our Faith and Order." He pointed out the difficulties which met the Church in obtaining an educated ministry, and urged that the requirements of existing canons ought to be adapted to these circumstances. He would not lower the standard of an educated ministry so much as adapt to these extraordinary cases. Papers were also read by the Rev. J. E. C. Smedes, of Raleigh, and by the Rev. Henry Dunlap, of Savannah. The latter spoke of the providence of God in putting the race in the currents of the gospel and of civilization, and of the consequent responsibilities thrown upon the Christian Church. The Rev. J. L. Tucker, of Jackson, Miss., was the next speaker. He drew a vivid picture of the immorality of the negro race. They are a people of hypocrisy—uncon scious hypocrites. They would rob a hen-roost on their way from prayer meeting. He knew able preachers among them who were notorious thieves, and who had several living wives. They were not conscious of their monstrous hypocrisy. They had little sense of sin. He said it was hard to say these things, but the Church must know with what she had to deal. Slavery did something to break the heathen traditions of this people. When enfranchised they took a monstrous leap forward into sin. The restraints of slavery were removed, and nothing was left to take its place. Freedom meant for them freedom to indulge themselves in all vice unrestrainedly. Hundreds of thousands of marriages were dissolved in a day and thousands of others were priestly or a prophetic function. The powers of formed without the aid of the Church or State. Live stock disappeared all over the South like magic. The expiration of the time allotted to this speaker had arrived, and he was compelled to leave his picture unfinished. Dr. J. S. Hanckel, of Virginia, was the next speaker. He maintained that in all Church work among the colored people it must be remembered that they are separate and distinct. The Church was for all, indeed, but nationalities must be observed. "You will allow the Chinese or Japanese, or any other people to have distinct churches," he said.

but refuse this privilege to the negro." He spoke of the schools, and said: "I will not underrate them, but you did not accompany schools with the preaching of the Gospel. The children would return from school to heathen homes, where all the influences of the one would be offset by those of the other." He concluded by eloquently advocating separate ecclesiastical jurisdictions under separate suffrage.

The Rev. John Henry Hopkins, D.D., of Pennsylvania, was the next speaker. He said the North were only waiting for the South to decide what to do and they would go forward hand in hand with them to complete the work. Dr. Hopkins' address was received with wild and tumultuous applause.

Dr. W. W. Williams, of Baltimore, said that he must protest, as a Southern man, against the picture of the negro which had been portrayed by Mr. Tucker. He said this people must remember that our women and children were during the absence of our men in war, in the power of the colored race, and were protected and defended by them. We must remember that during these troublous times the negroes cultivated farms and fields while our soldiers were in the trenches around this city. He declared we must equip a colored man's church throughout as the only prospect of bringing the influence of this Church upon them to pay the heavy debt we owed them.

The Rev. Green Shackleford, a missionary to the colored people in Virginia, was the next speaker. He also criticised Mr. Tucker's representation of the negro race, said he could not sit worked among this race and he could testify that the average gratitude, honesty, and true love. and fear of God is a high as among the white

The Rev. C. C. Tiffany, of New York, spoke of the fact that all the speakers and writers on this subject were Southerners, and he understood that those who knew the negro best were to speak concerning his interest, but that if the condition of the colored people was such as had been painted, so much the greater reason why the Church should address itself to this

Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky, then came forward and said he was sure Mr. Tucker had been misunderstood, and declared that no man in the South had done a greater work for the colored man than had Mr. Tucker.

The morning session of the third day we spent in a discussion on the duties and powers of Standing Committees, brought about by the well-known difficulty in Maryland, concerning the rejection of Mr. H. C. Bishop's application for Holy Orders. The speakers generally were in favor of maintaining the powers as at present exercised.

In the evening the subject was the "Inspiration of Holy Scripture." Dr. C. H. Hall, of Brooklyn, the first appointed writer, not being present, opened the discussion. He held that the The Dean is a tall, fine-looking gentleman, of fact that the institution of the Lord's middle age, and possesses an earnest and forcito disprove the theory of a verbal inspiration. in men. For all things are yours; whether Paul, tation was the ignorance of the inspired writers geography and the like. Nebuchadnezzar thought himself to be his own master, acting in obedience to his own impulses in oppressing the people of Israel, but we know that in all this he was but the instrument of the divine Providence. The Rev. James Houghton, of Yonkers, N. Y., read a paper in place of Dr. Hall, who failed to appear. At the conclusion of his remarks the topic was thrown open to volunteer speakers. Among the latter were the Rev. H. Y. Satterlee. of Yonkers, N. Y., the Rev. Cornelius Walker, D. D., professor in the Theological Seminary of the University of Virginia; Dr. Tiffany, of New York; the Rev. R. H. Mason, of West Virginia, and Dr. Huntington, of Worcester, Mass. The latter gentleman proceeded to discuss the relations of the human and divine elements in the composition of the sacred Scriptures. He contended that the whole of the Bible from beginning to end, is inspired. He denied that all apparent errors are really errors, but when such errors were proved, we should stultify ourselves by holding to such a view of inspiration as would compel us to hold the errors.

There was a better attendance than usual at the fourth morning session to hear the discussion of the topic, "Christianity and the Criminal," which afforded a much wider scope for the writers and speakers than any of those under previous consideration, and which also seemed to be regarded with much greater interest by the audience. Bishop Dudley, Assistant of Kentucky, called the Congress to order, and after prayer the hymn "All hail the power of Jesus" Name," was sung, the vocal music being led by Mr. William H. Grant, Jr., Richmond's favorite baritone. When the audience had fairly settled, the business of the session was begun. Two especially prepared papers were read by the Rev. H. C. Potter, D. D., of New York, and Mr. Charles H. Kitchel, of the same city, and be-ed the subject in the broadest and most able manner. The discussion is certain to have a good effect, not only as far as the Church is concerned, but in awakening the public sense to a realization of the causes of crime and also in calling the attention of the civil authorities of the country to the present execrable system of prison management and discipline. The civil as well as the religious aspect of the subject was fully discussed and in some instances the views of the speakers differed widely. One gentleman deplored the wholesale exercise of the pardoning power, while a venerable Bishop applauded its exercise recently by a Western executive. Civil service reform came largely into the discussion, and the system of making prison officials out of low, paltry politicians as a reward for their services, without any other qualification, was severely criticised. A Southern speaker, who made a sensation a few nights before by describing the negroes as barbarians still, remarked that it was sentimentalism to charge crime to society. Another gentleman, from New York, urged that young ladies could do a great deal in reforming criminals, and a learned Bishop contended that the police who arrested criminals. the jurors who bried them, the lawyers and judges who interpreted the laws, were frequently no better than the criminals themselves. All of the speakers and writers were unanimous in their appeals for both civil and religious reform in the prevention of crime and the treatment of still under an arraignment of this people. He criminals. There were frequent humorous and witty remarks by the speakers, who were repeatedly, loudly, and enthusiastically applauded.

> At the afternoon session the Rev. Dr. Potter, of New York, was in the chair.

The Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, in discussing the topic of the "Requirements for Confirmation," said it was not necessary to question a candidate as to how much of Christ he knew, but how much of Christ he possessed, and in proportion to the possession of the life of Christ in the heart and mind so would the other requirements be found in like quantity-obedience, self-control, love. With these, candidates for Confirmation can start out upon their life paths and God in His almighty love will take care of the rest.

The Rev. Dr. Rankin, of Baltimore, was the next writer, and he was followed by Bishop Elliott, of Western Texas. Bishop Whittle, Minnesota, then delivered the valedictory, after he had pronounced the benediction and the singing of the "Gloria in Excelsis," the Congress stood adjourned sine die.

Dean Edwards.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

The Very Rev. Henry T. Edwards, Dean of the Cathedral of Bangor, Wales, who is visiting this country, preached in St. Anne's Church, the Rev. Frederick Gardiner, professor in the Brooklyn, L. I., on the Twentieth Sunday after Berkley Divinity School of Middletown, Conn., Trinity, October 22nd, at morning Service. Supper was recorded in different lan- ble style of delivery. He took his text from guages by the evangelists was enough I Cor., iii., 21-23: "Therefore let no man glory Another limitation upon inspiration was the or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or recognized individuality of the writers, Moses, death, or things present, or things to come; all Paul, Isaiah, and John. A third manifest limiare yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's." He referred to the tendency on the on all such subjects as ethnology, geology, and part of mankind in general, to worship the representative of a principle rather than the principle itself. To regard more the channel of grace, of truth, the study of them may be deemed a than the grace, more the ministry of the Church than the Divine Master was the tendency of an idol loving sentiment. It was as if one paid Madonna is that of St. Anna. There is no menhomage to the magistrate and not to the law tion in the Holy Scriptures of the parents of the itself. The Apostle Paul had taught in all Blessed Virgin; but from the earliest times the his writings and utterances the importance of Church has revered the mother of St. Mary, unlooking to the living Christ. Sight, love, and der the name of Anna. Some of the early wrieverlasting life were conferred by our Lord and ters, among them St. John Damascene, refer to Saviour Jesus Christ, and its spiritual growth the fact that Joachim and Anna were the parents was beautiful for its symmetry. The man who of the Mother of our Lord. In the Catacombs could find God's plan within creation, and who a figure in connection with that of St. Mary is could rise above earthly consideration to an ap- frequently found, leaving no room for doubt as preciation of his Master's goodness, was far to whom it represents. The fact that the legends more the owner of the world than a monarch, of the Eastern Church, and the stories in the base and ignorant. The preacher presented an illustration of a man who permitted avarice to names of Joachim and Anna, and never those of get possession of his innermost thoughts and any others as the parents of Mary, shows that consciousness, and added with much eloquence, such was the unquestioning belief of the primithat such a man might be owner of hoards of tive Church. This ought to be a conclusive money; but his soul was not the owner of it, be- proof, and as such the Church has unhesitatingcause his money was owner of his poor soul. ly accepted it. The soul was only true to itself when it was true to God. By whatever channels of access, the gins with an account of the rejection of Joasoul should seek as one object and aim that rest, chim's offering on the feast day because he was that real enjoyment and happiness eternal which childless. His sorrow was so great that he went were only to be realized in the knowledge of the true and living God.

The LIVING CHURCH has often before now, commented upon the work of St. Anna's Guild. of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, the Rev. Dr. Houghton is the Rector. The garments for the poor as heretofore. An effort has been made to establish a parish fund for the benefit of members, and nearly enough money has been raised to provide for the erecsides there were five speakers, all of whom treat- tion of a new marble altar in the parish church.

The Mother of our Lord.

Written for the Living Church.

Written for the Laving Church.

Mother! whose virgin bosom was uncrost
With the least shade of thought to sin allied!
Woman! above all women glorified;
Our tainted natures solitary boast;
Purer than foam on central ocean tost;
Brighter than eastern skies at daybreak strewn
With fancied roses, than the unblemished moon
Before her wane begins on heaven's blue coast,
Thy Image falls to earth. Let some I ween,
Not unforgiven, the suppliant knee might bend,
As to a visible Power, in which did blend
All that was mix'd and reconciled in thee
Of mother's love with maiden purity,
Of high with low, celestial with terrene.

WORDSWORTH

There has been no subject since the dawn of the Christian era, which has received such a degree of attention from men of the highest genius, as the life and character of the Blessed Virgin. The votaries of Mediæval art endeavored each to portray his own ideal of a perfect woman; to reveal, if possible, to others the image of her whom he loved, venerated and even adored with his whole soul; from the rudest imitations by the devout yet unskilled amateur, to the sublime master pieces of a Raphael or a Michael Angelo, her sad face was the favorite theme. And all poets sang her praise; alike in the simple ballads of an unlearned bard, as in the all but inspired odes of a Dante or a Milton, we find expressed by the medium of thought what others had sought to portray by pencil and brush.

But few instances in the life of the Madonna are referred to in the Scriptures, yet enough can be gathered from these few to give a true picture of the beauty and sublimity of her character. In her we see combined all the graces and virtues which make the perfect women; the trustful humility which characterized her expresses itself in these words: "Behold the hand-maid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word;" the silent yet contemplative cast of mind is manifest from the text: "For Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart.

Of her intellectual power she has left us abundant proof in that sublime hymn the, Magnificat. Little did the humble virgin think that the grateful out-pouring of her heart to God for His great gift, would live on for ages; and that Christians would never find more grand and glorious words in which to offer their praises to Almighty God than those uttered by her inspired voice. What sublimity, what power, and what inspiration there is in the lofty strains:

My soul doth magaify the Lord and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

For He hath regarded the lowliness of His

For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed For He that is mighty hath magnified me: and holy is His Name. And His mercy is on them that fear Him, throughout all generations. He hath showed strength with His arm: He hath scattered the proud in the imaginations of their hearts. He hath put down the mighty from their seat, and hath exalted the humble and meek. He hath filled the hungry with good things,

He remembering His mercy hath holpen His servant Israel, as He promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed forever.

The legends of the Madonna, founded upon early tradition and upon the few Biblical facts of her life, originated mainly in the Eastern Church, and were not known in the Western world until the time of Charlemagne. If these are looked upon as are the legends of any country or nation, merely as airy and fanciful superstructures, seated, however, upon a firm basis beautiful and interesting pursuit. The first in the series of legends upon the Greek Apocryphal gospels, always mention the

The legend of St. Joachim and St. Anna beaway and built himself a hut, where he fasted forty days and forty nights, and said, "Until the Lord look mercifully upon me, prayers shall be my meat and drink." According to the legend, angels appeared to both Joachim and Anna, for she also fasted and prayed, and asthe "Little Church around the corner," of which sured them that their prayers were heard, and that their child should be blessed throughout Guild members have been busy during the past the whole world. They rejoiced greatly at the year, the fifth year of organization, in making birth of their beautiful daughter, whom they named Mary.

After the story of her nativity comes the Presentation; for her parents having dedicated her to God, brought her to the Temple at the age of three. Here she remained until her betrothal to

St. Joseph, which took place when she was fourteen. The legend concerning the choice of her husband is quite fanciful. All the widowers of the people were summoned to appear before the High Priest with their rods or slaves. St. Joseph who was following the trade of a carpenter threw down his axe, and as he presented his wand to the Priest a white dove of great beauty flew from it and resting a moment upon the head of Joseph took its flight to heaven. This was certain proof that he was the one chosen to be the protector of the Blessed Virgin. Another legend related by St. Jerome tells us that the suitors placed their rods in the Temple over night, and that in the morning St. Joseph's was found to have budded.

The next event in the life of St. Mary is the Annunciation; the early commentators generally agree in saying that it must have taken place during the spring-tide just at twilight; and this has ever since been consecrated as the "Ave Maria," and the bell which then summons to prayers is called the Angelus. The place as well as the time of the Annunciation is a subject which has met with but little difference of opinion. One legendary account of the event, as quoted by St. Bernard, says that St. Mary was reading and meditating upon the passage in Isaiah which fortells the Advent of the Messiah; and that at that moment the glorious vision of the angel burst upon her and his salutation fell upon her ear.

After this came those three months of sweet converse between two holy women. On the one hand Elizabeth, far advanced in life, yet with a sacred joy enkindled within her heart; and on the other, the young and beautiful maiden who was destined to become the mother of our Lord. The winged messenger had been sent from God to announce to each the joy in store for her; and now as they sat together day after day they must have recounted the wonderful vision, and searched the Scriptures to find the prophecies which were now to be fulfilled in them. Such a friendship and love as ripened during their intercourse of three months must have lasted through life.

The birth of Christ, the greatest event in the history of the world, is told in the gospel in a simple yet touching manner, and the story though so familiar is ever new and fresh. Many prophecies and legends, pagan as well as Christian cluster around this period. Jeremy Taylor speaks of the prophecy by the Sybil Tiburtina "One of the great and glorious accidents happening about the birth of Jesus."

The Gospel narrative of the Adoration of the Shepherds and of the Magi, the Presentation in the Temple, and the flight into Egypt have been embellished by legends and traditions. It is said that on the way to Egypt, as the Holy Family entered a dense forest, the trees bent their branches to the ground as an acknowledgement of their Infant God; but the aspen glone refused this homage, and then Christ pronounced a curse upon her and instantly she trembled through all her leaves and has done so ever since. Another legend, though considered a one, it is "Keep Thy Church and household doubtful one, relates that they were attacked by two robbers, but that one persuaded the other to leave them unmolested, and the merciful one cared for them in his own cave that night. The Blessed Virgin said to him, "The Lord God will receive thee to His right hand, and grant thee pardon for thy sins." These thieves the tradition says were the same who suffered death with our Lord.

On very good authority, not merely in legends we are told that on the entrance of the Holy Family into Egypt all the idols fell on their faces to the earth. After the return to Nazareth and in the subsequent years of the life of Christ, the life of Mary is inseparable from that of her Son. Although we have no mention of St. Mary's name in Scripture from the wedding at Capa until the scene at the Cross, yet she must, it is believed, have followed Him in His journeys, and ministered unto Him. His first miracle, the turning of water into wine, was performed at her request; and in his answer to her statement that there was no wine, there is no implied harshness, for the term woman in the Greek was one of respect. So, notwithstanding Jesus had not yet reached the time to exercise the power of working miracles, yet He made this exception in order to grant her petition. It is inferred from the sad scene upon the Cross where the last thought of the dying Christ was for the welfare of His mother that St. Joseph must have previously died; his decease is generally supposed to have taken place before the commencement of Christ's public ministry. St. Ambrose of the fourth century alluded to a very old legend then universally believed, that Jesus first appeared to His mother after the Resurrection before He met with Mary Magdelene in the garden. The story relates that on the third day she sat alone in her room and prayed thus: "Thou didst promise, O my most dear Son! that Thou wouldst rise again on the third day. Return Thou to me Thy mother; O my Son tarry not but come."

As she prayed a band of angels bearing palms in their hands, appeared before her and kneeling chanted that joyful hymn, Regina Coeli laetare Alleluia!

Then Christ drew near and with Him the prophet and patriarchs, and He comforted and consoled His mother and bade her not to fear death for He had conquered all things. There is no mention of St. Mary in the Bible after the Crucifixions save in Acts. "These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women and Mary the Mother of Jesus and with his brethren." But the tradi-But the traditions concerning her do not end here. The story of her death, entombment, assumption and the legend of her bequeathing the Holy Girdle to the doubting St. Thomas are familiar to many. Finally, her legendary life closes with the Coronation in the highest heavens; where radiant with starry glories, seated upon a golden throne, and surrounded by seraphs chanting the Virgin's hymn, she meekly bows her head and is crowned Queen of Heaven by her Divine Son.

CAROLINE F. LITTLE. (To be continued)

Calendar.

All Saints. 22d Sunday after Trinity. White. 23d Sunday after Trinity. Green. 19. 24th Sunday after Trinity.

Sunday next before Advent. Green. 30. St. Andrew's Day.

RESURGAM.

Written for the Living Church.

Three thousand 'years within a withered, mummy hand,

The shrivelled skin has grasped a tiny seed, Until, by ruthless force of spoiler's greed, It left the weird worn-out Egyptian land. Again to kindly earth the little germ was cast; Lo! bright and fresh it sought the kindly light, As when it bloomed within Pharaoh's sight, Before his royal feet to gloomy cerements passed. Then murmur not, O soul, by sense oppressed, Though fleshly bonds shall crush thy vital store Through all the three-score years of mortal life, and Changed by the Ruling Hand to a diviner sod, Thou shalt fulfil the end beneath thy limitations guessed.

For, in thine essence, at the last, thou shalt see God! Waterville, N. Y. ADA J. TODD.

Twenty-Second Sunday After Trinity.

Written for the Living Church.

Lord, we beseech Thee to keep Thy household, the Church, in continual godliness; that through Thy protection it may be free from all adversities, and devoutly given to serve Thee in good works, to the glory of Thy Name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Familiam Tuam, quæsumus Domine, continua pietate custode: ut a cunctis adversitatibus, Te protegente, sit libera; et in bonis actibus Tuo Nomini sit devota. Per Dominum nostrum Jesum Christum Filium Tuum (Sac. St. Greg. Sarum and Roman Missals).

It will be seen, that, with slight variations, our Collect is a mere translation of the ancient one. Thus we faithfully garner the sacred treasures of the past, while we sow the field of the present for the harvest of the future. In the translation, we have added to "Thy household," the appositive term, "The Church," thus more closely defining the sense, and improving the rythm. In the latter clause, we have expanded the clause, "may in good works, be devoted to Thy Name," into "may be devoutly given to serve Thee in good works, to the glory of Thy Name." As this adds to its definiteness, keeps the thought concerning the advent of the Son of God, as impressively longer before the mind, and enriches the musical quality of the close, it may justly be regarded as an improvement.

> Opening with the simple form of supplicatory address-"Lord, we beseech Thee"-the Collect goes on, as in the case of some five others, to recognize God as our Keeper. In some, the term, keep, is used in the sense of preserve or defend, as against dangers or evils. Here, and in the Collect for the Fifth Sunday after Epiphany, it is used more as significant of restraining grace as holding the soul to its proper line of duty. In this, the prayer is, "Keep Thy household the Church in continual godliness;" in the former continually in Thy true religion."

The primary thought in the petition, is that of our own spiritual untrustworthiness and insecurity. Through our frailty, we weakly fall into that which is contrary to godliness. Through our presumption, we are led to parley with temptation, until we are overcome of evil, and fall from a true righteousness. Through the perverseness of a yet sinful and only half-converted nature. we may even wilfully depart from true religion Against none of these, are we certain to keep ourselves. Hence, we must be divinely protected against ourselves. The very power, goodness, and grace of Almighty God, must be invoked to preserve us from our own weakness and waywardness. A sad picture this, of our ruined state as fallen and led captive by Satan at his will! A startling picture also, of the constant struggle which even the Powers of the supernatural world must maintain in our behalf, and within ourselves, to keep us from sin and to establish us in righteousness!

In throwing the stress of the petition, on preservation in godliness, rather than ordinary immunity from dangers, perils, adversities and things hurtful, the Collect rises to the highest level of Christian virtue. This is the virtuous soul's higher desire and aim; not mere temporal safety, security, or satisfaction, but rather that which is spiritual, and which is summed up in that calm, firm, vigorous, self-sacrificing goodness which is "continual godliness." Apt and significant is that word, "continual," inasmuch as it represents the soul as not satisfied with either a keeping along the margin of that godliness, or an occasional happening into its highways; but only with that continuance in it; which renders its godliness abiding and perennial.

In accordance with this higher desire and request, we are also to understand the consequent protection which is looked for, to preserve the soul from all adversities. Looking at the singular beauty and worth of that abiding godliness, we cannot but deprecate exposure to those adverse things which make against, and mar, that godliness. Sore indeed may those be which distress the mind or pain the body; but they still are to be held as only "light afflictions," when making it difficult for them to speak and sing. compared with those obstacles which impede the soul's progress in holy things, and cast a cloud over its attainments in holiness. The substance of the petition is really the thought of the versicles-"Make clean our hearts within us," whatever else may be desired; whatever else of blessing may be lost, "Take not Thy Holy Spirit from us.

Whatever want, whatever care, Whatever pain, whatever grief Thou callest me, without relief, In this dark world, to meekly bear; Be tais my wish, be this my prayer, Be this of Thy sweet heaven my share, Dear Lord, that I, through grace may be, In constant goodness, pure like Thee.

That this is a just view of this portion of the Collect, is evident from the clause following-'And devoutly given to serve Thee in good works." All goodness, or godliness, is summed up, not in any fancied independence of the creature, but in his holy subservience; not in any separate following of our own wills in serving ourselves; but only in sweetly serving Him Whose will is the only pure and perfect law. To devoutly, or perhaps more exactly, to devotedly serve Him, is to serve Him, not only with devoutness in feeling, but with absolute devotedness in purpose and action. And this is to sweetly serve Him; for it involves the sweetness of a loving acquiescence to that will; a sweetness of a loyal striving after perfect accordance with that will, the sweetness of a holy trust in the wisdom, power, and goodness of that will. And this includes what the Collect must, as in harmony with others of like character, assure, though it doos not so fully express it, the completeness of the service and the goodness. Unquestioning, impartial, entire; it must embrace all good works; a fulfilling of all righteousness.

The Collect closes with what is both a confession of what is the only highest Christian motive in church; when they have not the snap to keep all out the bottom to the depth of two inches; overrendering to God this undivided godly service, and that depends on them to the mark; when six or about two inches above that draw out threads for a profession of this as our own supreme thought eight vestrymen have not enough to see that sub- an inch and a half, and then run a blue or scarand aim in the practice of continual godliness. Not our good, not our glory, however true or exalted either may be; but only the glory of the of an entire congregation fails to impress them Divine Name. The true soul, as swallowed up with the self-respect sufficient to retain a rector's in the contemplation and love of the Divine Ex- effort by some effort on their part, to give life to cellence, loses all thought of itself, all concern the services and reality to all forms of parochial for what concerns itself. To it, only He from work, then what wonder if the only snap in the Whom all glories are, and to Whom all glory is rector be that of a broken spirit, from which due—only He is the King of glory, the glorious nothing can restore to elasticity and vigor, but a King. In Him is the life of the universe, in His new spirit in his parishioners. exaltation is its glory; in His glory is its blessedness. Hence, with loval self-abandonment and devotion, its foremost thought is such a manifestation of the glory of His Name, as will bring every knee to bow to Him, and every and fun such as Charles Lever used to depict is tongue to confess, with like loyalty and love, that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the ing saying of one of the Dublin police magis-Father. As Thy goodness, O Lord, is in our trates is, however, going the round of Irish sogoodness; so is our glory in Thy glory. Amen.

Bishop Williams, in his Convention Address, 1881, gave the following statistics of Divorces in New England: There were in the year of grace 1878, in Maine, 478 divorces; in New Hampshire, 241; in Vermont, 197; in Massachusetts, 600; in Connecticut, 401; and in Rhode Island, 196; making a total of 2,113, and a larger ratio in proportion to the population than in France in the days of the revolution, though far less than in the city of Paris. On the basis of population by the present census, there was one divorce to every 1,357 inhabitants in Maine; one to every 1,439 in New Hampshire; one to every 1,687 in cries of anguish. Vermont; one to every 2,971 in Massachusetts; one to every 1,553 in Connecticut; and one to every 1,411 in Rhode Island.

I hold these facts to be absolutely appalling, says the Bishop. The condition of things to-day is worse than it was in 1868, 1869, and 1870, when we vainly petitioned the Legislature to do something to stay the plague. Every prophesy of evil that was then made has been fulfilled, and more than fulfilled. The so-called "omnibus clause" was, indeed, swept from the Statute Book in 1878, and the immediate result was a diminution in the number of divorces. This showed what rightly restrictive legislation could accomplish, but I fear it did not attest any great improvement in public opinion or morals. The movement had been steadily in the wong dirrec-

Bad habits are small at the beginning, but they grow to enormous size. It is as difficult to destroy them when fully grown, as it is easy to kill them when "in the egg." A little giving way to a bad temper may end in murder. Little fits of idleness may lead to dissolute habits. How big these little sins may grow we dare not even think. The best way then is to take hold of them, put a check on them while they are young, ask God to give us His grace to overcome them, before they take possession of us, and destroy us. The longer we put off trying to check these evils in our hearts, the harder shall we find it to be. So let us go to work at once, and try to overcome them while they are small, not wait until they are fully grown, when we shall more than likely be overcome by them.

Funerals.

They should not be held on Sunday, unless unavoidable:

Because they are likely to interfere with Church Services or other engagements of the minister, which have been previously made. Because on Sundays many people will attend through idle curiosity, who would be employed in their business on other days. Because Christian people should not cause unnecessary work on the Lord's Day. Funeral Services should always be held in church if possible; Because the family of the deceased can then take their last look at the remains at home without having their parting grief intruded upon by Because those who attend the funeral can be better accommodated in the church than in a private house. There is generally seating room enough in church for all who attend, and they can be so seated as to see and hear all that is going on in the Service. Because in a private house the minister and choir are usually placed in an awkward position, Because, in church, those who attend are more likely to observe a solemnity befitting the occasion. Because our beautiful Burial Service is provided by the Church to be used in the church. Because on such occasions we want all the comfort and peace that the hallowed associations of religion can give. Because we are committing our beloved ones to the merciful keeping of God for Whose worship and praise the church has been set apart. Because by our baptism we became members of the Church, and were thus brought into covepant relations to God, and thereby made members of Christ, children of God, and inheritors of the Kingdom of Heaven.—Christ Church Register, Dagton, Ohio.

MAY IT NOT BE?

Written for the Living Church. May it not be that on th' unchanging shore

That separates Eternity from Time, The pale shades of our lost loves hover close. Hearing the hours pass on with low, sad chime: And that their bliss takes a yet deeper tone. Remembering our days together here, And knowing in their sweet unending rest. Our rest draws near?

Ah, loved and lost! how weary now earth's days! Youth fades away and leaves the burdened heart! May not the prayer of ransomed ones avail To haste the hours that keep our souls apart? Pray thou, then! lest to thy perennial clime, Where life no wrinkle wears and bloom no spot, This time-touched, weary soul might come, and thine Should know her not!

The Orbit thinks that was a good answer which was given to a vestryman who was always expressing his anxiety for "more snap" in his rector's sermons. "Perhaps," he said, "there would it in those whom I serve for Christ's sake." When half the congregation, says the Orbit, have not snap enough to get up betimes on Sunday, and bring themselves and their families to the sides, may be made very pretty by fringing scriptions and pew rents are duly collected and current expenses met, punctually; when the snap Irish wit and humor are, we fear, rapidly becoming things of the past. One seldom nowadays comes across a genuine bull of any kind, almost unknown in the green island. An amusciety, and is worth quoting, if only for its rarity. From the experience which I have gained in the police courts," this gentleman is reported to add sugar to suit your taste, three well beaten have said, "I would advise people not to get married at all, particularly females, for in the number of assault cases between married people which have come before me, I have only had one case in which a wife was charged with assault upon her husband." In other words, as one of the Dublin journal observes, men may get marreported to have declared that so long as Ireland remained silent England remained deaf to her and thick shoes clothe the lower limbs.

"Allow me to speak with you a moment on a matter of business." "What do you want?" asked the banker, gruffly." "There is money in it for both of us. If you don't care to accept my proposition, there are other bankers in Austin who will be glad to do so." "Proceed." "Well, you see I have been contemplating suicide. I've been thinking of throwing myself into the Colorado River. If I do, a subscription will be raised for my destitute family. You will be called on to contribute. You know these ladies who go about collecting money for the destitute. They will not let you off under fifty dollars. You will pay that much to be left alone. You can't put them off like you can me." "Well, proceed. I know all that." "My proposition is this: I will give up all suicidal ideas. You will not have to pay the fifty dollars for my distressed family. Thanks to me, you make one hundred per cent on the in- like the shawls for ladies. vestment without having to do anything." "Well, what next?" "What next! I want my ten per cent. commission, of course, which is just five dollars. That's what next."-Texas Siftings.

Your car window holds women in utter contempt. It will yield only to the persuasive force of manly muscles. It is to be hoped that when woman gets her rights, car windows shall at last for a busy child is a happy child, and if you have acknowledge her enfranchisement, and cease to constantly and perpetually remind her, as they do now, that she is the weaker vessel. It would the sexes were not the vogue. If it were otherwise, the dear creatures might suffocate before relief came to them.—Boston Transcript.

Two countrymen from Onion Creek came to an Austin lawyer to consult about bringing a joint suit against a neighbor. The first granger began to tell the lawyer the cause of the trouble, any lies, Bill," interrupted the other. "It is his business to put in the lies. You will get him confused if you go to mixing your lies with his." -Texas Siftings.

Lady Havelock, who recently died at the age of seventy-three, had shared in no common degree in the anxieties and excitement which fell to the lot of her husband, the hero of Lucknow. She was married to him in 1829 at Serampore, where Henry Havelock had made her acquaintance when on a visit to her father, the Rev. Dr. Marshman, one of the most celebrated of the Serampore missionaries.

The New Zealanders imported rabbits some years ago to aid them in getting rid of a nuisance in the fields, but before long the rabbits become a still greater nuisance. They have now been turned into ministers of good by a canning com-

"I declare," exclaimed Brown, "I never saw such a time as you have with servant girls. I don't believe you will ever be satisfied till you can have one made to order." "Nonsense, Brown," said Mrs. B., "I shall be satisfied when I find one ready maid.—Boston Transcript.

The Household.

When once asked by a friend, "How do you manage your children?" Lucretia Mott replied "I never touch them with my hand when they have committed a wrong action, but tell them to go into a room by themselves, and after reflection, tell me what they think of it."

Corn bread can be made without eggs, though two eggs added to the quantity of batter mentioned here improves it very much: Two cups of corn meal, sifted; one cup of flour; two cups of sweet milk; two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; one heaping one of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of baking powder.

We cannot afford to treat those who are dear to us as if they were culprits, whose weaknesses we had some speci l commission to punish. What if they do deserve this or that retribution, shall we be happier for having inflicted it? When the day comes, on which the eyes we love are blind to all sights, the ears deal to all sounds, and the tor's sermons. "Perhaps," he said, "there would lips from which we would crave a late pardon be a little more snap in me if there was more of have been the sword of justice to this dead, who

Aprons made of brown linen of the proper width so that the selvage needs no hemming at cast the edge wher, the ravelling ceases, then let ribbon through the threads that are left, making blocks of the ribbon and thread alternately. Above and below this a row of feather stitching is added, and a row on the band and sides also; the pocket trimmed to match is put on at the right side

Cucumber pickles that are so hard that their name, "Flint pickles," is no misnomer, are made by first preparing a brine of one teacupful salt to an ordinary water pail full of water; heat this to the boiling point, and pour over the cucumbers, which you have first wiped with a cloth. For nine mornings this operation is to be repeated, the brine to be made fresh three times. Then prepare the vinegar with spices and sugar, horseradish root and mustard-seed to suit the taste. Heat this boiling hot and pour over them; repeat this for three mornings, using the same vinegar, of course; then put away in jars, with horse-radish or grape leaves over the top.

A prune pudding may be something new to some one. Heat a little more than a pint of sweet milk to the boiling point, then stir in gradually a little cold milk in which you have rubbed smooth a heaping tablespoonful of corn-starch; eggs, about a teaspoonful of butter, and a little grated nutmeg. Let this come to a boil, then pour it in a buttered pudding dish, first adding a cupful of stewed prunes, with the stones taken out. Bake for from fifteen to twenty minutes, according to the state of the oven. Serve with or without sauce. A little cream improves it if poured ower it when placed in saucers.

It s a problem with some mothers how to ried if they choose, but women should remain dress the boys warm enough without making their unwedded. One of the Irish members is also clothing burdensome to them. All children now are supposed to wear knit wrappers and drawers; then long stockings of the heavier grades of yarn, boys from five to eight or nine it is a good plan to utilize their outgrown blouses of flannel. out the pleats, and make plain shirt waists; at the side seams the buttons which hold their stocking supporters can be securely fastened. Additional buttons can be put on at the back and front, and the knit drawers be buttoned to this waist. With a coat of ordinary thickness closed to the throat, the chest will be sufficiently protected.

Although babies being warmly dressed in knit shirts and flannel waistbands do not need much outside wrapping in the house, it is safe to have a blanket or two to put around them when they are to be carried from one room to another, where the temperature is likely to be different and cooler. Very simple and pretty blankets are made of the pink and blue fancy flannels, with the edges pinked, and a little border of daisies worked on them, or button-hole the edge, and put a border of soft Breton lace around it; full it a little. Or a pretty border crocheted with Saxony or split zephyr, is easily done and very eftive. Also, very soft and warm blank of split zephyr or Saxony yarn, in shell-stitch

AMUSE THE CHILDREN.—To provide for their material wants is not all sufficient. Give the children something pleasant to do or to think about, a block house to build, a puzzle to put together, paper to cut, bubbles, a stick to whittle, a picture to paint or look at, a scrap-book to arrange, a top to spin, dough to make into cakes to bake for themselves, a little broom to sweep the doorsteps, a wheelbarrow and a little shovel to dig sand, anything to keep them busy, and happy, rightly managed his employments, a good child. It is not a waste of time for parents to stop their work long enough to pet a child, to tell him a story, or play a rolicking game. When parents go hard with the women folk if co-travelling of take time from worldly thoughts and plans to cultivate a sympathetic friendship with their children and each other, they are doing a good work, and sowing seed that will spring up and bear abundant fruit.

ROSE LEAF BORDER.—Where deep edgings are required an exceedingly pretty effect may be produced by the use of the rose-leaf border, which is worked as follows: Cast on 29 stitches. First row-Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit two together, knit 1, over, knit 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, knit embellishing it rather liberally. "Don't tell him 2 together, knit 1, over, purl 1, over, knit 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, purl 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, make 2, knit 2, Second row—Slip 1, knit 2, purl 1, knit 2, over, knit 2 together, purl 4, knit 1, purl 3, knit 1, purl 3. knit 1, purl 6, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Third row—Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, purl 2 together, knit 1, purl 1, knit 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, purl 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 4. Forth row-Slip 1, knit 5, over, knit 2 together, purl 4, knit 1. purl 2, knit 1, purl 2, knit 1, purl 6, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Fifth row—Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 1, over, knit 1 together, purl 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, knit 2 together, purl 1, knit 2 together, over, knit 1, over, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, make 2. knit 2 together, make 2, knit 2. Sixth row—Slip 1, knit 2, purl 1, knit 2, purl 1, knit 2, over, knit 2 together, purl 5, knit 1, purl 1, knit 1, purl 1, knit 1, purl 7, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Seventh row-Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 3, over, knit 3 together. purl 1, knit 3 together, over, knit 3, over, knit 3 turned into ministers of good by a canning company that have caught, skinned, cooked and sent off 5. knit 3, over, knit 2 together, purl 7, knit 1, to England some fifty tons of the little rodents. purl 9, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Ninth row -Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, knit 1, over, knit 5, over, knit 3 together, over, knit 5, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Tenth row—Slip 1, knit 3, over, knit 2 together, purl 19, over, knit 2 together, knit 2. Repeat from first row. The last stitch in each row should be a twist stitch. This pattern is rather difficult and one accustomed to knitting will feel repaid for

How Meg Learned to be Content.

She was "Margaret" at school, when the roll was called; and when the minister talked to her, with a grave, kind interest, which pleased while it frightened her; but "Meg" from father and mother, and the four brothers, at once her torment and pride. She was thirteen years old, plump and pretty, with brown hair and blue eyes; "happy as a bird," most of the time. "But lately something is the matter with Meg,' said her mother, with an anxious look on her dear face; "I can hardly get her to practice, her books are neglected, and yesterday when I suggested that she spend the day with the Blake girls, she said mournfully, 'I've nothing fit to wear there.' This morning when I asked her to put the boys' room in order she went up stairs saying something about 'wasting her time on them,' and afterward my request that she to her.' make a pudding for dinner was met with a flood of tears. What can be the matter?" All this to Meg's tather while he rested in the shady sitting-room, before going down town for the afternoon.

"I should say the Giaut Discontent had taken possession of her," replied Mr. French; "those Blake girls are pretty wealthy and stylish, aren't they? Possibly Meg thinks she is having a hard time in contrast."

"I should not wonder if you were right," answered Mrs. French. "I hope it won't last long, she has usually been so sensible and helpful;" and she went on sorting stockings from the basket by her side.

"Mary and Ella Blake have no mother," said Mr. French, as he bent to kiss his wife, "Meg ought to let that more than balance their fine clothes, and fashionable way of living. But don't worry, dear, she will wake up some day," and he passed out, through the sunny yard, into the street.

"Meg, dear," called Mrs. French from the hall, a half an hour after, "will you come down?'

"Yes, mamma," and slowly down the stairs came Meg, "so pretty," you would have said, in her light muslin, and her brown hair tied back with blue ribbons; but she looked very sober, as she entered the sitting-room and asked in a listless way, "What do you wish, mamma?"

"Only your help about this great pile of stockings, dear," answered her mother. "I have a hard headache and can hardly see the holes."

faintly; "how can those boys wear out stockings so?" the smile dying away as she threaded her needle.

After a few moments' silence, during which Meg sighed as she measured the hole in Ned's stocking, Mrs. French laid down her work, and said, wearily, "I cannot sit up a moment longer. Can you finish them, Meg?"

What naughty spirit kept Meg from springing to her mother's side to help her to her room, and from assuring her that she would finish them cheerfully? Can any to sleep that night. All her discontent of my girl friends tell? She only answered coldly, "Yes, ma'm, I suppose so," and and it was late before her tired, tearful let her mother pass slowly out of the room. eyes closed to sleep. Thus began a sad, She did not see her uncertain steps, for she weary and long fight with the fever. Meg which found relief in words as soon as she in order, caring for the boys who came to was alone. "If this isn't too bad! Why her with their troubles and joys, relieving couldn't mamma wait till to-morrow to mend these? I did want to go to the park this afternoon. Mary and Ella are to be there. I think my dress is as pretty as theirs if it isn't covered with lace. Oh, those horrid boys!" as another dive into the basket brought up a second much-worn pair of stockings, and Meg frowned and pouted till you would hardly have known her sweet face.

Just then, with a merry shout, a tall, bright boy dashed into the room, and with a glance at Meg exclaimed:

"Gracious! it's going to storm! I see the thunder cloud. Where shall I fly for safety?" and perching on the back of the sofa, he asked, "Miss Margaret French, why is your lovely face so sad? Confide in me! Can't you do your hair a la Blake, or what's the trouble?'

"Ned, I should think you would be ashamed to talk so," replied Meg, "especially when I'm working for you," holding up the offending stocking.

"I admit that's a big hole," assented Ned, tossing his cap in the air, "but I presume I made it trotting round for you and your young lady friends. Say, Meg, I made some poetry this morning, listen," and he "struck an attitude," with his cap under his arm, and began:

> "My dear Miss Blake My heart you break. 'Tis you I love, I'll never rove.

shall not make fun of my friends. You are she had taken her last lesson from her genthe most disagreeable boy I ever saw, and the teacher drove all others from her mind, I do wish you would go away."

"Guess I will," he answered, swinging times. down on to the floor, "you're not extragood company to day. Obliged to you all ness and suspense, the dear life was declared the same for toiling for me," and he sprang out of danger, and great thanksgiving and over a chair on his way to the veranda, praise went up from the hearts of father pausing in a very spirited rendering of and children. "We Sail the Ocean Blue," to ask, "where's mother?" caution him before.

"Mother sick! Bless her dear little toward her room. "Iwouldn't have made she knelt down at bed-time to thank God St. John's School. any more noise than a kitten. You ought for taking care of her during the night. to have told me, Meg French," and he Then in her prayer she got to the place closed the bed-room door carefully behind

Then Meg eomplained again audibly. "Four o'clock! Dear! I'll never get through. Five more pairs, and I did want to go so much," and down went the basket, and down came a torrent of tears from and then told her to go on. The little gir Meg's blue eyes. In the midst of her outburst Tom came in, saying excitedly:

"Meg, I think mother's very sick. Her head's awful hot, and when I kissed her, and asked her what was the matter, she only moaned, and I'm scared about her, and am going after father. You'd better displeasing to God that we should rememstop your crying, and go in there and tend

He was out the gate in an instant, and Meg, her ill-humor lost in alarm, went quickly to her mother's side.

"Mamma?" she called softly, "Mamma, are you sick? But for the first time in her remembrance her mother gave no answer to her call, but lay moaning, her face white and drawn with pain. Meg was tempted to throw herself beside her and cry out all her anxiety and sorrow, but instead brought cool water, and tenderly bathed the burning forehead and hands, gently smoothing back the long hair which fell over the pillow. Her tears fell fast now, for she knew her mother was unconscious, and Meg thought wofully, "what if she never speaks to me again, and I was so cross this afternoon? Did she make herself sick sewing on my dress, and I didn't want to help her darn stockings a little while? Oh, mamma, forgive me!" and poor Meg fell on her knees by the bed, kissing the hot hands. At this moment Mr. French and the doctor entered; the latter sat down by the bed, and Mr. French whispered to Meg, "Ned has gone for Aunt Alice; don't be frightened, Meg, you must be mother to the little boys," and hearing their voices in the hall, he motioned her away. She went out to them, telling them quietly that mamma was sick, but she would read "Robinson Crusoe" to them on the hammock, and perhaps she would soon be well. The doctor told them before long that the dear, loving mother had typhoid fever, that it must have been some days in coming on, as the fever was already very high, and he feared the worst. Ned flew up to his room "I shouldn't think you'd have any trouble in seeing them," laughed Meg, for hours, when he appeared in slippers and gown, saying he should sleep on the the lounge by the bedroom door, and "there weren't men enough in town to hinder." Will, who was two years younger than Meg, and Frank and Philip, the nine-yearold twins, mother's "bonnie bairns," with many tears and anxious questions, went softly up to bed, each trying to be the quieter, for their room was directly over "her's," and she started at the slightest sound. Meg thought she never could go and fretfulness came vividly to her mind, was too intent on her own selfish thoughts, was busy day times with keeping the house Martha of some duties, like putting away clean clothes, setting the table, and best of all, comforting her father as well as any one could. The piano must be closed now, and oh! how Meg longed for the happy time to come, if it ever did, when she could again sit down and play to her mother, or, better yet, with her. The "boys' den" was vacated, for try as they might, and did, they could not move so quietly but the poor head below was pained; and Meg prayed for the day to come when she could put in order once more the full, funny place which she called a "curiosity shop." Mary and Ella Blake rode over often to inquire "How is Mrs. French today?" and sometimes Meg would ride a little with them, never once noticing what they wore, or realizing that sometimes she did not look her "best." To her great delight, the doctor gave into her hands-"careful little hands,' he called them—the responsibility of preparing the beef-tea, wine jelly, and other strengthening dainties he prescribed. How insignificant and useless everything seemed in comparison with her mother's life! "Give me this, dear Lord," she prayed day after day 'and mine shall be yours." How she resolved to be patient, helpful, loving and unselfish! How she determined to do all, and ten times more than she had ever done, to relieve her mother. She took down her French grammar and tried to conjugate a new verb, to surprise her when "Stop, Ned!" interrupted Meg, "you she got well, but the thought that perhaps

From that day, Meg French loved first and best her home and the dear ones in it; "Gone to bed with a headache," replied while content and unselfishness made her Meg. "I presume your racket has helped sweer face more lovely, and her life a her," though she had not once thought to blessing to all.—Jeanie Dickinson in N. Y. Tribune.

There was once a little girl who had lost neart," exclaimed Ned, stepping softly her father. The night after her father died where she was in the habit of asking God to bless her father. But she now stopped; her little hands were unclasped, and with a sad heart she looked at her mother and said, "I cannot pray for father any more." The mother waited for some moments. then, with a voice that faltered, said, "O my mother, I cannot leave him all out. I will say, thank God that I had a dear father once; so I can still go on and keep him in my prayers;" and so she does whenever she kneels down to pray. It cannot be ber our dear departed in our prayers.

"¡Brown's Bronchial Troches are excellent for the relief of Hoarseness or Sore throat. They are exceedingly effective."—Christian World, London, England.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother to the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E.54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

Messrs, J. C. Ayer & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor, affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhai cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose, After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, Intil it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully,

Z. P. Wilds.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
Cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists; price $1, six bottles for $5.

A VER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. A YER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistake'y the estimation in which they are h'd by the medical profession.

These PILLS are, compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calculations of the sufference of the serious control of the serious control of any other injustions ingredients.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLs are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.

Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1862.

The Rev. Francis B. Harlowe, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking Ayer's PILLs. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell. Mass.

Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

AYER'S

Contains and antidote for all malarial disorders which, so far as known, is used in no other remedy. It contains no Quinine, nor any mineral nor deleterious substance whatever, and consequently produces no injurious effect upon the constitution, but leaves the system as healthy as it was before the attack.

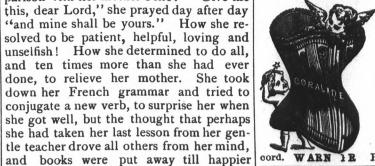

WE WARRANT AYER'S AGUE CURE to cure every case of Fever and Ague, Intermittent or Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Bilious Fever, and Liver Complaint caused by malaria. In case of failure, after due trial, dealers are authorized by our original by our origin In case of failure, after due trial, dealers are authorised by our circular, dated July 1, 1882, to refund the money.

Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

HORLICK'S FOOD

The best article of diet for INFANTS and INVA-IDS, endorsed by all leading physicians, requires no cooking, and is the best substitute for Tea, Coffee, Cocoa, etc. The most delicate stomach will retain it. For sale by Druggists. Pamphlet sent free on application to J. & W. HORLICK & CO., Racine, Wis.

WARNER BROTHERS CORALINE CORSETS.

The great superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has induced us to use it in all our leading Corsets.

**S10 REWARD**
will be paid for any corset in which the Coraline breaks with six months ordinary wear.

Price by mail, W. B. (coutill), $2.50; Abdominal, $1.50; Health or nursing, $1.50; Caroline or Flexible Hip, $1.25; Misses', $1.00.

For sale by leading merchants. Beware of worth-less intrations housed with WARN 1R I, 141 Wabash Ave. Chicago

MENEELY BELL FOUNDRY. Favorably known to the public since 1826. Church, Chapel, School, Fire Alarm and other bells; also Chimes and Peals MENEELY & CO., WEST TROY, M. Y.

CLINTON H. MENEELY BELL CO. SUCCESSORS TO MENEELY & KIMBERLY,

FOUNDERS

TROY, N. Y. Manufacture a superior quality of BELLS. becial attention given to CHURCH BELLS. Catalogues sent free to parties needing by SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

Founded by the Rev. Theodore Irving. Tenth year—Oct. 1882—21 and 23 West 32nd St. New York City, between Broadway and Fifth Avenue. Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. Address Mrs. THEODORE IRVING.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

Sing Sing, N. Y.

Rev. J. Breckenridge Gibson, D. D. The next School Year will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 12th, 1882.

CHRIST CHURCH SEMINARY, Lexington, Ky.

Rev. Thos. A. Tidball, D.D., Rector. A boarding and day school for girls. Particular attention given to the cultivation of graceful and elegant manners, in addition to thorough and careful intellectual training. Special experience in the care of motherless and orphan girls, The Christmas term of the seventeenth year begins Sept. 11th, 1882. For circulars apply to MISS HELEN L. TOTTEN, Prin. 193-13

ST. MARY'S HALL,

Faribault, Minn.

Rt. Rev. H. B. Whipple, D. D., Rector. Miss E. A. Rice, Principal. Is under the personal supervision of the Bishop with eleven experienced teachers. It offers superior advantages for education, with an invigorating and healthy climate. The seventeenth year will begin September 14th, 1882. For Registers with full details, address Bishop Whipple, or the Rev. Geo. B. Whipple, Chaplain.

THE HANNAH MORE ACADEMY,

Reisterstown, Md

The Diocesan School for Girls, 15 miles N. W. from Baltimore. Noted for healthfulnes, careful training, thorough instructions and the influences of a Christian Home. The next term will begin Sept. 20. REV. ARTHUR J. RICH, A. M., M. D. 194-13

ST. AGNES' SCHOOL,

717 W. Monroe St., Chicago. Will commence its seventh year, Wednesday, Sept

St. Agnes School has been so fortunate as to secure St. Agnes School has been so fortunate as to secure as assistant teacher in the higher departments, Miss Virginia Sayre, who is so favorably known from her long and successful connection with the Public Schools of this City. Arrangements will also be made to accomodate many more pupils than formerly. The Primary department will still be under the care of Miss Shipman. 189-52.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL,

Knoxville, Illinois. A CHURCH SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

FOUNDED, A. D. 1868.

This Institution continues in charge of the same Rector, Vice Principal, and Matron who founded it-Reference to past and present Patrons in nearly every city of the West, Send for a Register.

C. W. LEFFINGWELL. Rector.

Nashotah House.

Candidates for Priest's Orders prepared for ordination. Annual term opens Feast of St. Michael and All Angels, Sept. 29th, 1882.

Rev. A. D. COLE, D. D., President.

Nashotah Mission, Waukesha county, Wis.

A CHURCH CLERGYMAN

An A. M., fourteen years a teacher, will receive into his family a limited number of boys to be educated. The advantages of a private tutor with school discipline, country location away from victious influences. House large, grounds fifteen acres. Climate mild. No malaria. Elevation 400 feet above the sea. School opens Sept. 13th. Terms $350. Address Rector, Office Living Church.

ST. GABRIEL'S SCHOOL, Peckskill, N. Y.

A BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

For terms, etc., address (as above) Opens Sept. 21st. THE MOTHER SUPERIOR, SISTERS OF ST. MARY.

THE MOTHER SUPERIOR, SISTERS OF ST. MARY.

It is distant from New York about forty-one miles, situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and having a view of the Hudson River, the Highlands and the country for miles around.

The grounds comprise about thirty acres, a part of which is covered with woods, and has many charming walks. The position is remarkably healthy, retired and favorable for both physical and intellectual development.

KEMPER HALL,

A Boarding School for Girls under the charge of

THE SISTERS OF ST. MARY. For terms &c., address THE SISTER IN CHARGE.

EPISCOPAL ACADEMY OF CONN.

The Rev. S. J. HORTON, D. D., Principal.

Assisted by five resident teachers. Boarding School for Boys with Military Drill..
Terms $400 per annum.
Special terms to sons of the clergy.
Three sessions in the year. Next term will begin Sept. 11th, 1882. For circulars address the Principal, Chaphire Connecticut Cheshire, Connecticut.

MADEMOISELLE DE JANON'S,

(Successor and former partner of the late Miss Haines). French and English Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and children. 10 Gramarcy Park, New York. Will re-open Sept. 28th, 1882. Careful training and thorough instruction in every department. French conversation class, under the charge of Mme. Alliot Boymier. Boys class Oct. 2.

De Veaux College,

Suspension Bridge, Niagara Co., N. Y FITTIMG-SCHOOL for the Universities, West Point, Annapolis, or business. Charges, $500 a year. No extras. Competitive examinations for scholarships at the beginning of College Year, first Wednesday in September; applications for the same to be filed ten days previously.

WILFRED H. MUNRO, A. M., President.

VERMONT EPISCOPAL INSTITUTE,

Burlington, Vt.

The Rt. Rev. W. H. A. Bissell, Rector-in-chief family boarding behool for boys from ten to twenty years of age. Location unsurpassed. Thorough preparation for college or business. Daily military drill. Twenty-third school year opens August 31, 1832. For catalogue, address 191-17. H. H. ROSS, A. M., Principal.

St. Margaret's Diocesan

School for Girls, Waterbury, Conn School for Girls,

The sixth year will open (D. V.) on Wednesday,
Sept. 18, 1882. Instrumental music under charge of
J. Baier, Jr., a private pupil of Plaidy, of Leipsic Conservatory. French and German taught by native teachers. The Rev. FRANCIS T. RUSSELL, M.A.,

Rector

Miss Mary E. Stevens

Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies. W Chelton Ave., below Wayne, Germantown, Pa. Au tumn session will begin Sept. 14th 1882.

MISS J. F. WREAKS, 52 E. 77th St., N. Y., French and English Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children, will commence Sept. 27. Careful training and thorough ins ruction in every department. Kindergarten Class commences Oct. 10. [202-13

A thoroughly French and English Home School for 15 Girls. Under the charge of Mme. Henriette Clerc, late of St. Agnes' School, Albany, N. Y., and Miss Marion L. Pecke, a graduate and teacher of St. Agnes' School. French is warranted to be spoken in two years. Terms, $300 a year. Addres Mme. H. CLERC, 4114 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

Brandywine Springs. Faulkland, New Castle Co., Delaware.

Rev. Fredrick Thompson, M. A., Rector, assisted by three resident masters. School re-opens Sept. 13. Boys prepared for college or business. Climate Mild. On an elevation of 400 feet above the sea, no malaria. Easy of access by rail from all parts of the country. Number limited to thirty-five. Term $350 for School Year. For admission address the Rector.

CATHEDRAL GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

Pekin, Ill

A Boarding School for Boys. $300 per Annum. seven teachers. Send for Catalogue. 191-11 The Rev. GEO. W. WEST, M. A., Rector.

Stamford, Conn.

MISS ISABELLA WHITE'S School for Young Ladies, will open (D.V.) Sept. 20, until Sept. 1. Address MISS WHITE, at Butler, Pa.

Connecticut, Stamford. MRS. RICHARDSON'S English, French, and derman Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies re-opens September 23.

Golden Hill Seminary for Young Ladies,

Bridgeport, Conn.

For Circular, address Miss EMILY NELSON, Prin

SEASIDE HOME AND SCHOOL

For Young Ladies and Children, Asbury Park, N.J. Fourth year opens September 14th, 1881. Boarding and tuition $200 per year.
Address Miss JULIA ROSS, Principal.

ST. GEORGE'S HALL, an unsurpassed Boarding School for Boys and Young Men. Reisterstown, Balto Co., Maryland. Prepares for the Universities and Colleges, or Business. $275 a year. Prof. J. C. Kinear A. M. Prin. Circulars with references sent.

ST. JOHN BAPTIST SCHOOL.

233 East 17th St., New York. Under the charge of the Sisters of St. John Baptist. Address the MOTHER SUPERIOR, as above. ECCLESIASTICAL EMBROIDERY

Address: Church Workroom, 283 East 17th street.

ST. HILDA'S SCHOOL,

Morristown, N. J.

A Boarding School for girls. Under the charge of the Sisters of St. John Baptist. For terms, etc., ad-dress THE SISTER IN CHARGE.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL,

8 East 46th Street, New York. The Sisters of St. Mary will reopen their school on Thursday, September 21st, 1882. Address the SISTER SUPERIOR as above.

YOUNG MENWill not only save money, but valuable time in the future by attending the Grand Rapids (Michigan) BUSINESS COLLEGE, where they will receive a thorough, quickening, PR ACTICAL education. Send for College Journal. We recommend a Western education to Eastern and Southern Young Men.

Gannett Institute FOR YOUNG LADIES

Boston, Mass. The 29th year will begin Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1882. For catalogue and circular, apply to Rev. Geo. Gannett, A. M., Principal, 69 Chester Sq., Boston, Mass.

Auburndale, Mass.
Boston advantages with delightful suburban home.
Special care of health, manners and morals of growing girls. Good board. Teaches cooking and like household arts. To secure place apply early. Address

C. C. BRAGDON, Principal.

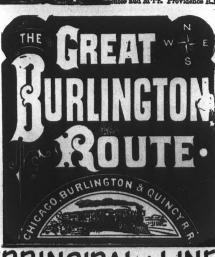

The most popular and satisfactory Corset as regards Health, Comfort and Ele-gance of Form," be sure MADAME FOY'S IMPROVED

CORSET SKIRT SUPPORTER. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress. For sale by al.

FOY, HARMON & CO. New Haven Conn

And all BEST line to St. Joseph, points in Iowa, Atchison, Topeka, Deni-Nebraska, Missouri, Kan-sas, New Mexico, Arizona, Mon-yestom Texas, The SHORTEST, QUICKEST and HICAGO

This Route has no superior for Albers
Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul.
Nationally reputed as being the Great in the World for Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul.
Nationally reputed as being the Great for Through Car Universally conceded to be the best equipped Railroad in the World for all classes of travel.

KANSAS CITY All connections made

In Union Try 36 Through Tickets via this luxury, instead sale at all offices in of a disthe U.S. and etc., cheerfully given by T. J. POTTER.

PERCEVAL LOWELL, ger, Gen. Pass. Agr., Chicago, III.

The Living Church.

November 4, A. D. 1882.

C. W. LEFFINGWELL, D. D. 162 Washington Street, Chicago

The Fifth Year.

The attention of subscribers is asked to the announcement that hereafter the rule of this Journal will be to continue all subscriptions until they are ordered discontinued. Subscribers wishing the paper stopped must give notice and pay all arrearages. The price of subscription is $2.50 a year; to the Clergy, $2.00. Any one forwarding the name of a new subscriber may retain fifty cents as commission. No reduction can be made for renewals. Orders for the LIVING CHURCH Annual should be sent to E. & J. B. Young & Co., Cooper Union, New York, and not to this office. The folded Calendar for the chancel may be had at this office if desired.

How Know?

"How can I know that I am a Chrisan?" Do you believe the Christian Faith -the universal Creed of Christendom? Have you been baptized? Are you as a communing member of Christ's Church, trying to live a godly and Christian life? The Saviour said: "Except ye be converted and become as little children ye shall not enter into the Kingdom of heaven;' "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God; " "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; " "Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink His blood ye have no life in you; " "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees ye heaven;" "If ye love Me keep My commandments;" "If ye know these things happy are ye if ye do them."

But one answers: "Of course I know all that but it does not meet my case. I want to know that I am a Christian. Can I not have an inward assurance that I am, a witness to it that I can feel and sense? That I could trust and be satisfied." Could you? How do you know you could? Suppose you had some such assurance. know that it was of God? Might it not possibly reduce the price. possibly be of Satan? You have been told that assurance is an inward feeling sent of Very few of our subscribers have made Believe God; trust Him and rest in the sure word of His promise. But you want are trying to do that you ought to fear and of the probable outcome, we cannot say. tremble too. Manifestly it is folly for a man to trust to his feelings and fancies; to think that he is all right with God, because lawful and right he shall save his soul alive." save it at all, no matter what inward feelings he may have had.

young readers it cannot refrain from letting the fact be known. It is something to be noted, the passage of a year, and we all like to receive the congratulations of friends. The LIVING CHURCH is grateful for the many kind expressions of interest, appreciation, and criticism that have been offered during the year past, and for the continued and cordial support it has received. God willing it will go on to represent the life, the thought, and the work of the Church, to the best of its ability, hoping to deserve the confidence and regard of all Churchmen.

The work that the LIVING CHURCH is trying to do is not polemical. We cannot better illustrate our aim than by pointing to our Series of Tracts now meeting with a large sale. These are all taken from our tion of the people. They treat of the from evil. fundamental principles of our Holy Faith and Apostolic Order. They are such teachings as every pastor desires to place before his people.

On this line the LIVING CHURCH proposes to go forward. Such will be the tendency of its teachings. It must notice the issues of the day, and give space for the discussion of questions that agitate the minds of thoughtful and loyal Churchmen. Such questions must have a hearing. But these are side issues. The main point is the instruction of our people in Church principles and the awakening of their zeal in Church work. To this the LIVING CHURCH shall be devoted, and all that tends to this shall have the first place in its

A friend enquires why we do not keep the paper small and keep the price down. "We don't want so much paper." Very true, but the part that you do not want somebody else does want. A newspaper shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of cannot confine its news to the particular items and subjects that interest you and your family. There are several thousand families which the LIVING CHURCH visits every week, and some of them reside as far, lifts up as its chief inspiration the constant apart as the two oceans. It is not a local organ, or a clerical journal, or a Sundayschool paper, but a general family and parish newspaper, and it has a large constituency to serve with news and instruction and entertainment. No, dear friend, we can't make it a line smaller. Give us Why should you trust it? How would you twenty thousand subscribers and we may

God as proof of His acceptance and that any objection to the slight advance in without it you can have no certainty of price recently announced. Probably none acceptance. You have been told this, but of them desire to receive the paper for less by what authority? By none at all. Cer- than the cost of publication. The LIVING tainly by no Scripture authority. It is Church was started at $3.00 a year; it is simply an invention of men and a very silly now offered at $2.50, and contains about one at that. The only reasonable assur- twice as much reading matter, by type ance that a believer can have is the pledged measure, as it did at the former price. word of his Saviour. That you can trust. Experiment has proved that even with a It is enough. It is the only thing you ought good circulation it cannot be published at to trust. Would you sooner trust your $2.00 a year. Expenses increase faster than variable feelings than the sure word of God? the revenue at this rate of charge, and Is it not said expressly that "He that while prices for material and labor are so trusteth his own heart is a fool." But this high the rate cannot be made less than is precisely what you want to trust. It is $2.50. No further enlargement of the folly and madness. See that you do it not. paper or increase of price need be expected.

It is told us on good authority that the to "be rid of your fears." Possibly you vestry of the Church of the Advent, Boshave no right to be rid of them. You cer- ton, have decided to complete the new tainly have no right to be rid of them un- church as soon as possible, and that after less you are trying by God's help to love its completion the Bowdoin St. Church and serve Him. Doubtless the devils shall be vacated and entirely separate from would like to "be rid of their fears." They the parish, Fr. Hall and such associates "believe and tremble" they have good as he may choose to conduct its affairs cause. But you have no cause whatever, without any relation to the Church of the provided you believe the Christian Faith Advent, Fr. Grafton remaining Rector of and by God's grace are endeavoring to the Advent. There can be no doubt that walk in all the commandments and ordin- such a plan is contemplated, but whether it ances of the Lord blameless. Unless you has progressed so far as to give indications

In one of our exchanges, a Roman paper, lately appeared a description of the Cloisof some deceitful feelings that he may have tering of Nuns. It is very sad reading, had, when the truth is he is not serving with all the glamour and sentiment which God but Mammon. "When the wicked an enthusiastic correspondent contrives to man turneth away from his wickedness that throw around the subject. This step is an he hath committed and doeth that which is entire withdrawal from the world on the part of the votary. This withdrawal means Until he does that it is certain he cannot "the closing in behind the walls of the convent, removed even from the dearest relative or friend of the ladies who compose

It may not be a matter of very great the order. They never leave the convent importance, that the LIVING CHURCH has unless it be to labor in the garden; they completed another year, but like its dear never gaze upon the face of mortal outside the convent enclosure, and never meet, unless in cases of importance, and then the conversation must be carried on with the sister behind a curtained lattice, through which facial recognition is impossible. The attendant clergyman of the convent never sees the faces of the community. When the latter approach communion, they receive the Blessed Sacrament through an aperture in a curtained lattice on one side of the chapel."

Such a life might be imagined suitable, indeed, for one whose crimes had placed her below the companionship of the good, and beyond the possibility of useful activity in the world. But for the woman whose heart is right with God and who is loved and respected by family and friends, it editorial columns, and many more of equal to be contemplated without a shudder. Our value might be selected from the same Lord prayed not that we might be taken source. They are designed for the instruc- out of the world but that we might be kept

> While to the poet the autumn days may be melancholy and "saddest of the year," to the most of mankind they are the busiest. With the frosts of October and the blustering winds of the north that follow, vitality revives and the pulse quickens. New life seems to spring up in the microcosm man, as the old life of the cosmos begins to ebb. What hath quenched nature's vital forces hath given man fire. All his energies are aroused, and the struggle of the elements, far from saddening and depressing him, only serves to brace his nerves and stimulate his brain. For man is not of nature but above nature. His life currents are not derived from fountains that the frosts of winter may congeal. He is not rooted in the soil that depends upon the seasons for fertility. His vitality is from above. In God he lives and moves and has his being.

An agnostic editor thus closes his eulogy of the new "religion:"

In a word, ethical passion and ideal moral progress are the grand dogmas of the religion. It seeks to kindle dead souls with a new glow for moral purity, while it progress of the race toward ideal conditions. If such views are not worthy the name religion, then there is no religion in the world, and to be ethically enthusiastic is better than to be religious.

How about Walt Whitman's loved poetry out of which one of your preachers takes his text? If that is "ideal progress," give that the day be made "the special occasion for us a little practical progress of the old deeds of kindness and charity to the suffering style. The world has had enough of the and needy."-The Nation very justly comideals" of atheism and communism. alizing them. It is not the intellectual Mr. Herbert Spencer remarks upon the easyanything but "moral progress."

lowing from Bishop Seymour:

"They are brief, yet they are full and deal. They are interesting and seize the attention at once as they open the discus-learn that Dr. Warring's interesting series of papers on "Genesis I. and Science," which first appeared in the columns of the LIVING CHURCH, have been re-published in pamphlet form. They can be had on application to the author at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Price post-paid 50 cents.

The Consecration of St. Thomas' Church, Chicago, will take place on Thursday, the 16 inst., instead of the 9th as previously announced. The sermon on the occasion will be by the Rev. Alexander Crummell, D. D., Rector of St. Luke's Church, Washington, D. C.

It is understood that the Canadian tariff will be materially modified at the meeting of Parliament in January, but there will be no departure from the principles of protection to native in-

BRIEF MENTION.

Then followed that beautiful season Called by the pious Acadian peasants the summ of all saints:

Filled was the air with a dreamy and magical light, Lay as if new created in all the freshness of child-

With this issue the LIVING CHURCH begins its fifth year.—We have read that on the frontier they post a notice in some of the churches to this effect: "Please do not shoot at the organist; he does his best."---The Boomerang thus gently reminds delinquents: "Subscribers who find cross-bones and skull with crest of metallic burial casket drawn in blood on the wrapper of their paper will know that their subscription has expired and that something has got to be done." That reminds us that the LIVING CHURCH has decided to continue all subscriptions until ordered discontinued. In spite of every possible precaution by way of notices, many readers have been surprised and offended by being dropped from the list according to the old rule .-- Mr. Price, Indian Commissioner, says: "I am decidedly of the opinion that a seems a monstrous delusion, too dreadful liberal encouragement by the Government of all religious denominations to extend their educational and missionary work among the Indians would be of immense benefit. These societies expended last year among the Indians $216,680. This is money saved to the Government. In no other way and by no other means, in my judgment, can our Indian population be so speedily and permanently reclaimed from barbarism, idolatry, and savage life as by education and missionary operations of the Christian people of our country .-- An indication of Church growth and enterprise comes to us from Idaho. in the form of the Idaho Churchman, published by the Rev. J. D. McConkey, of Lewiston. Receipts for Foreign Missions by our committee during the past year have been more than two thousand dollars in excess of any other year, and there is a cash balance on hand more than double that of any other year, with one exception. The central expenses have been seven and a half per cent. of the gross receipts. Several more missionaries are needed and can be sustained .-- The late Dr. Pusev was the first to introduce the surplice into the Channel Islands, where he passed some time during his suspension-1843 to 1846-from the University pulpit, and it is said that his very surplice is still kept as a relic at Sark .--- A correspondent suggests that editions of several of Dr. Pusey's sermons in tract form would meet with a large sale in this country. Such publication of his sermons has been made in England, we understand, and we see no reason why our enterprising book publishers should not import them for American readers. --- We tremble for the old Faith when we read of the tremendous efforts that the agnostics are putting forth to establish the "Year of Man." One of their apostles, a Mr. Chainey, of Boston, has been preaching in Chicago, on the text, "Leaves of Grass," frem Walt Whitman.

As the sale of the book has been prohibited by law, on account of its lewdness, the only way in which its contents can be made known to the public is through the pulpit of the new "church.' -The President has appointed Thursday the 30th day of November as a day of public Thanksgiving. In his proclamation he recommends plains of the vandalism that is destroying some of the finest features of the National (Yellow-Ideals are sometimes realized, and such as stone) Park. Tourists thrust trunks of trees these bring forth lawlessness, lust, and an- into the geysers, slaughter the game, and burn archy. That is not saying that those who the forest. It is recommended that a small miliproclaim the "ideals" are capable of re tary post be established there and that the Park leaders who generally suit the action to going ways of Americans and their cheerfulness the word; it is the rabble that is deluded in enduring petty annoyances without grumby their vain philosophy, and the end is bling. It is something unaccountable to the Englishman. He stands up for his rights much more strenuously than does his American cousin .- Those who defer their gifts to their We have already printed unsolicited death-bed, says Bishop Hall, do as good as say commendations of our Series of Tracts from | "Lord, I will give thee something when I can Bishop McLaren, Bishop Huntington, and keep it no longer." Happy is the man who is Bishop Tuttle. We have received the fol- his own executor. — "Is there any opening here for an intellectual writer?" asked a seedy rednosed individual of an editor. "Yes, my friend," clear as to the matters with which they replied the man of quill. "A considerate carpenter, forseeing your visit, left an opening for you. Turn the knob to the right."--- A writer sion of the subject. They are sound and in the North American Review, states that "one judicious in their doctrinal statements. and one-fourth more money is expended an-The style is clear and perspicuous, the pa- nually in funerals in the United States than the per and press-work excellent. I shall find Government expends for public school purposes. your Tracts of great use and benefit in my Funerals cost annually more money than the combined gold and silver yield of the country in the year 1880." These figures do not include Many of our readers will be glad to the investments in cemeteries. --- The "missing link," it seems, is the ant! Sir John Lubbock says that in point of intelligence ants rank above the anthrophoid apes, and that they stand next to man. The evolutionists will have to revise their table of "Succession." The Episcopal Register has one of our editorials credited to "Dom. Ch." Who that person is we do not know. The nom de plume has never appeared in these columns. - The late Dr. Pusey in one of his discourses said: "If I might leave one bequest to the rising generation of clergy, who will have (what I have had only incidentally) the office of Preachers, it would be, "In addition to the study of Hely Scripture, which they, too, studied night and day, study the Fathers, especially St. Augustine."-The Parochial Churchman of Virginia, the Rev. E. Allanson, editor, has been turned over to the Church Temperance Society of that Diocese and is to be the organ of that society. The following is quoted for the benefit of our theological students who are forming their style: "Yes, my friends, the mind of man is so expansive that it can soar from star to star, from satchelite to satchelite, and from seraphene to seraphene, and from cherrybeam to cherrybeam, and from thence to the center of the doom of heaven."

All Saints' Day.

On All Saints' Day the Church rolls up the commemorative scroll of the Christian Year. Here and there, along the twelve months past, there have been bright spots, illuminated by the piety of some holy one, while apostle, saint, and martyr have set before us the beauty of christian saintliness. On the first of November this particular specification is abandoned, and, gathering together in one all the host of God, "the multitudes which no man can number," the Church raises her voice of praise, and for all the saints who from their labors rest," gives thanks to Him by Whose grace they endured, and won for themselves a glorious immortality.

On this day are remembered all the saints of God; those, who before Christ's coming, lived and died in the fear and obedience of God and in the faith of Christ; believing in Him Who was to come, even as we believe in Him Who has come. The Church commemorates all the saints of the Patriarchal Church, all the names which have come down to us in the Old Testament; and with them, all the countless host who have left no name or record upon earth, but whose names are written in the Book of Life. So too, are recalled all the names of the Universal Church. The noble army of martyrs whose blood was "the seed of the Church," who witnessed a faithful witness for Christ; who died on the rack, or on the cross, or at the stake, or by wild beasts, or by whatever torments the malice of Satan and man could devise; the zealous and fervent preachers of the gospel among the heathen, the missionaries who have borne the Word of God and His Sacraments into distant and barbarous climes; the holy men, priests of God, who have brought the knowledge of His Church to our own land-for thes and all, the Church gives thanks. For holy Bishops, such as St. Augustine, of Hippo, or St. Chrysostom, of Constantinople; for the learned and godly teachers, such as St. Athanasius; for all the faithful priests of God in every age of His Church; for the early Bishops of our own land; for every minister of His, from the beginning of His Church in Eden to the earnest soul that but yesterday went back to the God Who gave it life -for each and for all are we bidden to give God

But not only the patriarchs, the ancient and modern great ones are recalled this day, but every soul, no matter what its earthly place and station may have been, who has gone to its rest in the faith and fear of Him. This it is which makes All Saints' Day so very dear to the heart of every child of the Church. It is the day which belongs to all our Christian Dead. Year by year as the time goes by and our feet draw nearer and nearer to the valley of the shadow, there must come and added charm of interest to this great day of the Blessed Ones who die in the Lord. As we adance in years and less readily bend ourselves to the making of new ties, the links of the chain of friends that binds us to earth, are one after another loosened and we soon come to find that the vast majority of those dear to us have gone to their rest. By the illuminated eye of faith we pierce quite through the wall that hides the lost ones from our sight, and, in that multitude which no man can number we see the dead in Christ who are our dead, and in the Blessed Communion of Saints know that they who sleep in Him are not lost from us, they are at rest, where is winter, neither sin nor sorrow. "In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die," but "God found them worthy for Himself."

But more than all is All Saints' Day comfort found in the Collect: "Almighty God has so knit together His elect in one communion and fellowship in the mystical body of Christ our Lord," that all, the living and the dead in Christ, the elder saints and the youngest baptized child, are all one in Him-branches in the One True Vine, living stones in the one true spiritual Temple, members of the One mystical Body. the Church of Christ. Such is the blessed Communion of Saints, our faith in which we so often affirm in the creed.

Thus taught by the Church, we feel that we are not wholly separated from our holy dead; that as we are now a portion of His kingdom, members of His Body, so have we fellowship and communion and mystical union with the dead in Christ. Between us and that other world there is a blessed chain, whose links are manifold, uniting the militant to the waiting Church, and binding the living and the dead together with the mystical bonds of our common love in Him, Who is Head over all things to His-Church.

One day, we too, shall look upon God and ive; the time will come when we shall be called to dwell with the Holy Angels and to sit down with our beloved brethren wno are departed, at the Marriage Supper of the Lamb. Then for mystical communion we shall substitute the joy of seeing with our own eyes the "King in His beauty" and of once more beholding the faces of those we have lost. "For now we see through a glass, darkly, but 'hen, face to face."

Meantime, though death has cast a shadow on the world, we may rejoice evermore in the victory that overcometh the world. They who are gone before would not have us sorrow as those who have no hope.

"Weep not for me; Be blithe as wont, nor tinge with gloom Light hearts and free! Joy in the gifts Heaven's bounty lends; Nor miss my face, dear friends! A sea before

The Throne is spread; its pure, still glass. Pictures all earth scenes as they pass, We, on its shore, Share in the bosom of our rest, God's k. owledge, and are blest."

A Legal Opinion.

We have been requested to publish the following document which explains itself:

Murray F. Smith, Esq., Vicksburg, Mississippi. DEAR SIR:-I am in receipt of your letter of the 18th inst., asking my opinion of the eligibility of a resigned missionary Bishop to the office of Diocesan Bishop.

On the 26th ult., a formal opinion upon this subject was forwarded to me by a prominent gentleman of your Diocese, with a request for my views in respect to the position assumed therein. Having on the receipt of this letter and opinion, only just returned home from the East and being greatly pressed for time, I replied somewhat in haste, giving my very decided views; which reply covers the points involved in your letter of inquiry, and therefore is copied as follows:

"I am unable to concur with your constructtion of sub-section of section XVI, canon 15, title I., of the digest of General Convention Canons. But for the provisions of that sub-section, any Bishop would be eligible to any Diocese of this Church, provided his resignation of former jurisdiction had been accepted by the House of Bishops. The object of the provisions referred to is to localize Diocesan Bishops, beyond the Church, Port Jervis, requests that all mail matter, power of change. You may be familiar with the history of this legislation, which only adds weight to the construction that I give. No such object or reason applies in the case of other than a Diocesan Bishop. On the contrary sub-section 5, of section VII, of the same canon, provides that any Bishop or Bishops elected and consecrated under this section . . . shall be eligible to the office of Diocesan Bishop in any organized Diocese within the United States. This refers to persons elected and consecrated as Missionary Bishops. You will observe that the election and consecration as a Missionary Bishop are the only elements of eligibility to the office of Diocesan Bishop, so far as is contemplated by this legislation. There is no condition imposed as to whether or not the Bishop so imposed as to whether or not the Bishop so rectorship of the South Orange Academy, South Or elected and consecrated shall, at the time of his ange, N. Y. Address accordingly. election, retain his jurisdiction, or otherwise. The provision of sub-section 4, sec. xvi., referred to, was purposely confined to fixing the ineligibility to another Diocese of a Bishop whose resignation of an Episcopal Jurisdiction of a Diocese has been consummated, etc. The express limitation of the ineligibility of a Bishop who has resigned the jurisdiction of a Diocese is, of itself, an exclusion of an idea of rendering any other Bishop ineligible by reason of his resignation.

"I am unable to see that sub-section 5, has any bearing in the premises. A Bishop of this Church is subject to the laws and authority of the General Convention, regardless of the provisions of that sub-section; and aside from this view of the matter, -section 1 of Canon 9, title 11, expressly provided for the amenability of any To the (lergy and Laity of the Diocese of Minots:
The Sunday next before Advent (N. v. 26.) is designated as "Hospital Sunday" for this year, and you are earnestly invited, to contribute in money and other suitable donations, for our St. Luke's, which continues its beneficient work, and for which heavenborn chartly, your servant in the Lord,
WM. E. McLAREN, Bishop of Illinois.
Cathedral, Oct. 30, 1882. Bishop of this Church etc., and sub-section 2. of section viii, canon 9, title II, provides for the case of charges preferred against a Bishop having no jurisdiction."

"Nor can I see that the question whether or not a Bishop, who has resigned his missionary jurisdiction, is entitled to a seat in the House of Bishops, has any bearing upon his eligibility to a Diocese. 'Parity of reason' cannot have the force of law creating ineligibility in a case which is expressly omitted from the statute upon the subject of eligibility."

I am very respectfully yours, etc.,

Chicago, Sept. 21, 1882.

To Correspondents.

A correspondent desires to know the name of the author of the "Life of St. Teresa," the title page of which only says: "By the author of 'Devotions before and after Holy Communion." Another reader wishes to know who wrote the following lines:

"But, oh! what blessings may be thine,
When thou hast daily striven
To guide souls in the narrow path
That leadeth up to heaven!

What joy, to see the youthful feet In wisdom's ways remain; To know that, by the Grace of God, Thou hast not lived in vain!

Though 'tis a life of care and toil, Of labor and of love, If such the recompense on earth, What will it be above!''

H.E.L.—We are of the opinion that "Consecration" has reference to buildings set apart for Divine Worship. We should be disposed to speak rather of the "Benediction" of a School-house, whether for a Sunday-school or a Parish-school. expresses a setting apart to the Service of God. "Benediction" implies solemn prayer for the Divine

We hope to answer H. E. L's other enquiries be-

A LOVER OF TRUTH.-DEBTOR.-We do not insert anonymous criticisms on an article bearing the au-

Oz.-Your letter will appear next week.

Personal Mention.

The Rev. J. F. Hamilton, Rector of the Church of the Incarnation, Dallas, jurisdiction of Northern Texas, has been elected to the rectorship of the Church of the Good Samaritan, Sauk Centre, Minn. The Rev, Charles H. Cantield has resigned charge of Grace Church, Winfield, Kan., and entered upon the charge of the missions at Hutchinson, Nickerson, and Sterling, in the same diocese.

The Rev. Canon Sprague, President of Griswold College, Davenport, Iowa, is to visit the Eastern States, during the autumn, for the purpose of raising $25,000, if possible, as an endowment for the Bishop Lee Professorship of Mental Philosophy, in the College.

The Rev. Wm. Gardam has been elected to the charge of St. Paul's mission, Point Douglas, and adjoining parish at Basswood, Minn. The Rev. Henry Mackey has accepted the rectorship of St. Andrew's, Emporia, Kan., and entered on his duties Oct. 29th.

to the charge of the Missions of St. Mark's, Birmingham, Pit'sburg, and of the Church of the Nativity, Crafton, and St. Luke's, Woodville, both in Allegheny county, Pa. The Rev. John Vaughan Lewis, D. D., has sailed

The R. v. Ed. Ransford, D. D., has been appointed with his family to San Francisco, Cal. The Rev. J. M. Kendrick's address is 157 Dayton

St.; Cincinnati, Onio.

The Rev. M. H. Vaughan has accepted the rector ship of St. Andrew's parish, Leonardtown, Md.

scarcely be a question of an abundant patronage for ours when secured. To avail ourselves of this liberal offer made by citizens of this locality, it will be necessary to raise at least $5,000 from other quarters, and I would be very grateful for any contributions from brethren and friends towards this object.

H. A. NEELV. Bishop of Mains H. A. NEELY, Bishop of Maine.

The Missionary Bishop of Washington Territory

The Rev. R. C. G. Huntington has accepted an election to the rectorship of St. Paul's, Manhattan, Kan.

The Rev. J. R. Holeman, of Kansas City, Mo., has

The Rev. T. G. Williams is temporarily in charge of St John's Church, Petaluma, diocese of California.

The Rev. J. M. Rankin has taken charge of St.

Paul's, Coffeyville, and the Church of the Epiphany.

The Rev. R. Wall, of Carthage, Mo., has returned

The Rev. J. I. Corbyn, of St. Louis, has accepted

The address of the Rev. Edward H. Cleveland, As

The Rev. Joseph Wayne, of Addison, N. Y., has accepted an election to the rectorship of the Church

The Rev. J. T. Pickett has resigned the rectorship

The Rev. C. A. Hayden has been elected Rector of

The Rev. Francis Peck's address is 1274 Dean St.

The Rev. Lewis P. Clover, D. D., Rector of Grace

etc., for him, be addressed to Port Jervis, Orange torship of St. Peter's Parish, Hazleton, Pa., to take effect on Nov. 6th, and has accepted that of Holy Apostles', Saint Clair, and St. James', Schuylkill

Haven; he also takes charge of the Mission Stations at Frackville, Lost Creek, and Shenandoah. His address, after Nov. 7th, will be Saint Clair, Schuylkill

The sermon preached before the recent Convention of the Diocese of New York, by the Rev. Professor Richey, of the General Theological Seminary.

on the "Redemption of the Creature," has been pub lished by special request of a committee of the cler gy of New York. It may be had of Mr. James Pott

The Rev. T. F. Caskey, late of Grace Church,

Honesdale, who went abroad some time ago, on account of ill health, has much improved, and is at present in charge of the English Church in Dresden

The Rev. Julius D. Rose, Ph. D., has accepted the

The Rev. E P. Wright, D. D., has resigned the rectorsbip of St. Mathias' Church, Waukesha, Wis.

The vestry, in accepting his resignation, have put on record their profound regret, and their grateful ap-

Married.

HARVEY-UPSHAW.-October 24th, in St. James' Church, Bolivar, Tenn., by the Rev. W. G. Davenport, Mary, eldest daughter of Col. T. E. Upshaw, and Wade H. Harvey, both of Bolivar.

SNIVELY—SELLECK.—Oct, 24, at Grace Church, Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., by Rev. Wm. A. Snively, D. D., Rector, assisted by Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively (the Bishop of Long Island pronounced the blessing), the Rev. Summerfield E. Snively, kector of St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, L. I., and Ida Eliot, daughter of the Rev. Summer St. Snively, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, L. I., and Ida Eliot, daughter of the Rev. Snively and Snively Rev. Co. Snively Rev. Sniv ter of Alfred De Forrest Selleck, of New York City.

Obituary.

CASTEELE.—Entered into rest, Oct. 16th. at Forest City, Ark., of typho-malerial fever, Mrs. Mary Louise Casteele, in the communion of the Catholic Church, and in full assurance of faith.

Official.

The annual meeting of the N. E. Deanery of Illinois will be held (D. V.) on Monday, Nov. 6th, at Grace Church Chapel, Chicago, beginning at 10 A. M. with a celebration of the Holy Communion. After the celebration, a business meeting, and paper by Rev. Henderson Judd. The clergy are invited to luncheon at Grace Church Rectory.

On Saturday morning, Nov. 4th, Trinity Church, Hoboken, will (D.V.) be re-opened, and the Right Rev. the Bishop of the Docese, will consecrate the new Chancel and Altar. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. George H. Houghton, D.D., Rector of the Church of the Transfignration, New York.

CHRIST CHURCH, PHILADELPHIA.

The opening services, upon completion of the Restoration of this venerable building, will be held (D.V.) on Wednesday, Nov. 8th, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Acknowledgements

except for church furniture and a Comment the work, except for church furniture and a Communion Service. Any friends who may be interested in this part of our mission interest, could address me, when I would give all needed information on this subject.

JOSHUA V. HIMES, wissionary St. Andrew's, E.k. Point, and St. Stephen's, Vermillion, D. T.

The Missionary at Miles City thankfully acknowledges receipt of a contribution of $10.00 to the fund for the Mission Chapel, from S. C.
Philadelphia, October, 1882.

Appeal.

EDWARD RITCHIE, Sec'y.

prec ation of his faithful labor.

Cathedral, Oct. 30, 1882.

The Rev. Charles A. Marks has resigned the rec-

the rectorship of St. Mark's, Anamosa, Iowa.

has been visiting his old home, Norwich, Conn.

gone to the South to spend the winter menths.

Independence, Kan.

from Colorado, restored in health.

Amity St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Trinity Church, Cleveland, Ohio.

of the Ascension, Burlington, Kan.

St. Andrew's, Mt. Holly, N. J.

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Co., New York.

Co., Pa.

of Christ Church, Holly Springs, Miss.

Miscellaneous.

Every young man should prepare for future use-ulness by taking the thorough course of training at H. B. Bryant's Chicago Business College.

H. B. Bryant's Chicago Business College.

HILL'S MANUAL.

A good opportunity is offered for reliable agents by the Hill Standard Book Co. There is no work sold by subscription that is more needed or has better sale than Hill's Manual. It is the standard and complete form book—not only of legal and commercial—but includes social also. Every young man should study it. Older men find it indispensible. This work is newly illustrated and elegantly printed, and sold only by agents. sistant Minister of Christ Church, Brooklyn, is 126

The address of the Rev. Y. Peyton Morgan is TYPE WRITER COPYING. Lectures, Sermons, Legal Documents, Reports, etc., accurately copied on the Type Writer. Letters, etc., written from dictation. Lessons given. Room 23, 89 Madison St. The Rev. A. C. A. Hall, of the Society of St. John the Evangelist, who has been holding Mission Services in British Columbia, will, on his way East, hold a mission in St. Mary's, Kansas City, Mo.

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, SEWANEE, TENN. UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, SEWANEE, TENN.

The undersigned having been appointed Commissary of the Theological School of the University, would respectfully solicit subscriptions for the yearly support of the School, as well as for its permanent endowment. It needs funds now, and I would be glad to communicate with any who are interested in the extension of the Church in the South, to explain the nature of the work accomplished by this Theological School, and the necessity for the existence and active support of such an institution. Address, Richard P. Williams, Commissary, 27 East 72d St., or I William St., New York.

**I.'A venir,' a monthly. The only French Episcopal paper. Yearly subscription, $1.50. The Third began Oct. 15th, 1882. Editor: The Rev. C. Miel, Rector of St. Sauveur; address 2039 Sansom St. Phylodeboth. Rev. 1882. Editors 2039 Sansom St. Phylodeboth. Rev. 1882. Editors 2039 Sansom St. Phylodeboth. Philadelphia, Penn.

English Theological Books At Greatly Reduced Prices.

Life. Journals and Letters of Dean Alford. r. 8vo, cloth. Reduced from $3.50 to $1.50 net.

The Rights and Liberties of the Cnurch.
By the Rev. S. Kettlewell, M. A. 12mo, cloth, $1.50 net

Contemporary Essays in Theology. By the Rev. John Hunt. 8vo, cloth, $1.50 net.

On Some Ministerial Duties. Charges by the late Archdeacon Bather. Edited by C. J. Vaughan, D. D. 12mo, cloth. Reduced from $1.25 to 50 cents net.

The Christian Doctrine of Prayer for the Departed.

By Rev. F. G. Lee, D.C.L. 8vo, cloth. Reduced from $4.00 to $1.50 net.

The Dogmatic Faith

Brampton Lectures for the year 1837. By Edward Garbett, M. A. 12mo, cloth. Reduced from $2.50 to $1.00 net.

The Grace of the Ministry.

Considered as a Divine Gift of Uninterrupted Transmission and Two-Fold Character. Edited by Rev. Wm. Denton, M. A. 8vo, cloth. Reduced from $7.50 to $1.00 net.

The Permanence of Christianity. Brampton Lectures for 1872. By J.R.T. Eaton, M.A. Reduced from $4.00 to $1.50 net.

All of these books are fresh copies, none of them being second hand; and when sent by mail; 10 per cent. extra must be added for postage.

E. P. DUTTON & CO. CHURCH HUBLISHERS.

39 West 23d Street, New York.

COLGATE & CO'S

CASHMERE BOUQUET

TOILET SOAP.

The novelty and exceptional strength of its perfume are the peculiar fascinations of this luxurious article, which has acquired popularity unequalled by any Toilet Soap of home or foreign manu-

Acknowledgements
ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL.
Contributions to Cot for Crippled Children.
Contributions are solicited for the endowment of a bed for crippled children. The sum of $4,000 is sought to be raised for this purpose. All who feel disposed to aid in this good work are reque ted to send their contributions to Mrs. A. Williams, Treasurer of the fund, 2334 Prairie Ave., or to Rev. Clinton Locke, 2324 Prairie Ave., Chicago.
Through Rev.C. W. Lettingwell, from Bordentown, $5; J. C. Walraven, Centralia, Iis., $1; Minnie Maloney, Owatona, Minn., 50 cents; Previous contributions, $1,687.63; Total, $1,694.13.
Mrs. M. A. WILLIAMS, Treas.
I hereby make a general acknowledgment of offer Varied and choice selections in Soup, Fish, Entree, Salad, Fruit Sets, &c., receiving daily.

tions, $1,687.63; Total, $1,694.13.

Mrs. M. A. WILLIAMS, Treas.

I hereby make a general acknowledgment of offer ings from various friends of the Missions of the Church, in aid of Church re-construction, and building at Elk Point and Vermillion, Dakota. I have made special acknowledgments of sums received heretofore, in the Churchman and Living Church, while I have received other offerings in which no publicity has been made, at the requestof the donors, with whom I have made all right, so far as I know.

The Mission at Elk Point has been built up in the the last three years from a very small beginning, to considerable strength and numbers both in the Church and Sunday School, while the dilapidated chapel and church-yard have been re-constructed, repaired and beautified.

The mission and ohapel at Vermillion are next to be re-constructed. Already the old chapel has been taken down, and a new one has been built upon an eligible lot in the new town on the Bluff; and in a few months, it is hoped, it will be complited, and paid for by the aid of the generous friends of our missions in Dakota. And here, in good time, we hope to see the "old waste" restored and beautified, as in Elk Point.

We shall need nothing more to complete the work, except for church furniture and a Communion Service. Any friends who may be interested in this designs in Cut Glass, which in quality and assortment is unsurpassed.

Paris Novelties in Bisque, Bronze, &c., specially suitable for Wedding Gifts, in complete assortment.

Ovington Brothers & Ovington,

Appeal.

A very important opportunity is now presented to me of advance ng the cause of the Church in Northern Aroostook, the chief agricultural portion of the State of Maine. The Trustees of the Presque Isle Academy, and other citizens of that and adjoining towns, have offered a fund of $5,000, a lot of they acres, and a guarantee of fifty tuition pupils for three years, at the rate of $30 per annum, on the sole condition that a Church School of the High School character shall be established in that locality. It is felt that the establishment of such a school would be of immense advantage to the educational interests of that community, and, although but few of those making this proposite in are at the present time in any wise connected with the Episcopal Church, the opinion prevails that a school controlled and conducted by us would be superior to one founded and carried on under other auspices. On the other hand it is obvious that the control of such an educational institution in the midst of such a community would be of the greatest value to our missionary work in the same locality. There is at present no school of a high grade in any of these towns and there can

American Church Review, CHURCH PUBLISHER

Contents for October.

304 PAGES

OCTOBER.

I. Liturgical Enrichment. By the Rt. Rev. John Freeman Young. S.T.D. II. The Oriental Church. By the Princess Dora d'Istria, Italy. III. Sources and Sanctions of American Church Law. By Hill Burgwin, Esq. IV. The Christian Revelation, Christian Theology, and Philosophy: their Mutual connections and their relative authority. By the Rev. Prof. Samuel Buel, D.D. V. Modern Casuistry. By the Rev. Wm. Wilberforce Newton, M.A. VI. The Epicureanism of Horace. By the Rev. Philo W. Sprague, M.A. VII. The Pseudo-Isidorian Decretals. By. the Rev. A. A. Benton, M.A. VIII. The Reformation from the Death of King Gustavus to the Accession of John III. By the Rev. C. M. Butler, D.D. IX. William Lloyd Garrison and Emancipation. By the Rev. Benj. B. Babbitt. X. Literary Notices.

There are a few sets of the Dollar Edilion of the Review an hand, and those who wish to secure over 1200 pages, written by some of the best American and foreign writers, for $1. should send on their subscription at once. Address.

American Church Review Association, P. O. Box 1839, NEW YORK CITY.

UNIVERSAL FAVORITES MINSTREL SONGS OLD & NEW.

Here, at last, we have nearly all the world famous, universally admired, sung and whistled melodies, in one book. 100 popular Ballads and Plantation Songs, with plane accompaniment. This number includes "Old Folks at Home," "Old Kentucky Home," "Zip Coon," "Nell Bly," "Camptown Races," "Golden Slippers," "Lily Dale," "Twinkling Stars," "By the bright Light," and there more than 90 others. $2. plain. $2.50 cloth. $3. gilt.

HOW TO PRACTISE, by A. M. Pupin, is a capital little guide book for teachers and scholars, and such as every practical teacher will like to have. Mailed for 50 cents.

THE MUSICAL FAVORITE. This and the Minstrel Songs are the latest additions to Ditson's "Home Musical Library," have more than 200 pages each, full sheet music size, are handsomely bound, and give a great deal of music for a moderate price. The Musical Favorite contains about 50 pieces of an average length of 3 to 4 pages each, of medium difficulty, and by the most popular composers, as Waldteutel, Gottschalk, Blake, Wilson, Schumann, Aubert, Lamothe, etc., in all 38 composers.

$2. plain. $2.50 cloth. $3. gilt.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., Boston. LYON & HEALY, Chicago, Ill.

"OXFORD"

Teachers' Bibles.

"OXFORD"

Revised New Testaments, Authorized by the American Committee of Revision.

In various Sizes and Styles of Binding.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS 42 Bleecker St., New York.

PER CENT. NET Security Three to Six Times the Loan Without the Buildings. Interest semi-annual. Nothing ever been lost. 28th year of residence and 8th in the business. Best of references. Send for particulars if you have money to loan. N.B. Costs advanced, in-terest kept up and principal guaranteed in case of foreclosure.

D. S. B. JOHNSON & SON.

Negotiators of Mortgage Loans, ST. PAUL, 'MINN Mention this paper).

196-5

alad, Fruit Sets, &c., reeiving daily.

Lots at EAST GROVE, 30x132 feet with shade and ornamental trees and side-walks $85 to $100, on $5 monthly payments. Beautiful high rolling land. Rich garden soil, clear water, perfect drainage, pure bracing air, comfort and good health. First-class houses of all styles and prices on monthly or other payments to suit. Anybody can buy on our terms. Trains almost every hour. Prices of lots will be advanced on the 1st of November.

STREET & CO., Owners, 200 La Salle St., Chicago.

THE WESTERN

Farm Mortgage Co.

Lawrence, Kansas.

First Mortgage Loans upon improved productive farms in the best localities in the west negotiated for banks, colleges, estates and private individuals. Coupon Bonds. Interest and principal paid on day of maturity at the Third National Bank in New York City. Funds promptly placed. Large experience. No Losses. Investors compelled to take no land. No delay in payment of interest. Only the very choicest loans accepted. Full information given to those seeking Safe and profitable investments. Send for circular, references and sample documents.

F. M. PERKINS, Pres. L. H. PERKINS, Sec. J. T. WARNE, Vice-Pres. C. W. GILLETT, Treas. N. F. HART, Auditor.

EIGHT to TEN per Cent. Interest On long time loans, with best security in the world viz.:

DAKOTA WHEAT LANDS,

DAR OTA WHEAT LANDS,
In the famous valley of the Red River of the North, eenstituting what is known as the "Golden Northwest."
Loans negotiated without charge by the Farmers and M-rchants National Bank of Valley City, Dakota.
Choice lands are also offered for sale at from $4 to $12 per sore. Selections made from official survey notes and certified examinations.
Write for reference and particulars.

HERBERT ROOT,
President.

The Redemption of the Creature.

A Sermon preached before the Annual Convention of the Diocese of New York, 1882. By the Rev. Thomas Richey, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical Thomas Richey, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History.

'A powerful and convincing defence of the Christian Religion." Price, 5 cts.; 50 cts per dozen. Just Divine Authority—Catholic Precedent Jones Seabury, D. D., Rector of the Church of the Annunciation, and Luclow Professor of Ecclesiastical Polity in the General Theological Seminary.

The Churchman's Answer as to the History and Claims of the Protestant Episcopal Church. A Lecture by the Rt. Rev. C. F. Robert-son, D. D., Bishop of Missouri. Paper, 5c.; 50c. per dozen. 4th thousand.

A Sense of Unworthiness no Ground for keeping back from the Holy Communion. By the Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D. Paper. 5 cts. 4th thousand.

The Sacrament of Responsibility.

Teaching of the Church on Holy Baptism. By the Rev. M. F. Sadler. By the 10 cts. How to Behave in the Parish.

By the Rev. R. W. Lowrie. 98 pages. Paper. Price, net, 12cts. 2d thousand.
The Parish—what it is. The Rector—who and what he is. Parishioners—this sort and that. The Sunday-School. The Choir. Church Music. Church History, etc. Should be in the hands of every communicant in the Church.

The Priest in his Inner Life.

By H. P. Liddon, D. D. A new and cheaper edi-20 cts.

'Divinely Led;" or, Robert Owen's Grand-daughter. The story of a wonderful conversion, beautifully written. Paper. 10 cts. 3d thousand.

The Functions of Rectors, and Wardens. and Vestrymen. Papers by the Rev. Morgan Dix. S. T. D., and Mr. James Parker. New edition. 60 cts.

The Music of the Church.

By the Rev. C. C. Swope, D. D., Assistant Minister of Trinity Church, New York. Price, 20 cts. The Present State of the Faithful Departed. By the Rev. George Body. Price, 20 cts. 6th edition.

New Catalogue Ready and Supplied on Application. 12 ASTOR PLACE, New York.

HILL'S MANUAL. The later editions of Hill's Forms, by Thos. Manual of Social and Business Forms, by E. Hill, one of the most popular and use-ful subscription books ful subscription books issued: In America, contain new and important additions and illustrations.

Penmanship, Book keeping, Business and Legal Forms, Etiquette, Government and Society Organization, Battles of the Republic, Literary Composition, the Art of Poetry and Popular Poetical Selections are among its attractive features.

The Boston "Herald"

Says: "Hill's Manual contains almost everything that a person should know in this practical age."

Agents wanted everywhere, at liberal commissions, to sell this work, to whom we offer flattering inducements to canvass for us. Send for terms to HILL STANDARD EOOK CO.,103 State Street, Chicago, IL The Boston " Herald"

NOW READY. Little Songs for Little Singers.

Short, pleasing note songs for Primary Schools, Kindergartens, etc., by W.T. Giffe, 25 cts. each. MUSIC MADE EASY, the 'nly Practical Music Primer, 50 cents. 1st 20 HOURS IN MUSIC, very first leasons on Plano or Organ, 75 cents. Western Anthem Book by Giffe, a great favorite, $1. each, $9. dozen. One sample copy sent on receipt of two-thirds of above prices. GEO. D. NEWHALL & CO., Cincinnati, O.

MAPLEGROVE SEMINARY, for girls, Tonawanda, Niagara Co., N.Y. Rt. Rev. A. C. Coxe, D.D., Visitor. Full academic course, Special attention to Modern Languages. Healthful situation, half way between Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Accommodations comfortable and homelike. Board and tuition $216 a year. No extras. The Seventh year will be gin Sept. 18th, 1882. For circulars address, Rev. H. A. DUBOC, Rector, Tonawanda, N. Y.

VASSAR COLLEGE.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y. A complete college course for women, with Schools of Painting and Music and a preparatory department. Catalogu s sent. 197-10. S. L. CALDWELL, D. D., President.

MAYHEW BUSINESS COLLEGE. Book-keeping, Telegraphy and Shorthand. Con-lucted by the author of Practical Book-keeping for ducted by the author of Practical Book-keeping for Common Schools, and University Book-keeping for Higher Institutions. For information of Books or College, address Ira Mayhew, LL D., Detroit, Mich.

A. REED & SONS. PIANOS.

Just Published-finest illustrated ca'alogue ever printed. Contains valuable information for those wishing to buy either Piano or Organ. Mailed free.

W. W. Kimball & Co.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Turning out 40 instruments a day with an increas-ing demand. Organs for the Parlor and the Church.

Factory cor. 26th and Rockwell Sts. Warercoms cor. State & Adams Sts., Chicago. Send for Catalogue. 202-52

BOOK REVIEWS.

THE EARLY DAYS OF CHRISTIANITY. By F. W. Farrar, D. D., F. R. S. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $2.00. 664 pp.

The author's object has been "to furnish English readers with a companion, partly historic partly expository, to the whole of the New Testament." In the Life of Christ, Canon Farrar has given to the Christian world a charming commentary on the Gospels; in the Life of St. Paul he has portrayed the scenes and illustrated some of the prominent characteristics of the earliest Days of Christianity; in this work the subject is continued, the Seven Catholic Epistles, the one to the Hebrews, and the Book of Revelation being fully and critically examined The historical introduction is especially able and interesting. The low moral and social condition even so do ye to them." of the Roman world at the beginning of our era, we have nowhere seen so well portrayed. The discussion of the Beasts and other allegories of isfying. The volume is a treasure house of historical, literary, and theological learning, presented in a style to delight the reader and engraphical descriptions. It is these that constitute the greatest charm of this and other volumes.

THE SECRET OF POWER, and Other Sermons. couraging.

By Alexander Maclaren, D. D. New York:

Macmilian & Co. Chicago: S. A. Maxwell

Littal's L.

The sermons of this great Baptist preacher are not "popular" in the sense that this term applies to Mr. Spurgeon's Sermons. They are strong, solid, old time sermons, worthy of the reading of thoughtful men. They seem to have been written to be read rather than for delivery; and they Beginning with this volume, what an acceptable stand the test of reading, which Sermons of the gift it would make from a parishioner to a pastor. Spurgeon and Moody type do not. The subjects but is not unpleasantly obtrusive.

Earliest Times to the Fall of the Western Ro- A. Maxwell & Co., Chicago. man Empire A. D. 476. By P. V. N. Myers, A. M. New York: Harper & Brothers. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $1.75.

Prof. Myers has aimed to combine in this work both the ethnological and chronological methods, to give the growth of races, the development of science, literature, and religion, along with the records of events, It is a thoroughly delightful To the Editor of the Living Church: book both for the class-room and for private

SILVER STORE. Collected from Mediæval Christian and Jewish Mines. By S. Baring-Gould, preaching, but cannot think the remedy which he M. A. New York: E. & J. B. Young & Co. suggests a good one; or, at any rate, not the best.

This is one of the charming books that an edappeared in 1868. These translations of medi- of by their Bishops. æval poems are very cleverly done, and the selec- This is all very well for a lay-reader and one the "dark ages!"

Hessey, D. C. L. New York: E. & J. B. Young & Co. Price $1.50 net.

This book provides a sermon for each great days and seasons of the Christian Year. They are eminently practical, simple in style, and earnest in spirit. They are suitable for lay-

York: E. P. Dutton & Co. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. Price $1.25.

A very handsome, useful, and entertaining book; nothing mawkish or sentimental in it, but very much of instructive. We commend it most warmly to those who wish to keep their children out of mischief on the Lord's Day, without imposing on them any too irksome re-

St. Nicholas for November begins the new volume in splendid style with a colored frontispiece, by R. B. Birch, entitled "Indian Summer." This is an entirely new departure that will be heartily welcomed.

Another prominent feature is the first installment of J. T. Trowbridge's new serial "The Tinkham Brothers' Tide-Mill," which is a live American story about live American boys and girls; and it promises to be the best story this number is the Thanksgiving number, and so Miss and profitable to a congregation. They become Sophie Swett has contributed a jolly story called "All the Plums," which any one with half an eye can see must have some mysterious connection with the Thanksgiving pudding. "Old Mordecai's Cockerel" is another amusing Thanksgiving tale, and there is a daintily illustrated "Grace for a Child" from Herrick. The pranks and doings of "Tad" Lincoln, the late President's youngest son, who made things so lively at the White House during his father's administration, are very entertainingly treated by Noah Brooks, who was President Lincoln's private secretary. "The False Sir Santa Claus," a beautiful and novel form of Christmas entertainment, by the author of "The Land of Nod," is printed in this number, with music and complete stage-directions, in ample time for it to be effectively produced in holiday season.

As the first number of a new volume, the November Century gives promise of even increased excellence for the magazine during its second year under the new name. Pictorially, the November number shows that the Century is as ambitious as ever for the reputation of American century? Though an inaccurate statement may wood-engraving. Though the art side is so conspicuous, the contents offer striking proof of a tendency to make the literary side of the maga- Oct. 23, 1882.

zine paramount and of the greatest possible excellence and importance, in travel, biography, fiction, poetry, criticism, and in the discussion of the foremost public questions. The editorial departments treat a great variety of topics. In the publisher's department is an account of the "Century's New Home," with drawings of the comfortable and spacious rooms in which the magazines are housed.

We have received a copy of a pamphlet published in Philadelphia, entitled "Four weeks among the Sioux tribes of Dakota and Nebraska, together with a brief consideration of the Indian Problem by Herbert Welsh." Mr. Welsh is a graphic and pleasing writer, and this little sketch is well worth persual. His plan for dealing with the Red men may be briefly summed up: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you,

The Nineteenth Annual Report of St. Luke's oranges. Free Hospital, Chicago, lies on our table. We learn from it that by next year the new building the Revelation is remarkably well done and sat- will be occupied. The cost of the whole will then have been above $150,000. During the year 385 patients have been cared for, and there is a surplus on hand of $2,420.67. A concert by lating, and in order to keep them from talking, chain his attention. Among the most attractive Mde. Gerster, at the house of Mrs. Marshall a person is hired to read aloud to the hands durfeatures of Canon Farrar's work are his bio- Field, realized, $2,640. Two new beds have been endowed this year. In every respect the prospects of this noble Church Charity are en-

> If we have had no special good word lately for Littell's Living Age, our silence has not been the result of any want of appreciation. It is simply invaluable to us, bringing to us, as it does, week by week, the very cream of all the current literature of the day. With this month it entered upon the 40th volume of its fifth series.

James R. Osgood & Co., Boston, have pubtreated in this volume are of a general character lished Lieut. Danenhower's Narrative of the that do not involve the discussion of points of Jeannette. The author promises a more complete difference with the historic Church. The author's account, to be written when his eyes will permit. ecclesiastical bias may be occasionally detected Pis picture is given as a frontispiece and there is a chart of the journey and a sketch of the ship. OUTLINES OF ANCIENT HISTORY. From the Price, in paper cover, 25 cents. For sale by S.

> The Rev. J. H. Hobart De Mille, of Canisteo, N. Y. has published a very neat and useful Classification of the Sciences. Price 25 cents. To be had on application to the author.

Another Suggestion.

The subject touched upon by "One who suffered" is undoubtedly of great importance. I agree with him as to the great evil of poor suggests a good one; or, at any rate, not the best.

His suggestion is: "That all Deacons put in charge of parishes or missions be required to itor delights to praise. It is a beautiful book prepare but one sermon a week," and if they are typographically, and it is beautiful as to its con-required to preach twice every Sunday, let them tents. This is a second edition, the work having read a printed sermon from a volume approved tions are made with good judgment. In these who will be at the pains of reading a printed days of Swinburne and Wilde it is refreshing to discourse, in the absence of a clergyman will be get hold of some poetry that has the ring of honored and listened to with attention. But the vast majority of laymen in this country strongly A FEW PAROCHIAL SERMONS. Preached at St. object to book sermons from clergymen. And Barnabas' Church, Kensington. By Francis properly so tco. It looks too much like Ante-Catholic Revival days in England, when clergymen, some of high standing and large emoluments, bought printed sermons for use in the pulpit.

People want what is "original," as the term is generally understood. My own observation leads me to infer that, as a general rule, a congrega-SUNDAY READING FOR THE YOUNG. New tion would rather listen to and be more edified by a comparatively poor sermon prepared by the preacher himself than to the most brilliant of Phillips Brook's or Dr. Dix's printed sermons.

> My remedy for the evil spoken of is simply this: to preach one of the two Sunday sermons on the expository plan, either in the morning or evening as circumstances best suggest. The advantages of this plan are manifold. I can mention only one or two.

A large portion of Holy Scripture is taken not as a mere peg to hang a sermon on—but as a reservoir from which to draw things "new and old." In the preparation of such a discourse, more of that kind of study is required which the workman needs who would "rightly divide the Word of Truth" and so he becomes far better fitted to make sermons on the usual plan. Again: It gives a symmetry to Biblical teaching by presenting each part complete and all the parts as popular author has yet written. The November one great whole. It becomes deeply interesting a large Bible-class where the teacher has the ground clear with nobody to interrupt him. Many things can be introduced in this way in their natural order, which, if presented in the ordinary sermon, might be considered impertinent or unedifying, and yet are very necessary in order that "the man of God may be perfected." H. B. J.

The Century Question.

To the Editor of the Living Church: The learned editor of a valued church paper says, "Dr. Pusey was born with the century." In Dr. Fulton's very interesting sermon published in your issue of the 21st inst., is this statement: "Edward Bouverie Pusey was born in the first year of the present century." When did the present century begin? It must be obvious that it did not begin until there had been eighteen centuries, and there had not been eighteen centuries until the end of the year 1800. If Dr. Pusey was born, as you have stated, in the year 1800, was he not born in the last year of the eighteenth not do any harm, facts should be stated accurALL AROUND THE WORLD.

The new Japanese Ambassadors have arrived. Both speak English fluently. Complaint comes from Florida that the orange crop is turning out poorly, and will be short about one third.

Mr. Hannibal Hamlin, Jr., has returned home from a tour in Europe, and will soon be admitted to the bar. Labouchère, the liberal member of Parliament and editor of Truth, is coming to America in December.

Chicago parties have lately purchased 4,300 cres of land in Leon county, Florida, at 90 cents Recess in the public schools of Albany, N. Y.

has been abolished. The school hours are made continuous from 9 to 11:30 A. M. and 1:15 to 3:30 P. M. The change gives satisfaction. Within a radius of eight miles of Sanford, Fla. there are 2,992 orange groves, containing 165,235 trees. The State produces 50,000,000

Alligator farms have been started in various parts of Florida. The animals are raised for their hides for which there is always a good de-

In every tobacco factory in Key West there is "reader. Cubans cannot talk without gesticuing working hours.

The Norfolk Virginian says Virginia is now in a more prosperous condition than at any time in her history, and attributes this prosperity in a reat part to the large amount f Northern capital being invested in the State.

Texas is growing to be one of the greatest of the world's wool-countries; this year's clip is estimated at 12,000,000 pounds. Its growth in other directions is equally great if not as good; a State paper says that the homicides will average two per day.

During the present year 150,000 immigrants have arrived in Canada. The number of actual settlers number in the vicinity of 100,000, the remainder going to the United States.

Zola, the realistic French novelist, writes a round, rapid hand, every letter being formed distinctly, but hastily. His signature is bold and plain, and covers several lines of ordinary ruled paper.

The 400th anniversary of the birth of Raphael is to be celebrated with great pomp in Italy next March. The event will be commemorated later by a monument in front of the Palazzo Ducale at Urbino.

Jewish persecution has broken out in Hungary with riots and outrages after the fashion of the late disgraceful procedures in Russia. The Government however is interfering promptly and sharply.

A correspondent of the Scientific American. who resides at a mining camp on the mountains in the southeastern corner of Arizona, says that the brilliancy of the moonlight there is such that mountains seventy miles distant are seen.

Gen. Stephen B. Lee says the first gun at Sumter was fired by George S. Gains, of South Carolina, who was afterward Lieutenant Colonel and killed in Maryland. Mr. Ruffin, of Virginia, who fired the first shot from the iron battery, blew out his brains after the war.

The gathering of fir cones to obtain the seed for export is quite an industry in Puyallup val-ley, Washington Territory. The cones are dried in the hop furnaces until the seed falls out, when it is packed up and sold for export. Large quantities of this seed are planted in Europe. fir seeds bringing from $5 to $8 per pound.

The petroleum industry is in a healthier condition, from the producers' point of view, now than at any time since the opening of the great Bradford field five years ago. The production is declining at a rate that in another month will make it equal only to the consumption, a state of affairs that has not existed for years, and in fact hardly ever since the beginning of the petroleum industry.

The province of Amazonas, Brazil, exported last year 199 tons of sarsaparilla. The zarza vine grows in the swamps, in soil that in Canada is known as "black muck," and the collectors often spend weeks in these marshy pools. The roots are traced and raised with a sharp stick, but the vine is not disturbed, the roots being cut off near the stock, which is covered up with a little earth, so that fresh roots may grow, and, in time a fresh harvest may be gathered.

One of the local industries of Southern California is the traffic in tarantulas and their nests. So great has been the demand for them on the part of relic hunters and entomologists that s number of persons are engaged in collecting them. The tarantula, when caught, is injected with a preparation of arsenic, which serves to counteract its poison and preserve it from decay Leo Fleishman, of Los Angeles, is at the head of this business, and is said to be filling orders from all parts of the world.

A boy of six years, at Cranberry Isles, Me. was the hero of quite a remarkable exploit, late-ly, rescuing his sister aged three, who had fallen into a well eighteen feet deep, and containing five or six feet of water. He pushed back the curb and went down, bringing her up in his arms over the rocks, uninjured, then, with rare thoughtfulness, undressed her and put her in bed, getting in, also, himself, to get her dry and warm before his mother returned from an errand.

Of Cardinal Newman, The London World has this rhapsodical discription: "The figure of John Henry Newman is suffused with an atmosphere of severe romance, to which Cardinal Manning is a stranger, and is surrounded by an accretion of traditions and fancies that cause him, even in his life-time, to 'have won his way to the region of fable.' Everyone whose spiritual being has been the scene of some invisible tragedy has turned to the writings of Newman, much as lovesick lads of a by-gone generation sought a gloomy solace in the strains of Byron."

In the bottom of a chest of Japan tea opened at Montreal recently was found a leather pocketbook about eight inches long by four wide, with three compartments. It is curiously marked with Japanese characters, and in it were found two Japanese letters, also a quantity of what appeared to be opium, and an opium pipe with its brass mouthpiece, cane stem, and tiny brass bowl still partly filled with opium, also two short hardwood sticks about four inches long, with a red material like sealing-wax wrapped in corn paper stuck on their ends. The pipe was carefully wrapped in rice paper. The chest of tes had been in the warehouse for two years.

At Kingston, Jamaica, is published a newspaper known as The Jamaica Creole, which does ousiness on what may be assumed to be the smallest capital now engaged in enlightening the public through the publication of news and deas. Recently, according to its own story, it fell short of printing ink, and there was but one vendor of the article in all Kingston. For some cause not entirely clear the dealer would not sell The Creole a less quantity than twelve shillings' worth of the ink, and the little firm, not being in a position to make such a heavy purchase, the principal made the ink himself. "The press-man," continues The Creolo's article, "on being asked whether the ink gave him any trouble to work, replied that he thought it better than the imported stuff." The article ends pathetically. "The editor would feel obliged if those indebted would send a part of what they owe.

Thurlow Weed's friends have little hope that he will ever recover from his present illness. His physician fears that he may sink through sheer inanition and exhaustion, and is, therefore using every means possible to induce the patient to eat as much as he can. Mr. Weed seems to realize, too, that his principal hope for recovery lies in so doing, and frequently calls for food. But after chewing it for a few moments he spits it out again, being apparently unable to swallow

From the testimony of a number of proprietors of flourishing mills in California and Oregon, it has been ascertained that it requires 275 pounds of average wheat to make 195 pounds, or one barrel, of average flour.

Will Rose has reached Cheyenne, Wy., from San Francisco, 1400 miles, having traveled all the way on a bicycle, making the distance in six weeks. He will go no further on account of the lateness of the season.

The ex Empress Eugenie has commissioned Canon, the Vienna artist, to paint a nortrait of her son, and has sent to him for use in so doing, the uniform worn by the late prince during the Zululand campaign.

A new departure in the treatment of chronic diseases has been made. Send to Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1109 Girard St., Philadelphia, for their Treat-Compound Oxygen, and learn all about it.

Physiology—"Mother, what have people got noses for?" asked an Austin child of her mother, who had seen better days. "To turn up at poor folks, my child," was the cynical response.

Are you aware that a simple Cough often termin ates in Consumption? Why not be wise in time and use Allen's Lung Balsam, which will stop the disease and prevent the fatal consequences. For sale by all Medicine Dealers.

A bald-headed man says his hair reminds him of a fool and his money.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsa-parilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

"My de r," said a husband to his wife, what kind of a stone do you think they will give me when I am gone?" She answered, coolly, "It might be brim-

Dr. Pierce's "Pellets"—little liver pills (sugar-coated)—purify the bl od, speedily corrects all dis-orders of the liver, stomach, and bowels. By drug-A philosopher says: "The man who laughs is the sympathetic man. It is astonishing how many sympathizers a fellow has when he slips down and hurts himself. Few like gray hairs, except on other persons. If your hair is turning gray, restore it to the hue of youth by using Ayer's Hair Vigor.

A State commissioner of life insurance said: "'Re-ceivership' but half covers the case. We need a new word that shall signify both to r ceive and devour.'

"ACCEPT OUR GRATITUDE." Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured my boy of a fever sore of two years' standing. Please accept our gratitude. Yours truly, HENRY WHITING, Boston, Mass. HENRY WHITING, Boston, Mass.

Forty Years' Experience of an Old Nur se.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind-colle. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

Important to Travellers. - Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $6 free. Address Stingon & Co.,
Portland, Me.

Every Merchant, Farmer, Miner, Mechanic, and Housekeeper should keep a bottle always near at hand, for internal and external uses.

For Bowel Complaints. It is a remedy unsurpassed for efficacy and rapidity

For Bruises, Cuts, and Burns, It is unequaled as a liniment.

For Rheumatism & Neuralgia, It has been proved by the most abundant and con-vincing testimony to be an invaluable medicine. Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it. Directions on each bottle.

Remedy for Curing

ASTHMA, CROUP,

All diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Pulmonary Organs.

It is harmless to the most delicate child. It consins no opium in any form.

Directions accompany each bottle. J. N. HARRIS & CO., Cincinnati, Ohio, PROPRIETORS. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

HIGHLAND AND FRENCH

RANGES, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS. HARBESON & JUDD.

> 88 N. Clark Street. W. H. WELLS & BRO.,

Stained Glass Works

48 & 50 Franklin St., Chicago

AUTHORS & PUBLISHERS

Will consult their own interests if they consult the

Claremont Manufacturing Co., CLAREMONT, N H.

Before they make contracts for the MAKING OF BOOKS.

CHEAPEST BIBLES Ever Furnished Agents.

FORSHEE & MCMACKIN, Cincinnati, O. AGENTS WANTED E. R. P. SHURLY & CO.

WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS.

Removed from 55 S. Clark St., to No. 103 Randolph Street, Chicago. (Round the corner.)

make the DEAF hear. Earphofies Send stamp for Stroular. Smonroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.

372 A week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Add. TRUE & Co. Portland, Me.

2 A Full Line of Prayer Books, Hymnals, &c.

ack's Oat Meal and Cracked Wheat, CHAS. D. DANA, Prop.

The Philadelphia Bi-Centennial. Correspondence of the Living Church.

A circular from the State authorities was sent to the pastors of all the churches in this city, requesting them to observe Sunday, October 22d, as a Memorial Day; and to refer in their sermons, to the historical nature of the events, which are occupying so prominent a part of our attention, at present. It may easily be seen that most of the denominations had a congenial field thus opened to them, in which they could enlarge upon the beauties of a spiritual religion, and discourse upon the oppression of Church when opposed to sect, holding up William Penn as the embodiment of a spiritual religion, and the example of the Independent religionist. But to the Churchman the treatment of the theme proved more delicate. How could a Catholic Preacher reconcile the justice of Penn's laws with the falsity of his theology? He could not commend his methods indiscriminately—that was certain. And, as it was generally advertized that sermons appropriate to the Bi-Centennial Festival would be delivered in our churches, it was with no little interest that many of the faithful wondered how the subject would be handled. In all the reports of the sermons which have come to my notice, ample justice was done to the great founder of Philadelphia; little or nothing was said of his short-comings; these were overlooked, partly because they were, to a great degree, owing to the exigencies of his age, and partly because the joyfulness of the occasion seemed to demand the remembrance of what was good, rather than a rehearsal of the evil in his discipline. At the late Celebration at St. Marks's Church, the Rev. Dr. Robins praised Penn for founding his laws upon the Ten Commandments. This fact, he said, had never lost its influence for good, and its force was yet visible in the management of the city. The Reverend Rector of Grace Church preached from First Kings, xix:8. "And he arose and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights." The preacher claimed that an act similar to that of Elijah was constantly happening in the spiritual and moral world; and that such an act had happened to William Penn. "Religion, and morality . . . were the first principles of the infant province. They were the foundation stones of the grand super-structure that has arisen year by year. They were the meat on which the infant colony did feed. Like Elijah, she lay on the borders of the great wilderness. From above, there came to her a provision of food. The meal was simple enoughsimple as the prophet's cake, and cruse of water. Yet it is upon the strength of that meat that she has been growing through all these two centuries. Father Maturin preached at St. Clement's, in the evening, from the Prophet Malachi: "Behold, I have sent my messenger to prepare my way before me." God, the preacher said, always does send His messengers, to prepare His way. These messengers differ in character as they differ in time, but in the Providence of God, they are permitted to prepare and make ready the way of the Lord. This, in all reverence, he thought, could be applied to the man who stood in the forefront of his age, and whose memory we were honoring at this time. He did a great work for good. The Church had become wedded to a strict formalism, and the deep spiritual character of the Bride of Christ had been lost to the minds of the men of that age. Penn taught one truth, and for that he should be held in everlasting honor; he taught that the Holy Ghost was here with us on the earth. The faults of Quakerism were touched upon with a kindly hand. While men had forgotten the spiritual character of religion, and while a freezing formalism had taken its place, William Penn did a great work by showing men that the Truth was verily and indeed in their midst; but in bringing out one great truth, ne completely lost sight of the balancing truth: that God was not merely spirit, but that, in His infinite condescension, He had taken to that Spiritual Essence very flesh from the womb of His Mother; and that He was now Man as well as God. He knew our wants. We felt that we needed to lean on the breast of God, to cling to the feet of God; and He took to Himself a human breast and human feet to satisfy our wants. And now, although our Incarnate God has ascended into Heaven, whence He came, we may still lean on Him, as His disciples did of old, through the Sacraments and Channels of His Grace. This fact was lost sight of, in the fierceness of the sudden change from apathy to a deep spirituality. "God is a Spirit," was the favorite text of the Friends of that age, as it is their favorite text now. The text of Christianity is: "The Word was made flesh."

Bishop Thorold in New York. Correspondence of the Living Church.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28th, 1882.

A reception was given by the Church Temperreturn from his Western tour. Luncheon was served, and after its conclusion addresses were of Grace Church, presided, and several of the clergy and prominent laity were present, among the former being the Bishops of Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, and Washington. Dr. Potter welcomed Bishop Thorold in a characteristically neat address, making particular reference to his recent services in behalf of the Temperance Society, and thanking him for them. The Bishop in reply, opened with a few playful jests, and related a story of a ling the Throne of Grace. Very truly your broth-Bishop who on once visiting a school, asked the er in Christ. children to tell him what was his besetting sin, expecting, doubtless, that they would answer "Examining us," or something of that sort, and She was familiar with the expression, "Drunk as ner of the German poets.

a lord," and inferred drunkenness to be consequently an infirmity of Lord Bishops. Bishop Thorold then commended very warmly the policy and working of the Church Temperance Society, and went on to say that the American Church had a noble field of work lying before it, but that to educational and ordinary parochial energy, she needed to add evangelization. It had been told him, that the vocation of the Church in this country was to do her work among the higher and more educated classes. If that was true, the Church would in the end retrograde instead of advance. The ordinary parish work, and the evangelistic work should go hand in hand. In the Church of England they had found that all her mistakes of policy were condoned by the results of evangelistic work-the effort tollift up all classes and to improve and elevate public morality. England was a small spot on the Bishop has been for years engaged, with farearth's surface, but from her had gone forth a vast movement of philanthrophy over the world. Against the mistakes of the English Church was to be placed this Christian and most generous enthusiasm. If the American Church proved itself equal to her magnificent opportunities, the people would rise up and call her blessed. It was a task which she would find beset with difficulties. First, the country was so big, and secondthough he hoped not to be considered as speaking invidiously-there was the very excessive conservatism of the clergy. Here, as in England, they were greatly respected. He had no wish to blame their conservatism, and caution was needed against fanatical and effervescent movements. The temperance work was in the line of this evangelistic work among the masses, and must have its effect in increasing the power of the Church among these masses. He was glad to have been privileged to do something in aiding this excellent work. Reference was then made to his Western visit. He said, the laity late classes, and excellent provision is made for impressed him as more enthusiastic than the clergy. In the United States we lacked the complete parochial organization existing in the mother land, and we had not the prestige of an old Established Church. But grand things awaited us, if we were faithful to our trusts, and ready to push on this and similar movements of an aggressive kind.

One of the guests present asked the Bishop concerning the effort now making in certain beloved by all. The Bursar, Mr. T. C. Vail, quarters in England to re-establish the Order of manages the business affairs of the school with editor of the Church Messenger, who are familas one "who, following the example of devout iar with it. It is hoped that this—and all like women, recorded in the Holy Scripture, and Sub-deacons in the Church. He answered promptly, that his sincere hope was, it might succeed. The main trouble seemed to be that mirably well qualified for the care of the dear chilthey could not do it without first going to Par- dren entrusted to her. The large corps of teachers liament for legislation on the subject. He believed most emphatically that both in America and England, the Church must rely more on the care which have weighed upon him for many laity for help in extending itself among all class- years. Until recently he has resided in the es of the people. The lay element must be school, managing many of its details, but since trusted. In his own Diocese, where there was a the severe and dangerous illness of himself and population of 1,800,000, he had over 330 lay- his wife, he has resided in the building which readers and lay-preachers, and these were niercharts, barristers, etc., many of them occupying high social positions.

whether in the Diocese of Rochester any special Bursar, in which I was very much impressed by course of instruction was provided for the lay- the completeness and wisdom of the plan, and preachers, and the Bishop replied, that no regu- the liberality of the provisions made for the edlar course had yet been settled upon, but that a ucation, comfort and health of the pupils, I had course of lectures was planned for this winter. the great pleasure of a call upon Bishop Vail and The church was completed and the first Service The matter of fitness was usually left for de- his lovely wife. As it is to be supposed that all held therein on the 7th of September, 1856, uncision to the Rectors of the parishes where lay Bishops read the LIVING CHURCH, I may not, did not execute them systematically.

The Rev. George D. Wildes, General Secretary of the Church Congress, said he much regretted that the Bishop of Rochester was not to be present at the Congress shortly to be held at be present at the Congress shortly to be held at evidence that the Father in God was a real fath- adds 18 feet to the length of the nave. The Richmond, because the subject of temperance er at heart and loved the children and the things organ (one of W. A. Johnson's best efforts) has and several subjects relating to it were to be that interested them. The Bishop spoke of his

The Bishop made a few more remarks in answer to questions, and concluded with a personal commendation of Mr. Robert Graham. Secretary of the Church Temperance Society, whom he had known in England, and whose to a great degree; he had therefore endeavored to wise and forcible addresses in their recent tour ealist the sympathies of Churchmen of older together, had much impressed him.

The Church in Haiti.

To the Editor of the Living Church: The following letter has been received from the Bishop of the Church in Haiti, which, on account of the request it contains, the Secretary friends. The school is now paying well and will gives to the public.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Oct. 7, 1882. Rev. J. Kimber, 23 Bible House, New York. REV. AND DEAR BROTHER:-We are still in a furnace of affliction in this Missionary field. The Rev. Mr. Ledan has lost one child by the plague of mallpox, and four more suffer from the same disease, but with hopes of recovery. The Rev. Mr. Benedict has one case in his house—a person living with his family-which renders it ance Society at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New menacing for his four children. He has been very York, to the Lord Bishop of Rochester, on his sick, also, with a bad sore throat, but I am thankful to say that he is now better. The Rev. Mr. Jones writes to me this week, that the smallmade. The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Potter, Rector pox has broken out in Jérémie again, from whence it had disappeared some several months

> For two or more months, past, our European the yellow fever. These pests, accompanied by very hard times in business affairs, increase misery and distress on all sides of us.

We beg our brethren in the States to remember us in our afflictions, when they are beseig-

JAMES THEODORE HOLLY, [Signed]

The original manuscript of "Maud Muller," as sent to The Washington National Era, conwas not a little shocked when the answer came from one of the girls, "Drunkenness, my lord." tains a note from Whittier, in which he says that he has "tried to make something of the pastoral conditions of New England life, after the mantains a note from Whittier, in which he says that conditions of New England life, after the man-

Bethany College.

Editorial Correspondence.

DEAR LIVING CHURCH:-Your readers have doubtless heard of Bishop Vail's Educational work in Topeka, and some of them may have had opportunity to inspect it; but I doubt if its extent and excellence is generally known. In a very hurrfed visit which I had recently the privilege of making, I was pleasantly surprised to see the solid foundations which the good Bishop has laid there on the prairies of Kansas, and the substantial evidences of progress and prosperity.

With the opening of the new South West by the extension of railroads to New Mexico and other great regions of wealth and growing population, Topeka is becoming a great point of departure and trade. In this centre of commerce and capital of a great and growing state, the East, and by local liberality, he has already secured a school property of which any Bishop might be proud. The grounds comprise twenty the terminus of a line of street cars; and on this ground are two large stone buildings, of the best class, for school purposes, with several other buildings for the work of the institution. In one building are the study-halls, recitation rooms, offices, dining room, gymnasium, rooms for puglass windows, presenting the appearance of a parish church. All the wood-work is walnut beautiful chapel all the pupils of the various grades are assembled daily for the worship of the Church. The school comprehends all departments, from the Kindergarten to the Collegthe instruction in the Fine Arts. The music department is perhaps the largest that can be found in our Church schools, five teachers being constantly engaged. The school numbers 150 day scholars and 75 boarding pupils. The Bishop has been fortunate in securing for every department of work most efficient and suitable helpers. The Chaplain, the Rev. J. A. Russell, and his wife reside in the institution, and are energy and ability; and the House-mother Miss Flosida Breiner is devoted to her charge and adare working faithfully and harmoniously, and the Bishop is relieved of much anxiety and personal Christ Church, New Berne, N. C. was occupied by the school in its early days when it was the "Topeka Female Seminary."

After an inspection of the buildings and outfit The Bishop of New Hampshire asked to know of the school, under the courteous escort of the caught the Bishop-not napping-but resting, and reading one of his children's little books! This was his rest, after the morning's correspondence and interviews. It was a delightful evidence that the Father in God was a real fathschool as his great missionary work. Having a large and very poor diocese in the midst of missionary jurisdictions, he had not been able to carry on his work at large in the Diocese as missionary work, by aid from the Church at large, dioceses in this work of Bethany College, which had proved to be a most efficient instrumentality of church extension. The school had been made a very cheap school to meet the wants of a new country and for many years had not paid expenses. The deficit had been supplied by personal be able out of its revenue to provide many needed improvements. For the enlargements now needed, however, he must depend upon gifts. May the Lord open the hearts and hands of His people to provide liberally for the extension of this good work.

Upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, that is to partake of the Holy Communion of the Body and Blood of Christ, Paul preached unto them, which intimates that the primary interest of their assemblies was to receive the Lord's Supper, and that upon occasion of this the Apostles instructed them by preaching. It is most evident by all the records of the Church that it was the apostolic and primitive custom to partake of this most holy ordinance every Lord's Day, and that their meetings were chiefly designed for this, to which were annexed prayer and population at the capital, has been decimated by preaching. I am afraid, sirs, that one of the great sins of our age is not only the neglect and contempt of this ordinance by some, but the seldom celebrating it by all. The apostle intimates in 1 Cor. 11:26, that it should be frequently dispensed and participated.—Bishop Hopkins.

> Subscription lists have been opened throughout the State of Georgia for a fund of $30,000 for erecting a monument to the memory of the late Senator Hill. Contributions are limited in amount to from one cent to ten dollars, the aim being to make the movement a thoroughly pop-

A horticultural curiosity is two apples growing on a grape-vine at Mount Sterling, Ky.

Church Work.

Its Progress and Its Needs as Seen by our Correspondents.

North Carolina.-The people of St. Cypri an's mission in New Berne, need money to paint the outside of the church building, to fit up parish school and to build a house of small dimensions for the Deacon who minister to them. There is a very large population of colored people here. They sadly need the training and influence of the Church. Almost twenty years ago this mission was organized with the view of giving them that help, and for a time was quite flourishing. For some years back it has hardly had an existence. Feeling that it was needful for the revival of the mission to secure for its work a man of the same race as the people, the Rector of Christ Church, acting under the advice officers elected were, Mr. W. Nethercot, Presiof the Bishop, and with his material aid, induced the Rev. P. W. Cassey of California to come and take charge of it. Mr. Cassey who is the grandson of Rev. Peter Williams, Rector of sighted wisdom, in building up a great school for St. Philip's Church, New York at the beginning a large congregation was present; the Service girls. By the generous aid of friends at the of the century, and whose character makes him eminently fitted for the great work of bettering the condition of his own race, has much improved the prospects of the mission since his advent in the early part of last winter. The conacres of bountiful land within the city limits, at gregation has increased in numbers and respectability; the interior of the church has been improved, and much good teaching has been done by way of the eye and the ear to conduce, to reverence and devotion in the sacred Services. Some of the leading families among the colored people have been gathered into this mission. But the majority are unable, because they have not been trained to give, to do more than they pils and officers, and the chapel. The latter is a have done in repairing and making additions to spacious room, with gothic ceiling and stained the church. The Deacon has gathered under his care a parish school of forty, and a Sundayschool of more than one hundred children, who are taught by himself with the assistance of his and ash, well-wrought and polished. In this daughter and one or two others, without any compensation. All this promising work it appears now, depends upon our retaining the ser vices of Mr. Cassey who seems providentially fitted for it. And to be able to sustain himself he must have a house rent free which will leave his small salary uncumbered. The most important thing then for the future of this work, which ened Christian and from which much may be tour. hoped, is to secure a "local habitation" and a resting place for the man whom God sends to be the spirit and agent of it. The church edifice may gather the children still in the gullery of it, but the pastor's house is an immediate necessity. the present effectiveness of it, the readers of the LIVING CHURCH are referred to the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rev. Geo. W. Shinn, and the iar with it. It is hoped that this-and all like appeals—will reach the eyes and the hearts of those who can help the priesthood of the South, who have only their hearts and their labor to offer, in saving to Christ, the people He has turned loose at the door of the church Any offerings have grace to do her duty as becometh so honormay be sent to Rev. V. W. Shields, Rector of

New Jersey .- Trinity Church, on Washington street, corner of 7th street, Hoboken, has Holy Communion was then celebrateed. been for many years a picturesque land-mark in the upper part of the city, and when it was built it might have been properly called "Trinity in the Fields," as the surrounding neighborhood was then, and a portion is yet, in a state of natural rural beauty. This pretty blue stone edifice was dismantled this summer and has been undergoing extensive alterations, which are nearly completed. The cost of the alterations will be some thing over six thousand five hundred dollars, and paid for when completed. Trinity parish was organized in September, 1853, and the corner-stone of the church was laid by the late Bishop Doane on the 18th of December, 1855. der the Rectorship of the Rev. A Sayre Harris, work was done. He then referred again to the without some reserve, record my impressions of the parish for nearly ten years. The church has who continued his faithful and devoted work in temperance work, criticising the agitation for this delightful interview. Entering the house always been the centre of a very successful parprohibition in this country as unjust. Our laws with a member of the family, I was permitted to ish work, and has grown with the growth of the ress. The class lately confirmed makes eighteen were more strict than those of England, but we approach the Bishop's study unannounced, and I city, until its members could scarcely be compersons who have been presented for Confirmafortably accommodated in the old church build-tion during the present year. The excellent ing. It was thought necessary, therefore, to enlarge the structure, which has been done by fortunate in securing for his Kindergarten School extending the east end about 27 feet and adding two short transepts. This addition allows a suitable sanctuary and choir of 27 feet in depth, and been brought down from the old gallery and placed on the south side of the choir, and a new gallery built. The old plaster ceiling has been removed, and the clerestary, which had been originally furred out in semi-gothic half-circles, has been opened with 26 windows in cathedral glass, which carries out one of the main features of Gothic architecture, and affords abundance of light and excellent ventilation. The ceiling is in panels of narrow boards, furred from the roof, thereby gaining some six feet in the inside height of the building, while the exterior atlitude remains the same as before. The roof has been slated, and by a judicious expenditure made absolutely water-tight. The old plaster of the side and end walls has been removed and renewed, and a handsome vestibule added. The interior will be decorated by E. J. N. Stent in medieval school of art decoration. Several new windows have been added, all in stained glass, two in the chancel, two in the transepts, and four others. Over the altar is the large window which occupied a corresponding place in the old chancel; in the middle panel is a representation of Christ, the central figure, and the right panel having a sheaf of wheat, typical of the bread in the Holy Communion, and the left panel leaves and grapes, typical of the wine, while a dove and stained trefoils occupy the head of the window. On the north side of the chancel a large and admirably arranged choir-room and vestry have been built, and a commodious cellar for heating apparatus extends under the whole of the new portion of the structure. The church will be re-opened on Saturday morning, the 4th of November, when the sanctuary will be consesecrated by the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt Rev. Dr. Starkey.

> Illinois.—A week's series of Services has just been closed in St. Stephen's Church, Chicago. The Rev. T. N. Morrison, Jr., Canon Knowles, Dr. Locke and L. Pardee were the Preachers. The Services were well attended and the responses rendered by the people of St. Stephen's in a manner showing the deepest interest. The sermons were without exception of a high order, and were listened to with attention and profit.

> Wednesday being St. Luke's day, an offering in kind, and money was received for St. Luke's Free Hospital.

> St. Stephen's people are encouraged, and notwithstanding that the parish has been in the past very much reduced by removals and indebted ness, and that the building is now in a condition not exactly fit to worship God in, yet the most of those remaining are working on faithfully.

The Rev. Mr. Mann held a service for deaf-The Rev. Mr. Mann held a service for deaf-mutes in Emmanuel Church, Rockford, on Oct. carried on by himself and his son at Mason, 23d. There was a goodly attendance. Mr. Mann visited Amboy on the 25th inst. The Service was largely attended, the church being filled to its fullest capacity.

The Bishop, accompanied by the Bishop of Maine, visited Belvidere on Monday, Oct. 23d.

The latter preached an admirable extempore sermon. A reception was afterwards tendered to the Bishops at the house of Mr. Ezra May. Belvidere was the residence of Bishop Neeley in his boyhood, and many friends greeted him with evident affection and pride in his career.

A meeting of the congregation of Christ Church, Winnetka, was held on Wednesday evening, Oc-tober 25th, when a Guild was organized for gen-eral Church work in the parish. The Rev. J. P. Lytton, of Highland Park, was present, and offered some practical suggestions based on his experience of a similar work in his parish. The dent; Mr. H. P. Aldrich, Vice-President; Mr. T. Bell, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Bishop of this Diocese officiated at this church on Sunday morning, October 15th, when (which was choral) was most creditably sung by the new choir of men and boys, which has recently been formed, and we are pleased to notice an awakening interest in the Church's work amongst the residents of this town.

Connecticut.—Trinity Church, Portland, one of the most pleasing stone churches in the Diocese, completed and consecrated last July, was again filled by a large and interested congrega-tion, on Oct. 19th, assembled to witness the marriage of the Rector, the Rev. F. W. Harriman to Miss C. E. Jarvis of Portland. The Choir and Chancel were tastefully adorned with flowers. Some five hundred parishioners and invited guests were present.

Very numerous tokens of esteem and affection were displayed at the home of the bride's father. Mr. C. A. Jarvis. Presents of varied beauty, elegance, and utility: valuable books, engravings, paintings, glass, china and silverware, cabinets, etc., etc., also a hundred dollars in gold coin.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Deshon, of Meriden, assisted by the Rev. F. D.

Harriman, who resides in Portland. The old church bell from its massive and high tower, rang out a benediction as the Rector and his bride left the edifice, and again at 3 o'clock as is a work that ought to appeal to every enlight-

Georgia.-On the festival of St. Luke, the Bishop set apart three Deaconesses at the Applemay go without paint a few years longer, and it ton Church Home, Macon. The chapel was filled with many who are well known for their interest in every good work of the Church. The cere-As to the reality of the needs of the mission and mony, moreover, was especially interesting, as it was the first of the kind in Georgia. No vows of life-long obligation were taken. Each sister simply professed herself to the Bishop written of in primitive times, desired to devote herself to the relief of the suffering and destitute, and came forward to ask his benediction able and difficult a work.

The Bishop briefly and eloquently explained to the congregation the meaning of the office, and the need of woman's help in holy works. The Massachusetts.—The fifteenth semi-annual missionary meeting of the Diocese was held in Grace Church, New Bedford, on the 18th inst. There was but a small attendance. The Bishop presided, and earnest and effective addresses vere delivered by him, and by the Revs. J. M Hillyar, C. L. Stewardson, R. Kidner, and Dr. Courtney.

Springfield.—Trinity Parish, Danville, is fortunate in having many hearty church-workers. Two young lady parishioners have succeeded in raising a subscription of $250, for repairing the church-building, and the vestry having added $100 to that amount, the needed repairs are in progress. It is to be regretted that the parish could not have undertaken to erect a new church. instead of patching up the old one; this will doubtless come, in good time. In the meanwhile the spiritual work is making encouraging prog-Rector,—the Rev. F. W. Taylor—has been very so efficient and highly-qualified a teacher as Miss

Iowa.-The new Christ Church, Waterloo, was formally opened on Sunday, Oct. 22d. The first Service was a celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The church was very handsomely decorated, and the Services were attended by very large congregations. The Rev. Mr. Ryan, of Newton, preached a most effective sermon. The total cost of the church has been $8,524,94.

Western New York .- We regret to announce the death of the Rev. Walter Ayrault, D. D., chaplain of Hobart College, which occurred at Geneva, on October 19th. Dr. Ayrault was born in Geneva on November 28th, 1822. He graduated at Hobart College in the class of 1840, receiving his Master's degree in 1843. Devoting himself to the sacred ministry, after the completion of his theological course he became the pastor successively of the Churches in Canandaigua, Geneseo and Oxford. From the latter place he removed to Geneva, on his election to the chaplaincy of Hobart College in 1877. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Hobart College in 1867. Dr. Ayrault was married to Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. Daniel H. Fitzhugh, of Mount Morris. Mrs. Ayrault with eight children survive him. The Trustees and Faculty of Hobart College have passed resolutions of regret.

Tennessee.—The Convocation of Memphis met at Trenton on Tuesday, October 17th, being the Eve of St. Luke, the Evangelist, and continued in session until Thursday night. The Dean, the Rev. G. W. Dumbell, presided, and there was a good attendance of the clergy of Western Tennessee. In addition to the business meetings of the Convocation, three Services were held daily in the Church of the Innocents, consisting of Celebration each day at 7 A. M., Morning Prayer at 10:30, and Evening Prayer at 7:30 P. M. Two sermons were preached each day upon subjects assigned to each preacher beforehand by the Dean. The preachers were, the Rev. G. W. Dumbell, Dean; the Rev. Dr. Lee, Revs. W. G. Davenport, E. Orgain, and William Klein. After Evensong each night, the Rev. G. W. Dumbell gave "Instruction," ing up and down the church among the people, vested in his cassock only, and speaking to them familiarly and in the plainest terms upon Public Worship, including devout behavior in church, keeling, responding, etc.; also upon Baptism, Confirmation and Holy Communion. This, to them, novel feature in the Services, impressed and interested the people much.

At their business meetings, the Convocation had before them several important reports of, and schemes for, mission work; notably a most full and very important report from the Rev. Dr.

Covington, Brownsville, and other places. The Rev. Dr. Lee also made an interesting statement of the work in his field, including Bailey, Grand Junction, and other points which he is able to serve with great regularity and efficiency, notwithstanding his arduous and responsible duties as Principal of the flourishing Church school, known as S. James' Hall, at Bolivar.

At Trenton, where the Convocation met, the Rev. C. F. Collins, Rector of Holy Innocents, is meeting with very great encouragement in his work. He and his family are comfortably housed in the neat parsonage recently completed, and which is entirely paid for. The church-yard is extensive and admirably situated, and a new church will be commenced before long, a portion of the cost being already in hand, in cash. The plans, prepared by Mr. Jones, architect, Mem-phis, are admirably conceived, and the whole when completed will be most churchly and effective. The people are thoroughly in earnest, and one layman particularly, Mr. John Cox, who has given most largely and worked most abundantly, is determed not to relax his efforts until everything now in contemplation shall have been

Montana .- The Rev. Mr. Horsfall, who recently entered upon Church work in the Yellow Stone region, is much encouraged by the early results of his efforts. A notice of his mission kindly given in the LIVING CHURCH, was read with interest by a Churchman in Philadelphia, who sent him as a first donation $10.00, and the citizens of Miles City contributed towards the erection of a chapel which it is expected will be ready for occupancy the first of November. A very decided interest in the Church has been awakened in the community at large, congregations are rapidly growing in numbers, and the grateful missionary believes that with Divine aid he will be able to hold the ground already gained and to make sure and steady progress towards the establishing of his beloved Church through all that region. A few things greatly needed to help on this good work, and which can be easily sent from the East, are as follows: (Second hand articles, it being understood, will serve his purpose as well as new ones.) A Communion set and alms basin, altar cloth, cover for lectern and sermon desk, hymnals set to music. The altar for the new chapel is four feet long by two feet six inches wide, and three feet high. Sermon desk, twenty-two feet wide by twenty deep. It is to be hoped these small requests can be easily

St. Luke's Church, Chelsea, Mass. Correspondence of the Living Church.

"The world moves," and certainly St. Luke's is not standing still. The present Rector, the Rev. Andrew Gray, took charge of the parish two years ago. Since then many much-needed repairs and improvements (amounting almost to a renovation) have been effected on the church. adding greatly to the grace, dignity, and churchly appearance of the building, as well as to the comfort and delight of the worshippers. At no inconsiderable cost, the church has been thoroughly painted; much of the roof re-laid; Sunday School rooms painted and otherwise improved; new chancel, choir, and Sunday School furniture provided; chancel arch re-modelled; a new furnace put in, and such other changes and ruin. The government, which in no wise made as now render the heating arrangements represents the people, seems paralyzed; and all most satisfactory; besides many other little eyes are turning to Gambetta, who, alone, perthese improvements, few, perhaps, are more adcast by the "Clinton H. Meneely Bell Co.," of will render him powerless in another emergency, Troy, N. Y., has been placed in the tower. It bears the following inscription: "To the Glory of God. Cast for St. Luke's Church, Chelsea, Rev. Andrew Gray, A. M. Rector. A. D. 1882. Qui audit dicat veni."

warm and beautiful tints, after an excellent de- the law governing cases of contempt of court. or rather of its branches in New York and vicinsign, and with such effect as to render it one of In the meantime Mr. Justice Lawson, the judge All Saints' Day. the most attractive in these parts. The colors who sent Mr. Gray to prison, has been amusare subdued and in good taste; and it is note- ing his leisure, and showing the excellence of ence, possibly, to a society which seeks, as does worthy that while everything—altar, re-table, re- his classical attainments, by furnishing the Irish the Girl's Friendly Society, to accomplish redos, symbols, etc.—is decidedly churchly, Ecclesiastical Gazette with some exquisite somewhat analogous, but more far-reaching obthere is the absence of everything that might be translations into Latin of well-known Church regarded as extreme or objectionable. The work hymns. is done "In memoriam," and bears the following inscription: "To the Glory of God, and in Loving Memory of William Gray, Jr., Jane Virtue, and Lizzie Ireland, this Chancel is Decorated by their brother, the Rev. Andrew Gray, Rector of this parish, A. D. MDCCCLXXXII. Requiescant in pace."

the chancel were held on Sunday, the 15th of October, when the bell was rung for the first time. There was a Celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 A. M., Mattins and Litany at 10:30, with a sermon by the Rector on "Reverence for and in the House of God," from the text, Lev., xix., 30, "Ye shall reverence My Sanctuary." At 7:30 Evensong was said with sermon (again by the Rector) from Heb. viii., 5, "The example and shadow of heavenly things." These Services were well attended and full of life and spirit.

Another most interesting Service was held at 10 o'clock, on St. Luke's Day, consisting of Holy Communion (the Rector, Celebrant) and sermon by the Rev. Prof. Chamberlain, of Cambridge. Evensong was said at 4:30; and in the evening a most enjoyable Parish Re-Union and Sociable was held in the Sunday School rooms. Evensong was again said on Thursday, the 19th, with a sermon by the Rev. C. C. Grafton, and on Friday, the 20th, with sermon by the Rev. George W. Durell. This brought to a close a series of Services, deeply interesting, which by the Divine blessing cannot prove otherwise than profitable.

A writer in The Industrial Review advises the introduction of the bamboo in the Southern states. Though capable of growing on the uplands, it is said to be especially suited to marshy regions, such as fringe the South Atlantic and Gulf states. Its uses are numerous. As a timber for building and construction purposes, for tools, implements, etc., it is well known. As an article of food its young shoots serve as substitutes for vegetables, and are pronounced delicious. Bamboo curry and chow-chow are excellent. The growing plant is invaluable also as a defense against malaria, sweeping fires, and cyclones.

News and Notes.

The Bishop of Manchester has formally novacant. It seems likely that the unfortunate owners. priest will be shortly at liberty. He has been in prison since March, 1881.

Sir Garnet Wolseley has returned home from Egypt. He met with a genuine ovation. It is now generally thought that England will buy Turkish rights over Egypt. At all events it is certain that England will insist upon exercising a predominating influence in the land of the

The new Dean of Windsor is the father-inlaw of the Bishop of Newcastle, Dr. Wilberforce. The latter will now doubtless have an opportunity of gaining for his name the favor of the Queen, which was alienated by the late Bishop Wilberforce's public denunciation of Her Majesty's custom of giving balls in Lent.

The Synod of the Evangelical Church of Basle have just arrived at a decision which may have important consequences for Swiss Protestantism. By 39 votes to 32, the Synod have referred to the Consistory a proposal for an alteration in the rules of the Church, whereby Baptism will no longer be a necessary preliminary to Confirmation and participation in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. It is proposed, also, to alter the Catechism in the same sense."

Chicago is at last actually to have a new depot on the site of the ruins of the Illinois Central. It will be 745 feet in length and 167 feet in width, extending from South Water street to Randolph, and connecting with the viaduct by iron bridges. The structure will be of an original character, of pressed brick with stone trimmings, with a roof nearly all glass. The estimated cost is $600,000, and it is expected that the edifice will be ready for use next fall.

The Bishop of Newcastle has proved himself a true disciple of his father in the matter of his patronage, for he has promoted Canon Martin, Vicar of Newcastle, an Evangelical, to the Archdeaconry of Lindisfarne, in order to put into the vicarage of the chief church in the diocese a clergyman of his own views, the Rev. A. T. Lloyd, Vicar of Aylesbury. The appointment is an admirable one, Mr. Lloyd being a judicious High Churchman, who, as virtual Dean of Newcastle and patron of several livings, will act with discretion as the Bishop's lieuten-

In France the demon of the revolution, which the too sanguine moderationists imagined had been laid to rest, has raised his ugly head and proclaimed himself as alert as ever. The whole country is in a state of nervous excitement, and the upper part of Madison Avenue, near Central a trifling incident may plunge it into anarchy Park. For a long period it was beyond the things too numerous to mention. But of all haps, at present, possesses the power and energy to cope with the crisis. He may save his mired and appreciated than the last. During country now, but he can only do it by giving up the last few weeks a fine bell of superior tone, principles and safeguards the absence of which home for such deaf-mutes as are incapacitated which re-assembled on Tuesday of last week, was to appoint a committee to investigate and report upon the imprisonment of Mr. E. Dwyer Gray, High Sheriff of Dublin and M. P. The The chancel too, has just been frescoed in result will doubtless be a modification of a general meeting of the Girl's Friendly Society,

The Church Congress at Derby, of which we gave a full account last week, passed off on the Avenue. whole, very successfully. The Bishop of Lichfield managed the meetings admirably. At the very outset he was put in a difficulty by the Rev. Alexander Lendrum, Rector of Blatherwyck, Northamptonshire, who objected to the ballowed to take any Services in connection with the re-opening of Bishop of Liverpool being allowed to take any Bishop of Liverpool being allowed to take any part in the Congress, owing to his alleged schispublished a parish paper, The Chimes, aided at matic conduct in Scotland. The Bishop, by extreme civility and tact, and falling in with the idea of its being a matter for the Convocation of York, quieted the rising tempest. The chief features of the Congress were the appearance of Father Ignatius on the platform. where his warm reception showed how much had taken place since the time when Bishop Ellicott at the Bristol Congress obtained him a hearing with difficulty; the passionate address of Sir Percival Heywood at an extra-congressional meeting, stating that he would not take any step which would acknowledge the validity of Mr. Green's imprisonment, and that he would take no heed to the Bishop of Manchester's letter declaring the living of Miles Platting vacant; and, still more, Mr. Wood's injudicious avowal, in the name of the English Church Union, of a desire to obtain the permissive use of the Edwardian Prayer Book. The idea, which was of course violently hooted by the Low Churchmen, met with a very cold reception from all parties. The English people are strongly attached to their Prayer Book, and wish for no other.

Considerable impetus was given to the Southwell Bishopric Fund by the Congress. Mr. Strutt of Belper, who had contributed $2,500, has given a second donation of $5,000; and, at the meeting on Friday, held under the presidency of the Earl of Devon, $5,000 was subscribed in the room. The feeling that the seat of the bishopric should be at Derby or Nottingham would be natural if each county was to have a bishop; but, as that is not the case, the jealousies which would arise at the choice of either would be fearful to contemplate. Hence Southwell, with its splendid minster, with the nucleus of an endowment for a chapter and a residence, presented by the Bishop Suffragan of Nottingham, is the natural seat of the see; and its choice tified Lord Penzance that Mr. Green's living is is no excuse for the niggardliness of righ land-

Metropolitan Societies and Guilds. Correspondence of the Living Church.

On the evening of Thursday, October 26th, the annual meeting of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Missionary Society was held in the chapel adjoining Calvary Church, Fourth Avenue and Twenty-first Street, New York. Reports of the various standing committees were presented, and the officers for the ensuing fiscal year elected. The report of the financial committee stated that the sum of $37,367.20 had been received in the shape of voluntary offerings and legacies, and that the expenses during the period had footed up $34,106.73. The gratifying announcement was made that the Society had been enabled to pay off the entire indebted-

At the annual meeting of the Managers of St-Luke's Hospital, a report was made not so satisfactory. The work of the hospital has grown in extent and efficiency, but the accounts indicated a deficit for the year of $10,248.08. To meet the increased demands upon the institution, this must be met, and an enlarged income assured besides. Churchmen have good reason to feel a pride in this great work of Dr. Muhlenberg's, and we cannot believe they will permit it year after year to bring in this report of deficit.

The thirty-first anniversary of St. Luke's Home for Indigent Christian Females, has come and gone. The Home was thrown open to the inspection of visitors during the day, and a service was held in the adjoining Church of the Beloved Disciple, in the afternoon. At the Service, there were present the Rev. Dr. I. M. Tuttle, rector of St. Luke's Church, the Rev. Mr. Warner, formerly Assistant to Dr. Tuttle, and now rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple, the Rev. Edmund Guilbert, rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, the Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, who has succeeded the Rev. Dr. F. Courtney as Assistant minister of St. Thomas' Church, Fifth Ave., and the Rev. Messrs. Maguire and West. The annual report stated that there had been 65 inmates in the institution during the year, five new ones having been admitted, and four removed by death, or otherwise. A new physician has been added to the medical staff. The income for the year had amounted to $23,378.26. A mortgage for $11,500 had been paid off. Following this report addresses were made by the Rev. Messrs. Guilbert and Mackay-Smith. The Home occupies a handsome building, brick with stone trimmings, in of recent years has much improved the neighborhood, and before many more years have passed it will be in one of the finest resident quarters of New York.

An effort has been making by the Church Mission to Deaf-muteu to secure a farm near New York to serve as a refuge and industrial by their peculiar affliction to engage in ordinary employments with success. Such an institu-One of the first acts of the British Parliament, tion might, we should think, become self-supporting, could the original cost of foundation be defrayed. The Rev. Dr. Gallaudet has secured about $7,000 towards the object, but $30,000 will

Speaking of Dr. Gallaudet reminds us, that

And this in turn puts us in mind by its referjects of the Church Temperance Society were ably advocated last Sunday by the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, of Worcester, Mass., in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Madison,

We not long since made reference to the organized parochial energies of the House of Prayer, Newark. St. Luke's Guild held an anpre-Lent mission which was conducted by the Rev. Messrs. A. G. Mortimer and J. Sword; has provided ushers for the Church Services who have steadily endeavored (a most important matter) to make strangers to the parish Church welcome, has provided a new supply of Prayer Books and Hymnals, materially assisted the work of St. Luke's Home for children, cared for the parish sick, and been helpful in many other ways. Bishop Quintard spoke some very the Guild referring to the increase of organic charities and philanthropic institutions in the Church. Such work had greatly grown within recent years, he said, but nevertheless, it might be truthfully stread that it had only just become be truthfully stated, that it had only just begnn. There was no calculating the power over the masses in this country, which the Church could wield by such Christ-like ministries. He urged his hearers to work on faithfully and with perseverance, but in seeking the good of others never to forget their duty to their own spiritual lives, and above all to be regular and frequent in the reception of the Holy Communion. The anniversary exercises terminated with a social reunion in the mission rooms of the parish.

Burksville, Ky., Oct. 1, 1882.

Messrs. J. and W. Hoelick & Co, Racine Wis.:
Gentlemen—I have used your food in a case of Dyspepsia of long standing that seemed to baffle all the skill of this country, and am happy to say that it has given entire satisfaction, and I cheerfully recommend it to the profession for general use, as I am now satisfied that it is all you claim for it.

Yourstruly, T. T. BAKER, M. D.

Yours truly, T. T. BAKER, M. D.
Those seeking Bulbs and Plants for fall planting should send at once to Hiram Sibley & Co., 200 to 206 Randolph St., Chicago, for Catalogue, free. Their stock of Holland Bulbs is very large and choice.
Their offers, on page 49 of Catalogue, cannot be surpassed.

A GOOD OFFER.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company has just issued an illustrated treatise, "The Heart of the Continent," describing the wonderful growth of the Six Great States. The book is beautifully printed, and numerous engravings of high merit adorn its pages. Any one sending his name and address with two three-cent postage stamps will receive a copy by return mail, by applying to Perceval Lowell, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Illinois. A GOOD OFFER.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength, and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

Chas. Gossage & Co.

Dry Goods Retailers," CHICAGO.

CARPETS. UPHOLSTERY

Latest Designs.

Our long-established reputation for superiority of styles and fabrics is fully maintained in these departments.

Orders for Interior Decorations Promptly and Artistically Executed.

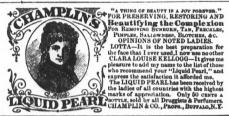

Chas. Gossage & Co. CHICAGO.

1881.

Chas. N. HAMMOND Manufacturer of Hats, Caps, Furs,

GLOVES. ROBES, ETC. Children's and Youth's Hats and Caps a Specialty. No. 58 State St. CHICAGO.

CHOICE FLORIDA ORANGES

The Rev. Lyman Phelps of Sanford, Fla., will personally attend to the filling of all orders for Oranges from fruit of his own reising. He is permitted to refer to Dr. Henry Foster, Clifton Springs, N. Y. The Bishop of Florida and the Bishop of Minnesota.

Price Accompanying all Orders,

PER BOX Freight to New York, 65 cents. Chicago, 90 cents. Single Box, double rates.

'NO TENSION' Runs with one-third the Power of the lightest HAVE YOU THOROUGHLY TESTED IT? Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Brcadway, N. Y. CHICAGO: 229 STATE STREET.

Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore Street Baltimore. No. 112 Fifth Avenue, N. Y.

*J.+&+R.+LAMB.>>

59 CARMINE ST., NEW YORK. All wool goods 70 in. wide in all the Church Colors.

Large and important memorial Brass. Subject, Angel of the Resurrection, for Brook-lyn, New York. PROGRESS

Mussive Brass Eagle Lectern for Grace Church, Provi-dence, R. I.

Polished Brass Conventional Eagle Lectorn (memorial) for Fair Haven, Conn. WORK Richly Chased and Polished (memorial) Brass Pulpit for New York.

Several memorial windows in progress of work with richly jeweled iridiscent and opaleseant cut glass. Illustrated catalogue sent iree.

JONES & WILLIS, CHURCH

FURNITURE

MANUFACTURERS, Art Workers in Metal, Wood, Stone, and Textile Fabrics. 43 Gt. Russell Street, London, W. C., Opposite the British Museum,

And Temple Row, Birmingham.

VESTMENTS CLERICAL DRESS.

Send for Illustrated Price List to JOHN SEARY,

CLERICAL OUTFITTER. 13 New Oxford St., London, W. C.; or at Oxford.

David J. Neale,

CLERICAL TAILOR,

824 BROADWAY NEW YORK, Cor. 12th St., and at Middletown, Conn.

BISHOPS' ROBES,

and all kinds of Ecclesiastical Vestments, Clerical Clothing, etc., at very low prices. Refers to Bishop Williams.

ECCLESIASTICAL VESTMENTS AND EMBROIDERY.

The All Saints Sisters are prepared to furnish estimates, and execute orders, for Cierical Vestments, Altar Linen, and Frontals, and other articles of Ecclesiastical Embroidery. Address the SISTER SUPERIOR, 261 Hamilton Terrace, Baltimore. 209-13

Stained Class. 217 East Wa

FOR CHURCHES, Manufactured by Geo.A. Misch, 217 East Washington Street,

Altar Desks Altar Cross

Altars Lecterns

Altar Vases. Chairs. R. GEISSLER CHURCH FURNISHER.

127 Clinton Place (West 8th St.) New York.
ART-WORKER IN WOOD, METAL AND MARBLE.
MEMORIAL BRASS ENGRAVER. Send for circular.

McCULLY & MILES, ARTISTIC STAINED GLASS,

1, 3, 5, 7 & 9 MADISON ST.,

Corner Michigan Ave., Chicago.

50 MADISON STREET, CHICAGO.

Mitchell, Vance & Co. 836 & 838 Broadway, N. Y.
Designers and Manufacturers of Ecclesiastica

Gas Fixtures & Metal Work. Clocks & Bronzes, Metal & Porcelain Lamps, and Artistic Gas Fixtures for Dwellings.

PURE

Sacramental & Family WINES.

WRITE FOR CIRCULAR.

Lake Keuka Wine Coa, Hammondsport, New York.

Preston, Kean & Co Bankers.

100 Washington St., Chicago. Receive the accounts of Merchants, Bankers and others.

Issue certificates of deposit. Discount commercial paper. Loan money on approved collaterals