The # Living

Church.

A Weekly Record of its News, its Work, and its Thought.

Vol. IV. No. 18.

CHICAGO.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1882.

NEW YORK.

WHOLE No. 174.

NEWS AND NOTES.

Foreign.

A PAPAL Nuncio in Washington would be a curious sight, but in spite of some of our contemporaries, we imagine that it is a sight we shall not behold. The office that Leo intends establishing in this country is that of Papal Delegate, a very different sort of thing. A Nuncio is an accredited diplomatic minister, and is always an Italian; a Delegate is a native ecclesiastic on whom extended powers are conferred, so that he may settle the less important of the cases which have, at present, to be referred to Rome.

THE Bishopric of Rangoon, British Burmah, vacant by the resignation of Dr. Titcomb, has been conferred by the Queen of England, in her capacity of Empress of India, upon the Rev. J. M. Strachan, M. D. Dr. Strachan is an alumis the first of its sons to attain to the episcopate. He has been a missionary in India since 1860, and his appointment is very universally approved.

In reference to the widely-circulated statement | great damage was done about the lower Ohio. that the Greek Church contemplated establishing a hierarchy in England, a statement which we, from the first, characterized as absurd, the the overflowed region between Vicksburg and Rev. G. C. Curtis, Chaplain of the Crimean Memorial Church at Constantinople, writes to the Levant Herald: "I am happy to be enabled to state, upon the best Greek authority, that the the Senate and will doubtless pass the House. Holy Synod of the Orthodox Church, far from contemplating any action like that attributed to it, purposes to send candidates for the sacred ministry to England, that they may profit by as Colonel of Infantry, to fill the first vacancy, such a course of theological and ecclesiastical study as the English Church can afford them, and thus become thoroughly acquainted with the question of back pay. English Christianity. This is one of the many wise measures adopted by the Holy Synod, under its present able president, the Œcumenical

THE collapse of the "Union Generale" in Paris throughout Europe. The chapter of accidents of deeply affected. which the crash has been the cause is long and curious, indeed; and the number of martyrs is so great, and some of their names so illustrious, that to have been a victim of M. Bontoux has almost become a title, not so much to the sympathy, as to the envy of ordinary mortals, who were either poor in purse, or rich in prudence. The completion of the immense church of the Sacred Heart, that is being built on the heights of Montmartre, by subscription of the faithful all over France, will be again retarded. All the reserve funds were deposited in the Union Generale.

M M. Bontoux and Feder are still in prison, and proceedings are about to be instituted against several, if not all, the directors. The latest news for the shareholders-sad news, in truth-is that been paid up, 375f per share.

When the Union was founded, under the patronage of the Pope, one of the directors suggested that the motto of the company should be Honneur a Dieu. It has been observed that Adieu, honneur, would have been more suitable.

ACCORDING to the Irish Church Directory for 1882, there are now 1,708 clergy in the Church of Ireland. At the time of the Census of 1861, there were 2,265. In twenty years, therefore, there has been a decrease of 550 clergy. In 1840, the population of Ireland was 8,155,521. In 1881, it had diminished to 5,294,436. During ten of these years, however, there was an increase in the population of the years preceding, so that the total decrease in the forty-one years amounts to 2 828 594

THE Archbishop of Canterbury has been making efforts for the release of Mr. Green, who has now been nearly a year in prison. His Grace sent for some of the leading members of the Church Association, Mr. Green's persecutors, and suggested that the object of the Church Association might be obtained, and Mr. Green might be released from prison, if sufficient guarantees could be obtained from the Bishop of Manchester or from Mr. Green that the illegal ceremonial should cease at St. John's Church, Miles Platting. The Archbishop considered that the Council might influence the promoters of the suit to take action in the matter accordingly, The Association, however, declined to interfere.

IT is now stated that Dean Cowie of Manchester, is likely to be the first Bishop of Newcastle. The Dean is an advanced Churchman, and of course, the thought of his appointment calls forth shrieks of horror from the Rock. That amazing and amusing journal says;

"It is surely not to be supposed that Mr. Gladstone will wantonly kindle further ill-will for himself throughout Northumberland by thrusting upon the new diocese a gentleman of views so extreme as Dean Cowie. As a dean he has been simply nowhere, except, perhaps, in the way of the Bishop of Manchester. As a Ritualistic clergyman his notoriety is great and of old standing, and it is generally supposed that if he had not been promoted to his deanery, he would have shared the experiences of Messrs. Mackonochie, Tooth, Dale, and Green. If Dean Cowie be made the Bishop of Newcastle, men will think of the Premier and recall the ancient proverb, 'Whom the gods wish to destroy they first committee to inquire into the working of the Irish land act. The House of Commons has virtually censured the Lords by passing a motion Every seat in the hall was filled by 10 o'clock.

THE British House of Lords, which contains a majority of Tory land owners, has appointed a to Commerce.'

deprecating any such inquiry.

BRADLAUGH has been expelled from the House of Commons and his seat declared vacant. fund, Cyrus W. Field was given a seat beside He will almost certainly be re-elected, in which | President Arthur. Governors Hoyt, Foster, Porcase the House will either have to admit him or to disenfranchise Northampton.

At Home.

Our weekly resume of Home News and Notes must be understood to begin with the Wednesday | the president and cabinet appeared. Mr. Blaine of the week before, and to close with Tuesday's reports, of the week of issue.

the Atlantic to the lower Missouri last week, of President Garfield from the cradle to the produced in the Mississippi Valley near the confluence of the three great rivers, a rise of water nus of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, and unprecedented for rapidity, The "father of tention, as the gifted speaker told the story of waters," during some hours, averaged a foot in our dead hero's life. The peroration was peculirise. The total was seventeen feet. St. Louis arly graceful and touching, and we cannot forwas cut off from railroad communication, and bear quoting it:

> An appropriation was made by Congress of $100,000 for the relief of the laboring classes in

> The bill to retire General Grant, with the title of General and $12,500 a year, has passed

It is pretty well understood that the President and Cabinet have decided to restore Gen. Fitz John Porter to the army. He will be nominated and will probably ask to be retired. The Attorney General is soon to render an opinion on

A Committee, representing the ex-confederate soldiers of Cincinnati, visited Mrs. Garfield last lips may tell-what brilliant broken plans, what week, and presented a memorial tribute to the late President, in the form of engrossed resolutions framed in Tennessee marble. The widow proud, expectant Nation, a great host of sustainstill continues to be a great topic of conversation and mother of the Chief Magistrate were both ing friends, a cherished and happy mother > miles wide by sixty long. The plantations of Governor Alcorn and General Hancock are safe. The Legislature has voted relief for the suffer-

Mr. Roscoe Conkling has been appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and Mr. A. A. Sargent has obtained the German Em-

The Special Committe to audit the bills connected with President Garfield's death, recommend $25,000 for Dr. Bliss, $15,000 each for With unfailing tenderness he took leave of life. Drs. Agnew and Hamilton, $10,000 each for he heard the voice of God. With simple resig-Drs. Reyburn and Boynton, $5,000 for Mrs. Ed- nation he bowed to the Divine decree. son, and $3,000 for Steward Crump. It is urged the official assignee is going to call in the three duarters of the capital of the Union that has not General that big assistant Major Woodward been to him the wearisome hospital of pain, and name of "Diocese." General; that his assistant, Major Woodward, be promoted to Lieutenant Colonel, and that its oppressive, stifling air, from its homelessness Mrs. Garfield be given the remainder of the and its hopelessness. Gently, silently, the love of year's salary. The minority will be heard from a great people bore the pale sufferer to the on the army promotions.

> The House Committee on Elections agreed on Friday by a two-thirds vote to report that Campbell was not elected as Delegate from Utah, that Cannon is not entitled to a seat, and that a vacancy exists in the representation of Utah.

> Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, has surprised the public of that wicked city by issuing orders for the closing of the gambling houses. The fact that he has allowed the reporters to say for him that his action is compelled by newspaper attacks upon his primary policy, does not argue that he has any confidence in his present course or that it will be a success. He says that such offences must needs come, but he does not seem to believe that "Woe to him by whom the offence cometh," will effect a reform.

The procession of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans was over two miles in length, and comprised fifty-five cars. The pageant of the Krewe of Comus filled twenty cars, illustrating the religions of the world. Twenty-five thousand invitations to the king's ball were issued. If such festivities are needful for the recreation of the people, it is to be regretted that they are associated with Lent. They cannot be considered a suitable preparation for the solemn season on the eve of which they are held.

A party of 325 Jewish refugees from Russia arrived at Philadelphia by the steamship Illinois, and were taken to the old Pennsylvania depot, and liberally supplied with food and clothing.

A dispatch from St. Louis to the Chicago Times says:

"The officers of the City of Helena, which came in to-night talk in this way: 'We did't see any distress until we got to Pond Lily, a place just around the bend about forty-five miles this side of Cairo. It is on the Missouri shore and everything was covered. Here we found only one house, and that in danger of floating off. It was a little one, set up on blocks, and the floor was about four inches deep with the flood. The owner is A. W. Williams, and his wife and five children were on the top of the building, while he was paddling around in a skiff. On the roof was a lot of chickens, in the kitchen a horse and calf, on the stoop another horse, and in a small boat a couple of pigs and some dogs. He said he had thirty head of cattle that had taken a swim down the stream out of sight. We took the whole crowd off and brought them up

THE Garfield memorial services in the national capitol on Monday were very impressive. The bereaved family was not represented, but in recognition of his services in securing the relief ter, Hamilton, and Bigelow were present. Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, Howard and Meigs entered at 11:30. At noon Speaker Keifer called the house to order, and soon afterwards the members of the senate, the supreme court, and looked pale and worn. He was introduced by Acting Vice President Davis, and at once com-The great storm of the season that raged from menced to read his oration, detailing the career grave. The oration was a masterly effort, and the whole assembly listened with breathless at-

> His terrible fate was upon him in an instant. One moment he stood erect, strong, confident in the years stretching peacefully out before him. The next he lay wounded, bleeding, helpless, doomed to weary weeks of torture, to silence and the grave.

Great in life, he was surpassingly great in death. For no cause, in the very frenzy of wantonness and wickedness, by the red hand of murder, he was thrust from the full tide of this world's interest, from its hopes, its aspirations, its victories, into the visible presence of Deathand he did not quail. Not alone for the one short moment in which, stunned and dazed he could give up life, hardly aware of its relinquishment, but through days of deadly languor, through weeks of agony that was not less agony because silently borne with clear sight and calm ourage, he looked into his open grave. What blight and ruin met his anguished eyes, whose baffled high ambitions, what sundering of strong warm manhood's friendships, what bitter rend-ing of sweet household ties! Behind him a wearing the full, rich honors of her early toil and tears; the wife of his youth, whose whole life The district overflowed in Mississippi is thirty lay in his; the little boys not yet emerged from childhood's day of frolic; the fair, young daughter, the sturdy sons just springing into closest companionship; claiming every day and every day rewarding a father's love and care, and in his ers, and Governor Lowry has appealed to the heart the eager rejoicing power to meet all demand! Before him desolation and great darkness! And his soul was not shaken. His countrymen were thrilled with instant, profound, and universal sympathy. Masterful in his mortal weakness, he became the centre of a Nation's love, enshrined in the prayers of a world, but all the love and all the sympathy could not share with him his suffering. He trod the wine-press With unfaltering front he faced de

> As the end drew near his early craving for the he begged to be taken from its prison walls, from onged-for healing of the sea, to live or to die as God should will, within sight of its heaving billows within sound of its manifold voices. With lows, within sound of its manifold voices. wan, fevered face, tenderly lifted to the cooling breeze, he looked out wistfully upon the ocean's changing wonders; on its far sails whitening in the morning light; on its restless waves rolling shore-ward to break and die beneath the noonday sun; on the red clouds of evening arching low to the horizon; on the serene and shining pathway of the stars. Let us think that his dying eyes read a mystic meaning which only the rapt and parting soul may know. Let us believe that in the silence of the receding world he heard the great waves breaking on a further shore, and felt already upon his wasted brow the breath of the eternal morning.

As a specimen of "fine writing", we have for some time seen nothing to surpass the following extract from the London correspondence of the Chicago Tribune. The accomplished writer has been to a "High Church," and thus graphically and poetically portrays his feelings:

A disagreeable feeling impresses itself, however, in the midst of the banners waving and the picturesque processions which Protestantism incongruously borrows from Catholicism. The Church of Rome inherits all its grandeur from the splendid Vatican still gleaming in the Latin sunlight, and throwing over the misery and want of the Eternal City the magnificence of Catholicism. All the surroundings of this religion are harmonious and imposing; and, although we may regard these in the same spirit as we do the luxuries of Paganism, those of the Protestant Churches affect us differently, being modern innovations, rather than the natural reflections of ancient splendor that hold us enthralled in vast cathedrals so imposing in their solemn grandeur, with the Cardinals in their purple, the sombre monks, the veiled nuns, the pageantry of the Papal Court, and the thunders of the Vatican to add to the souvenirs that the name of Catholicism arouses.

The "splendid Vatican still gleaming in the Latin sunlight," is simply delicious, so is the "pageantry" and the "thunders."

The Church hospitals in New York have received the following amounts from the fund resulting from the collection on Hospital Sunday: St. Luke's Hospital, $5,000; the House of Rest for Consumptives, $2,000; Home for Incurables,

The Convocation of Williamsport. To the Editor of the Living Church:

In your issue of Feb. 25th, the Rev. Dr. Hopkins indulges in some bold criticisms on a report of the proceedings of the Convocation of Williamsport, which, in the month of January, appeared in the LIVING CHURCH. He seems to think it strange, that, in the brief report referred to, mention was made only of the fact of his having introduced certain resolutions in relation to a division of the Diocese, together with a statement of the dean's objections to them; while, all that he did in the premises, and all that he successfully carried through, notwithstanding the that district, and to erect a lasting memorial to dean's opposition, are unrecorded facts. The resolutions had already been published by him in the Church papers. Was it necessary that some one else should reproduce them? However, Dr. Hopkins congratulates himself on the opportunity thus afforded him to come before the public, with "a much more extended setting forth of our movement." It must be admitted that he has been active in the direction indicated; he has done much and said more; all the credit that justly belongs to him should be freely given. On that score, it is safe to say, there will be no controversy, nor even competition. He appears to make much of the fact that both memorials presented to the Bishop and Convention, requesting that the Convocation of Williamsport might other locality. A growing section of West Philbe formed into a new Diocese, were signed by our present dean—"who now says such a course is impracticable." So he said at the very inception of the movement. It was well understood that he signed the first memorial, in order that the question of division, which had been raised, might be brought up, and the sense of the Convention taken as to whether any division might be expedient, and, if so, on what lines. He also signed the second memorial (the question still remaining undecided), on the express condition that it should not be presented to the Convention with his name appended, unless in the meantime a sufficient endowment, say, $70,000 or $80,000 should have been secured for a new refused to give their consent to the request of See. The idea entertained by several others who signed the memorial, was—the erection of two Convocations into a separate Diocese (for instance, Williamsport and Harrisburg); which would have some show of reason and common sense. But as they could not act in their own Convocation for those outside of it, they were willing to take the initiative, by asking that the Williamsport Convocation might be made a new Diocese, with a view to test the question of division, and ascertain what practicable division, if any, could be made. The union of two adjacent Convocations for the purpose named, is a measure which it is believed they would still advocate, in opposition to the visionary scheme of Dr. Hopkins, to set off one Convocation-the

But what seems to be the chief gravamen of Dr. Hopkins is both curious and characteristic. After noticing the dean's opposition, he says: "And yet, the movement for the new Diocese has made such progress, that the Bishop has fixed $30,000 as the sum which he will require to be secured as an Episcopal Fund for the new Diocese, before he will give his canonical consent to its erection; and the entire sum has been secured and something over," Thus, by an ingenious arrangement of his facts and fancies, Dr. Hopkins becomes bewildered, and really makes it appear (perhaps contrary to his intention) that the Bishop, acquiescing and moving in the matter, had fixed on a certain sum for endowing the new Diocese of Williamsport, and that his demands in that regard had been fully complied with. It should have been added, that the above sum of $30,000 includes about $14,000 of the present Episcopal Fund; all of which it, is assumed by Dr. Hopkins, will be available for this purpose. The account of the proceedings of Convocation that did not embrace all this, Dr. Hopkins compares to "the play of Hamlet with the part of Hamlet left out." Now-as Dr. Hopkins admitted on the floor of Convocation-the Bishop, in reply to his letter on the subject, did not say that, if an endowment of $30,000 should be raised, he would consent to the erection of a new Diocese on the lines of the Convocation of Williamsport; but he did say, that he would consent to the erection of no new Diocese unless $30,000 had been secured as an Episcopal Fund, and there should be a reasonable unanimity. This is the part of Hamlet which our critic, by mistake, leaves out; while the part which he what there was in total abstinence, and he was supplies takes the hue of his imagination, and will now convinced that it was best for all, young and old. He slept better at night, and worked be received for what it is worth.

J. H. BLACK. Williamsport, Pa.

Church-Matters in Philadelphia. From our Special Correspondent.

S. Barnabas' Church, Kensington, having been declared free from debt, was consecrated on Quinquagesima Sunday. The Instrument of Donation was read by J. S. Biddle, Esq., after which the Consecration Service was proceeded with. The Sentence of Consecration was read by the Rev. C. E. Betticher, Parish-priest, and $2,000; St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, laid by the Bishop upon the Altar. Morning $2,000; and the Free Home for Incurables, Prayer was said by the Rev. Dr. Hare, and the Rev. Dr. Syle. The Rector said the Litany.

There being no Celebration, the Epistle and Gospel of the Office were read by the Bishop, who was also the Preacher. In his sermon, he explained the meaning of the Service, laying emphatic stress upon the fact that the edifice was no longer man's but that it was God's; that it became His, when the Sentence of Consecration was laid upon His Altar; and that it was to remain His for all time.

Some thirty years ago, a Society connected with Christ Church Parish was instrumental in building a church in a desolate portion of the city. its objects being-to meet the spiritual needs of Bishop White, the first occupant of the See. With the last-named object in view, the new church was called Calvary Monumental. The work of this parish has been gradually diminishing, owing to the changing nature of the neighborhood. The railway companies are buying all the property in the vicinity, and transferring the people to other localities; and this has led to a contemplated change of site. The vestry of Christ Church, out of whose hands the temporal management of Calvary Parish has never passed, decided a few months ago, to sell the property, and to invest the money in the name of Calvary Monumental Church, provided the Rector deemed it advisable to continue its work in anadelphia was pointed out to him; and a canvass of the neighboorhood made it evident that a church was needed there. The Bishop was taken over the field, and his agreement to this opinion was made known. Over one hundred people-residents of this neighborhoood-a large proportion of whom are communicants, have asked for the erection of a church building. By a Diocesan Canon, the written consent of the three nearest Rectors must be obtained, before a church-edifice may be erected. In this case, the three nearest churches are separated, by a long interval, from the site selected for the new church. And yet, their Rectors, one and all, the Calvary Parish. Meanwhile, the Rector of Calvary, having means at his disposal, began the erection of a church in the designated place; and the building grew under the steady hands of skilled workmen, until its completion, not many days ago. Nothing could be said against this; a Clergyman, as well as any man, having the right to erect a church-building, if he please. The Canon referred to required the matter to be sent to the Standing Committee,-this Committee having the power to overrule the refusal of the three nearest Rectors. The Canon was obeyed. in this particular; but the Standing Committee has postponed the consideration of the matter to future meetings. The question naturally arises: "What is the cause of the active opposition on the part of the three nearest Rectors, and the tacit opposition on the part of the Standing Committee?" The answer is plain. The three nearest Rectors are afraid of this new Parish. The rumor has gone forth that its Services will be "Ritualistic." A dreadful fear that they will attract people from outside the parish limits, has taken hold of them; and this was sufficient to call out the written refusal. It is important to understand the exact relative positions of these three nearest churches, and the new church. As has been said, each of the three is at quite a distance from the new building; each is crowded with worshippers; many of the people who asked for the erection of the church now go to no church, because of the distance of even the nearest to their locality. The children of these people, for want of a Sunday School, either go to no Sunday School, or are taken in by Schismatics. In short, souls are starving, and Food is being refused. The new building is now the property of the Rector of Calvary Parish, who is awaiting the final decision of the Standing Committee. As the majority of this Committee are believed to be in league with the three nearest Rectors, the character of its verdict is not unsuspected. If the refusal of the Rectors should be confirmed, the new building will be sold, and Calvary Monumental Parish will become extinct: for the abandonment of the old site is only a question of time. But, if the refusal be overruled, a valuable work will be set in motion, where it is greatly needed. Philadelphia. Feby. 28, 1882.

The Bishop of Durham, Dr. Lightfoot, stated better through the day, than when he took drink,

SIMPLE TRUST.

Written for the Living Church. Lord, be with us every hour, And defend us with Thy power; Free from sin, from passion free, Fix our thoughts alone on Thee! When, by care and wrong opprest, Vainly seek we earthly rest; Teach us, Lord! Thy way to see, And forever trust in Thee. When temptations round us roll, And would fain assail our soul; Grant us grace to shun all fear, Feeling Thou art ever near. So, with steadfast trust in Thee, May Thy will our portion be; Guide us through the Lent of strife Onward to eternal life!

The Church at Work.

Reports of Progress in Various Fields, by our Correspondents.

Albany.-The Fourth Regular Meeting of the Frontier Associations was held in Port Henry, Feb. 8th, th and 10th. The opening Service (the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist) was held in Christ Church, the Rev. W. R. Woodbridge, rector, being celebrant. The Rev. Irving McElroy was the preacher.

The regular business meeting was held in the Rector's rooms, in the afternoon, when the Rev. Irving McElroy was re-elected Screetary, and two new members were added to the Association. Various Committees were appointed, and the questionof the "Settlement of the Canon of the Old Testament Scriptures" was thoroughly discussed.

At 7:30 P. M., Evening Prayer was said, and Rev. J. B. Pitman preached. On Thursday morning there was an early Celebration, Rev. J. B. Pit-man being celebrant. The remainder of the morning was spent in spiritual conference and in business. At 2:30, the Office was said, the Rev. W. H. Cook reading an Essay or Meditation on the 23d

After the Service, at the business meeting, Au Sable Forks was designated as the place for the next meeting, and the Rev. H. M. Smyth and Rev. Woodbridge were designated as essayists. At 7:30, Evening Prayer was said, and Rev. C. A. Bragdon preached. On Friday morning there were the usual early Celebrations. Rev. E. L. Tay was celebrant. A business meeting was held during the morning. At 2:30 Service was held when Rev. E. L. Tay preached; and :t 7:30 Evening Prayer was e Rev. Irving McElroy being the preacher. In addition to those already named, the Rev. C. E. Cragg was present, and participated.

The work of the Association, so far, has demonstrated its usefulness. Services partaking largely buildings, $50,000. of the nature of Missions have been held in five parishes; and Spiritual Conferences, somewhat in nature like Retreats, have been held at each meeting by the clergy, much to their spiritual advantage. The development of mutual good-will, and the deeper knowledge of each other's needs, trials, difficulties, and dangers, have been very marked. The actual expense to each member has been very small, averaging only $2.65 for each meeting; and the outlay has been more than repaid by the increased life of clergy and parishioners.

Colorado.-The Bishop has secured Miss E. W. Brown, lite Principal of the Training School of Nurses at New York, as matron of St. Luke's Hospital. Denver. Miss Brown brings two other nurses with her, and this admirable institution is now in good working order. Connecticut.—The Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Trinity Church, New Haven, sailed on Saturday, the 18th inst., for his journey abroad. During his absence, Prof. Goodrich, of Middletown, is to officiate on Sundays, and the Rev. H. M. Denslow, late of Grace Church, New Haven, will take the Lenten Services. Before Dr. Harwood sailed, the Rev. Canen Knox-

Little, of Manchester, England, preached in Trinity Church, before the Berkley Association of Yale College; and though the weather was most unfavorable, the large and intensely interested congregation, showed how great was their desire to hear this reremarkable man, and how highly they esteemed the

It was one of his best efforts, if, indeed anything spoken by Knox-Little can be called an effort, so involunturily do the almost inspired words seem to bubble up from the depths of his soul. The beautiful text-"Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life"—was just the one to draw from the lips of this "golden-mouthed" orator, the most eloquent appeals to the followers of Jesus in every condition of life, to be faithful in all their round of daily duties, to their Lord and Saviourfaithful unto death. His words take root in the heart, and linger in the memory beyond the words of any ordinary man. Those whose privilege it was to hear him during his first visit to this country, say that the language of his earnest appeals is with them still, as fresh as when first uttered.

Georgia.-The new St. Philip's Church building, at Atlanta, is rapidly approaching completion. This is hardly the time to describe its style and detail of design. Suffice it to say that it is in the main a brick structure, chastely yet elaborate y trimmed with stone. It has a clerestory, and a Gothic trussed The windows are eclectic, and will be adapted Abbey. The sills and divisions are of free-stone; the outer vestibule is an open archway; above this vestibule, a fine cross of Kentucky marble, six feet high, with sculptured ivy clinging to it, is to be Turrets and tower, to be suitably ornacorner-stone is the legend: "Thou art Peter; on this Rock I will build My Church." On the corn r-stone of St. Philip's is inscribed: "Built upon the Founda-

St. Luke's Cathedral is receiving some improvements upon the lot, a new fence being a part of it. knew all about my family who are connections of The Rev. Wm. C. Williams, D. D., is Dean, and the the G's. Rev. C. N. Beckwith, assistant. The Cathedral clergy serve the Mission of the Redeemer. This mission is under God, the fruits of the loving labor, for ten years, of the daughter of a priest, now in Paradise. She gathered, and in some instances taught to read and write, and instructed in the Catechism, many a son of toil and heads of families, who, with their wives and little ones clothed and in their right mind, sit at Jesus' feet in Holy Church. A delicate young lady, by holy toil and unswerving faith, has accomplished a work that a priest might be thankful to be permitted to achieve.

Christ Church, Savannah, the oldest in the South, and having a somewhat ancient structure, is repairing the old building. As is usual under such circumstances, these repairs extended much further than was anticipated; in addition to which the summer cyclone ruthlessly increased the necessity for still greater repairs. The site where the church stands, and also that of the old church-yard a short distance away, were conveyed to that parish by Royal Letters

At Cedartown,-the Rev. H. K. Rees, Priest-incharge,—the President of large iron-works located at loners of other days, with scholars, artists and dithat point, has offered to build, upon grounds to be donated by himself, a stone church that shall cost $2,500, if $1,000 shall be raised and paid for that purpose. In other words, he proposes to give about two dollars to every one raised for the church-building. Favorable progress has been made in raising the required sum.

The Rev. Geo. Macauley has removed to Dalton, to enable him to minister more readily to St. Mark's, Dalton, and the Mission at Calhoun.

Illinois.-The fourteenth Convocation of the Northern Deanery of the Diocese was held in Emmanuel Church, Rockford, Feb. 7th and 8th, 1882. There were present during the Convocation, the Cathedral, Rev. Messrs. Sweet (Dean) Royce, of Detroit, Heermans, of Amboy, and Snyder, Rector of

The first Service was on Tuesday evening. Evening Prayer was said by Rev. Mr. Heermans, of Amboy, and the lesson read by the Rector of the Parish: after which, discussion followed upon the subject of Lay Co-operation in Church work. Mr. Hermans spoke of the importance of the co-operation of children in Church work, and the Rev. Mr. Royce upon the co-operation of men in Church work. The attendance at this Service was very good. The attention the congregation gave to the speakers have $1,000 in sight, and require still another $1,000 seemed to indicate their appreciation of what was to finish it. The Bishop considers the prospect as parish, by way of exhortation to the faithful to persevere in good works, the congregation was dis-

On Wednesday morning, after the Litany, the Dean read a very interesting paper upon the subject of women's work in the Church. The paper was written by a lady who had large experience in Church work and knows wher of she speaks. We could heartily have wished that the sacred edifice might have been filled in order to hear this able, Churchly, and interesting exposition of the true mission of women in Church work. At 3 o'clock there was a business meeting of the Chapter. Reports of missionary work at Warrren, Lena, Savanna, Rochelle, DeKalb, Polo, Morrison, Amboy, Lee Centre, and Tonica, were made. Beside the regular work of parish needs, all the above places are supplied by the clergy of this Deanery.

Mr. Snyder reported the gratifying and encouraging results of the Ladies' Aid Society of his parish, of having raised and having on hand now about one thousand dollars toward building a rectory for Emmanuel Church. May they be encouraged more and more to continue the good work, thus begun!

There was a goodly number present at Evening Prayer. After a shortened Service, the Bishop delivered an exceedingly able, critical and learned discourse upon the subject of the Church doctrine of Sacrifice. After the Services, the Bishop was heartily congratulated by his clergy for his masterly and learned efforts.

Iowa.—Griswold College pursues the even tenor of its way, as we see by its Annual Catalogue. It is 2,000. still, however, without sufficient endowments to enable it to meet its present very limited current expenses. It earnestly appeals to its friends and to was advanced to the Priesthood by the Bishop, as Churchmen in every part of the country for aid.

The following are the most pressing of its needs: To endow two professorships, each $20,000; to complete the endowment to two professorships, now only partially endowed, each $10,000; to endow scholarships, each $3,000 to $5,000; to erect additional Kansas.-The Diocesan organ announces that some of the vacancies which so suddenly occurred some Jas. Runcie, D. D., was nominated to the Bishop for three months ago, are being filled. The Rev. Wm. appointment as Dean for the ensuing year. T. Bowen has accepted an invitation to St. John's Memorial Church, in Parsons, Labette Co. The at 7:30 p. m. Evening Prayers were said by the Rev. Rev. R. C. Talbott has returned to the Diocese, and Dean Ellerby and Rev. Dr. Runcie, and the discusaccepted the rectorship of St. Matthew's Church, in Newton, Harvy Co. And the Rev. J. C. Chamberlain, from the Diocese of Quincy, has taken charge of St. John's Church, in Wichita, Sedgwick Co. There are several other points, it is hoped, which will be supplied before long.

Kentucky.-The Convocation of Covington met in the Church of the Nativity, Maysville, Wednesday, Feb. 15th. Besides the Rector (Rev. W. Dudley Powers), there were present the Dean (Rev. Wm. M. Pettis, of St. Paul's, Newport), Rev. S. W. Young, M. A., of Trinity, Covington, and the Rev. Ed. S. Cross, of the Advent, Cynthiana. Divine Services were said Wednesd y morning and evening. On Wednesday at 11, the Holy Communion was celebrated, the Rev. W. M. Pettis celebrant. All of the visiting clergy preached during the Convocation. At a business meeting the Dean read an interesting paper entitled, "Some of the Dangers of our Sunday School System." This session of the Convocation produced happy results among the clergy and in the Parish generally.

New Jersey .- St. Andrew's, Mt. Holly, has been greatly improved by the erection of a new chancel, twice the size of the former one. An alcove has also been built at the right of the chancel, to which the organ has been removed from the west gallery. On Monday, reb. 9th, the chancel was consecrated by the Bishop of the Diocese, who was assisted in the Services of the day by the Rev. Drs. Hill and Weld, Rev. Messrs. C. M. Perkins (rector of the parish), Crawford, Lamb, Lighthipe, McKim, and others. The Bishop preached a very fore ble discourse from the text, "Reverence my Sanctuary; I am the Lord." In the course of his remarks, he explained the use and significance of the appointments of the choir and sanctuary.

The Convocation of Burlington, met on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, in the Church of the Ascension, Gloucester (Rev. Tros. F. Milby, Deacon-in-charge). Morning Prayer was said at 9 o'clock; and at 11 A. M., the Holy Eucharist was celebrated, the Bishop of the Diocese being celebrant. He was assisted by Dean Hill, and the Rev. Messrs. Pettit and Murray. sermon, by Rev. C. W. Duane, dealf with the historic continuity of the Church. None of the congregation (which was quite a large one) withdrew after the Prayer for the Church Militant. Altar-lights for serviceable use in this latitude, while retaining are used in this church, and the teaching is Cathothat massive grace belonging to Gothic architecture. The chancel is of suitable dimensions; the discussion of the important question: "The best chancel-window is memorial, manufactured in England, and after the pattern of those in Westminster land, and after the pattern of those in Westminster addresses. The attendance of clergy was large. The next meeting will be at Crosswicks in March.

New York.-The Rev. Robert Weeks, late of St. Luke's Church, Catskill, is enjoying his sojourn mented with designs in marble. Just one block abroad. In a friendly letter recently received, he Life. away, stands the Roman Catholic Church. On its says "There is a large English, and a large American themselves You would think the English Church enough for both; but no, they must each have their tion of the Apostles and Prophets; Jesus Christ respective organizations, and separate places of Himself being the head Corner-Stone." The struc- worship. At the suggestion of the English clergyture is worthy of the See-city and capital of the man I called on a blind lady, and what was my astonishment to learn that her husband (now dead) was a brother of Mr. G., of Catskill, and that she

A. has also found a St. Agnes schoo!-mate: but we have made few acquaintances, we are too busy." It will be remembered that the Rev. Clarence Buel. now Assistant in St. Luke's Parish, New York, and a cousin of Dr. Knickerbockers, of Minneapolis, was for some years in charge of the American Church at

Mr. Week's successor, in Catskill, the Rev. William H. Harison, S. T. D., has entered upon his pastora duties with great zeal, and has already made himself acquainted with all, or nearly all of his flock. St. Luke's Church was opened on Thursday the 9th of Feb., for the funeral of a former dearly beloved Pastor, the Rev. Louis Legrand Noble, late Rector of St. John's Church. Ionia. Mich. His weary frame. so identified with all that is beautiful in nature and in art, in this lovely region, was laid to rest in the picturesque burial ground which crowns the hill commanding a view of Cole's pleasant home towards the East, and of the entire Catskill range on the West, with the peaceful village between the lordly Hudson and the beautiful Catskill on the South, while around were gathered the sorrowing parish vines, men eminent in their professions, and counted among his most genial friends. With all these his influence was great and of the happiest kind. Many of the most celebrated pictures produced in this country, were, while in progress, frequently submitted by the artists to his valued and superior criticism. Sound churchmen, both among the influential laity and the clergy, are indebted, for their correct understanding of the doctrines of the Church Catholic, to the faithful teaching of the late Rev. Louis Legrand Noble.

New Mexico.-A Correspondent, writing from Santa Fe, says: "The climate is lovely, the air being cool and bracing. The 'Old City' is b. autifully situ-Bishop of the Diocese, Canon Knowles, of the ated, surrounded as it is by high mountains. The sunrise and sunset afford a gorgeous spectacle. Bishop Dunlap has called on us, and we were much pleased with him. He is a great favorite here with all. The Services of the Church are held in a room of an adobe house; and a good congregation turns out, generally in the morning, and sometimes at > night also. "Bishop Dunlop works very earnestly for the interests of the Church, and is trying very hard to raise the balance of what is needed to finish a fine stone structure, which is in course of building for a church edifice. They have spent $4,000 on it have $1,000 in sight, and require still another $1,000 and at great personal sacrifice to themselves, Bishop acres, being a decline of 250,000 from 1880, and of straits for the balance needed to complete the Charleston, on Feb. 14th, touching the needs of the church, he asks earnestly for aid."

Northern New Jersey .- The Convocation is the imple title of a little eight-page sheet published at Newark, of which the second number of the second volume (being the issue for February, 1882) has lately reached us. It contains a brief record of the work in the Diocese, and is put forth with the single in-tention of giving information to those who desire and pray for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ, and of promoting a heartfelt, personal interest in the cause of Missions. In the present number, we find a condensed but very interesting account of eighteen mission stations where the Church is prosecuting her work. In all, the people at these points contribute about $5.00 per annum towards maintaining the ministrations of the Church.

We are glad to see, also, in this number of the Convocation, a letter from the Rev. J. Sydney Kent, Priest-in-charge of the flourishing Associate Mission. of which we gave some account in a recent number of the LIVING CHURCH. The same number of this mission-sheet gives some interesting particulars with regard to the Diocese of Northern New Jersey. From this account we gather that the Diocese occupies a little more than one-third of the area of the entire State, and more than one-half of its population of 1,131,000 souls. Since its organization in 1874 -a period of seven years—its clergy-list has been in creased by nine. Four new parishes have been admitted into un on with Convention, and the gain in the number of Communicants has been more than

M ssouri.-On Wednesday, Feb. 15th, at Christ sisted by the Rt. Rev. T. H. Vail, Bishop of Kansas, the Rev. Dean Ellerby, of Topeka, and a large number of clergy. The sermon was by the Bishop of Kansas.

In the afternoon of the same day the St. Joseph Convocation assembled at Christ Church Rectory, the Bishop presiding. The Rev. Wm. A. Hatch, of St. Paul's, Maryville, was elected Secretary. Rev.

The evening session at Christ Church commenced sion of the questions "How can we best meet pre vailing forms of unbelief? and "How may we best develop spiritual life in the Church?" was clearly opened by the Bishop, ably continued by Dean Ellerby, and the Rev. Messrs. Reed, Lechard and Smyth, and closed in a masterly manner by the Bishop of Kansas.

In the afternoon session of Thursday, Bishop Vail ddressed the clergy on the Principles of Christian Giving, and in the evening at the Chapel of the Holy Trinity, South St. Joseph, he addressed a large audience and administered the Sacramental Rite of Confirmation to two persons.

The next session of this Convocation will be held at Grace Church, Chillicothe.

Mississippi.—The beautiful little church of All Saints', Grenada, in which nearly everything—windows, Font, Pulpit, Lectern and Communion "Service"-is "In Memoriam;" has been further be utifled by the erect on of a Memorial Altar, the pious offering of Mrs. R. A. Weatherly, a communicant of the Parish. The Altar (made by R. Geissler, N. Y.) is of oak, carved in the best style. The Trisagion appears in raised lettering, on the front face of the Re-table. "In Remembrance of Me," in the same style of lettering, forms an ornament frieze to the Altar; while the three panels beneath contain the "Alpha" and "Omega," and "I. H. S.," the Greek monogram of "Jesus." The base bears this inscription:
"To the Glory of God, and in Memory of Joseph

Weatherly, M. D., First Senior Warden of this Church. Entered into Rest, December 4th, 1880.

The Altar was solemnly consecrated to the Eucharistic Worship of the Holv Trinity, by the Rector of the Parish, Rev. Wm. C. McCracken, on Septuasima Sunday. The sermon was from the text, 'In Remembrance of Me," and comprehended these lines of thought: 1. The naturalness of memorials for the loved and lost. 2. The Church's fidelity in remembering Christ, by keeping Him constantly before her children, in teaching, in emblems, in symbols, in architecture, and in all her Services and Prayers; which, like lines leading to a common centre, find their true meaning and efficacy in the one Service instituted by Jesus Himself, when he uttered the words of the text. 3. Object teaching, which appears to some to be a modern secular discovery, is the time-honored heritage of the "One grand lesson of it all being the sublime Truth that Church on earth (His mystical Body) of which we are members; as He is the Life of all those faithful souls who have "entered into rest;" and with whom we have communion, through Him, our mutual

St. Paul's Parish, Woodville, has reised about colony in Dresden, and each keep pretty much to $1800, and intends repairing and beautifying the church.

Trinity Parish, Natchez, has issued the first number of a Diocesan paper, to be known as the Church News. We gladly welcome the new venture to our table

Pennsylvania. - Saint Chrysostom is a very modest little sheet, published at 2907 West Park Avenue, Philadelphia, by the Rev. Chas. S. Daniel, the Incumbent of St. Chryso tom's Church, which is situated on 28th Street and Susquehanna Avenue. We gather from the programme that Holy Communion is celebrated every Sunday and on all holy days. The seats are not rented, but are free to all, and the church is open all day for Private Prayer. We are glad to see that Mr. Daniel appears to be encouraged with the prospect before him, although it is evident that he is engaged in an arduous struggle. Quincy.-At Trinity Church, Geneseo, a series of ervices with sermons and addresses was held during the week following Septuagesima Sunday. Large congregations were gathered, and the interest was marked. The Rev. James Newman, rector of Osco and Cambridge, preached on two evenings and on the other two the people and clergy had the privilege of listening to the Bishop of the Diocese The Rev. Wm. H. Sparling has been the rector of Geneseo since last October, having charge also of St. John's, Henry. Both parishes are making progress under his leading and care. The Services above noted were in accordance with he request of the Convention, the like having already been held in Princeton, Galesburg, Henry and Aledo. May our Lord prosper the Church in this earnest young diocese! There are to be daily Services during Lent, with weekly Eucharist, at the Cathedral and the Church of the Good Shepherd. In his pastoral the Bishop

Let your Lent be with our Lord Jesus Christ. Let it be a hallowed retreat from all worldly occupa it be a hallowed retreat from all worldly occupa-tions and cares, not of positive necessity. Appre-ciate the character of temptations to which you have yielded. Recognize the fearful and eternal consequences of sins which you have chosen or allowed. Look on the cost of Redempti n, and share in His Humiliation, Passion, Cross and Pre-cious Death. Realize what it secures to you, and what gratitude it demands. what gratitude it demands.

Rhode Island .- The "Busy Bees" and "Messenger Corps," two juvenile societies connected with St. Luke's, East Greenwich, are ably assisting the older months' leave of absence, is doing missionary work River Jordan, was used in the administration of the and juicy, and stand above all others in market. Sacrament of Holy Baptism in a parish Church re

South Carolina.-At the special request of the Board of Trustees of the University of the South, Elliott, of Western Texas, and Bishop Galleher, of University, and illustrating the simple method by which those needs can be met. They were listened to by a large and appreciative audience, and there is every reason to hope that their appeal will bring forth fruit.

Texas.-On Sexagesima Sunday, the Bishop of the Diocese held an Ordination at Christ Church, Houston, when two young men, Mr. Davis Sessums, Master of the Grammar School, Sewanee, and Mr. Reginald Collisson, late a Methodist preacher, of Houston were Ordered Deacons. The Rev. Dr. Patterson preached the sermon, and presented Mr. Sessums; the Rector of the parish, Rev. J. J. Clemens, presented Mr. Collisson. The Service throughout, although long, was very interesting. The surpliced choir sang well, and a large number of the faithful communic ted. At night, the new-made Deacon Mr. Sessums, preached to a good congregation. Both these gentlemen aroused more than ordinary interest in the parish, from the fact that Mr. Sessums is a Houstonite by birth, and the people are justly proud of him. Mr. Collisson was a young Methodist minister, of more than ordinary promise, and had charge of a Methodist congregation here at the time of his conversion to the Church. Both will doubtless do good work for God and the Church. Mr. Collisson has taken charge of Belton; Mr. Sessums is with the Bishop.

Western New York.-Bishop Coxe visited the par shes in Geneva, on Sunday, Feb. 19th, confirming eight at St. Peter's, and nineteen at Trinity. The class at St. Peter's was smaller than usual, on account of the late illness of the rector.

It is expected that Trinity Church, Middleport. will be consecrated on the 11th of April. Bishop Coxe will visit the churches in Rochester, on the Sundays in Lent.

Wisconsin .- As announced in our last issue, the third Annual Diocesan Retreat of the Clergy occurred at Nashotah Seminary during the week before Lent. A large proportion of the Rev. clergy of this Diocese were present, under the pres dency of the Bishop. The opening Service and Address took place on Tuesday evening, the 14th, in Nashotsh Chapel. On the two following days, the order observed was as follows: 7 A. M., Celebration; 9 A. M., Oral Meditation; 10 A. M., Morning Prayer; 11 A. M., Spiritual Reading; 12 M., Office and Intercessory Prayer; 3 P. M., Office and Address; 7:30 P. M., Evening Prayer and Addre s or Instruction.

The subjects of the Meditations were-on Wednesday-"God, in His Attributes and Necessity to Man's Heart and Life;" from the words: "O God, Thou art my God! Early will I seek Thee:" and-on Thursday-"The Fragments that remain;" from the words: "Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost."

The subjects of Spiritual Reading were-"The Monotony of Piety;" "Weariness of Well-doing;" "Confidence in God, the only Worship."

The subjects of Instructions and Addresses were "Difficulties in the World without us;" "Difficulties in the External Life and Circumstances of the Church;" "Difficulties within Ourselves."

The exercises of the Retreat were concluded by the Professor of Ecclesiastical History; and the final Address was by the Bishop of the Diocese.

It seems quite settled, now, that these Pre-Lent assemblages of the Clergy in the Diocese of Wisconsin should become an established Diocesan custom: and the sentiment seems to be universal, that Nas' otah House is, of all places, the most proper for such a purpose. Its great traditions of faith and piety, its holy seclusion, the enchanting beauty of the spot, the frank hospitality of the President and Professors, the presence of the young Seminarians (who not only devote themselves to the comfort of the visiting clergy, but who are themselves—by observation and experience—trained to do work similar to that of this special character, whenever, in the future, it shall be asked of them)-all these are circumstances likely to control, in the future, the determination of Nashotah Seminary, for the Annual Retreat.

An admirable feature of the Wisconsin assemblages, is—that the Rule of Silence is largely observed during the whole period of retirement. It is thoughtfully relaxed by the Bishop, to such an extent as not to become oppressive to those brethren who have not been accustomed to its pressure; but, in the main, the "Good Seed" of the Word sown is not permitted to be snatched away by untimely conversation. During the time passed in the Refectory, Lections from the Holy Scriptures and from th "Imitation of Christ" are read throughout the first part of all meals.

It only remains to be said, that the old spirit rehas tought Christ and Him crucified for centuries, in storied windows and in varied symbol. The one grand lesson of it all below the cartillor. Child of the Saints, wh se holy example fired the there is a livin. Christ, Who is the Life of His bearts of her heroic founders; and the very atmosphere is charged with the feeling of the old ecclesias ical life and spirit. Professo's and students look forward to the increase of her influence, and to the extension of her attraction. Her history, her traditions, her spirit, the faithfulness of her teaching, and the absence of distracting influences; all tend to build up, in her young men, the truest ecclesiastical spirit, and the right tone of life. In her "quiet-ness and confidence," Nashotah does not take such pains to make herself known, as she well might do. The young Postulants and Candidates for the Sacred Ministry who are looking for just such a Spiritual Home, ought to know her far better than-it is to be feared-they commonly do.

> Harvard University has had another gift of $100,-000 from a Boston man.

strain, and many of them have failed.

A Pittsburgh manufacturer proposes to erect buildings of glass, manufacturing the material the size of a common brick. He says that the cost will not exceed that of a cut granite building, and with the material colored, fine effects can be gotten. Of course, people living in glass houses will remember the old adage about throwing stones.

It is officially announced that three battalions of Austrian infantry encountered 1,000 insurgents, Jan. 27th, on the banks of the Narenta, and the rebels, after losing considerably, retreated.

It costs $200,000 per year in salaries for the officials who attend to the vast throng of Immigrants who land at Castle Garden.

A new system of gold mining has been introduced into Georgia, by which the sand and gravel in the river bottoms, which hold the gold-grains, are taken up and automatically washed. One boat washed out $200 in gold, in three hours, at an expense of $12. It is said the rivers of that State flow over golden

During the year just past there were published in England a total of 5,406 new books, of which 1,296 were new editions, booksalready known to the public. This shows a falling off, as compared with the year 1880, of about 300 books, which is attributed to the rapid development of the periodical press.

The German Government is pushing its amiability with Rome with great zeal. Herr von Schloezer started as German Minister to the Vatican on Monday, and arrangements have been made for the submission of a batch of new bills, favorable to the Catholics, whose vote Bismarck wants, and whose vote he is willing to buy at any price.

Lemons as well as oranges are becoming an important crop in Florida, and they have an advantage members of the parish. The Rev. Mr. Ackley, of over the other fruit inasmuch as the trees come Warren, is becoming quite popular in the lecture into bearing at an earlier age—from two to four field. The Rector of St. John's Barrington, on a two years instead of from six to ten. They are picked green and colored yellow by sulphur fumes, as on in Texas. Water that had been brought from the the Mediterranean. Florida lemons are very large Official returns of the French vintage for the last year, present some instructive information concerning the phylloxera. It appears that the total acreage had fallen, through the ravages, to 5,200,000 370,000 since 1874. At this rate America will pressaid. After a few remarks by the Rector of the being excellent; but, as the Mission is in great Louisiana, delivered addresses at Grace Church, ently be looked to for a supply of wine.

BOOK REVIEWS.

THE HIDDEN CROSS. THE FOSTER SISTERS. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. New York: Th. mas Whittaker. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co.

These books belong to the large class of publications which convey excellent moral sentiments in the form of stories. Our opinion is, that there are too many such books, and too many of them are read. The result is that few of the present day have intellectual stamina enough to set about reading anything which requires mental exertion. We have come, therefore, to have some scruples about recommending books of this class, even where they possess so much literary merit, and are as pure in one as the two above-mentioned.

GERMAN PRINCIPIA. Part I. On the plan of Dr. Smith's Latin Principia. New York: Harper & Brothers. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg, & Co.

The German Principia has one shining merit-it uses the Roman characters instead of the "crinkley" Teutonic; thus saving the student's eyes from the strain of distinguishing the long o from an f, the V from the B, etc. Those who think it desirable to study German as a dead language will find in the Principia the qualities that have made the Latin Principia a favorite text-book.

THE WORDS ON THE CROSS. Seven Sermonettes. By the Rev. Charles M. Parkman, B. D., Rector of St. Peter's, Spotswood, New Jersey. New York: Thos. Whittaker, 2 and 3 Bible House. 1882. Paper, 35c.; cloth, 60c.

We learn from a brief prefatory note, that these short sermons, which are very excellent, have been frequently preached by the author at the Good Friday Service, which, year by year, is becoming more extensively adopted, and is known as "The Three Hours Service." The motive of their publication is the hope that they may be helpful to some of the faithful who may desire to spend a portion of the anniversary of our Blessed Lord's Crucifixion, at the foot of His Cross. They can be adapted also as "Readings" during the Lenten Season. The moderate price of this little book brings it within the reach of mest of our readers.

A Heart's Problem. A Novel. By Churles Gibson. Price, 10 cents. God and the Man. A Novel. By Robert Buchanan.

God and the Man. A Novel. By Robert Buchanan. Price, 20 cents.

Marriages of the Bonapartes. By the Hon. D. A. Bingham. Price, 20 c. nts.

America: A History. I. The United States. II. The Dominion of Canrida. III. South America, etc. By

Dominion of Canrda. III. South America, etc. By Robert Mackenzie. Price, 20 cents.
Memoirs of Prin e Metternich. ISW-1835. Edited by Prince Richard Metternich. The Papers Classified and Arranged by M. A. De Klinkowstrom. Part V. Tran-lated by Gerard W. Smith. Price, 20 cts. One May Day. A Novel. By Miss Grant. Price, 20 cts. The onstitutional History of England from 1760 to 1860. By Charles Duke Yonge, M. A. Price, 25 cts. The Making of England. By John Richard Green, Author of "History of the English People," etc. Price 20 cènts.

the Ruins, and other Stories. By Mary Cecil Hay. Price, 15 cents. The above are the latest issues of the Franklin Square Library. The Messrs. Harper are evidently determined that the American people shall have, in a cheap and handy form, everything worth reading which appears on either side of the Atlantic.

PRAYERS BY THEODORE PARKER. A new Edition, with Preface by Louisa M. Alcott, and a Memoir by F. B. Sanborn. Boston: Roberts Brothers., 1882, 16mo. cloth, pp. 200. Price, $1.

This little volume is confessedly intended for such New England readers, and others over the land, as count themselves among the friends and not the enemies of Theodore Parker. For such there are doubtless charms here, which others will not so quickly dissociate from painful memories of his teaching. The book brings to us, we confess, an in-describable sadness, not lightened by the enthusiastic preface and biographical sketch which introduces it, the aim of which is to save from growing forget, fulness and indifference a name of power in New England thought twenty years ago.

A DREAM OF THE ATONEMENT. With Illustrations. London: Rivingtons. New York: T. Whittaker. Price, $1.

This is a very attractive little book, presenting an illegory of the relation of faith and works. The illustrations are well drawn and the mechanical work s excellent. The principle of service and duty as a fruit of faith is commended to the sympathy of the reader in the charming description of a dream.

CATECHETICAL INSTRUCTION on the Church and Its Orders. By the Rt. Rev. Henry Cotterill, D. D., Bishop of Edinburgh. With ar Introduction by the Bishop of lowa. Davenport, Iowa, 1882.

An immense amount of sound doctrine is embodied in this little tract of less than fifteen page. It was originally prepared, as Bishop Perry informs us in the Introduction, "in accordance with a Resolution of the Episcopal Synod in Scotland;" and, having received the commendation of that body, it has obtained a wide circulation in the Scottish Church. is intended to be committed to memory by older catechumens and Sunday School Children, and is commended by the Bishop of Iowa to Church-people generally.

Messrs. E. & J. B. Young & Co. have sent us a little pamphlet written by the Rev. Dr. Batterson, entitled "A Few Thoughts for the Beginning of Lent." The author shows all the benefits of a right observance of this Holy Season, and well sums up by saying, "Lent comes to teach us how to pray, how to fast, how to give, how to conquer self! If we make it a reality, and not a sham, our Easter will be

'The shout of them that triumph, The song of them that feast.'"

The Century Magazine will, in the next and succeeding numbers, be largely occupied with the Jewish question. In March, James Bryce, M. P., the Business firms in Paris are under a great financial historian, writes about Beaconsfield, and incidentally about the Jews in general. In April, Miss Lazarus will answer the question, "Was Lord Beaconsfield a Representative Jew?" In the same number, Madame Ragozin will describe the present situation in Russia, from a Russian point of view. A reply to Madame Ragozin, by a Jewish writer, will appear in the May number and other papers will appear in which the relations between the Israelites and Christians in America will be discussed.

The Homiletic Magazine, New York, A. D. F. Rendolph & Co; London, Keyon Paul, French & Co., has passed from the editorial management of Rev. J. S. Extell, to that of Rev. F. Hastings. The January number is before us. Dean Smith, of Canterbury, contributes an expository article on the Book of Daniel. The Magazine is sustained by non-conformists and certain clergy of the English Church. There are also American contributors.

The Catholic World, for March, is fully up to its usual high standard. The article on the United States and Mexico is peculiarly interesting at present, and the story of the life of St. Clement, while making many assertions which we can by no means accept, s a capital article.

Forty-second Annual Report of the Bishop White Parish Library Association, for the year 1881. Philadelphia. This Association, which, by this time and for this new country, may almost lay claim to the title "Venerable," still continues to do the good work which it inaugurated nearly half a century ago. During the past year it has distributed twentytwo libraries, containing in the aggregate 550 volumes. There stood to its credit in the bank, for the year closing with last November, the sum of $2,060.80.

We have to acknowledge the receipt of the Thirteenth Annual Report of the Board of Managers of the Brotherhood of Gethsemane, and Superintendent's Report of Cottage Hospital, and Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Opening of Gethsemane Church, Minneapolis; and we cordially congratulate the excellent rector of the parish upon the abundant harvest which is being reaped from the seed sown by him and his faithful co-workers, during so many

The Original Chatterbox comes to us from the house of Messrs. Estes & Lauriat, Boston. This is the English original which has produced so many imitators in this country, and has done so much, in consequence, for the increase of periodicals devoted to the entertal ment of children. Among the rivals it has called forth, it still holds its own—a true friend to little folks.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS.

The Great Wrong. To the Editor of the Living Church:

Enclosed find my check for $5.00 for that afflicted brother whose library is in danger. Dr. Fulton's "Bowels of Mercies" is just the thing and should be read by the whole Church.

I suppose that I know the other Church paper alluded to. It has already a fine reputation "for business principles" and a keen eye for "the main chance." A short time ago it was accused of carrying on both a theatre and a church on "purely business principles." With such heavy drafts on its purse and business ability, of course it could not find time to pay attention to a poor missionary who was so unbusiness-like as to suppose that he was sent to build churches. and to take some ventures, as business men in the world do; and, what is worse yet, to actually involved an obligation to pay it, -such a lunatic ought to lose his library.

But there are growing up in the Church, among its wealthier members, very erroneous ideas. One of these is, that, if a man is poor, or is not as smart and business-like as the Hon. Demas Gradgrind.

The other idea is, that a clergyman can, and must live on less than any body else, and do more.

The way the clergy in many parishes, and in all missionary stations are paid, is a shame and disgrace to the whole Church, many of whose members absolutely "roll in wealth." And even some of the Bishops write disparagingly of their "applying for parishes." and "trying to change. as though they were "men of unrest," and greedy who has paid out within ten years $3,000, for the privilege of preaching the Gospel. He has built several churches, brought into the Holy Ministry a score of good men, brightened hundreds, and spent himself freely in the work. But, of course it was not on "purely business principles." If it had been, he would have had the $3,000 in the bank, or a good farm; and churches would have remained unbuilt, and people unbaptized, until Demas Gradgrind, and the Rev. Dr. Worldlywise, got ready to take it in hand.

But so goes the world, and so it will go, I suppose, till we shall realize that the Church of God of which this town is the centre. In the Church all parts of this country, and even from Europe is the continuation of the Incarnation, bound, by solemn obligation, to continue to do and teach thought. Last year we occupied for the first year the number increases. The hotels and what Jesus "began to do and teach." Bound to succor the needy; to sympathize with distress, even when it does not exist "on purely business principles;" and to make the first purpose of life the growth and spirit of the Kingdom of Christ.

Religious Orders.

To the Editor of the Living Church:

In your issue of the 18th of February, 1882, there are two communications, under the above caption, in which the Society of St. John the Evangelist, and the parish of St. Clement's. Philadelphia, are particularly referred to and criticised.

That parish, some five or six years ago, in the exercise of a power, which equally belongs to every other parish in our communion, that is, the power of choice in selecting a priest, elected a member of the Society of St. John the Evange list as its Rector. He entered upon his duties as such Rector, subject to the charter and the by-laws of the corporation, and amenable to the laws and Canons of our Church, precisely the same as would any other priest.

Undoubtedly, the Vestry and the Congregation understood, that, if the Superior of that Society. whenever he should think their Rector might be more usefully employed in another field of labor. or for any other reason, should request him to resign the Rectorship, he would be bound under the agreement and rules of that Society, to do so.

That is a risk which the parish assumed, that is, a risk of losing a Rector whom the parish might desire to retain. But the risk was not greater than it would have been, if the Rector had been a secular priest, instead of one belonging to a religious Order. In the former case, the wishes of his wife, or the interests of his children, or the temptations of a higher salary, might perhaps withdraw him from the parish, and at a time too when his services were most earnestly desired.

To say, therefore, as your correspondent "X' does, that St. Clement's "is practically in the hands of a Religious Society whose members render obedience to a foreign Superior." is contrary to the fact, and of course, contrary to the truth. St. Clement's is, theoretically, legally, and practically, in the hands of the corporate authorities of the parish, and the clergy of the parish hold the same relations to it, and are bound by the same obligations to it, and to the Bishop of the Diocese, as are the clergy of any other parish in this or any other American Diocese. Their relations to the Superior of their Society, in no wise affect their duties or obligations as priests of St. Clement's.

The evident purpose of your correspondent, to create a distrust of the clergy of that Church because they happen to be English priests, and members of an English Society, is, it seems to me, ungenerous and unmanly. That it is unchristian is obvious. Is the Kingdom of God on earth a mere question of boundary lines; and its ministers to be held in honor on one side of the line, and treated with contumely on the other? Is Christianity a local affair, and are its professors coming from another country, to be regarded in the Church, as strangers and aliens?

But the Rector of St. Clement's "owes such obedience to the English Superior as an American priest could not lawfully render!" Mere idle assertion. But indeed! and did not the late Rector, an American priest, owe the same obedience, and did "X" discover that he was do- Holy Communion once a month; and Mr. ing this unlawful thing during the five years he held the Rectorship, or was it only when his that the scales fell from his eyes?

the Vestry of St. Clement's that the welfare of from the single fact that the few Church-peothe parish would be promoted by his resignation. ple cannot unaided support a missionary, and That his assistants would resign, if he remained, the Bishop has threatened to withdraw him. was undoubtedly a prevailing reason why the That must not be, for there are too many reasons Vestry asked his resignation. It would have why Manitou must have a clergyman. It is been equally a reason whether the assistants bound to be-in fact, is, already-the Saratoga of had been American priests or English priests, the West. Nothing could surpass the loveliness secular or religious. If, in any parish, the Ves- of the place, nor the perfection of the climate. try and congregation are, upon due consideration, For my part, though so far from home, it posof opinion, that its temporal and spiritual interests would be better served by the assistant than bear the thought of ever leaving it. It is an by the Rector, and one or the other must go, exquisite little world of itself. It consists of a then, however worthy the latter may be, I do few houses and stores (the resident population not hesitate to say, that it is his duty, in defer- is only three hundred), four large hotels, and a ence to that opinion, when authoritatively ex- few streets, all shut out from the rest of the suppose that a pledge given for the Lord's work pressed, to resign. And this is what occurred at world by high mountain peaks (now crested with St. Clement's. In the labored attempt of "X" longing to the Society of St. John the Evangel- ever-changing in the varying lights and shadows. ist, and to awaken distrust and suspicion against And it is living, to merely breathe the cool, pure, them, he ventures upon statements wholly im- bright air, and to be free from the malaria, with unfortunate in business, it is his own fault. He probable on the face of them, and which I feel its headache and languor, of lower altitudes. warranted wholly to deny.

their Bishop, but to the regular priests of the help raving over this wonderful, wonderful lit-

St. Clement's, finding that "X" was an ultra and heavy clothing is burdensome. I have seen of "filthy lucre." I know a man of good ability protestant in the disguise of a Catholic Chris- people carrying sun umbrellas in mid-winter: tian, and dancing in the wind, under the spur of and yet, one would freeze quickly at night. We his prejudices, about "foreign intrusion" and do not feel the sudden changes as we should in credulity; but they really deserve reproof, if southern side is toward us, are bare most of the would seem to indicate.

A Lenten Experiment.

To the Editor of the Living ( hurch: parish just organized, and in which Lent had with this spot. virtually never before been kept.

To reach a satisfactory solution of the problem, I addressed a circular note to my parishion. Pike's Peak each summer. There are ten mineral ers, setting forth the object of the Season, and the springs; some in the very centre of the town, manner in which it should be observed; and ask- and all within a mile's distance. Some are ing them to pledge themselves to try to attend strongly impregnated with iron; others with soda groundless fancies, leading to self-distrust and all the week-day Services. I enclosed a card or sulphur; and one is a fine Seltzer water. The with printed form of promise, and in due time Nevajo Indians used to bring their sick to bathe forty of them were returned to me duly signed. in and drink the water of one of the soda muscular power and co-ordination, probably With this nucleus of worshippers, I felt fully springs (which now bears their name), believing justified in appointing the daily Service, with that the constant bubbling of the water was Service both morning and evening in Holy caused by the breathing of the "Great Spirit." the growth of muscle and the deposit of fat." Week. The attendance was excellent. Until The medicinal properties of these springs, and very heavy snow storms and extremely cold the adaptability of the climate to the cure of weather interfered, it was far beyond my expec- many diseases (especially asthma and consumpthe entire Fast. This year I have again sent out but has come on account of some invalid memthe "promises," and already the number returned ber; and the hotels are thronged with them. A with signatures exceeds that of last year by one. sad feature of life here is the sight of the many third, while it will without doubt receive further suffering sick, and the sound of the consumpadditions. The plan has succeeded so well in tive cough. Often they come only to die; not this parish, that I am willing to commend it to few, to die alone, among strangers. For them. brethren who have charge of young parishes and and for pleasure tourists, it is of great importance missions in which the people are not established in Churchly ways. The advantages of the plan trations of the Church. We like to make the will probably suggest themselves to your readers, but the fact that people have some definite aim before them, and place on record their determination to accomplish it, may lead them to ther acquaintance. Among the village people, A. B. PUTNAM. unusual exertion. Bradford, Pa., Feb. 20, 1882.

The Saratoga of the West. To the Editor of the Living Church:

When I first came to this locality, in May, 1880, I found that Church Services were held every Sunday afternoon in the school house, as they had been for some years. A young Canadian Deacon, who was here for his health, had charge. A lot, in the very centre of the village, had been given to the Church, and during the following summer the foundation of a small stone church-building was laid. It was then thought best to build a wooden chapel that could be paid for with the funds on hand, rather than incur an indebtedness by proceeding with the stone building. A decision, this, for which I am very thankful; for, though the little chapel is very plain, there is a satisfaction in knowing that it is paid for, which we should not have had for years, in the stone building. That may come some day; but, for a long time yet, the little chapel will answer every purpose. It cost thirteen hundred dollars. I believe there is not a dollar of indebtedness on a single church-building within this Jurisdiction; a pretty good showing, I think, for Colorado. The Congregationalists have a small stone building. Theirs are the only Services held here, except ours. The Church-people are but few-about twenty Communicants, I believe; and almost without exception, they are persons of very moderate means. Since April, Mr. George L. Neide, of Albany, a candidate for Holy Orders, has been aided, to furnish our little House of Prayer; so in charge. He will be ordained Deacon in the if any kind friends, interested in the spread of spring. The Rev. G. T. Le Boutillier, of Colorado Springs, six miles distant, has general supervision of the Mission, and administers the Neide pursues his studies with him.

Now, you will be surprised, perhaps, when I friend was, "as it were, compelled to resign," tell you that, although we are happily out of debt, we need pecuniary help; and if you ask The late Rector resigned, because it seemed to me why it is so, I will tell you. Our need arises sesses for me such a fascination, that I cannot snow), and by foot-hills. The village itself is to make out a case against English priests, be- nothing; but the surroundings are grend and Such bright air, such blue sky-intensely so He says, "a number, at least, of the parishion- even in moonlight-and such moonlight, with ers of St. Clement's, are so led astray, that they its color-effects on mountains, rocks, and village distinctly profess that the care of their souls be- in the valley, are simply indescribable. You longs neither to their Rector nor even directly to doubtless smile, but it is an impossibility to Society of St. John; that they have placed them-tle spot of creation. Not a drop of rain falls selves in the hands of that Society, and that their during the winter, and little snow. It is the Rector has charge of them only in the character land of sunshine. The nights are cold; but it of a member and representative of that Order." is a dry, crisp cold. When the sun is high, we I dare say, that some facetious parishioners of open doors and windows to let the warm air in, foreign interference," may have practised on his a moister atmosphere. The mountains, whose they carried the joke so far, as the above extract time; while those toward the north are white throughout the winter. The little town is dull and sleepy enough through the winter; it is in a state of rest and preparation for the busy sum-My cure is in a place where the Church has mer. Two of the hotels, however, are kept been established less than three years. The open; and quite a number of tourists find the people are from all parts of the world, having winter quite as enjoyable as the summer. From been attracted by the wealth of the rich oil field June to October, they come by thousands from we have representatives of every School of and then the little place is gay enough. Every time the Church-building during Lent, it being boarding houses are crowded to the utmost, and the first Lent in the history of the parish which many camp in tents on the surrounding hills. could be properly observed by frequent public S me Scotch people are wintering here, who Services. My decided preference was for the have crossed the Atlantic eighteen times and Daily Prayer, but the question was put whether travelled over Europe and the Holy Land, and jective perceptions. In numerous instances, it it was wise to arrange for so many Services in a they say they have seen no place to compare

There are beautiful walks and drives, most wild and picturesque; and hundreds ascend The interest was sustained throughout tion), draw many invalids. Hardly a family that we have a priest, and all the various Minis-Services attractive, for people frequently attend for the first time; and sometimes a good first impression will bring about a desire for a furthe Church is doing a good work, particularly among the young men; some of whom had not attended any religious Service for years, but now come regularly and take a great interest.

> with remarkable enthusiasm-brought loads of evergreens from the sides of the mountains, and worked day and night in arranging decorations for the chapel; on one occasion, three of them actually worked through the entire night. Tour ists from cities say they have not seen more tasteful decorations. They sing with the choir, and are interested in becoming acquainted with the Services. This is mainly due to Mr. Neide's popularity among them. He is very enthusiastic, and seems to inspire others with enthusiasm I hope he will be allowed to remain. We have a Sunday School of thirty children, in which I teach. Their Christmas tree was the most finely decorated of any ever seen in this part of the country. The Christmas festival is considered a great affair. Last week, a Font was received. the gift of the Chapel of St. Chrysostom, New York. The "Ladies' Aid Society" is working to raise money to carpet the chapel. Articles are made to sell to guests at the hotels in the summer. We need a new organ. The one now used did service for "Union Meetings" for years, is very small and worn out. And we greatly need a Communion Service. The pews are yet to come, rude benches serving as yet; and the walls ought to be frescoed. We mean to work as hard as possible for them ourselves; but there are few to work, and we are not a people of the disease are hardly counted, and until reof leisure. It will take a long time for us, unthe Church will give us their aid, the money will come where it is needed, and to a place worth working for.
> Manitou, Col., Feb., 1882. S. F. H.

For a week before Christmas, they worked

Tobacco Poisoning.

To the Editor of the Living Church: It has occurred to me that a few scientific observations, upon a practice far to common among both clergymen and laymen might not be out of place in your valuable journal. I refer to the habitual use of tobacco. It seems to me that were only the physical evils of the habitual use of the drug appreciated, no one, surely none of the reverend Clergy, would for a moment indulge in the baneful habit.

Tobacco contains a deadly poison called Nicotina or Nicotia, which stands next to prussic acid in the rapidity and energy of its poisonous action. It poisons all animals. On man, the essential effects of tobacco are best illustrated by the action of nicotia. "Employed experimentally in doses of 1-32 to 1-16 of a grain, it produces a burning sensation in the tongue, a hot acrid feeling in the fauce, and a sense of rawness throughout the œsophagus. Small doses produce a sense of heat in the stomach, chest and head, and even in the fingers, with some excitement of the nervous system; larger ones cause heaviness, giddiness, torpor, sleepiness, indistinct vision, with sensitiveness of the eye to light, imperfect hearing, laborious and oppressed breathing, and dryness of the throat. In forty minutes after the larger dose, a sense of great debility is perceived, the head droops, the pulserate falls, the face grows pale, the features are relaxed, the coldness advances gradually toward the trunk, and faintness ends in loss of consciousness. The nervous system, after the debilitating influence of the poison has developed tself, shows its condition by muscular spasms, which begins with tremulousness of the extremities, and gradually involves the whole muscular system including the respiratory muscles, so that breathing is oppressed, gasping, and incomplete," and asphyxia is very liable to follow. These are some of the effects of nicotia. But "dried tobacco leaves contain from 2 to 8, and occasionally as high as 11 per cent of nicotia."

A detailed account of the evil effects of the habitual use of tobacco by smoking, snuffing, or chewing, would occupy more space than we should be permitted to use in this communication; but a condensed statement of the principal ones may not be omitted. "It lessens the natural appetite, more or less impairs digestion, and induces constipation; while it irritates the mouth and throat, rendering them habitually congested, and destroying the purity of the voice. It induces an habitual sense of uneasiness and nervousness, with enigastric sinking or tension relations.

A New Hav n minister of the gospel told one of his deacons that he was constantly hearing a loud sound, which kept him awake nights. Since using Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomi e Pills, his hearwith epigastric sinking or tension, palpitation, hypochondriasis, and neuralgia. It renders the vision weak and uncertain, causing objects to of hearing occur, with buzzing, ringing, etc., in the ears, and even hallucinations of this sense. Often there is a feeling of a rush of blood to the head, with vertigo, and impairment of attention so as to prevent continuous mental effort; the mind is also apt to be filled with crude and melancholy. The sleep is frequently restless, and disturbed by distressing dreams. It impairs both by interfering with nutrition, and by exhausting nervous force, and usually keeps down private opinion of one man, but is from the best authority known to the medical profession. (See National Dispensatory, Edition of 1880 page 1404 Art. Tabacum.) "Doubtless there are many persons who use tobacco in one or more forms who experience few or none of these evils, and whose constitutions seem proof against its mischievous effects; but such persons are usually laboring men who are much of the time in the open air, and perspiring freely. Persons of sedentary habits seldom possess sufficient strength of constitution to withstand the influence of the powerful drug. Clergymen, from the sedentary A GOOD FAMILY REMEDY! nature of their pursuits, are, therefore, more liable to the pernicious influence of this narcotic than others, and in very many cases their valuable lives are shortened by its use. So far, the physical effects of tobacco may be clearly traced. Its moral effects are still more deplorable. But we have not space in this article to enlarge upon that head, except to inquire, how are we to keep our boys pure and free from evil habits, when those to whom they are accustomed to look "to point to Heaven and lead the way," indulge in such filthy and unnecessary practices.

Permit me to suggest a remedy. It is now the season of Lent. Let each one who knows he is in slavery to the bad habit sacrifice it during this Holy Season. By Easter he will have so far obtained control of himself, as to enable him to continue on in the same good course the remainder of his life. L. R. JEROM. M. D.

La Grange, Feb. 22, 1882.

Latest advices from Peru indicate the final success of the Chilians.

The average life of an English gold sovereign is ab ut eighteen years—that is, the coin loses three-quarters of a grain in weight in about that length of time. It then ceases to be a legal tender. It is said that of the 100,000,000 pounds of British gold coinage, 40 per cent, is worn down below the legal weight.

The Atlantic has been unusually rough and stormy this winter. A steamship, the William Burbitt, arrived last Sunday after a voyage of nineteen days from Newcastle. The Castor was twenty days in, sailing from Amsterdam. It took the Joliet eighteen days to come over from Dundee. A number of steamers are now overdue.

It is reported that in the last eleven months the Panama Canal Company has lost 69 officers, engineers and oth rs, by yellow fever. Laborers who die cently the company refused to furnish them with coffins. One American contractor who started out in the morning with 45 men had nine stop before noon, attacked by the d eadful disease. Farmers living along the pipe line in Sussex County, N. J., say their milk is flavored with kerosene oil. They think there is a leakage from the pipes into the pond from which the cows drink.

General Grant, when asked the other evening where was the sword which he wore at Lee's surren der, answered: "I didn't have any on. I seldom wore a sword. I did wear one at the battle of Shiloh, and it saved my ife. A ball struck it and broke the scabbard, which dropped on the field. I believe Mrs. Grant has the blade. She is better at saving things than I am."

A new Ministry has been formed in Brazil, Martinho Campos assuming the Premiership and the portfolio of Finance.

Berthold Auerbach, the Jewish novelist, well known from his successful "On the Heights," died the other day. He was seventy years old.

Thirty New York milkmen paid $1,000 apiece, the other day, for the privilege of putting water in their Florida has 50,000,000 oranges this season, and calis it a short crop. It is but a few years since orange-raising, except as a kind of fancy farming, was unknown there, but the business is growing so fast that five years hence the production is expected to be 250,000,000.

Boston does not like the movement to establish elevated railroads in that city. Vigorous efforts are making to prevent their construction. It is understood it is not the prospect of something elevating that the "Hub" does not like, but rather the possibility of a fall from its lofty heights.

Arresting the Progress of Consumption.

The action of "Compound Oxygen" in arresting the progress of pulmonary consumption has been so marked and constant in our administration of this new Treatment, that we are warranted in saying that, if taken in the early stages, eight out of every ten persons affected with this disease might be cured. In this disease, as every one is aware, the only hope of the patient lies in the establishment of a higher vital condition. Now Compound Oxygen is an agent that gives directly this new and higher vitality. But we cannot too earnestly urge the necessity of using this Treatment in the very commencement of pulmonary trouble, and before the disease has made any serious inroads upon the system and reduced its power to contend with so dangerous an enemy. Too many of the cases which come to us are enemy. Too many of the cases which come to us are of long standing, and the chances for a radical and of long standing, and the chances for a radical and permanent cure just so far remote. That Compound oxygen benefits, or cures, so large a proportion of these, is often as much a surprise to ourscives as to our patients. Our Treatise on Compound Oxygen, with large reports of cases and full information, sent free. Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1109 and 1111, Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Curran was one day engaged in a case in which he Curran was one day engaged in a case in which he had for a colleague a remarkably tall and slender gentleman, who had originally intended to take orders. The judge observing that the case under discussion involved a question of ecclesiastical law, Curran interposed with, "I can refer your lordsnip to a high authority behind me, who was once intended for the church, though in my opinion he is fitter for the steeple."

How is is this for a three-year-old? An old man was passing the house Sunday, taking exceedingly short steps. The little one looked at him for several minutes and hen cried out: "Mamma, don't he walk stingy?'

Mothers wao have children, who are subject to Croup, read this. Allen's Lung Balsam should always be kept in your house, and be given immediately when the first symptoms appear, which will remove the mucus collected in the throat, and save the fire of your dear child.

ing has become normal, and his nerves are steady and true.

Indigestion, Dyspepsia, nervous prostration vision weak and uncertain, causing objects to appear nebulous, or creates muscae volitantes (motes dancing before the eyes), and similar subjective perceptions. In numerous instances, it has produced amaurosis. Similar derangements and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, properties and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, properties and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, properties and all forms of general debility, relieved by taking Mensman's Peptonized Beef Tonic, the only properties of beef, but contains blood-making, forcegenerating, and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion properties. of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork, or acute disease; particularly if resulting from pul-monary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Propri-etors, New York.

An advertisement reads: "Wanted—A young man to be partly out-door and partly behind the counter:" and the Cleveland Leader asks: "What will be the result when the door slams?"

mind is also apt to be filled with crude and groundless fancies, leading to self-distrust and melancholy. The sleep is frequently restless, and disturbed by distressing dreams. It impairs muscular power and co-ordination, probably both by interfering with nutrition, and by exhausting nervous force, and usually keeps down the growth of muscle and the deposit of fat."

This is no fancy sketch, nor is it the mere private opinion of one man, but is from the best Itching Piles-Symptoms and Cure.

To the intelligent it is needless to observe that comeopathic treatment offers the most safe, speedy and perfect results in all cases involving the impor-tant organs of speech and respiration. Our leading public speakers and singers have long recognized this important fact and fully appreciate its benefits. Dr. Peiro is the only homeopath in Chicago who devotes entire attention to this class of diseases, and of his success the highest reference will attest. He offers no "Home treatment" or other illusions, but to those who are in need of thorough, ear ful and o those who are in need of thorough, car ful and effective medical service, derived from wide observation and long experience, he will gladly con-fer, at his office, 83 Madison St., Chicago (opposite McVicker's theatre). Hours 9 to 4 except on Sun-

STRICTLY PURE,

Harmless to the most Delicate!

By its faithful use CONSUMPTION HAS BEEN CURED when other Remedies and Physicians have failed to effect a cure.

Jeremiah Wright, of Marion County, W.Va., writes us that his wife had Pulmonary Consumption, and was pronounced incurable by their physician, when the use of Allen's Lung Balsam entirely cured her. He writes that he and his neighbors think it the best medicine in the world.

with the world.

Wm. C. Digges, Merchant of Bowling Green, Va., writes, April 4th, 1881, that he wants us to know that the Lung Balsam has cured his mother of consumption, after the physician had given her up as incurable. He says, others knowing her case have taken the Balsam and been cured; he thinks all so afflicted should give it a trial.

Dr. Meredith, Dentist, of Cincinnati, was thought to be in the last stages of consumption and was in-duced by his friends to try Allen's Lung Balsam after the formula was shown him. We have his letter that it at once cured his cough and that he was

Wm. A. Graham and Co., Wholesale Druggists, Zanesville, Ohio, writes us of the cure of Mathias Freeman, a well-known citizen, who had been afflicted with bronchitis in its worst form for twelve years. The Lung Balsam cured him, as it has many others of Bronchitis. able to resume eis practice.

AS ALSO CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

ASTHMA, CROUP, All Diseases of the THROAT, LUNGS and PULMONARY ORGANS.

C. S. Martin, Drnggist at Oakly, Ky., writes that the ladies think there is no remedy equal to Lung Balsam for Croup and Whooping Cough.

Mothers will find it a safe and sure remedy to give their children when afflicted with Croup.

It is harmless to the most delicate child!

It contains no Opium in any form Recommended by Physicians, Ministers and Nurses. In fact by everybody who has given it a good trial. It Never Fails to Bring Relief.

Call for Allen's Lung Balsam, and shun the use of all remedies without merit and an established repu-tation. As an Expectorant it has no Equal: Sold by all Medical Dealers.

The Living Church.

March 4, A. D. 1882.

Entered at the Chicago P. O. as second-class mail matter

Advertising Rates, per agate line, 15 cts.

C. W. LEFFINGWELL, D. D. NEW YORK. No. 6 Cooper Union CHICAGO. 162 Washington Street.

The New York office of this Journal is removed from 40 Bible House to 6 Cooper

Notices of renewal, discontinuance, change of address, etc., should be forwarded to the Chicago office.

The Publisher must again call the attention of persons remitting money, to the read, instruction, absolution, and benediction to ing Mere, begging favors of the government, fact that there is a loss of twenty-five cents receive. A hundred voices are borne to heaven for exchange on checks or drafts on banks in prayer on angel's wings, but your's is not outside of New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore.

"A Great Wrong."

Dr. Fulton's appeal, which under the heading, "A great wrong," appeared in the LIVING CHURCH of January 28th, is meeting with ready response. Still the sum required, $500, is far shut any one out from the Kingdom of Heaven? from having been raised. The subscribers of This sin of omission is one of the worst kind of our paper will aid us, to save our brother's library.

The facts have only to be stated to touch all hearts. A priest, noted for his scholarly attain- to set your feet aright. ments and for his missionary zeal,-having been promised a donation from an influential quarter -signed a note for $500, and thus was enabled to finish a much needed church, and to have it consecrated to the service of Almighty God. The promised donation failed, and the only revolume of which marks a period of his intellectual and spiritual life."

published. The same letter was sent to a con- of the criticism. Several private letters to the defensible" manner.

The LIVING CHURCH family will not look at announce that the whole sum has been raised.

letter from Dr. Fulton:

To the Editor of the Living Church:

A gentleman who has read the hard case of the missionary of whom I wrote to you recently, authorizes me to say that he will give one-tenth of the $500 needed to redeem the missionary's library, provided the remaining $450 are raised JOHN FULTON.

Hindering Others.

position and authority, held the power of admit- lack of evidences of appreciation from my peoting persons into visible union with the Church, or of rejecting them. To-day, there are many jum in a dangerous illness. who virtually shut up the Kingdom of Heaven against others. There are many, who, not hypocrites, not like the Scribes and Pharisees, not like the declared infidel, but by the powerful many "good times," planned and carried out by silences of things undone by the coldness and my wife and myself, in which the entire parish, indifference of thoughts, words, and acts, effectually bar the door of heaven against men.

You are a good moral man. You possess intellect; you are liberal, kind, good, as the world thinks; you are confident in your own power to do right, or to quench the germs of wrong in your own breast. You think that you possess the power and the will to keep within the boundaries of honesty and morality, and that nothing higher, nothing better is needed—at least, not at present. You have little doubt but that your self-governing powers can come to the rescue in time of need, and lift you up out of any misfortune, any affliction-possibly, out of sin. You do not think that repentance and baptism and a Christian life are worth anything now; but still pastor of the good will and gratitude of his people. you have no objection if others wish to engage in these spiritual things. Your wife is a communicant, your children are growing up into manhood or womanhood. You do not use physifamily from entering the House of God, to woryou will take care of yourself, and that they can go to church whenever they like. But stop. You have influence. You have influence not only yourself, nor suffer them that are entering to go. ganizes and conducts among them.

The confirmed person, also, hinders others from entering heaven. A headache, or the merest vagary, keeps you back from the worship in God's Temple. The members of your family are at home, because you are. And thus you are the cause of four persons, it may be, being absent from the House of God. Your neighbors are watching you, to see wherein your life differs from their's. If you do not attend church, they have a plausible reason for not going, especially, since you are a Christian, and they, not. Thus, you bar the gate of heaven against your own children, your friends, and your neighbors. You are wanted in the Church on the Lord's Day. The minister will be there; he has something to do. The baptized and confirmed persons will be there; they have something to do. But you think that the Church and Christ can get along without you. So they can, but only to your detriment. You have confessions and "Amens" to say, prayers to utter, psalms to there. The recording Angel notes your absence in his Book. Thus, you neither go in yourself, nor does your influence allow those that are entering to go in. How much better are you than the Scribes and Pharisees, mentioned in the twenty-third chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew? How much better, if, by your indifference and passiveness in your soul's welfare, you sins. As Shakespeare puts into the mouth of King Lear: "It is rank, it smells to heaven."

Remember Your Pastor.

During Christmas-tide, a very interesting ar-"After-Christmas Thoughts." In it the writer, These facts came to the knowledge of Dr. a little over-drawn, or at least, an exceptional Fulton, and he at once wrote the letter which we case, and we felt disposed to question the justice temporary, which, however, refused to insert it, editor, however, have convinced us that mutatis tronage must be limited. The principle of "the on the plea that by signing a note which he had mutandis, the description there given would apnot the means of meeting, the priest had acted, ply to many parishes and pastors. One letter "from a business standpoint," in a "wholly in- from the rector of a prominent parish has impress- present iniquitous system. Civil-Service reform ed us deeply, and we believe that our readers will be glad to see portions of it, and that it will the matter from a purely "business standpoint." serve to stir up their pure minds to remembrance. They will come to the rescue, save our brother's The lack of attention referred to is not attributed library, and thus add to the treasures laid up in either to ingratitude, or to intentional neglect. a place where, thank God, "business principles" It has come, in this case and in most cases, from thoughtlessness. The minister has been regarded If each subscriber will remit FIVE CENTS the as a mere official, whose duty was to look after object will be more than attained. Over one all the details of the parish; to please everybody, hundred dollars have been already received. and to show attention to everybody. It is his We hope to be able within a very short time to business. It is expected of him as a matter of course. It does not occur to many that the con-We receive, as we go to press, the following tinual outflow of love and care, on his part, must be replenished by expressions of love and care for him, on the part of those for whom he is laboring. His work is considered as entirely professional and official, whereas, it is the personal and loving care of a father over his children. But here is the letter from which we quote:

"During the reading of the article, our family value." circle gave continuous expressions of surprise. Our surprise was, that any one but the rector of this parish had known such an experience. With ple. It has been so marked as to depress me at all times, and was once the burden of my delirservice in this parish. A generation of children who formed my Sunday School at first, have grown up to be Communicants. We have had old and young, have enjoyed themselves. Sunday School festivals, with 300 children singing; bright Easter Services, brilliant Christmas Serrector's own hand, and a white-robed choir assisted by eight instruments, without any excess of ritual or complaint on that subject: anniversa ries and special occasions of congratulation for everybody and everything—except the rector. A beautiful new chapel has been built by a member of the Church, in grateful recognition of the ministrations of the rector during the illness of the donor. I have presided at every Christmas festival, and with my own hands have taken from the tree-gifts for the scholars, teachers, Superintendent, and sexton; and never an apple, an orange, or bag of candy for the rector's family. The rectory to-day contains not one token of love from the parish-nothing to remind the

The absence of such expresssons is felt more than the lack of money. There are abundant evidences of the thoughtfulness and self-sacrifice of wife and children. I have no need to be reminded that they love me. But I am not so asmanhood or womanhood. You do not use physical force in preventing the members of your family from entering the House of God, to worship. You do not tell them, in words, that they I am oppressed with the painful sense of being I am oppressed with the painful sense of being shall not worship God. But you tell them that regarded as a mere official, serving for salary, with no place in the hearts and homes of those

This letter, from which we have quoted, is over your friends and neighbors. Your son imi- purpose of exciting pity, or of calling out any retates you. He thinks that he can remain at home sponse in the way of Christmas gifts or other reon the Lord's Day, if you do. It may be that membrances. We give these extracts by way of by which the late Minister of Worship and the bring upon himself your wife considers it her duty to attend to your suggestion to our readers, and we doubt not they bodily wants, rather than to your spiritual needs; will profit by them. By them they may be reand so she is absent from the House of God. minded that the true pastor is not a mere official, Your daughter has so strong a love for you, that but the head of a Christian family in which they she remains away from church, because she de- are enrolled. He is related to all his parishionsires to be in your company. Soon, your chil- ers, by virtue of his office and personal ministra- the Concordat and the Organic Article, while dren form a habit of not going to church, just tions; not as a hireling, but as a shepherd. He another aims at stripping the Catholic clergy of adding, 'Well, I am surprised to hear you sing Your neighbor thinks that you are good enough that the members of his flock should encourage even the strictest interpretation of the Concordat for him; and, hence, he does not attend the Ser- him by personal expressions of appreciation, as would allow them. Of the Penal Clauses, which vices of the Church; and, thus, you neither go in well as by financial aid to the work which he or- comprise an entire code, it will be enough to say THE mayor of Philadelphia has been tendered

A National Scandal.

The secular press informs us of an almost unprecedented rush of office-seekers at Washington. Men and women crowd the capitol, madly eager to secure appointments for themselves or their friends. Public men were never so besieged as now. It is said that the majority of the applicants are represented by women, who plead for brothers, sons, or husbands, as the case may be. Although it is generally known that the honored President of the Senate rarely recommends any one for a place under the government, he does not escape the solicitations and entreaties of the voracious crowd, who go through all sorts of tragical appeals to induce him to interfere in cases where ordinary propriety forbids him to make even a suggestion. To a group who thronged his rooms, Judge Davis addressed himself in a very common sense way: Why," said he, "do you permit yourselves to be placed in the ignominious position of comwhere there are thousands ready to crowd you to the wall, and fight you for every favor that you ask? You all look intelligent. Why do you not go out and learn to become cooks, housekeepers, chambermaids, if you please, and then you will be certain of a good home and independence. People will then be running after you, instead of you running after them, and the position of a respectable servant in a good family is one infinitely to be preferred to that of hanging to some beggarly office, dependent on the whim or will of some bureaucrat." Whereupon, the unwilling recipients of this piece of good advice flounced out of the room, to badger, no doubt, This may be your besetting sin. Then pray God some other public officer. If all our legislators at Washington should emulate the example of the Vice President, it would put a check upon this desperate evil. Well did James A. Garfield tempted to check its free and unhampered progsay, in 1877, "it will be a proud day when an Adticle appeared in the LIVING CHURCH, entitled ministration Senator or Representative, who is in good standing in his party, can say, as Thomas very pleasantly, and in good temper, dwelt upon Hughes said during his recent visit to this counsource of the priest is to sell a library which he the general lack of thoughtfulness and attention try, that, though he was on the most intimate has been collecting for thirty years, "and every which prevails in parishes in reference to the terms with the members of his own Administrapastor and his family, in the distribution of tion, yet it was not in his power to secure the Christmas gifts. It seemed to us, at the time, removal of the humblest clerk in the Civil Service of his government."

We must have reform in this matter, or the Republic will come to ruin. The power of pabest man for the place" must be adopted. Competitive examination must take the place of the has proved a magnificent success in England. We must come to it in America, or suffer consequences which it is impossible to contemplate without a shudder.

"Principles of Individualism."

It is a well-known fact, that the baptism of infants is for the most part given up by Congregationalists of to-day. Their leading organ says: "Congregationalists-under the attrition of Baptist friction on the one side, and the force of their own principles of individualism on the other-have become a good deal demoralized in this particular. They cannot hold, as their fathers did, that Baptism in a large sense placed an infant in the Church, while there is no such consent among them as to its real significance and force, as puts effectual pressure upon their life. Were it generally regarded as a pleasant, profitable and Scriptural act of the public consecration of children to God, it might regain its ancient universality, with possibly more than its recent

It is not at all strange that they should abandon this tenet of their fathers. It has with them The Scribes and the Pharisees were stumbling- much to encourage me in this field, the one cause no proper place or meaning. They are going to blocks in the heavenly path; and they, by their of sorrow and disappointment has been, the utter feel more and more the logical results of "their own principles of individualism." The Congregationalists have numbered and do yet number among them, strong able, and godly men, but, as I am now in the twelfth year of a successful it would seem to us, "their own principles of individualism" (to use the very words of their organ) will, more and more, work the ruin of their denomination. This "individualism" is a curse of our day. If it means anything, it means in its outcome-that a man acknowledges no authority, and reverences no dogma. This-"invices, with decorations wrought principally by the dividualism" naturally tends to irreligion. It tends to make him think he is his own-whereas, the whole spirit of the Gospel is "Ye are not

It is with no disposition to fault fellow-Christians, that we say it, but it is our conviction that these "principles of individualism" are anti-Christian, and that their logical results witness that they are. This "individualism" is the dry rot that is eating into the life of American denominationalism. We see its results on every hand. Mr. Emerson, Mr. Miln, Mr. Ingersoll are, each in his way, representative of these "principles of individualism." The first sin was humanity that to be ruled by dogma is degradation, and that men may become as gods, only as every man is a law to himself.

M. Paul Bert lays upon the table of the Chamber of Deputies his Bill "concerning the public exercise of Catholic worship in France," which clergy. The preamble, from beginning to end, other members of the Grand Ministry so distinguished themselves during their brief tenure of power. The Bill itself consists of two classes of enactments. One series of clauses prescribes certain penal provisions for the enforcement of that they include suspensions of stipend, and lands in Texas and Florida for Jewish refugees. next week's paper.

fines and imprisonment. In answer to the question why punishments should be called for which Napoleon Bonaparte would never have dreamt of instituting, M. Paul Bert replies, Bonaparte had little taste for ideal methods." Among the deprivations decreed by the clauses of the second portion of the Bill are the abolition of free scholarships in the seminaries, the abolition of the salaries of canons, and to come to trifles, the restriction of vicarage gardens to a certain prescribed area, prescriptions and prohibitions relative to donations and legacies, with others too numerous to be mentioned. abolition of the exemptions of priests from obligation to military service, and further measures against the religious Congregations will, it is announced, form the subjects of a separate Bill. The publication of this Bill has called forth general reprobation, even from pronounced Republican writers and journalists.

The Christian Army.

The Rev. Samuel Fallows, a Methodist minister of varied experience, for a few years past acting as "bishop" in the Cummins sect, has inaugurated a new denomination called the Christian Army, of which he is "General," and others LIVING CHURCH, we give the following from a are staff-officers, colonels, majors, captains, na- recent Saturday issue: val captains, color-bearers, etc. Its prayer-meetings are termed "knee-drills." Its methods are claimed to be an improvement upon the Salvation Army of England, with less fanaticism and more resolute invasion of the strongholds of sin. Its field of operation is at present confined to the purlieus of vice in the neighborhood of Halsted street on the "West Side" of Chicago. While not being unduly aggressive, the army will resent any indignity, and repel with physical force, if necessary, any mob violence that may be atress when marching through the streets, or engaged in open-air services. The rank and file will wear military caps, and be decorated with a thropy; that there is a growing conviction among blue ribbon, upon which is printed in gilt a design representing the corner-stone of Solomon's church congress neld in that portion of the vine-Temple resting upon an open Bible; a shield supported by twelve links which represent the twelve to mingle by such means, it would be to their Apostles; and upon the face of the shield the advantage in many ways; that it is only by lack cross of Constantine surrounded by the motto, 'The Glory of the Faith." The General-in-Chief wears a white ribbon, and the other officers red ribbons similarly decorated. The different of the whole church of God as an historically companies of the Army will carry red, white, and blue banners, with a cross in the field. A drum corps is organized, and trained under the directihat songs and banners, and libraries, and illustion of an efficient drummer. Among the proposed features of the Army is a temporary home for fallen women. Many will watch the proing that results will condemn it; but every one old familiar prayers. by the holy reverence for wishing that it may succeed in rescuing souls from the horrible grasp of vice.

"Watchman, what of the night?" So let every man question his soul as the Lenten shadows deepen. Do we realize that it is night, with sin around and within us; or are we deceived by the abomination that has its centre at Salt Lake glitter and the glare of the artificial lights of the City. At the meeting in Chicago, "Bishop world? Do we look for and long for the Sun of Smith," son of the Mormon prophet, spoke with Righteousness, or are we content to live amid enthusiasm on the side of morality and law. shadows and to pass through this night of sin to "The question," he said, "of how we can supthe outer darkness? What of the night? Is it press polygamy without injury to the innocent, leading on to the morning, or has it no hope, no is the phase that is giving Congress considerable promise? Amid the obscurities of sin, and un- uneasiness. There is a popular fallacy on this der the over-clouded heavens of sorrow, are we point. It may perhaps astonish you to know drawing nearer to Him Who lighteth every man that there are not more than two thousand polythat cometh into the world? Watchman of the gamists in Utah. There are hundreds and thoubreaking, and the Sun of Righteousness is arising with healing in His wings. The glory of the Resurrection-morn is on the Eastern hill-tops.

Temptation and sin; redemption, repentance, and restoration—these words epitomize the experience of humanity and the purpose of the revelation of God in Christ. For the contemplation of these great facts, the Lenten Season calls the children of the Church from the business and pleasures of the world, and bids them to pause and think of the realities unseen by the world. Whatever our social or business relations may be, we have other and higher interests. We may be gaining the whole world, or all that may be desirable in the world, but if we are neglecting our souls, what shall it profit us? If we do administering corporal punishment to some of not repent of sin, return from the far country the fractious choristers. An irreverent contemto the Father's house, and do our duty as redeemed and restored in the family of God, what shall avail all the gains of business or the pleasures of society? All these will be seen to be vanity of vanities by the soul that puts its trust

Suffering is the penalty of sin, and at the same a case of "individualism," and the tempter has time it is the instrumentality by means of which never since ceased his endeavors to convince sin is vanquished. It is a mystery which we cannot fathom. We accept it but we cannot understand it. Suffering is the sign of our separation from God; it is also the signal for our return to Him. We suffer because of sin; we turn At the very time that the German Parliament from sin because He against Whom we sinned are debating a measure to close the Culturkampf, has suffered. By the suffering of the Cross Christ condemned sin. Even by the very fruits of sin He overcame it. Penalty could not prevent sin, with all the suffering that it threatened; over the members of your own family, but also marked "private," and was not written for the aims really at the complete suppression of the but suffering love has subdued it. The sinner is moved by the suffering of Another, though he tionally, doubtless—to a most devoted and exbreathes that spirit of intolerance and tyranny heeds not the suffering that sin threatens to

> Father Ignatius was about to preach at a wellknown church. A popular hymn of Dr. Watts' was sung before the sermon, and when it ended the preacher repeated slowly the last two lines:

"'Love so amazing, do divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all,'— because you have taught it by your example. giveth his life for the sheep; and it is due to him all the rights, privileges, and immunities which that. Do you know that altogether you put only fiteen shillings into the bag this morning?"

The LIVING CHURCH has been criticised for admitting the advertisement of some Sunday School books that were not "Churchly." On the same principle it might be faulted for advertising Cruder's Concordance. We do not propose, if we know it, to advertise any books that attack the Church or her teachings; but there is a large class of books, magazines, and papers, offered to the American public, that have no relation to the Church one way or another, which we consider as merely merchandise to be judged on their merits, without reference to the Church. These we shall not hesitate to advertise. Such advertisements as the following, from the "Evangelical" Rock, we should decline:

TO SPIRITUALISTS AND INQUIRERS. NIGHT IN A HAUNTED HOUSE; Sorcery in Science, by Mrs.—, M. D.; Recognition of Communicating Spirits; Spirit Teaching, &c.

The Chicago Evening Journal of every Saturday has a summary of the editorial pages of the religious papers, which is very admirably done. As a specimen of pithy condensation on the part of the Journal, and to indicate, in the words of an impartial critic, the extent and variety of the editorial contents of a number of the

The Living Church says that there is no doubt that the preponderance given to physical studies in this age tends to skepticism as the preponderance given to metaphysical studies and pursuits in mediæval times tended to bigotry and intellectual pride; that the church of the past will be the church of the future; that the atheism and infidelty of this age will react into faith and obedience in the next; that the church of the future will use the old creeds. sing the old Psalms, say the old collects, celebrate the old Eucharist, addict itself in general to precisely the same duties and privileges which it has enjoyed for nineteen centuries, lament as the church has ever done, that men can be so foolish as to close their eyes, with suicidal deliberation. and say, "There is no such thing as light," and continue to lead the world in practical philanchurchmen at the West that there should be a yard, that if the clergy of adjacent dioceses would take greater pains to see each other, and of courage of one's opinions that all who deny the priestly and emphasize the prophetic function do not become Unitarians; that the catholic creeds are the result of the universal judgment continuous body existing in time and space, and never lapsing since its foundation-stones were laid by our Lord, who is its chief corner-stone; trated papers, and the amusing wave by which young teachers draw together and hold the interest of children, all have their value, but these cannot be weighed, a moment, against the gress of this movement with curious eyes, fear- solemn impressions made upon childhood by the house of God, by the love of public worship, formed in childhood and growing with the > Anti-polygamy meetings have been held in several large cities of the country, expressing the determination of the people to put down the sands of Mormons in Utah who will not marry wives, because they do not know where to get wives that have not been contaminated. They do not know what houses have escaped the invasion of lecherous bishops who have robbed hundreds of women of their purity. The men cannot afford to take the risk that marriage means. I am not in favor of a persecution, but there is a great difference between persecution and honest demand for honest obedience to law. and it is that demand that all good people want to see made and enforced in polygamous Utah."

> In one of our churches where there is a choir of boys, it is reported that the Rev. Precentor, who has the training and discipline of the urchins, ls threatened with legal prosecution for temporary remarks:

> It is very hard upon the "Father" that he should be at the trouble of belaboring a bad boy, and then be threatened, in addition, with a legal prosecution therefor. The Philadelphia Bulletin thinks it is too bad, and informs its readers that it understands that choristers' surplices are made short for the very purpose of giving easy access to their lower extremities, as the only remedy for their well known perversity. Probably a heavy ebony crook would be of use in such circumstances; for, if heavily jewelled, like the one now in use in Central Pennsylvania, it might do good execution and yet keep within the requirements of the law. To jerk a boy's leg would certainly be lawful.

From information which has come to hand since the publication, in a recent issue of the LIVING CHURCH, of a letter signed "A Hobart Churchman," it appears that our correspondent was in error in regard to some of his statements, and that a great injustice was done-unintencellent Christian woman; we refer, of course, to Miss Smiley. We hope to make the amende, more fully, in our next issue.

The daily Services which are being held during this Lent, in the business quarter of Chicago, are very largely attended. Each Service lasts twenty minutes.

We very much regret that the report of the proceedings of the late Sunday School Convention at Detroit failed to reach us in time for the present issue. It is of so interesting a character, however, that, rather than our readers should miss it, we propose to publish it in our ### Thoughts for Lent.

As usual, the clergy throughout the land are exerting themselves in every way, that the people entrusted to their pastoral care may derive benefit from this Holy Season. We cull some thoughts from the Pastorals which have been for some time accumulating upon our table:

Let me earnestly entreat you to resolve, on the very threshold of Lent, at its very outset, that you will strive to make the most of it. Unless you are absolutely hindered, will you not try to arrange your time so that you may be present at most of the Services? A merely occasional attendance will not benefit you like a steady and sustained presence in God's House. Gradually the holy influence of the daily prayer, and the few words of exhortation, the frequent communnew words of exhoration, the frequent communion and the common praise will soften and solemnize your heart, and raise your soul nearer to God. Try it, and I know you will be richly rewarded. When you cannot be at church, endeavor, wherever you are, to put up a prayer, and for a few moments, at least, each day, to think of your soul. Let us all pray much at home, pray for each other, and do not forget me, your Rector. Let us give up our ordinary amusements. Let us do many good works. Let anger and clamor and evil speaking cease from REV. CLINTON LOCKE, Rector of Grace (hurch, Chicago. among us.

There is a word of our Master which says: "Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep," which we may interpret in this way, that all Christians who care to fol-low the footsteps of the Lord, should weep and fast now for forty days with Him who fasted, and with all faithful souls who now mourn and weep over their sins, so that when Easter comes, and the Lord of Life and Death gives the world the greatest cause for joy, we, and all Christians, may also rejoice together.

REV. R. C. SEARING, Rector of St. Paul's Free Church, Columbia, Pa.

Christ taught his disciples to fast and be as though they fasted not. There must be no vain show about it. Let everything we do be a joy to us, and we shall come into a new and nearer and holier relationship with our Lord than we have ment for the sins that we have done. had before. And let us never forget that which seems to need frequent reiteration in our ears: We ought so to live as to be able to pass blessed influences over from our lives to those who are nearest to and about us. We shall be in a most enviable state ourselves, when, simply by our lives, we can preach an attractive gospel to those about us in need of Divine grace.

REV. W. A. MASKER, Rector of St. Paul's Church, East Saginaw, Mich.

Lent is not only a time to gather up what has been lost during the year, but it is also intended for permanent progress in the spiritual life. You must not be content with reaching Easter as good as you were when that festival was last

For all of us, my brethren, there are incalculable benefits to our souls in the blessed means of grace now at our disposal, if we but use them faithfully, in humble dependence upon Him Who for our sakes fasted forty days and forty nights, and who calls upon us now by His Church, "to use such abstinence that the flesh being subdued to the spirit, we may ever obey His Godly motions in righteousness and true REV. H. CHETWOOD, Rector of St. Paul's, Oakland, Cal.

If we give up pleasure and frivolity, it is that we may have more time for the solemn realities; if we humble the body by fasting, it is that we may pray more humbly; if we deny something to self, it is that we may give it to God. There-fore, in addition to daily service and weekly Communion, turn your social calls into earnest Christian visits, where the topics of conversa-tion shall be—not the weather and dress, and the affairs of others, but—the Redemption, the spiritual life and how to bring men to it; show to the persons and the children for whom you have stood as witnesses and sponsors that you remember their Baptism even if they have forgotten it; fast often, that you may pray often for the flame of the Spirit's love to kindle your cold hearts; deny yourself something which you can turn into an Easter offering; and while you avoid the long-visaged sanctimony of the Pharisees, consider earnestly the weightier things of your present and future life, and above all never permit yourself or anyone else to jest about Leuten sacrifices. REV. J J. FAUDE, Rector of St. Thomas' Church, Plymouth, Ind.

The object of the holy season of Lent is a growth in personal holiness. The duties of Lent are Prayer and Fasting. If we are consistent members of the Church, we shall abstain from entertainments, weddings, and all festivities; not because they are wrong, but because they are out of keeping with this season of mourning, and because we shall need more time for devotion and deeds of charity. We will visit only the sick and the poor, and will en-deavor to bring back those who have wandered. We will retrench personal expenses, and give what is saved to God's service. We will devote much time to prayer, self-denial, religious read-ing and amendment of life. We will attend as many of the Services as possible, even at a personal inconvenience. And we will not forget our preparation for the Holy Feast on every Lord's Day.

REV. W. W. STEEL,

Rector of Calvary Church, Batavia, Ill.

Have you not some cause for heart searching and self-condemnation, in your neglect of your duties to God and the Church? You have allowed trivial excuses to keep you from Church, even on Sundays, you have grown careless in your attendance upon the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar, slothful in Christian work, cold in prayer and faith. The call of God comes to you now, as in His mercy He gives you another Lent, "Awake thou that sleepest." May that call be heeded. Strive, dear brethren, to make this season an era in your spiritual life. Make the resolve and keep it, to be diligent in prayer, faithful in fasting, honest in alms-giving. tend the Services as constantly as you may be able, seek the Lord and His Face in His Sacrament of His Body and Blood, find out your sins, confess them and turn from them. So may you beat down Satan under your feet. so may you go from strength to strength, so may the Easter sun shine upon a people far advanced in the road which leads to the Heavenly REV. WALTER H. MOORE, Rector of St. John's Church, Decutur, Ill. Home.

The object to be sought is the deepening of the spiritual life. To this end, the Church prescribes "extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion." (See Prayer Book.) Increase as much as possible the time devoted to private prayer and the devotional reading of Holy Scriptures Devotional reading implies meditation, in which as in prayer, you will be greatly aided by well chosen books of devotion. In order to obtain time for this you may have to shorten the hours usually given to sleep. Our Lord spent whole nights in prayer on a lonely mountain side, not for himself, but for you. The public Services of the Church are greatly multiplied. Let nothing but necessity keep you away from any of these, especially during Holy Week. "Go your way into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise."

REV. J. EASTER, D. D., Rector of Trinity Church, Jacksonville, Ill. Our Lord tells us to fast and pray. The Church tells us to do it now, in her Lenten sea son. Why? Because, although we should at all times be engaged fervently in spiritual matters. yet, as we are always prone to become negligent, it is well for us to have one particular season in which these duties shall, for the time, employ our more concentrated and fervent efforts. Hence, let us put much of our ordinary life aside for a season, and give ourselves up to the highest duties of the spiritual life. REV. M. M. MOORE, Rector of St. Peter's Parish, Oxford, Miss.

By declining all dispensable social engagements, amusements, etc., we gain time for deeper private study of the Bible, Prayer Book, Christian Evidences, Church History, and devotional works, which are too apt to be neglected. Our savings by self-denial, offered at Easter, help to settle any arrears of our home Church support, the diocesan fund, missions, and help the building fund or other Church object. The more frequent and fervent devotions in private and public, and at the Holy Altar, draw us in spiritual love nearer to each other, our dear ones in Paradise, and our Blessed Lord.

REV. W. C. HOPKINS, Rector of Emmanuel Church, Champaign, IU.

The principal ideas and teachings brought to us by the season of Lent, may be summed up thus: "The one leading idea running through it all is penitence, as the great indispensable means and condition on our part for obtaining forgive-ness of past sin and of avoiding it in future, and in order to this penitence the first means is self-examination with a view to obtaining a knowledge of the sins committed; then fasting and self-denial generally as a help towards breaking up the sin; then watching against falling into the sin again; then more constant earnest prayer for God's help against it; then, as the special thoughts of passion-tide, a willing self-sacrifice in everything with a crucified Saviour and for His sake Who gave up all for us; then

REV. C. J. CURTIS, Editor of the Church Messenger.

Above all things, let us set God before us as a Person to be thought of, to be loved, to be sought, to be found; as that one Person for Whom we are to live, to lose Whom is to lose all, to find Whom is to find all, without the knowledge of Whom, life is nothing but disappointment, sorrow, and misery; with the knowledge of Whom, life is real and true happiness. It may seem as if it could not be necessary to say this, but are there not thousands who simply leave God out of their hearts and lives altogether? Does any one of us know Him, hold to Him as we should? Let this, then, be our first kept, but you must be better than you were a year ago.

REV. J. T. WEBSTER, Rector of Christ Church, Dayton, O. been to us, what we owe to Him, how we can give ourselves more entirely to Him, and how, with ourselves, we can give Him more of our money, our influence, our thoughts, our words, all to be used for Him, and His Honor.

REV. H. G. BATTERSON, Rector of the Church of the Annunciation, Phila.

Personal Mention.

The Rev. J. C. Chamberlain has taken charge of st. John's, Wichita, Kansas.

The Rev. Thomas H. Gordon has resigned the charge of the Church of the Holy Innocents, Oak Hill, Mo., to take effect at Easter.

The Rev. T. G. Williams has resigned the charge of St. Lawrence's Church, Yreka, Cal.

The Rev. R. C. Talbot has accepted the rectorship of St. Matthew's, Newton, Kas.

The Rev. Lucian Holmes has become Rector of St. James', Kittrell, N. C.

The Rev. W. P. Chase has accepted the rectorship of Christ Church, Springfield, Mo.

The Rev. Albert Wells has been elected to the rectorship of St. Mary's, Kansas City, Mo.

The Rev. H. I. Bodley has entered upon his duties s Rector of St. John's Church, North Adams, Mass. Address accordingly.

The Rev. Dr. Hollingworth's address is Park Avenue Hotel, New York.

The Rev. F. B. Ticknor has accepted missionary The Rev. H. T. Widdemer has resigned the rectorship of Christ Church, Ansonia, Conn.

Obituary.

HITCHCOCK.—Died, at the residence of his son-in-law, Jabez B. Bowman, West Troy, New York, Isaac Hitchcock, in the 86th year of his age.

In the blessed hope of a glorious immortality and of glad re-union with those "loved long since and lost awhile," this aged servant of the Lord joyfully obeyed the Master's summons. During a weary illness, the words oftenest on his lips were: "O when shall I see Jesus?" His is now the Beatific Vision in Paradise.

> "Where loyal hearts and true Stand ever in the light,
> All rapture through and through
> In God's most holy sight."

MARSDEN—Calmly fell asleep in Jesus, after a short illness, on Sunday. February 19th, 1882. near York Springs, Pa., Susan Grear, the beloved wife of the Rev. I. H. Marsden, M. D.

Pure and gentle was her life, and its remembrance like the dew, refreshes the sad hearts of husband and daughter. In the hope of a glorious resurrec-tion, we laid her body to rest, on Cemetery Hill, Gettysburg, beneath the shadow of the National Soldiers' Monument, around which sleep almost 4,000 of the heroes of July, 1863.

CUNLIFFE.—Entered into the rest of Paradise, from the Church in Oxford, Miss., on the evening of Ash-Wednesday, Feb. 22d, 1882, Mrs. Ann H. Cunliffe, in her 74th year. Interment at her former home, near Lexington, Miss.

"Who doth not crave for rest?"

STICKNEY.—At Lewiston, Pa., Feb. 21st, Frank E. Stickney, Esq., aged 36 years. Interred in St. Mark's Church-yard.

Official.

By assignment of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Indiana, the following appointments have been made by Bishop Seymour for Bishop Tal-bot, during the months of March and May:

Terre Haute, March 5th, 2d Sunday in Lent.
Worthington, Bloomington, Vincennes, Evansville, "10th, Friday.

Ward and May. The Holling Str. Wednesday.

10th, Friday.

12th, 3d Sunday in Lent. 12th, Jusaday.
15th, Wednesday.
16th, Thursday.
17th, Friday,
19th, 4th Sunday in Lent. Madison, Aurora, Lawrenceburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, Indianapolis, Connersville,
Muncie,
Frankfort,
Crawfordsville, May 10th, Wednesday.
Covington,
Attica,
Lafayette,
Delphi,
Peril 15th, Monday.
15th, Thursday.
12th, Friday.
15th, Monday.
15th, Monday.
15th, Monday.
15th, Thursday.
15th, Thursday.
15th, Thursday.
15th, Thursday.

Peru, "16th, Monday. Peru, "16th, Tuesday, Logansport, "17th, Wednesday, Fort Wayne, "18th, Ascension. GEORGE F. SEYMOUR, Bishop of Springfield. Springfield, Ash Wednesday, 1882. Appeal.

For nearly fourteen years the daily Services of St. Mary's School, Knoxville, Ill., have been held in the Study Hall. The foundation of a Chapel is completed, and funds are greatly needed to continue the work. Reference is made, by permission, to the Bishops of the Province of Illinois.

C. W. LEFFINGWELL, Rector.

Acknowledgements

Chapel Fund for St. Mary's School.
Mrs. Van Nortwick, Batavia$	25.00
O. L. Campbell, Knovville	5.00
F. G. Sanburn. "	10.00
Classes of '82 and '83, St. Mary's	57.91
Class of 'st St Momi's	27.00
'85,	13.71
" " '85, " " " " " " " " " " " " " " " " " " "	14.75
nev. R. Miterie, Feoria	10.00
Misa Ella Bradford, Cleveland	25,00
W. H. Knowlton	1.00
Robert Elliott, Worth	10.00
Bishop Burgess, Quincy	50.00
G. M. A	25,00
Mrs. Hoge	10.00
Amount previously acknowledged 1,	267.55
m + 1
Total$1	551.92
To see to De Delta to the U.A.	~ .
In response to Dr. Fulton's letter—"A Wrong"—in the LIVING CHURCH for Jan. 28th.	Great
Rev. D. B. Knickerbacker	5.00
Rev. W. H. Tomlins.	1.00
R. W. P	5.00
R. W. P. Grace Church, Plainfield, N. J.	17.00
Rev. L. P.	5.00
A Friend (conditional on the raising of the	0.00

Total.....$186,66 Miscellaneous.

whole amount)...

The Burd Orphan Asylum, Philadelphia

The Burd Orphan Asylum, Philadelphia.

The object of this Institution is to maintain and educate the orphan daughters of Clergymen and of respectable Laymen, who have left their families in destitute circumstances.

In addition to a good English education, the pupils are instreted in French, Music, Drawing, Embroidery, Stwing, Housework, and whatever will make them useful and self-helpful women.

The buildings are spacious, the grounds extensive, the location high and healthful. The Institution is supported by its own endowment, and pupils are at no expense, clothing, board, and tuition, being free.

Admission is limited to girls between the ages of 4 and 8. They can remain in the Institution until they are 17 or 18 years of age. We are anxious that this Institution should be known throughout the Church, as pupils are admitted from any Diocese; the daughters of deceased Clergymen always having the preference.

There will be several yearnies this year.

the preference.

There will be several vacancies this year.

Address, Rev. G. A Burton, Burd Orphan Asylum, 63 and Market, Philadelphia, Pa.

A School Partner wanted in a Church Boarding and Day School for Girls, situated in the South, and in a highly prosperous condition. The applicant must be a Church san or Churchwoman; a thorough and experienced teacher and disciplinarian, and with some capita. This is an unusual opportunity. Apply to Church School, care of Robert E. Parke, Macon, Ga.

WANTED.—By two Church women a good locality for a girls school. Address, School, Milwaukee, Wis. A clergyman of 20 years experience in educa-tional work wishes to hear of a place which has fa-cilities for est thishing a School for Girls. Address F. Box 1667. Boston, Mass.

A Church Clergyman, an A. M., and thirteen years A Church Clergyman, an A. M., and thirteen years a successful teacher, will receive a limited number of boys to be educated. Location in the ceuntry, near an Eastern city. Free from vicious influences. Home care and comfort. Careful instruction. Healthful and mild climate, no malaris. Boys may remain during the summer. Bad boys rigidly excluded. House large, and on an elevation of 400 feet above sea level. Terms, $350 for school year. Address, Rector, Office Living Church.

A lady desiring a situation to assist lady with household duties, needlework included, where she could be made as one of the family. References exchanged. Address H, care Carrier 23, Detroit, Mich. H. B. Bryant and H. D. Stratton were the founders of forty-eight business colleges. Mr. Stratton died in 1837. Mr. Brvant has sold his interest in all but the Chicago College, and is making that the great college of the country.

Society for the Increase of the Ministry.

Formed 1857. Incorporated 1859.
Five hundred and eighty-seven of its scholars have been ordained. Five hundred and four names are found in the present c ergy list, distributed as follows: New England, 86; Middle States, 152; Southern States, 82; Western States, 143; Domestic Missionary Jurisdictions, 31; Foreign Missions, 6; Abroad, 4; Permanent funds yield $3,000. Annual income. The Society asks voluntary collections of parishes, and personal donations.

REV. ELISHA WHITTLESEY, Cor. Sec. HARTFORD, CONN.
In another part of this paper, will be found the Hartford, Conn.

In another part of this paper will be found the Twenty-second Annual report of the Washington Life Insurance Co. of New York. This Company has always enjoyed a reputation for honorable management. Its policies are liberal in their terms, and protected from forfeiture by all dividends standing to their credit. This valuable provision is peculiar to the Washington.

Its six and a quarter million are well invested and its surplus of over Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars promises security to its policy holders. It is a good company in which to make a provision for those dependent upon us.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,

BANKERS 120 Broadway (Equitable Building), NEW YORK.

LETTERS OF CREDIT

CIRCULAR NOTES

Issued for the use of travelers in all parts of the world.

Bills drawn on the Union Bank of London. Telegraphic transfers made to London and to various places in the United States. Deposits received subject to check at sight, and interest allowed on balances.

Government and other bonds and investment securities bought and sold on commission.

FRANCIS B. PEABODY & CO.,

MORTGAGE BANKERS, Cor. Dearborn and Monroe Sts., CHICAGO,

FURNISH LOANS In amounts as required, at current rate of interest, (now 6 per cent) on improved City Real Estate. Also manage and Sell Real Estate.

EIGHT to TEN per Cent. Interest

On long time loans, with best security in the world.

DAKOTA WHEAT LANDS. In the famous valley of the Red River of the North, constituting what is known as the "Golden Northwest."

constituting what is known as all west."

Loans negotiated without charge by the First National Bank of Valley City, Dakota.
Choice lands are also offered for sale at from $4 to $12 per acre. Selections made from official survey rotes and certified examinations.

Write for reference and particulars.

HERBERT ROOT,
Cashier.

Safe and Profitable Investments.

PER CENT. GUARANTEED By the WESTERN FARM MORTGAGE CO. Lawience, Kansas. First Mortgage upon ive Farms in the best localities in the West. Coupon Bonds. Interest and principal paid on day of maturity at the Third National Hank in New York. No losses. No ong delays in placing funds. Investors compelled to take no land. Security three to six times the amount of loan. Our facilities for making safe loans are not excelled. We solicit correspondence. Send for circulars, references, and sample documents. F. M. PERKINS, Pres. J. T. WARNE, Vice-Pres. N. F. HART, Auditor.

Large Variety, all sixes, Nursery Grown, Cheap also choice Seed Potatoes. Price List Free. D. HILL, Dundee Nursery, Dundee, Ili.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL STATEMENT

WASHINGTON Life Insurance Company,

OF NEW YORK. W. A. BREWER, Jr., President.

Receipts During the Year: Eor Premiums..........$1,117,331.03 For Interest, Rents, &c...... 320,086.20 1,437,417.33 DISBURSEMENTS. Claims by death..........$309,850.06 Matured and Discounted En-

 Matured and Discounted Endowments
 115,405.54

 Surrendered Policies, Cash Dividends and Return Premiums
 447,879.95

 Annulities
 1,968.29

 Total paid Policy-holders
 $875,103.84

 Commuted Commissions.....

Net assets, December 31, 1881. $5,826,712.19 Policies issued in 1881 ..... 2,076 ..... $4,681,460 Amount of Insurance.

ASSETS. U. S. and N. Y. City Stocks. $1,516,596.30
Bonds and Mortgages. 3,468,873.02
Real Estate. 502,195.15
Cash on hand and in Banks and Trust Co. 258,229.92
Loans on Collaterals. 42,471.88
Agents' Balances. 38,345.92 42,471.88 38,345.92 $5,826,712.19 Add excess of marked value of Stocks over cost......
Interest accrued and due and unpaid....
Deferred and Unpaid Prem's less 20 per ceut....
Gross Assets, Dec. 31, 1888... 231,303.70 36,225,69 135,991,70 $6,230,233,28 LIABILITIES.

W. HAXTUN,

Vice-Prest. and Sec'y.

H. D. PENFIELD, Gen. Agt.

Total number of Policies in

THOS. R. LYNAS, Asst. Gen. Agt.

148 La Salle St., CHICAGO.

$1,00 S. S. LIBRARY BOOKS FOR 5c.

CONTINUATION OF CATALOGUE,

IMMENSE SUCCESS!

12.500 SCHOOLS NOW USING THEM. OVER 1,250.000 SOLD ALREADY.

Original Price in Cloth Binding No. Original Price in Cloth Binding Price in Cloth Bindin, No. Name. Name. Name. | 110. Christie's Old Organ, | 1.25 | 125 | 111. Frank Oldfield, | 1.25 | 129. The Brewer's Family, | 1.0 | 148. Under the Curse of the Cup, 1 | 112. Tim's Troubles, | 1.25 | 130. Sidney Grey, | 120. Sidney Grey, | 130. Sidney Grey, | 120. Sidney Grey, | 120. Sidney Grey, | 120. Sidney Grey, | 130. Sidney 1.25 the Snow, 1.25 129. The Brewer's Family, 122. Cobwebs and Cables, 1.00140. Duties and Duties, 1.20 May, 1.00 Complete ca alogue (156 books) ree on application. Sample book and envelope, 8 cents, postpaid.

PRICES IN LOIS ASSORIED.—F.ve or more books, at 6 cts. each; 10 or more, at 5% cts. each; 20 or more, at 5% cts. each; 200 or more, at 5% cts. each. Subscription price per year (52 numbers $2.50.

year (52 numbers $2.50.

IME ENVELOPE ADDITION.—This consists of a strong manilla envelope, large enough to take in any one number of the Library, and which answers not only to protect the books from wear, but as a library member's exchange card. It has printed on it blank for name, residence, and class number and library number of member, extalogue of books, library rules, and a simple plan of exchanging and keeping account of books. The envelopes cost but 1½c. each; no more than ordinary library cards.

All other Sunday school goods at marvelously low prices. NAME THIS PAPER. Address, DAVID C. COOK, 148 Madison St., Chicago,

DIVINE LITURGY

In The Book of Common Praver By GEORGE W. HUNTER.

12mo, Cloth, 85 cents. Paper, 60 cents. The above contains a comparison of "The Prayer

The above contains a comparison of "The Frayer of Consecration" in the American Prayer Book, with that of St. Clement, which is the oldest of all, with that of Rome, and with those of the English Church of 1662 and 1549. The surprising excellence of the American form is shown. The analogy between the worship of the old covenant and that of the new is also pointed out.

JAMES McCAULEY, Church Bookseller, 1309 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE GUITEAU TRIAL

This is the only complete and fully illustrated "Life and Trial of Guiteau." It contains all the testimony of the experts and other noted witnesses; all the speeches made by the cunning assassin in his great efforts to escape the gallows by feigning insanity. Beware of catchpenny books. Millions of people are waiting for this work. AGENTS WANTED. Circulars free. Extra terms to Ag'ts. Address National Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

ESTABLISHED A. D. 1870.

THE WONDERFUL SUCCESS OF

THE YOUNG CHURCHMAN in the past, has induced the publisher to celebrate the beginning of the 13th year of its publication, by issuing a

WEEKLY EDITION. Of the same size and character as the present monthly. The terms will be as follows:

WEEKLY: 80 cents per Annum. In packages of ten or more copies, 54 cents per Annum.

MONTHLY:

25 cents per Annum. In packages of ten or more copies, 16% cents per Annum. Single subscribers to the weekly sending immediate orders, will be supplied with the back numbers of the monthly from Advent, free of charke, containing the valuable serial by JENNIE HARRISON, entitled "Through Fast and Festival."

THE SHEPHERD'S ARMS, A handsome little paper for youngest readers, is published from the same office. Specimen copies of both papers sent on application. Address

THE YOUNG CHURCHMAN. MILWAUKEE, WIS. VASSAR COLLEGE,

FOR THE LIBERAL EDUCATION OF WOMEN, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

A FULL COLLEGE COURSE; Special Courses; Departments of Painting and Music; a Preparatory Department; an Astronomical Observatory; a new Laboratory of Chemistry and Physics; Cabinets of Natural History; a Museum of Art; a Library of 14,000 volumes; ten Professors and twenty Teachers; a commodious building, heated by steam, lighted with gas, with elevator, telegraph and every convenience.

venience.

Examinations for admission in Chicago,
June 1-3; and in Cincinnati, June 5-7,
1882. Circulars or Catalogues sent.
S. L. CALDWELL, President.

PUBLISHED BOOKS FOR LENT

Seven Sermonettes. By Rev. C. M. Parkman 35
QUESTIONS ABOUT OUR CHURCH.
Or words to help people who desire information concerning the Episcopal Church. By Rev. Geo. W. Shinn.

10
TRACTS ON BAPTISM AND CONFIRMATION. PRIVATE DEVOTIONS. FAMILY PRAYERS, Etc., Etc.

Jansen, McClurg & Co., 117-119 State St., Chicago.

BEAUTIFUL EASTER MUSIC.

THE TEMPLE REBUILT.

GEO. D. NEWHALL & CO., Cincinnati, O.

A POEM.

Concerning the Dignity and Destiny of the Soul.

By Frederic R. Abbe. 1 vol. 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

This epic is an exceedingly noble conception, and one which the author has wrought out with a pervading fevor and real eloquence. The theme is one of infinite grandeur, and the writer has treated it in a spirit of admirable sympathy.

D. LOTHROP & CO., - - Boston.

Needham's Red Clover

Cures all forms of Blood diseases, which fact we can furnish abundant proof. Send to D. NEEDHAM & SONS, 91 Dearborn St., Chicago, for Descriptive Cir-cular, which will be mailed free of charge.

A. REED & SONS. PIANOS?

Guaranteed FIRST-CLASS in tone and durability. Reasonable prices and terms. Old instruments taken in exchange. Correspondence invited. Catalogue 1882 free.

REED'S TEMPLE OF MUSIC, Est'd 1842. 136 State-St., Chicago. HIGHLAND AND FRENCH

RANGES, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

HARBESON & JUDD. 88 N. Clark Street.

Calendar.

MARCH, A. D. 1882.

Ember Day. Ember Day.

Ember Day.
2d Sunday in Lent. Violet.
3d Sunday in Lent. Violet.
4th Sunday in Lent. Rose or Violet.
Mid-Lent (Refreshment Sunday).
Annunciation B. V. M. White.
5th Sunday in Lent.
Passion Sunday. Violet.

Neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing.-II Samuel xxiv:24.

Do we think to post God off with any, it skills not what fruit? with windfalls, with worm-eaten stuff? we Him in so vile account as any is good enough for Him? Malachi tells us otherwise, bids us offer such to our prince and see if he will take it well. Zachary tells us so likewise. "A goodly price," saith he, "they value Me at." Nay, sure we must have some worth. All the worth is not intrinsical to the thing itself, when all is said that can be said, that which makes all full, the chief part of their worth, lieth in Christ's accounting us worthy. (S. Luke xxi:36.)-Bishop Andrewes.

i:36.)—Bishop Anarewes.

Christ before His Altar standing,
Priest of priests, in His own day
Calls on thee, some fruit demanding
Of the week's heaven guarded way.
Bring thine all, thy choicest treasure,
Heap it high and hide it deep;
Thou shalt win o'erflowing measure,
Thou shalt climb where skies are steep.
—John Keble.

The Prophet of Florence.

Written for the Living Church.

"A Christian's life consists in doing good and suf-

Fair Florence on the Arno witnessed the martyrdom of her prophet, one of the greatest men the Church has ever produced.

Girolamo Savonarola was born at Ferrara, September, 21st, 1452. Little is known of his father's life or profession; but his mother is represented as most lovely in character; and the theory that great men are always the children of remarkable mothers proved true in this case. times of great trial he turned to her for sympathy. As a child, he was characterized by a garded as one destined to be great. As he grew logical studies; he eagerly read the works of St. | charmed the people of Florence. Thomas Aquinas, and they increased the bent of his naturally religious and contemplative mind. agine that the blood of the great House of with the most impassioned eloquence. Strozzi could form an alliance with that of Savonarola?"

Bitter as was his disappointment, he did not suffer himself to make shipwreck of his life on and by princely overtures, to bribe the new Prior that Charybdis which has ruined many a noble to be more lenient in his preaching. Never tributions to our Church literature. President it now appears. With reference to the Thirtymind; but, rising above his intense sorrow, he would Savonarola grant him a private interview, became more tender, more pathetic, and more until he, Lorenzo the Magnificent, lay on his truly great.

To say that this loss of worldly happiness Frate justly refused him Absolution. alone induced him to embrace the Monastic life, would be an injustice to his character; although it was shortly after this that he was roused to a not of his Order alone, nor yet alone of the peosense of his duty, by the powerful preaching of ple of Florence; but his just attacks were aimed but where the moral nature is trained and dean Augustinian friar. Having once arrived at at the corrupt lives of the Pope and the Cardinthis decision, he chose the Dominican Order, als. Such preaching had never been heard in having been attracted to it by his love of Thomas | Florence, and even all Italy was roused into a Aguinas. It was no easy task to separate himself from his much loved parents, and to cause them such suffering. He tells us that for one pure Girolamo to the finest fibres of his delicate year he struggled with the new purpose on the and spiritual organization. The young people pain and point beyond life's clouds. We lingered one hand, and with his great love for his family on the other. It seemed to him that his mother as were both blasphemous and immoral: and the read the innermost thoughts of his heart, and Frate felt that nothing could be done till the saw the fearful struggle through which he was city was purged of such practices. passing. The festival of S. George was approaching, and he knew that he could slip away unobserved. On the eve of that day which throughout Italy. He banded the children towould sunder his worldly ties, he took his lute, and, lightly touching the strings, played for the last time a strain at once so sad and beautiful, that his mother turned to him and said: "My son! this is a sign of parting." By the exercise of great self-control, he refrained from looking into her eyes, and with trembling hands continued to play his farewell to the world. The next day, at the age of twenty-three, he knocked at the convent door in Bologna, and was admitted. No longer did he keep his parents in ignorance of his vocation, but wrote them a letter stating his reasons for the step. It was full of tender solicitude for their welfare, but without any Call to the Soul" is a powerful sermon in itself. anxiety or regrets for himself.

Savonarola determined to take the lowest place in the Convent, and hoped to be allowed to per- mercy: form the most menial tasks; but the Prior soon found in him such qualities as fitted him for higher work, and he was appointed Teacher of the Novices. . During his seven years at Bologna, he refrained from social intercourse with any one; he spent in prayer every hour that it was possible; he practised such rigorous asceticism, that he appeared a marvel in the eyes of his companions. The three vows he kept to the very letter; his food was scarcely sufficient to preserve life; his wearing apparel was of the coarsest material; his bed was composed of sticks, on which were placed a pallet of straw and one woollen cover. Much time was devoted to the study of the Scriptures; and he is said to have committed to memory all the Canonical Books. These quiet years of study were a preparation for his great life work. For a short time, he was sent to the Monastery in Ferrara; but he was not sorry when the disturbances between that city and Venice caused the removal Esay's "sour grapes?" Jeremy's "rotten figs?" Hold of the monks to San Marco's, Florence. He took a last farewell of his parents, whom he was never to see on earth again; and, turning from his native place, he was no longer to be Girolano Savonarola of Ferrara, but he was to be Fra Savonarola, the Prophet of Florence.

The city lay in the embrace of the most beautiful hills, dotted here and there with peasants' villas, and gardens of olive trees; far off were the make. All that we need is a large water butt, snow-capped Appenines. The beautiful Arno placed behind a wall, or some shelter to prevent wound its way through the very heart of the city; its being seen; then a one inch pipe carried unand, spanned by airy bridges, added to the beau- derneath the ground, at the depth of two feet, ty of the picturesque scene. Amid the costly and brought in the basin into which you want palaces rose the dome of the Duomo, and the rich white marble shaft of the Campanile. With and in whatever form one wishes. I had a friend the blue sky above, with the rosy yet clear vapor who made a fountain in the stationary basin in rays of the southern sun, the whole city seemed bathed in a light that was transcendent in glory. often create very beautiful things out of the most This was a picture of Florence, when Savonarola entered upon his duties at San Marco's. Can one wonder that he threw his whole soul into his love for the beautiful city? Or can one famous for them. In Corinth there was one called wonder that he felt the harmony between city | Lerna, which was encircled by a beautiful portiand people to be imperfect through the discordant elements of sin and unbelief?

The following year he was appointed to preach the Lenten discourses at San Lorenzo; but he The influence of the gentle Elena was ever felt met with signal failure. Few were willing to I have heard of one, the device of the famous by her son even after years of separation; and in listen to him, while crowds flocked to Santo Michael Angelo, where there is the figure of a Spirito to hear the favorite of the Medici. There sturdy woman wringing a bundle of clothes from were many reasons why Savonarola's early deep and serious thoughtfulness, and an unnat- preaching obtained so little hold on the Florenural love of solitude. Until the age of ten he tine minds. He had started a campaign against lands, but I do not know or anything prettier for was educated by his grandfather, who intended sin, longing to lead the people back to God; and a simple management, than my little boy and him for the medical profession; after his death in such a topic they felt no interest. His enun-Girolamo was placed in a public school, where ciation was poor; his voice lacked the mellow he made such marked progress that he was re- richness of later years; and, so on fire was he Scraps from a Western man's Note Book. with his subject, that he paid no heed to the eleolder, he took great delight in scientific and theo- gancies of graceful Rhetoric and Oratory which

But a great change was to come over him. After his failure as a preacher at Florence, he For the gaieties of Ferrara he cared nothing; left San Marco's for four years, travelling from and the splendor of Court-life, to which his place to place, and holding Missions for the family had access, possessed no charms for him. novices, until he was recalled to Florence. Ru-Beneath it all, he saw the hollow, worthless lives mors of his preaching (now become powerful) of its votaries, and grieved for their deplorable had preceded him; and soon, the Convent-garcondition. A longing for greater spiritual en- den could not hold all who came to listen to him. lightenment took possession of his mind; and he as he lectured beneath his favorite rose-tree. sought by earnest prayer direction from on High. Again he was chosen to deliver the discourses As yet, he had formed no plan for entering upon for Lent in the great church. It was with fear the Monastic life. At this time, all that could and trembling that he rose in the pulpit where make his earthly happiness complete seemed he had so signally failed four years before. Afwithin his grasp; but the brightness faded away, ter some moments of silence, he spoke, then leaving him in solitude and darkness. An exile paused—and announced that for eight years he from Florence, of the noble family of the should preach in the same place. His words Strozzi, came to Ferrara; and it was on this were fulfilled; for eight years he held the people nobleman's daughter that Savonarola's hopes spell-bound by his powerful preaching and his were centered. Thrown constantly in each other's marvellous prophecies. Then, his mission society, she won his love only to throw it aside; ended with his martyrdom. Those who had little dreaming of the worth of him whom she heard his former attempt could scarcely believe trified with. Deeply her words of haughty refusal that this was the same awkward, stammering sank into the heart of Girolamo:-"Do you im- monk, who now swayed the crowded assemblies

The Prince, Lorenzo de Medici, felt that a man of such power must be won over to his side; but in vain did he seek by gifts to the Convent, death-bed Then, for sins unrepented of, the

Now, in great earnest, Fra Savonarola began his crusade against the immoralities of the age: state of enthusiasm. The festival-days of Florence were celebrated in a way that shocked the paraded the streets, singing such carnival songs

He then wrote the first of his "Spiritual Hymns of Praise," which for years were heard gether, and taught them to sing of Jesus and safe-guard against temptation.

Some one has said, "A hymn is a singing angel, and goes walking through the earth scatlovely works of our Lord God, Who made the angels." The hymns of Savonarola are characterized by great tenderness and purity, and are written in a spirit of mystical devotion. Some of them are very beautiful. One entitled "Christ's It represents Christ as urging the human soul to lay aside sin, and accept of the proffered

"Fair soul! created in the primal hour, once pure and grand, And for whose sake I left my throne and power At God's right hand, By this sad Heart, pierced through because I love thee,

Let love and mercy to contrition move thee!
Cast off the sins thy holy beauty veiling, Spirit Divine!

Vain against thee the hosts of heli assailing, My strength is thine! Drink from My side the cup of life immortal, And love will lead thee back to heaven's portal! for thy sake, was pierced with many sorrows And love the Cross,

Yet heeded not the galling of the arrows, The shame and loss. So faint not thou, what 'er the burden be; But bear it bravely, even to Calvary!"

Savonarola's hymns, written as they were in he soft and musical Italian, lose much of their beauty in the English translations.

> CAROLINE F. LITTLE. To be Continued.

The Pretty Fountain.

Written for the Living Church. Two little white marble children, a boy and a girl, are standing close together under a bronze umbrella. The water goes up through the umbrella handle, and issuing from the top, falls in a light shower. It seems to me such an appropriate device. There is scarcely anything so pleasant in the heat of summer as spouting or falling water. The very sound seems to make us cooler. A fountain is a very easy thing to the water to flow. The jets can be few or many, of an Italian atmosphere, and with the mild her chamber, and adorned it with plants, and moss, and stones. When one has taste one can simple materials.

> In the old world there was great fondness for these "jets d'eau." Greece and Italy were both co where people used to sit and enjoy the cool air from the falling water. In Rome, in the villa Borghese, there is a splendid fountain, of silver, ornamented with superb vases and flowers, and whence the water issues. They have splenaid structures in France and Spain, and many other girl under the umbrella. F. B. S.

Correspondence of the Living Church.

Scholarship.

to sons of the clergy who need aid, and are in the manner related in the Journal; that is, worthy to receive it; and tuition is remitted to for the presidency to go in rotation, beginning those who require assistance and are properly from the north; which made Bishop Provoost recommended. I shall long remember the walk the President on the present occasion."* across the green campus; the visit to the Observatory, Reading-room and Cabinets; and the singing in the beautiful ivy-covered chapel.

Across the street is the old home of the President. And there every boy knows he has a dale is greatly beloved. We also met the lady Holy Ghost," etc. Bishop Seabury, who alone who has become his wife; she is, I think, one of the contributors to the LIVING CHURCH, and lish Office, consented at length with great reluchas been for a long time known for her able con-Hinsdale is a man of rare culture, and is also an eloquent preacher, as well as an eminent teacher. Who that has known anything of the almost forgotten lives of students in the great cities, could but wish to assist, by every means in his power, in the building up of these Church Schools, where not only scholarship is insured, veloped.

We spent one day in Syracuse, and there, were granted a glimpse into the Church-Home, under the charge of the Bishop. There, love and ministration and skill await such as need help. There, the hands of gentle women soothe a moment in the pleasant library, and then knelt awhile in the quiet chapel, kept fair with flowers by the Church-women of the city.

From there we came on to Buffalo, where they speak of being "in the West." We gave an hour to old St. Paul's, and glanced into the face of dear Dr. Shelton, and heard him speak of the work of half a century, and learned something His Holy Mother. He was determined to store of the Church-Home. From there, we went on the minds of the young with sacred songs, as a to Deveaux College. There, among the foundationers, I found a son of an old friend, a clergyman long gone to his reward. At this place there is a Home for the Orphans of the Church, and tering the devils before it. Therefore, he who for such as wish to fit themselves for college. the Presbyterians, and has been rigidly educreates hymns imitates the most excellent and Deveaux is a short drive from the Suspensionthe care of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe, the chaplain, teachers, and matron, boys from ten years old him, and expect he will make a worthy and exand upwards, enjoy a beautiful home life, where emplary clergymen, will, I know, recommend they learn not only the love of books but the life of Christian gentlemen.

Hobart College has recently offered free tuitof Deveaux is prepared to enter Hobart. Dr. his presence.

A pioneer of the West, I turned my face to the setting sun, with renewed faith and courage.

EARLY AMERICAN BISHOPS.

BY THE BISHOP OF IOWA.

[Copyright by William Stevens Perry, 1881.] the excitement of personal resentments; but it was got over, as happily as the preceding.

When the Bishops met in the vestry-room of Trinity Church, on Wednesday, the 12th of September, it appeared that Bishops Provoost and Madison were dissatisfied with the rule in phia. May God of His mercy remove every apregard to the presidency, as established in 1789. As the House was divided on the question of repealing the rule, it would have stood. But God hath preserved you all in health. God conthis might have been construed into an ungener- | tinue it long to you! ous advantage of the prior meeting; in which, those now in the negative had voices, and the it—and that the apprehended measure, if pro- for a missionary in those parts. posed and persevered in, must be followed by with the Church under his superintendence. The author expressed his persuasion, that no such design was entertained, either by Bishop Provoost or by Bishop Madison; and his determination, that if it were, it should not have his concurrence. He believed they wished, as he also did, to have three bishops present under being united in the act with a bishop who should consecrate through another line, would not weak-*Ibid, pp. 162, 163. ence of opinion except in regard to the words friend in time of illness or trouble; for Dr. Hins- at the Ordination of priests, "Receive ye the was tenacious of the form as it stood in the Engtance to allow the alternative of another form as Nine Articles, the Bishop of Connecticut was of the opinion at first that all necessary doctrine should be comprehended in the liturgy. But on further thought he saw so clearly the inconvenience likely to arise from the lack of an authoritative rule of faith in the hands of the people, and forming part of the authorized Book of Common devotions that he gave in his adhesion to the Articles of the Church of England.

But the end was drawing near. The following letter, now for the first time published from the no little interest in its revelation of the untiring to ordain him on that recommendation. energy and persistent zeal of the Apostolic writer. Certainly the time must be near at hand when the publication of these and other unpublished letters, forming the correspondence of this truly great man who never wrote without reason, and whose every word is weighty, will be called for by the earnest longing of the Church which owes so much to him.

BISHOP SEABURY TO BISHOP WHITE.

NEW LONDON, Nov. 1st, 1793. RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR:-I wrote by Mr. William Green, a young gentleman lately put into Deacon's Orders, and who purposes to set himself down in Maryland. He is a convert from cated in their principles; but, I think, has bridge, with grounds of 360 acres. Here, under been actuated by true principles in his conformity to the Church. That I have a good esteem of and duly sent to the Queen. The following anhim to your notice.

The address of the Convention at Philadel phia, respecting the missionaries on the Fronion to the graduates of Deveaux. The graduate tiers, did not come to my hands till the latter part of August-too late to have our collection Hinsdale has recently visited Deveaux College, on the first Sunday in September. That busiand addressed the boys; encouraging them by ness is, however, I believe, completed; and the collections lodged, or will be soon, with Mr. Elisha Shipman, of New Haven, the Treasurer appointed for that purpose by our State Convention.

Greatly have I been distressed by the undutiful and impetuous conduct of the Rev. Mr. James Sayre, and have been obliged to declare him out of the Unity and Communion of the Church. A copy of that declaration I directed There was another matter, which threatened to be sent to you. I do not imagine it will do him any good; but he was eagerly striving to do mischief among our congregations.

I hope, in God, the accounts [are true] which we have lately had, of the abatement of the terrible sickness which hath distressed Philadelpearance of it. You and your family, I trust, escaped in season from its violence, and that

With regard to the subject of missionaries, I cannot but think Vermont a proper field for their others had none. The day passed over without employment, as well as the Western frontiers. any determination, which was not productive of There is this advantage in Vermont, that there inconvenience; the morning being principally is, I believe, in every town, a glebe of 300 acres occupied by the religious Service, and the Con- of land, appropriated o the Church. But the vention not meeting in the afternoon. The Church people, though there are some in all next morning, the author received a message parts of the State, are so scattered that they gain from Bishop Seabury, requesting a meeting in at present no advantage from these glebes. If private, before the hour of the Convention. It they could be a little encouraged, in a few years, took place at Dr. Moore's [afterwards Bishop they would be able to help themselves, and the Benj. Moore, a life-long friend of Seabury's], Church would probably have a good support where he lodged. He opened his mind to this among them. If anything should be thought of effect—that from the course taken by the two this matter, and I persuaded myself there will, other bishops on the preceding day, he was I would recommend to the Committee, the Rev. afraid they had in contemplation the debarring Mr. John Cosens Ogden, who is now on the him from any hand in the consecration expected spot, and diligently employed in encouraging to take place during this Convention-that he the friends of the Church among them; but could not submit to this, without an implied re- without some help, poverty, I fear, will oblige nunciation of his consecration, and contempt him to retire. He is an active, zealous, and cast on the source from which he had received sensible man, and in my opinion well calculated Requesting my regards to your good Lady, an entire breach with him, and, as he supposed, and praying God for your health, I remain your affectionate brother and humble servant,

Bishop of Connecticut and Rhode Island. I had like to have forgot a very material point -a Mr. Walter Gardiner, of Narraganset, hath surreptitiously obtained Deacon's Orders from Bishop Provoost. He is aiming to get hold of the English consecration, whenever such an oc- a legacy left in lands to the Bishop of Rhode casion as that now expected, should occur. They Island. The lands are in possession of the widow, a very old woman. It is said the lands are to be in possession of the Church, until en the English chain. In regard to the question there be a Bishop of Rhode Island (the will of presidency, on which Bishop Seabury had was made and the testator died before the late intimated that he should not be tenacious, the Revolution, and the Society for the Propagation author told him, that his opinion being the same of the Gospel are the trustees of the estate, * * * * We spent a day in Geneva, to as in 1789, he could not consistently vote for Narraganset being then one of their missions). visit the noble old Institution which has sent so the reversing of the rule; which, if it were done, Under this notion, Mr. Gardiner and his friends many sons to honored fields of labor. Hobart he thought had best be by the absence that got their Church incorporated, and vested the College has been greatly built up within the last morning of one of the two now conversing; and whole property of the Church in a President, ten years. An elegant new stone building has that should Bishop Seabury thing it proper in Vice Prestdent, etc., six in number, most of been erected for the use of the department of this way to waive his right under the rule, the them unbaptized. By this means they are in chemistry and natural philosophy. The college author pledged himself, that in no event would possession of the Glebe, about ninety acres, is in a perfect financial condition; its magnifi- he have a hand in the ensuing consecration, if it against the consent of the congregation. With cent endowments securing to its Faculty eminent were to be accompanied by the rejection of this view they refused to acknowledge the Con-Bishop Seabury's assistence in it; although there stitution and Bishop of Rhode Island. And The economy with which students may pursue was still entertained the persuasion that no such when the Committee of their State declined to their studies, combined with its healthful loca- measure would be thought of, as, indeed, proved recommend Mr. Gardiner, until he acceded to tion and its religious and moral influences, has to be the fact. Hands were given in testimony of the Constitution of the Church, he went pribrought to Hobart many whose names are fa- mutual consent in this design. He absented vately to the Standing Committee of Massamiliar in the field of letters. This is a free school himself that morning, and the rule was altered, chusetts, and acceded to their Constitution; whereon, they recommended him to Bishop Provoost, who ordained him. The Convention of Massachusetts has since acknowledged Mr. Gardiner as a member. It is to be noted that not one of that Committee who recommended Bishop White proceeds to tell us that the al- Mr. Gardiner knew anything of him, but acted terations in the Ordinal were prepared by the on the recommendation of some of his friends bishops and that there was no material differ- at Narraganset and Newport. Nor did they give any notice to the Church at Narraganset, nor to Mr. Smith, the only clergyman then in Rhode It land. On this recommendation, Bishop Provoost acted, and hereby the Church in Narraganset is ruined, and the Church at Newport, through the cabals of Mr. T. Wickham, the father-in-law of Mr. Gardiner, thrown into a violent ferment which threatens very fatal consequences. I have, therefore, to request that, should Mr. Gardiner apply to you for Priest's Orders, it may be postponed till the next Convention shall have determined on the right Mr. Gardiner had, to withhold himself from the Constitution of Rhode Island where he lives, and to give himself, and the congregation of Narraganset, without their knowledge, to the Convention of another State. Secondly, on the right the Standing Committee, of Massachusetts had, original MS. in the writer's hands, alludes to to recommend Mr. Gardner in the manner they home trials as well as general matters, and is of did. Thirdly, on the right Bishop Provoost had,

S., Bishop of Connecticut, etc.* *From the Bishop White correspondence.

> From the Palladium, Knoxville, Ill. From Her Majesty, the Queen.

Our readers will probably remember in the article on our celebration of the Surrender of Yorktown, in the November number, the singing of the British National Anthem, and the standing of he audience as is the custom in England. Mention was also made of the kind sympathy which the Queen showed toward our country in its late bereavement. It was suggested that a copy of the PALLADIUM be sent to Her Majesty; therefore, an address was written and beautifully illuminated with a border of bright flowers, and the seals of America and England in two corners, with the crossed flags of the countries in the opposite corners. This was signed by the teachers and scholars, swer was received:

From Gen., the Rt. Hon. Sir Henry Ponsonby, Privy Concillor and Private Secretary to the Queen.

OSBORNE, January 29, 1882. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd of December, and the accompanying address from the teachers and pupils of Saint Mary's School, in Knoxville. State of Illinois, which I have duly laid before the

I am commanded by Her Majesty to request that her thanks may be returned to the signers of this address which the Queen has received with much gratification. I have the honor to be, Sir, Your obedient Servant,

HENRY F. PONSONBY.

The Household.

SOME VULGARITIES OF "GOOD SOCIETY."-Asking questions, private and personal, is one vulgar habit; and telling your own business, which no one wants to hear, is another. Asking the cost of a present that has been made to you; "pumping" a servant to hear what has been given by way of parting vail; loud talking in public; hard staring at table; insolent disrespect to husband, wife, sister, or brother; showing temper in trifles and making scenes in public; showing an embarrassing amount of fondness and making love in public; covert sneers, of which people can see the animus, if they do not always understand the drift, persistent egotism, which talks forever of itself, itself, itself, only itself, and cannot even feign the most passing interest in another; detraction of friends, and it may be of relations-a husband telling of his wife's unpleasantness, a wife complaining of her husband's faults; the bold assumption of superiority. and the servile confession of infinite unworthiness; all these are signs and evidences of vulgarity—vulgarity of a far worse type than that which eats its fish with a steel knife, and says "you was" and "each of the men were." In fact. true vulgarity resolves itself into that central point of evil—selfishness. The unselfish can never be really vulgar. They may be uncouth, but they cannot be more; while the best top-dressing of manner to be found in the whole world cannot make the substance refined, where that one foul canker of egotism and indifference to others lie at the heart of things.-From the London Queen.

Unquestionably, much of the wood-work in our houses is injured by having too much time and strength expended upon it in cleaning; careful housewives imagining that the scrubbing-brush and soap are necessary to keep it in the desired state of cleanliness. It should be frequently dusted with a soft duster; if anything ing a Roman citizen to bow the knee to mortal more is needed, a cloth wet in warm water, with a little ammonia or borax dissolved in it, will answer the purpose. In cleaning white paint, put the soap into the water, not on the finnel used to wash it. Avoid using soap and hot water. if possible, as they tend to turn white paint yellow, and sometimes remove the paint itself. cleaning grained wood, use clear warm water, and a clean, white cloth. Wash only a small place at a time, and wipe dry as fast as a spot is washed. Gilding should never be touched with water. A feather brush will remove the dust better than anything else. If varnished work becomes de faced, take equal parts of linseed-oil and turpentine, put them in a vial and shake well together; then, in small quantities, and with a soft cloth, apply to the spots. Repeat till the color is restored, and then, with another clean, soft cloth, wipe the mixture off carefully. If hot water or spirits have been dropped on furniture or varnished wood, it will turn white in spots. Take two tablespoonfuls of sweet-oil, one teaspoonful of vinegar, and half a teaspoonful of turpentine; shake well togetner; wet a soft piece of flannel in the mixture, and rub the spots with it.

A very handsome sofa pillow for the parlor is made of cardinal or ruby satin. The pillow is square, and one corner of the satin cover is left unfastened; it is lined with pale blue silk or "He will even be weart," said Fostor. satin, and is turned down (on the right side) till the point is at the centre of the cushion; fasten it there with a bow of cardinal lined with blue. The corner, which is the upper right-hand corner, having been left uncovered, is now covered with pale blue satin, on which some design is way is to cover one corner, in similar style, with old-gold satin ornamented with embroidery or hand painting, then cover the remaining portion with alternate slips of gay and heavy ribbon, and black velvet. Have the strips the same width, and work the edges of the velvet with fancy stitches in bright embroidery silks. This is a pretty design for a tidy, also, only in that case it should not be square, but longer one way than the other, and be finished with soft, small tassels of silk or crewel.

Rooms should be decorated and furnished so the uses for which they are designed; a dining-room should be arranged so that it may appear to advantage in artificial light, and present a warm, solid appearance; while a drawing room may be more lightly and elegantly furnished. Then, again, harmony is another distinctive feature in decorative art. If a good scheme of coloring is faithfully carried out, a satisfactory and pleasing effect will be the unfailing result. A third point of no less importance is the due recognition of true proportion. All decoration is worthless if it is not perfectly adapted to the space it is intended to embellish; the design also must be on a scale proportionate to the size of the panel it occupies.

RAILROAD STOCKINGS .- Cast on 96 stitchesknit round and round without increase or decrease until you have a piece 18 inches long. Then knit around one row, dropping every fourth gan his entertainment. stitch; then knit about 20 rows more and then toe off. No heel is necessary. Put your finger in the stocking against the under-side of a dropped stitch, and ravel it out to the top. Make striped open-work stocking. These stockings are very elastic. Four balls of knitting silk will knit a pair. "It's a poor foot that won't shape its own stocking," said the old woman, who knit hers a straight bag. It's a poor foot, indeed, that won't find the Railroad-Stocking a good and comforta-

A time and trouble-saving invention is to have a piece of sheet-iron, nearly the size of the bottom of the oven; a trifle smaller, so that it will slide in and out without difficulty; have the edges turned down so that the iron will be slightly raised from the bottom of the oven. On this nearly the whole of an ordinary quantity of cookies can be baked at once. It is nice, also, to use when baking cream-puffs, kisses, or lady-fingers. When baking the two latter, put a white paper on the iron. Have a small hole cut in one side of the iron, so that it can be hung up.

It is a great saving in boots to have three or four pairs and wear them in rotation. Four pairs of boots worn in this way will not only last four times as long as one pair, but possibly eight times as long. It is also much better for the feet. This, again, we advise to the person economizing on a small capital, and also advise that no boot should be bought that is not of a good, solid make. A walking-boot keeps in shape longer, that has a square heel; the strain comes more evenly on all parts.

Most of the pretty plaques of wood so much used to paint on, have no rings on the back, and consequently, cannot be hung on the wall. To remedy this, get a curtain-ring; through this, put a loop of ribbon or thin cloth, and paste or glue this loop to the back of the plaque. Be sure to send for a priest?" have it exactly in the centre, and do not try to hang it up until it is perfectly dry.

Love, the home, health, happiness, the best education, honorable parents, are all necessary to the perfection of the human being; and if the child lacks these needful things, he is cheated and defrauded out of his rights.

The Conversion of S. Genes. A. D. 304.

BY REV. J. M. NEALE, D. D.

"And what comedy for to-day, noble Acilius?" inquired a young Roman patrician of his friend, as they sauntered along the Alta Semita to the theatre of Balbus.

"By Hercules, good Festus." replied Manius Acilius, "I neither know nor care. The people are weary of these rejoicings, and so am I, too. What is Maximian to us, that we should care whether he has reigned twenty years or twenty "Medius fidius!" cried Festus, "you are somewhat bold of your words! Blood has been let for less than that, before now."

says than to whom. But I hear that Dioeletian is as weary of the shows as any one, and means to leave the city in a day or two."

"We shall have a dull winter," said Acilius. 'By the twelve gods!" he continued, as they turned under the Quirinal Hill, "here is the emperor himself. Look, here comes the slave with fire and incense before him!"

"You must kneel," cried Festus hastily; "the emperor is all the more particular about it, because so much objection was made to the introduction of the custom."

The two friends stood still, till the magnificent hastily, and indeed, as if they were ashamed of themselves, for the feeling against the practice was very strong, and it was thought unbecom-

"Good morrow, Festus," said the emperor, a large, unwieldy man, somewhat bloated by inyou for the theatre?'

Festus. "In my time, certainly, the shows have never been so costly and magnificent."

"I know not what they have for this morning." said Diocletian. "I ordered that Genes, the buffoon, should be there; he is a rare favorite of the people.'

"And most deservedly so, sire. I know none that can raise a heartier laugh."

"He is especially excellent in mimicking the Christians," remarked Acilius; "I marvel where the rogue got his knowledge of their ways."

"He is excellent in that," said the emperor; "I must ask him, one of these days, whether he was

"He will even be worth more than he is at present," said Festus, knowing that the prophecy would please Diocletian, "when that abominable race is swept away from the face of the earth."

"There will be no need for him to wait long for that," replied Diocletian. "The master of embroidered; a spray of arbutus, or butter cups, the mint brought yesterday the cast of a medal with a pretty vine, will be effective. Another he is preparing; on one side the heads of the he is preparing; on one side, the heads of the Angusti: on the other, the genius of the Roman Empire trampling on a cross-the motto, 'Superstitio debellata' (Superstition crushed).'

"Truly a noble idea," said Acilius. And, as he spoke, the litter stopped at the portico of the theatre of Balbus. There was a shout from the bystanders, who were not very many, of-"The gods preserve the Augustus!" and taking but little notice of his subjects, the emperor descendas to ensure the greatest possible amount of ed from his litter, and went into the theatre. comfort, repose and pleasure, compatible with Large placards were posted round the building, would be there acted at noon precisely; then the Nervolaria of Cacilius Statius, the most excellent comic poet whom the Latins ever had; and then, it was briefly added, Genes would amuse

> I am not going to dwell on this dull tragedy, during which the people, in the highest cavea, yawned, gossiped, or ate apples; or on the comedy, which kept them better amused. No; and I must not dwell on what followed when Genes came on to the stage. The mob clapped and cheered, even the senators and knights applauded, as the buffoon, ascending the pulpitum, be-

It is well for you that you cannot have any idea of the fearful abyss of wickedness into which Rome at that time had fallen, Utterly lost was every dropped stitch so run, and you will have a all sense of virtue; things at which savages would have blushed, were encouraged and applauded; no words can express the abominable foulness of the crimes which were there passed as an every-day matter; and in all this wickedness, Genes-he was paid for it-took the lead; his jests, his dialogues with the spectators, his wit, were vile beyond the power of a Christian to think. This much I must say of them, to show you that if any man ever stood far, to all human appearance, from the Kingdom of Heaven, Genes was the man. But the things that are impossible with men, are possible with God.

"By the twelve gods!" said the buffoon, "I feel very ill. I knew Albinovanus would be the death of me, some of these fine days."

"Albinovanus!" cried one of the other jesters. "Aye," said Genes; "I came hot into the theatre, and his tragedy has thrown cold upon my heart."

There was a loud burst of laughter. When it was over. Genes said:

"By Hercules! I have it. I'll turn Christian. They say who ever does that misses Cerberus. and Pluto, and Charon, and the rest of our friends that the poets talk of, and I have no fancy to see them."

"Excellently well said!" cried another, for the whole thing had been got up before. "Shall we

"Aye, Davus, and pretty quickly, too. Jovius, up there won't see him." And with all the license that his employment allowed, he winked at the quietly under the worst suspicions-rather than allow the Holy Eucharist to be made known to the heathen. It was most awful that Baptism People of Sedentary Habits as Well as Weak and Nervous Constitutions. the heathen. It was most awful that Baptism should be profaned; but how much more fearful had the Mystery of our Lord's Body and Blood been made a laughing-stock in the Roman theatre! It was to prevent this that, many years before, S. Tharsitus, a sub-deacon, had laid down his life, and is reckoned among the martyrs.

In a few moments, two men came on the stage, vested, the one to represent the priest, the otheran exorcist. Others brought in a tub of water, and set it down. The exorcist went through the form of casting out evil spirits; the priest bap- ties of Celery and Chamomile are peculiarly tized Genes; and then there was a pause, for the adapted to cure headache, and it remained for people were in expectation of some fresh wit Dr. Benson to formulate and compound the from the buffoon. The other actors looked at "Well, well, it matters much less what one him; and they saw an expression in his face which, till that moment, had never been there. The low jest, the foul oath, were no more to be found written on it: but in their stead came purity, and resolution, and deep, deep calm.

"Admirable," cried Davus. "But the cavea" the benches that rose one above the other from the stage to the top of the theatre), will not see nate it may be, of either sick, nervous or dysemperor, to be examined."

"Do so," said Genes, in a voice the sternness of which made his companions start.

Diocletian was seated in the centre of the lowest or six boxes for $2.50, to any address. cavea, and not more than five feet above the level litter of Diocletian approached. Then they knelt of the stage; and over his head hung a canopy of silk, wrought with gold and precious stones. In front of him, then, they sat Genes; and the mob kept the utmost silence, expecting somewhat worth hearing.

"Lord Augustus," said he, in a voice which was heard in every part of the theatre, "whereever, up to this time. I have heard the name of dulgence, and more by disease, but with a firm, | Christ, I have shrunk from it, as from an undecided countenance, and an eagle eye. "Are clean thing. But, nobles and people of Rome, if ever you have listened to me before, when I "We are. an' please your splendor," replied sought to beguile you to your ruin, listen to me one moment now, when I am speaking the very truth. At the time the water touched me, a brightness came around me-I saw that angels were by me, I felt that my sins were set before me-I saw a hand that descended from heaven and swept them away. You, my lord Augustus, have, with this people, ridiculed these holy mysteries-I have ridiculed them, also; but, now, I tell you that Jesus Christ is the only Lord, the only Truth, and the only Light, and that from Him alone you can hope for pardon."

Diocletian had at first listened with a broad smile, which gradually grew fainter and fainter, until his face wore a completely puzzled expression. He knew not whether the declaration of Genes was intended in serious earnest, or was a capital piece of acting. But the crowd generally, who only heard the words, and could not see the resolute manner and determined eye, burst forth into a roar of applause.

"Bravo, Genes! Down with the Christians! Caius to the lions! The Bishop of Rome to the torture! More of it, Genes! Bravo! bravo!"

"Bravo, Genes!" cried the emperor at length. 'But by the fortune of the empire, I thought you were in earnest."

"As surely as God, Who shall judge us, hears, so surely am I in earnest," said Genes, firmly. "If this be any reason for applause, citizens, applaud. I repent for my past life, and I abhor it; and I call, with all my heart, on Him Whose servant I now am, to forgive it."

"Come, come," said Diocletian angrily; "something too much of this. Give us somewhat else, man; this is a theatre, and not a Christian meeting."

"My lord," persisted Genes, "by all my hopes hereafter, I am in earnest. I deserve to be doubted; but, by God's grace, I am a Christian." "If it were possible, most miserable wretch," cried Diocletian-and he paused.

"Sire," said the perfect of the city, Calvus Plautianus, who sat next to the emperor, "I believe he means what he says."

"Assuredly as our Lord lives, and I hope to live with Him," said Genes.

"Perfect," cried Diocletian, "send for the equuleus (the instrument of torture, so called.) at once. Hold him fast, fellows. Have it on the stage, good Plautianus. Worthy citizens, you have been disappointed of the wretch's jokes; let us see what music his shrieks will make for you.' And a shout of joy echoed from every part of the theatre; for that was a spectacle which the bloodthirsty mob preferred to every other sight.

Just as an August sun was setting behind the Janiculum, Caius, Bishop of Rome, was returning from comforting and congratulating a family who had a son among the martyrs. He took the less frequented ways, for he remembered our Lord's saying, and would not expose himself needlessly. Just as he turned round by the Porta Conventalis, a deacon of the Roman Church, by name Damasus, hurried up to him.

"I was seeking you, holy father," he said hastily. "Have you heard the tidings?"

"No, my son," said the pope mournfully, "I have heard tidings of nothing but persecution and sorrow."

"All Rome rings of it," cried Damusus, "you know Genes, the buffoon?" "I know him, miserable man. God pardon him! "God has pardoned him, my father. He has obtained the crown of martyrdom." And Damasus told the tale from the beginning, and went on to relate how S. Genes, having courageously endured the worst of tortures, had half an hour since, been beheaded, and thus entered into the joy of his Lord.

"The last shall be first, indeed," said Caius. God, forgive me my want of faith. He that hath thus manifested His victory in the theatre, must truly be King of kings, and Lord of lords!"

emperor.

What followed, showed the deep wisdom of the early Church in suffering—in sitting down

Important to Travellers.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue.

A BOON TO

In saving that we know of a Positive Cure for Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness, and Dyspepsia, we refer, of course, to Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, which are all they are recommended to be, and will cure the abovenamed diseases without any doubt, as they have permanently cured thousands.

The greatest discovery and the best remedy now extant is found in those pills. The properproperties so as to make them available. The Herald says: Dr. Benson is recognized as one of the most eminent and successful physicians in Baltimore, and his reputation is of itself a sufficient guarantee ot the value of his medicines.

These Pills are prepared expressly to cure headaches, neuralgia, nervousness, and dyspepsia, and will cure any case, no matter how obstiit. Come, boys, we must carry him before the peptic headache, neuralgia, nervousness, or sleeplessness. Sold by all druggists. Price 50 cents a box. Depot, 106 North Eutaw Street, Baltimore, Md. By mail two boxes for $1.00,

DR. C. W. BENSON'S

SKIN CURE

Is Warranted to Cure

ECZEMA, TETTERS, HUMORS, INFLAMMATION, MILK CRUST,
ALL ROUGH SCALY ERUPTIONS.

ALL ROUGH SCALY ERUPTIONS, DISEASES OF HAIR AND SCALP.

SCROFULA ULCERS, PIMPLES and TENDER ITCHINGS on all parts of the body. It makes the skin white, soft and smooth; body. It makes the skin white, soft and smooth; removes tan and freekles, and is the BEST toilet dressing in THE WORLD. Elegantly put up, two bottles in one package, consisting of both internal and external treatment.

All first class druggists have it. Price $1. per package

ST. GABRIEL'S SCHOOL, Peekskill, N. Y. A BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

For terms, etc., address (as above) THE MOTHER SUPERIOR, SISTERS OF ST. MARY. It is distant from New York about forty-one miles, situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and having a view of the Hudson River, the Highlands naving a view or the Hudson River, the Highlands and the country for miles around.

The grounds comprise about thirty acres, a part of which is covered with woods, and has many charming walks. The position is remarkably healthy, retired and favorable for both physical and intellectual development.

BROOKE HALL FEMALE SEMINARY. Media, Del. County, Pa.

The next session of this School will open on Monday Sept. 19th. Apply for Catalogues to M. L. RAST-MAN, Principal, Media, Pa.

THE CATHEDRAL GRAMMAR SCHOOL, Chicago.

Cor. West Washington and South Peoria Sts. The Rev. Edward H. Cleveland, A. M., Head Master.
A thorough Classical and Commercial preparatory school for boys. Fall term begins September 12th, 1881. All communications should be addressed to
Rev. EDWARD H. CLEVELAND,
21 South Peoria St., Chicago, Ill.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL.

Knoxville, Illinois.

A CHURCH SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. FOUNDED, A. D. 1868.

This Institution continues in charge of the same Rector, Vice Principal, and Matron who founded it. Reference to past and present Patrons in nearly every city of the West. Send for a Register. C. W. LEFFINGWELL, Rector.

Montgomery, Ala.

A CHURCH SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. $105, will pay for board and English tuition for a half scholastic year, beginning 1st Oct., or middle Feb. The School is completely organized and ably officered. Large, substantial brick buildings. High Standards of scholarship and accomplishments and Home Comforts. Geo. M. Everhart, D. D., Rector. Special graphs of the portform gives received. Special arrangements for northern girls seeking a balmy latitude.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL,

8 East 46th Street, New York. The Sisters of St. Mary will reopen their school on Wednesday, September 21st, 1881. Address the SISTER SUPERIOR as above.

SEASIDE HOME AND SCHOOL

For Young Ladies and Children, Asbury Park, N.J. Fourth year opens September 14th, 1881. Boarding and tuition $200 per year. Address Miss JULIA ROSS. Principal. ST. JOHN BAPTIST SCHOOL.

233 East 17th St., New York. Under the charge of the Sisters of St. John Baptist.
Terms $275 per school year. Address the MOTHER
SUPERIOR, as above.
ECCLESIASTICAL EMBROIDERY.
Address: Church Workroom, 233 East 17th street.

MADEMOISELLE DE JANON

No. 10 Gramercy Park, New York,

(Successor and former Partner of the late Miss Haines) will re-open her English and French Board-ing and Day School for Young Ladies and Children, Thursday, Sept. 29th. Careful training and thorough instruction in every department. Boys, Class Oct. 3d.

CROTON MILITARY INSTITUTE A Church School for Boys.

Thorough instruction, fitting for college, scientific school or business. Exercise by rowing, skating, practice in a well equipped gymnasium and by military drill. Special rates for Clergymen's sons. For catalogue containing courses of study, plans of building, etc., address FRANK S. ROBERTS, Principal, Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y.

St. John's School.

21 and 23 W. 32nd St. New York. Between Broadway and Fifth Avenue, New York. BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LA-DIES AND CHILDREN, Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector.

St. Margaret's Diocesan

School for Girls, Waterbury, Conn. The sixth year will open (D. V.) on Wednesday, Sept. 4th, 1881. Instrumental music under charge of J. Baier, Jr., a private pupil of Plaidy, of Leipsic Conservatory. French and German taught by native teachers. The REV. FRANCIS T. BUSSELL, M.A.

MAYHEW BUSINESS COLLEGE Book-keeping, Telegraphy and Shorthand. Conducted by the author of Practical Book-keeping for Common Schools, and University Book-keeping for Higher Institutions. For information of Books or College, address Ira Mayhew, LL.D., Detroit, Mich

De Veaux College,

Suspension Bridge, N. agara Co., N. Y. FITTING-SCHOOL for the Universities, West Point, Annapolis, or business. Charges, $350 a year. No extras. Competitive examinations for scholarships at the beginning of College Year, first Wednesday in September; applications for the same to be filed ten days previously.

WILFRED H. MUNRO, A. M., President.

John Stevenson & Co., Importing Tailors, Established 1864 206 Dearborn Street.

Honore Block. 10Per Ct. Discount to Clergymen.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co.,
Portland, Maine.

E. R. P. SHURLY & CO., WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS,

Removed from 55 S. Clark St., to

No. 103 Randolph Street, Chicago. (Round the corner.) AUTHORS & PUBLISHERS

Will consult their own interests if they consult the Claremont Manufacturing Co., CLAREMONT, N H.

Before they make contracts for the MAKING OF BOOKS.

972 A week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Add. TRUE & Co., Portland Me.

PILES! PILES! PILES! A Sure Cure Found at Last! No One Need Suffer!

Need Suffer!

A sure cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching, and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William (an old Indian remedy) called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after apply ing this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments, and: electuaries do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night, after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, and for nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment: I have used scores of Pile Cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such imm diate and permanent relief as Dr. William's Indian Ointment.

For sale by all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price, $1.00.

price, $1.00. VAN SCHAACK,STEVENSON & CO., Chicago CLINTON H. MENEELY BELL CO. SUCCESSORS TO FOUNDERS. BELL TROY, N. Y.

MENEELY & KIMBERLY,

Manufacture a superior quality of BELLS.
Special attention given to CHURCH BELLS.
Catalogues sent free to parties needing bells.

Earphones Send stamp for circular Prof. S. North, 8 Monroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.

866 a weekin your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Add. H. Hallett & Co P ortland, M cures Lung, Nervous, and Chronic diseases. Office and "Home Treatment" by A. H. HIATT, M. D., 40 Central Music Hall, Chicago. Write for information.

And all BEST line to St. Joseph, points in Iowa, Atchison, Topeka, Depl-Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, Mon-Yeston, Veston, and Teyas. CHICAGO This Route has no superior for Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul. Nationally reputed as ded to being the Great in the World for Universally conceded to be the best equipped Railroad in the World for all classes of travel. KANSAS CIT

All connections made In Union Depots Through Try it, Tickets via this and you will Celebrated Line for find traveling a luxury, instead sale at all offices in the U.S. and informatio about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Cars, etc., cheerfully given by PERCEVAL LOWELL, vit & Gen'l Manager, Gen. Pass. Agt. Chicago, Ill. T. J. POTTER.

A Bishop at Work.

From our Detroit Correspondent.

On Wednesday, the 1st inst., Bishop Harris visited St. Paul's Church, East Saginaw, confirming a class of twenty-nine persons presented by the Rector, the Rev. Wm. A. Masker. A new pipe organ has just been ordered for this church. A delightful reception was given to the Bishop, at the house of Mr. John J. Wheeler.

On Thursday morning, the 2d inst., a considerable party of Church people attended the Bishop and Mr. Masker, in part by rail, and, for the rest of the journey, by carriages, to Taymouth, to witness the Consecration of St. Paul's Church, which has been enjoying Mr. Masker's pastoral care. The ringing of the church-bell welcomed the visitors, and summoned the congregation. After the Consecration, the Bishop confirmed eleven persons, an interesting class, including some of the most influential persons in Taymouth; and celebrated the Holy Communion. The church is a substantial frame building, which cost about $2,000. A reception was given at the house of Mr. Cook.

On Saturday evening, the 4th inst., the Bishop was welcomed to Lansing, the State capital, at a brilliant reception given in his honor at the Lansing House, by the Rev. Ebenezer Thompson, Rector of St. Paul's Church. On the next morning, at the church, the Bishop preached and administered the Holy Communion. In the afternoon, he visited the Reform School, and preached to 320 boys, inmates of that Institution. It was the Bishop's second visit. In the evening, he again preached at St. Paul's Church, and confirmed a class of thirteen persons. The church has been newly painted, and the church lot has been inclosed by a new fence.

On Wednesday, Feb. 8th, the Bishop officiated and preached at St. John's Church, Midland, in the Saginaw Valley; the Rev. Mr. Prosser, of Bay City, assisting. An interesting class of twenty-five persons was confirmed. For a few months past, by the Bishop's appointment, the congregation has been enjoying the ministrations of Gen. B. P. Runkle, a lay reader and candidate for Holy Orders, who collected this large class, and arranged for their instruction by the Rev. Messrs. Masker and Prosser. On the morning of the following day, the Bishop consecrated the church. The Clergy in attendance were the Rev. Dr. Pitkin, and the Rev. Messrs. Stevens, Masker, and Prosser, of this Diocese, and the Rev. R. D. Stearns, of Whitewater, Wis. The church is a pretty and commodious frame building, which was erected a few years ago, but has just been repainted, and provided with a new carpet and other improvements. After the hall, with many guests, and congratulatory ad- Mass. dresses by all the clergy, by Mr. Janes, the Senior Warden, and Gen. Runkle.

On Thursday, Feb. 14th, the Bishop visited Fenton, in Genessee county, confirming at St. Jude's Church, a class of seven persons presented by the Rector, the Rev. Lewis L. Rogers.

On Saturday, the 18th inst., the Bishop visited Corunna, the county seat of Shiawassee county, being welcomed at a reception given by Mr. S. A. Nichols. On the following day (Quinquagesima Sunday), the new St. Paul's Church was opened for Divine Service. It is a brick building with stained glass windows, a gem in architecture, the plans being provided by the architect Hess, of Detroit. The cost of the building was $2,800. A class of twenty persons, Principle! Order, the Basis; Progress, the End.

Live for others—Live openly." This having inscriptions on them. including some leading citizens, was confirmed, and the Holy Communion was celebrated. The remarkable success of this work is in a large measure due to the earnest and judicious labors of Mr. George D. Wright, lay reader, and candidate for Holy Orders. The Rev. B. F. Matrau, of Owosso, has provided occasional clerical ministrations. The wardens of St. Paul's Church are Prof. Krugman, Superintendent of public schools, and Mr. Harris.

On the afternoon of the same day, the Bishop accompanied the Rev. Mr. Matrau to Owosso, four miles distant, visiting the handsome and commodious brick Rectory just completed at a cost of about $2,500. It adjoins the church, which may be entered from the Rectory by the study and guild-room. At the evening Service in Christ Church, Mr. Matrau presented for Confirmation a class of seventeen persons, two of these being from Corunna.

The Girls' Friendly Society.

We have before now called attention to this Society, as one of the most admirable in its purpose, and the most simple in its working, of any philanthropic association that we know of. We are glad of the opportunity of calling the attention, not only of the clergy, but, in an especial manner, of every true woman who has the dearest interests of her sex at heart, to the following circular, which has been issued by the President and Secretary. It is worthy of notice, that dent and Secretary. It is worthy of notice, that ster), Rev. Mr. Tremaine, of St. John's, and Dr. the "Girls' Friendly Society" has this advantage, Harwood, of Trinity, will be missed from their among others, that it makes no claim for pecuniary aid, and in its machinery involves only very slight expenditure. We are assured, that, "if for him their love and esteem. He is now ill at his the clergy generally could but see how, in parishes where the Society is in operation, its members swell the ranks of the Sunday School and debt of $1,500; the ladies gave $500. The Sunday the Confirmation classes, they would gladly avail | Services in Trinity Church, New Haven, will be conthemselves of so efficient an agency for the promotion of the Master's work."

The quiet, but thoroughly practical work, which this Society has been doing since its organization in America, a little more than a year ago, is by degrees attracting attention through-out the Church at large, and giving rise to frequent inquiries in regard to its aims and methods. The Society is intended to unite and strengthen in the bonds of friendliness and mutual interest, and in conformity with Churchly upon Lenten Services in the full enjoyment of their ways, those who are honorably earning an independent livlihood, and who very rarely seek or are willing to accept assistance from others. The lives of those who are thus, by their own exer-tions, providing for their maintenance, are often Charity Foundation was held in the Church of the beset by manifold temptations; and the strength which comes of the association of girls and young women of pure and virtuous life, and their friendly intercourse with the ladies who act as Associates of the Society, is of inestimable value.

The experience of every clergyman whose field of labor lies in any one of our manufacturing centres, soon teaches him how difficult it is to make sure that new-comers shall promptly avail themselves of the Church, and the means of grace to which they have elsewhere been accustomed; and, when they remove to other towns and cities, how uncertain it is that they will, in their changed surroundings, continue to profit by the same, after his personal ministrations in their behalf shall of necessity have ceased. Now, this difficulty is one which the Girl's Friendly Society grapples with most successfully. The Society is in its scope and intention not local merely, but national.

Once let it be established all over the land, and its members will never find themselves in loneliness and isolation, no matter where they may be; nor will they be tempted to stray away from the sheltering arms of their spiritual mother, on the plea that they "know no one in the Church."

Their membership-card and guide-book will be a pass-port and guarantee of good character everywhere; and the care of the Associates will follow them from place to place through all their wanderings.

Until the Society is made national in reality as well as in its interest, it cannot fully accomplish its purposed ends.

During the past few months there have been commended to the care of the American Society, seventeen members from England, Ireland, and Scotland, who have sought homes in different places in the United States and Canada, three having gone west of the Mississippi River.

majority of instances, no Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society had been established in their new abodes; but letters have been written to each of them by the General Secretary, welcoming them to America, and assuring them that they are not forgotten, though so far away from their native land; and as far as possible they have been commended to the clergy of the parishes in or near where they now reside.

The members removing from one place to another in this country, and those who, on their emigration to America, are commended to the Society's care by Associates on the other side of the water, lose the special advantage which they have hitherto enjoyed, if, as is very often the case, they take up their abode where no Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society is established. The officers of the General Society cannot, therefore. rest content until they have put forth an urgent plea for help in a work of whose importance each day's fresh experience is strengthening their conviction. Will not faithful Church-women all over the land respond to this appeal?

If there are any ladies who, on reading this article, feel an interest in the Society's work, they may help it on, even prior to the establish-ment of a Branch where they live, by notifying the President, Miss Edson, Lowell, Mass., of their willingness to be enrolled as Associates, to whose friendly care members might be committed.

Full information in regard to plans and methods of working can be found in the Girls' Friend. ly Society pamphlet for 1881 (price five cents), which will be forwarded on application to the Consecration, there was a collation at the public Secretary, Mrs. Alfred Evan Johnson, Lowell,

Since the issue of that pamphlet, marked progress has been made; and the Society now numbers twenty-seven Branches, and nearly nine hundred Associates and members, in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and

But this is after all the merest beginning. May God grant that no difference or apathy on our part shall lead to a neglect of an opportunity so rich in promise of the good of the Heavenly Father's children, amid the temptations and discouragements of this busy world,

A contemporary gives the following account of a service recently held in the Positivist Church of Humanity, Chapel St., London:

The service, we are told, began with an invocation-"In the name of Humanity! Love, our been safely delivered, was followed by a most remarkable feature, the reading of the 53d chapter of Isaiah; and we are told that the casual visitor might have supposed he was worshipping in a Christian church, but for the grim visage of Cæsar that frowned from the wall above, and the glass-covered bust of Comte, which occupied the position of honor below. This was followed by music, the prayer for the Festival of the Dead, and an elaborate address by Dr. Congreve, assuring his hearers that by and by the religion of Humanity" will dominate the world.

Connecticut.-The "United Services" of the different parishes in New Haven are to be held, this present Lent, on Wednesday evenings, in St. Paul's Church, on Chapel St., of which the Rev E. S. Lines is Rector. At the first of these Services, on Ash-Wednesday evening, Bishop Williams preached.

The following appointments have been made: For March 1st, Rev. E. Beardsley, of St. Thomas'; subject, "Religious Reading." March 8th, Rev. H. M.
Denslow; subject, "Christian Education." March 15th, Rev. W. Babcock, of the Ascension; subject,
"The Relief of the Poor." March 22d, Rev. E. S. Lines, of St. Pauls; subject, "Temperance." 29th, Rev. W. E. Vilbert, D. D., of St. James'; subject, "The Observance of Sunday." The appointment for April was for the Rector of Trinity Church (Rev. Edwin Harwood, D. D.), just gone abroad; subject, "Christ, the End of the Law. The Holy Communion will be administered on the 1st, 3d, 4th, and 5th Sundays in Lent, at 9:30 A. M; and on the 2d and 6th Sundays, at the usual time, 10:30 A. M. Offerings for Domestic Missions can be made during Lent, in boxes at the church-door. The Associated Lenten Services have in previous years been attended with the happiest results, and are looked forward to with special interest. The late Rector of Christ Church (the Rev. Joseph Brewplaces. The Rev. C. H. B. Tremaine, of St. John's parish. New Haven, has been very careful in his work there, and his devotion to his flock has won father's, in Hartford, and is not expected to be able to resume his duties under one or two weeks. Grace Church, Fair Haven, has just succeeded in paying a ducted, during the absence of the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Harwood, by the Rev. Frederick Gardiner, D.D., and not by Dr. Goodrich, as first stated. Dr. Gardiner is Professor in the Berkley Divinity School, Middletown.

Indiana.—Acting in behalf of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese, Bishop McLaren, of Chicago, visited St. James' Church, Goshen, on Sunday, February 19th. The Bishop preached two very acceptable sermons to large congregations, and confirmed a class of five adults, presented by the Rector. The Congregation of St. James' have entered beautiful and comfortable improved church-building, They hope and labor for prosperity.

Long Island.-On the evening of Quinquagesima

Holy Trinity, Brooklyn, Bishop Littlejohn was present, and the following clergy: the Rev. Drs. Hall, Snively, Johnson and Cornwell, and the Rev. Messrs. S. A. Snively and C. W. Turner. After introductory remarks by the Bishop, the Rev. Mr. Turner read the Report of the Board of Managers. The receipts for the year had been $15,271.38; and expenses $19,139.07; leaving a deficit of $3,867.69. The funds for the maintenance of the hospital amounted to $2,920.83: the sum of $15,215,54 having been received for the building of the new edifice. The endowments amounted to $68,526.93, and the total valuation of the property of the Institution to

The Rev. Dr. Johnson read the Report of the Board of Associates, setting forth that there were at present 46 persons in the Home for the Aged, and 80 children in the Orphanage, The Rev. Dr. Cornwell reported the successful working of the printing de-partment, and addresses were made by the Rev. Drs. Snively and Hall. The Bishop brought the exercises to a close with the Benediction.

On Thursday, Feb. 23d, a Lenten Conference of the elergy of the diocese was held in Grace Church. Brooklyn Heights, at the call of Bishop Littlejohn. Between forty and fifty of the parochial clergy partook of the Holy Communion with the Bishop, and then adjourned to the neighboring chapel to lister to an Instruction from his lips. The numbers and character of the assembly were very significant in this busy season of the Church Year, and goes far to demonstrate, among other things, the read ness of the clergy to embrace opportunities for spiritual refreshment. The usefulness of Convocation me-tings, so common in parts of the Church, is not to be questioned in so far as they may stimulate good fellowship and intellectual activity, or serve local mis sionary enterprise. But we have not had, as yet, a sufficient amount of thought and care expended upon the subject of how to deepen the spiritual life of the clergy. No earnest hard-working parish priest, but feels-yes, feels very much in propor tion as the world thinks him holy-his personal need of spiritual help; something coming to him from without himself, reaching down to him from above himself-something which no pastoral activity for others can supply, no hour spent in the closet even, exactly meet. These Lenten Conferences in Long are a step in the right direction, and have been followed with general interest from their commencement. Bishop Huntington's Annual Retreat for the clergy of Central New York is a similar step; and the indications are not wanting that the movement is destined to grow. Bishop Littlejohn's Instruction, on Thursday, dealt with the practical issues with which the clergy are confronted in our age of little faith.

Minnesota.-The Missionary is to be utilized as a local paper for the parishes of St. Paul. It is a good idea, not only for the paper, but also for the parishes. The February number contains a pastoral for Lent, in which the rectors of four parishes unite. It notices the death of Mrs. Kedney, of Faribault. Bishop Whipple writes an interesting letter from Florida, expressing his hope of a spe dy return in better health.

Nebraska.-We are pleased to learn of the prosperity of Brownell Hall, the diocesan school for girls, in Omaha. The enlargement made two years ago has not proved equal to the growth, and more room is called for and must be had at an early day. Bishe p Clarkson has been in the East during the past month, in the interest of the new church at Watertown, Dakota, nearly all the attendants of which are from Watertown, N. Y., from which place Bishop Brewer was recently called to the Episcopal charge of Mon-The Reverend David Barr was instituted as rector of St. Mary's, Nebraska City, on Sunday last. The resignation of the Rev. Wm. G. Hawkins, of North Platte, called out very hearty expressions of appreciation from the people of that town; and the Library Association, of which he has been president passed complementary resolutions, and the Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian Ministers united in a testimonial of esteem.

Pennsylvania.-A national holiday and a Church fast on the same day is quite a novelty for Phila-delphia. As business places were generally closed, gentlemen had no excuse for absenting themselves from Church, but as usual they formed only a small percentage of the congregation. Lenten Services offer great variety as to hours, most churches having two Services on Wednesdays and Fridays. Great efforts are making in this diocese to have the Sunday School children's Lenten offerings for Missions as large as possible; to this end, mite chests are to be sent to the schools free of cost, if ordered, for the children's use in their own homes as this plan has be n found to greatly increase the

On Quinquagesima Sunday, Bishop Stevens consecrated a church at Kensington, which is a part of Philadelphia now, though once a subur .

Rhode Island.-A public reception was given to the Rev. G. L. Locke, of Bristol, recently on the completion of the 15th year of his rectorship. The St. Barnabas' Guild, at Apponaug, is working very successfully. A new church is being completed at Crompton. Christ Church, Lonsdale, is the first parish in the Diocese to organize a Churca Temperance Society. The Choristers' festival at St. Stenhen's Providence, although primarily a grand Service of praise, illustrated most effectually what is known as the "Choral Service."

Made from Grape Cream Tarter.—No other preparation makes such light, fiaky hot bread, or luxurious pastry. Can be eaten by Dyspeptics without fear of the ills resulting from heavy indegestible food, Bodonly in cans, by all Grocers.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

The Temperance Revolution Publishing House was organized November, 1881, for the purpose of opening up avenues of general distribution and supopening up avenues of general distribution and supplying a suitable temperance literature. Thirty-six column catalogue of goods and methods free. Furnishes monthly papers at 5 cts. a year (18 kinds); Dollar books for 5 cts. Plans for sowing whole towns "knee-deep," regularly the year round, for a song. Band of Hope goods, including library and weekly paper, so cheap penny collection buys them. Names of live temperance workers wanted. The Temperance Revolution, 148 Madison St., Chicago.

"OUR CONTINENT,"

ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY,

CONDUCTED BY

ALBION W. TOURGEE.

Author of "A Fool's Errand," "Bricks Without Straw," "Figs and Thistles," etc., assisted by DANIEL G. BRINTON and ROBERT S. DAVIS

CONTENTS OF NO. 1.

Donald G. Mitchell.

Ik Marvel

Dawn (poem), Hon. George H. Boker.

A Day in Tadousac Rebecca Harding Davis

The Household Helen Campbell

Editorials—Salutatory—Our Name—

Literature and Lucre—Science Jottings, etc.

When shall a Child Begin Scho d?. William Pepper

Provost University of Panna.

Fiction, Noah Porter Noah Porter

Personals.

With the first number of "Our Continent" will be given a fine Steel-plate Engraving, by Emily Sartain, of Albion W. Tourgee, the author of "A Fool's Errand," etc., of a size suitable for insertion as a frontispiece in his works. Appended to the engraving is a fac-simile of his autograph and an extract ing is a fac-simile of his autograph and an extract from his writings.

"Our Continent" is now for sale by all News Dealers, Booksellers, Postmasters, and Railroad News Agents. Single copies, 10 cents. Subscription Terms: $4.00 a year; $2.00 for six months, invariably in advance. Mailed, postage free. Money sent by registered letter, or money order will be at our risk.

Trade supplied by all the news companies at 71-2 ents a copy.
All correspondence should be addressed

"Our Continent" Publishing Co., Chestnut and Eleventh Sts., Philadelphia.

THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT

A NARRATIVE POEM

WITH SOME

MINOR POEMS

By THOMAS E. VAN BEBBER.

Author of Quentin Matsys, or the Blacksmith of Antwerp; Ponce de Leon, or the Search after the Fountain of Youth.

BAKER & PRATT, New York; LEE & SHEPHERD. Boston; MORTON, Cincinnati; CUSHING & BAILEY Baltimore.

HILTON'S SHIRT BOSOM BOARD Stretches the Bosom both ways, and by the action of a frame in movable sections that are controlled by springs, grips any thickness of goods, and enables the operator to stretch any or all portions of the Bosom at will. Sent with Adjustable Neck-Form Attachment, and neatly covered with blotting paper and cloth; also superior Chinese Starch Pollsh receipt. for $1.25. Agents, to whom we give liberal discounts, cannot find a more saleable article. [Diagram.—A A, frame around board; B, raised position of adjustable sides; C, adjustable neck form.]

WM. A. HILTON, Battle Creek, Mich.

UNEQUALLED IN touch, Workmanship, and Durability WILLIAM KNARE & CO.

Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore Street, Baltimore. No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

The oldest Hat & Fur House in the State. CHAS. N. HAMMOND

Children's and Youth's Hats and Caps a Specialty. No. 58 State St., CHICAGO.

GLOVES.

CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL LIQUID is an essential favorite with Ladies of the Stage, Opera and Concert PEARL Room. Ladies of Fashion pronounce it NE PLUS ULTRA.

Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists. 50 cents per bottle. Beware of imitations. CHAMPLIN & CO., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Preston Kean & co. BANKERS.

100 Washington Street. BANKING in all its branches. Deal in UNITED STATES, Municipal and leading Railroad BONDS.

CHICAGO 6 per Ct. CAR TRUST Certificates—double security.
FOREIGN Exchange, Letters of Credit.

(Write for particulars; mention this publication.) Remarkable Invention—Fully Tested—Of Vast Prac-tical Benefit—Entirely Different from all Others.

THE

B "NO TENSION es careful of Health and "The Best will new have ne other. WILLCOX & GIBBS S. M. CO. 658 Broadway, New York.

W. H. WELLS & BRO., Stained Glass Works

48 & 50 Franklin St., Chicago.

59 CARMINE ST., N. Y., 6th Ave. Cars pass the door.

LENT.

Purple cloth, 2 yds, wide, $5 yd. All wool goods 50 in. wide, $3 vd. Fringes of Purple and White. Silk Galloons Purple and White. Purple silk stoles for Lent $7 each

Embroideries in white silk ready for transfer, I. H. S., X. P., A.

EAGLE. LECTERNS. BRASS. BRÓNZE. &. WOOD ALMS. BASONS. SILVER. AND. BRONZE. MEMORIAL. WINDOWS. NEW. DESIGNS, Etc.

O., Etc., Etc.

Send for Hand-book by mail.

Memorial Tablets

Recently executed for St. James's church, Chicago. St. Mary's Free Hospital, N. Y. St. Paul's, Troy, N. Y. Grace House, N. Y. St. Paul's, Englewood, N. J. Trinity, Portland, Conn. Also in progress of work for Also in progress of work for Christ church, Portsmouth, N.H. Christ church, Tar. ytown, N. Y. Christ church, Ballston Spa, N.Y. St. James's church, Chicago, Ill. Presbyterian ch., Cleveland, O.

For sale, a Church Bell, musical note C natural; weight 800 lbs. Price, $200.

For Sale, several small Pipe Organs, low Prices. For Sile, some exchanged Church Furniture.

STAINED GLASS WINDOW in memory of President Garfield for St. James's church, Long Br nch, N. J., now on exhibition at warerooms, 59 Carmine Street. All interested are invited to call and see it.

Stained

FOR CHURCHES.

Manufactured by Geo.A. Misch, 217 East Washington Street, Chicago, Ills.

McCULLY & MILES.

MANUFACTURERS OF

STAINED, ENAMELED, EMBOSSED, CUT AND COLOR

GLASS 109 & 104 Adams St., | CHICAGO

Altar Desks Altars Altar Cross Lecterns Altar Vases. Chairs.

GEISSLER CHURCH FURNISHER. 127 Clinton Place (West 8th St.) New York. ART-WORKER IN WOOD, METAL AND MARBLE.
MEMORIAL BRASS ENGRAVER.

Send for circular. Mitchell, Vance & Co.

836 & 838 Broadway, N. Y.
Designers and Manufacturers of Ecclesiastical Gas Fixtures & Metal Work.

Clocks & Bronzes, Metal & Porcelain Lamps, and Artistic Gas Fix-

Is an Elegant Book of 150 Pages, a Colored Frontispiece of Flowers, and more than 1000 Illustrations of the choicest Flowers, Plants and Vegetables, and and Directions for growing. It is handsome enough for the Center Table or a Holiday Present. Send on your name and Post Office address, with 10 cents, and I will send you a copy, postage paid. This is not a quarter of its cost. It is printed in both English and German. If you afterwards order seeds deduct the 10 cts.

VICK'S SEEDS are the best in the world. The Floral Guice will tell how to get and grow them.

Vick's Flower and Vegetable Garden, 175 Pages, 6 colored Plates, 500 Engravings. For 50 cents in paper covers; $1.50 in elegant cloth. In German or English.

Vick's Illustrated Monthly Magazine—32 Pages, a Colored Plate in every number and many fine Engravings. Price $1.25 a year; Five Copies for $5.00. Specimen Numbers sent for 10 cents; 3 trial copies for 25 cents.

Address,

We give more and better plants

ROSES We give more and better plants for the money than any other house in the country. Catalogue for 1882 now ready, free to all. Send for one and see for yourself the beautiful MILLER & HUNT, Wrights Grove,

LESSON COMMENTARY