The Faith By Which We Live

A Short Practical Exposition of the Religion of the Incarnate Lord

By BISHOP FISKE

Cloth, pages xii+322, $1.50 and postage.

Useful for the Clergy

The Churchman says it is "written with warmth of feeling and vigorous directness . . . in a style and method from which the clergy may learn much."

Useful for Lay Readers

The American Church Monthly especially commends it for this purpose because it "appeals to the average man".

Useful for the Laity

Dean DeWitt, in THE LIVING CHURCH, says: "It is a good book for a father to hand to his son, with the commendation: 'Billy, read it—all of it.'"

Useful for Instruction Classes

The Church Times (London) "unreservedly commends it" for such use. St. Andrew's Cross urges Brotherhood Bible classes to use it. Holy Cross Magazine says: "If only the parish clergy would [use it in this way] what might not be accomplished! It gives in available form just the truths for which people are starving."

THE CHURCH MOBILIZED

ADVANCE RETURNS FROM MANY PLACES

PLENDID enthusiasm found everywhere on Sunday—that is the substance of the early telegrams giving returns of the first great nation-wide attempt to translate the Church's Programme into action. Returns are everywhere incomplete and only "high spots" are reported. How much was actually pledged will not be known for several weeks; but the great success in particular places, and the large increases wherever the plan was thoroughly tried, even though the desired figure was not attained, are indications of what the Church can accomplish when fully aroused. Reports cover only the activities of Sunday and what preceded that day, leaving everywhere very much still to follow.

The enforced limitation of hours of work and of the size of this issue in the interest of fuel conservation necessarily limits the publication of returns to brief summaries received by telegraph and telephone from many sources, as follows:

From LEWIS B. FRANKLIN, chairman national executive committee:

Few reports of Campaign yet received. South Carolina reports that out of nineteen churches so far reported, eighteen have made quota on preliminary returns. Indications are that diocese will go gloriously over top. Splendid reports from scattered places in East Carolina, Maryland, Newark, Virginia, Southern Virginia, West Texas, and Atlanta. Reports indicate that where Campaign has been faithfully and energetically carried out success is assured. Of course there will be places where Campaign was not conducted with enthusiasm, which will make much poorer showing, but the wonderful results already assured will point the way to the enlisting of the whole Church to an appreciation of its responsibility as a national organization for properly caring for the work of the Master.

The following are reports direct to THE LIVING CHURCH office:

ATLANTA.—Reports in from practically every parish and mission. Though rain lasted throughout the entire day, the canvassers did their work faithfully. Christ Church, Macon, apportionment $22,000, pledges $33,000. Cathedral, Atlanta, apportionment $35,000, pledges $37,000. Holy Trinity, Decatur, Holy Comforter, Atlanta, and St. Andrew's, Fort Valley, increase of one hundred per cent. above their apportionment. From calculations received it can safely be said that the diocese of Atlanta has gone over the top by a good margin.

CHICAGO.—Early reports indicate tremendous enthusiasm, large crowds in churches, and ready response to canvassers. From two to six times amount ever before pledged is report from several parishes. Believed that the diocese will reach and perhaps surpass its Campaign budget of $501,000 a year. One pledge of $15,000 annually for three years is reported. Certain that the following quotas will be met in full: Highland Park, $17,000; St. Paul's-by-the-Lake, $4,000; St. Chrysostom's, $29,000; Rockford, $2,000; St. Edmund's, $850; Cathedral, $1,000. Holy Apostles' over-subscribes its quota of $850 by 50 percent. Atone-ment has probably subscribed its quota of $11,000. Winnetka guarantees $25,000 of its quota of $40,000 and will probably raise entire amount. Evanston parishes doing well but returns slow; St. Mark's assured of $17,000 on quota of $35,000, and St. Luke's $10,000 to Sunday night with much more to follow. In personnel from city one missionary to China, one deaconess, one candidate for orders reported. Great enthusiasm.

EAST CAROLINA.—Mission at Lumberton consists of twelve people. Quota $240 annually. Subscribed $2,160 for local and Nation-wide budget in advance of Mobilization Day.

FOND DU LAC.—With canvass half completed, Trinity, Oshkosh, reports $1,200 per year; St. Thomas', Neenah-Menasha, $1,500.

INDIANAPOLIS.—A number of parishes report complete financial success. Canvass not finished in others. A fine diocese showing indicated with large carelessness for service. Unusual enthusiasm.

MILWAUKEE.—Delavan went over the top with subscriptions exceeding $2,200, quota $1,900, and also increased rector's salary. Eau Claire, quota $6,800, raised $6,100 and will be much increased, while parish subscriptions more than $1,500 increased. Milwaukee churches much above any previous subscriptions. St. Paul's early subscriptions, $5,000 Nation-wide, $7,000 local, raised from 225 people of whom 70 new

EDITORIALS AND COMMENTS

Explanation

 HIS issue reaches zero in appearance and consists of fewer pages than any of its predecessors in many years. It is so issued in order to conform to the requirements of the fuel administration.

A drastic order published in Milwaukee on Saturday night of last week, and effective Monday morning, cut off coal, light, and power from non-essential industries, and printing plants in general appear to be classed in that category. An exception, however, is made on behalf of newspapers using "print" paper.

"Print" paper means, technically, the sort of paper used by the daily papers. We are advised that THE LIVING CHURCH in its usual form seems to come within the spirit of the exception, but in order that we may scrupulously obey its letter as well, this issue is printed on paper of the required quality. Unhappily it is impossible for us to obtain, at short notice, sheets of the usual size, and each available press must therefore carry a sheet of half the ordinary dimensions. Additional press facilities cannot be obtained for our use, and it is deemed preferable to issue this number in its present form and mail it at the usual time rather than to delay for the purpose of printing successive forms on the same presses. It will be observed that no attempt is made to supply the usual varied contents, but every effort has been made to print the first information available as to the results of "Mobilization Day".

We cannot outline what will be possible for the following issue. There is hope that the ban will be entirely removed by that time. There is also a possibility that no paper at all will be permitted. If subscribers receive no paper next week they will appreciate that the use of heat, light, and power required for the purpose has been prohibited, and proper adjustment of subscriptions will be made to cover any passed issues.

Our friends will also wish to be informed as to the status of other branches of the business of our publishers. It appears probable that The Young Churchman, The Shepherd's Arms, and the Evening Prayer Leaflet can be issued and mailed on time, most of the work on each of these for two weeks ahead having been completed before the ban was issued.

The salesroom, for local and mail order business, the packing department, and the offices are permitted to run for seven hours a day, and will be open from 8:30 to 3:30. Coming at the time of the annual rush of Christmas orders, when the hours are generally extended, some delay in filling orders may be necessary, but preference will be given to orders for Christmas material. The printing of the Living Church Annual had been completed before the issuing of the order, and all advance orders will probably be filled during the present week. There may be some delay in filling later orders. Our presses would normally be turning out the material of the Christian Nurture Series for the second half year in large quantities at this time. Book work, however, is prohibited. Unless the ban should last longer than is anticipated, the delay will not be serious, such material (except for Course 2) not being required before the middle of February. Orders for second half year of Course 2 should be sent immediately; it would be a convenience if orders for other material for that period be withheld until after January 1st, when the necessary order blanks will be ready for delivery.

The November and December numbers of the Spirit of Missions, which were printed in this office by reason of the printers' strike in New York, were necessarily printed on very inferior paper, to the detriment of their appearance, being the only material that was obtainable, and the latter issue was completed and being mailed when the present trouble began. If there be delay in issuing the January number the reason will be appreciated.

The editor is obliged to apologize for such a congestion of personal and editorial mail that the office stenographers cannot type the replies in the hours allotted to them, and there must be very considerable delay before replies to such letters can be made. Every effort is being made to give priority to such of the office work and of the mail as is most important, leaving other matters to wait. Personal correspondents will be good enough to receive this as a personal apology. Acknowledgment of receipts for various funds is deferred until next week.

We are confident that our readers, and the customers of this company, will bear with us in all the difficulties under which we, with all commercial houses, are laboring at the present time. The condition is nation-wide, and the end may not be in sight, though it appears now that the coal difficulty is in the way of solution. There have been times in recent months when it really seemed that our presses must stop because paper could not be obtained, of any quality or at any price, but yet each of our publications has thus far invariably been issued and mailed on time, and delays have been due to faulty service in the mails. Where there has been decadence in appearance and in promptness of service, as undoubtedly there has been, it has been due to circumstances entirely beyond our control, and we count on the cordial forbearance of our friends.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS

BY THE REV. DAVID LINCOLN FERRIS

THE CHRISTIAN WITNESSING

[For the Week Preceding the Fourth Sunday in Advent]

The Obligation of Witnessing

Sunday: Acts 1: 1-11.

ADVENT concludes with a definite lesson that as we have been partakers of a great privilege it is our duty to pass it on to others; having shared in the blessing which comes through the Extension of the Incarnation into our own lives we face the obligation to bear record of that fact before men, that they too may share the blessing. But does Advent this year really mean anything different or definite? Has there been any concrete experience in our lives enabling us to say: "I know the truth of the Incarnation, for I have been drawn nearer to Christ, and I am not ashamed of the Gospel"? The experiences of the world war were to change everything? Have they, and if so are they any better?

The Need of Witnessing

Monday: St. Matthew 9: 35-38.

Among the many there are outstanding two elements in our dear Lord's life in the superlative degree: One is His faith in His mission; and the other, His compassion for men. No one can carefully read this and the preceding chapters of St. Matthew and not be impressed by these two things. Because the multitudes were distressed and scattered He sought them out and ministered to their needs. But the needs to which He ministered still exist and must be met ere the Kingdom come.

The Method of Witnessing

Tuesday: St. John 1: 19-28.

The efficiency of our witnessing will be in the ratio of our self-effacement. It is not for our aggrandizement that we bear witness, but for the glory of God. We must be content to serve only as a voice proclaiming the Advent of the Saviour, only the channel through which His gifts may flow out to men. The mechanically perfect electric bulb has no inherent power to manifest light; it is only the means through which the hidden current shines before men. It is the uplifted Christ and not the uplifting witness who has the power to draw all men unto Himself.

The Inspiration for Witnessing

Wednesday: Acts 4: 13-22.

As we use our faith we lay hold upon the unseen until that faith issues in the highest form of knowledge. No book in the Bible reiterates the word "know" so many times in the same space as the First Epistle of St. John. His knowledge grew out of experience and out of faith. It was the same with St. Peter and St. Paul and with every outstanding Christian disciple of the ages. They were men and women who had been with Jesus. Others knew it, not alone by what they said but by what they were. It made timid men bold and unlettered men irresistible.

The Power for Witnessing

Thursday: St. Luke 11: 1-13.

The prayer life is the conquering life; the praying disciple is the prevailing witness; the helpful Christian comes from within the veil; the upright man is the one most often on his knees, and the one whose voice is most heard is the one who has most listened to the silences of God. Too often we pray from habit, too little from the desire to commune with the Father. In the secret chambers of prayer comes the power to be a prevailing witness.

The Effect of Witnessing

Friday: Acts 16: 19-34.

Could anything seem more unlikely than the conversion of the Philippian jailor? Paul and Silas could never have foreseen the effect of their witnessing that midnight. And yet, how glorious! Men are hungering for the message, everywhere crying out: "What must I do to be saved?" Has your Christianity ever led any one else nearer to Christ?

The Reward of Witnessing

Saturday: St. Mark 8: 31-38.

If we could only visualize that day when the Son of Man shall come in the glory of the Father with the holy angels, how fervently we should long to be found worthy of His commendation! There is only one way. If we are not ashamed of Him here He will not be ashamed of us there. The Christian's reward will be found in "Come, ye blessed of My Father". The more we believe it the more we shall prepare for it.

AN APPEAL FOR THE FAMINE-STRICKEN

To the Editor of The Living Church:

THE Archbishop of Canterbury has cabled to the Presiding Bishop saying that the two Archbishops of England and the Pope of Rome and leaders of many Free Churches have united in an appeal for help for the famine-stricken districts of the world, and specially, I think, for the suffering and dying children of the Near East, Armenia and Syria; to be given through offerings to be made on Sunday, December 28th, Innocents' Day, and asking if we of America would join in such appeal and offerings.

Though having no mandate from fellow Americans I could not but answer, Yes. The bitter need allows no other answer.

I earnestly beg Americans to give for the perishing children on Sunday, December 28th, Holy Innocents' Day, and to send their gifts to "Near East Relief," No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, making cheques to the order of Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer.

DANIEL S. TUTTLE, Presiding Bishop.

NOTES ON THE NEW HYMNAL—II

BY THE REV. WINFRED DOUGLAS

HYMN 62.—We now come to the finest of the distinctly Advent hymns (since the Dies Irae is historically associated with the Burial of the Dead), and one of the great classics of hymnology. Philip Nicolai, who wrote both the words and the melody, was pastor of the Lutheran congregation at Unna, Westphalia, in 1597. At that time, a terrible pestilence ravaged the neighborhood. Over a thousand corpses were carried past the little study where he worked, for burial in the churchyard. That this tremendous trumpet-call of joy and faith could sound forth in such a time from such surroundings is one of the miracles of divine grace which glorify hymnody, as well as every other function of Christian living. Nor was it that grief did not personally touch the author, for his favorite pupil, a charming and noble lad of fifteen years, died during the epidemic; and Nicolai made the initial letters of his young friend's name the initial letters of the three stanzas: W. Z. G. Melody and words were published at Frankfort-on-the-Main in 1599. It is not unlikely that Nicolai adapted parts of the melody from earlier times, as was commonly done. The hymn attained immediate and permanent popularity. In 1731, Bach made it the subject of his Cantata for the Sunday next before Advent, slightly altering the tune to its advantage. This is the version in the New Hymnal; and it is a masterpiece. None of those who heard the hymn sung in Carnegie Hall, New York, by the Bethlehem Bach Choir, some years ago, will ever forget the experience. Yet the tune lies within the ability of every congregation; as members of the Wellesley and Racine Conferences well know. The effect of majesty reached in the congregational use of this hymn is perhaps only equalled in Nicolai's other great work, at No. 98. To attain this majestic effect, the pace must be slow and solemn, and a little held back just before the great climax in the final couplet. As is well known, Mendelssohn uses the melody in his Oratorio of St. Paul; but his version, though fine, is far less suited to congregational use.

When this hymn is to be sung, the organist may well play as his service prelude Bach's wonderfully beautiful treatment of the melody in the first of the six "Schübler" Chorale Preludes, where the hymn melody sounds the solemn warning to the waiting virgins through the distant piping of joyous wedding music. The prelude is not difficult.

HYMN 63.—This is the ancient office hymn at Lauds in Advent: but, as Caswall's translation is not in the original metre, the Proper tune cannot be used. Monk's excellent melody is, however, quite in the spirit of both the old Lauds and Vesper tunes.

CHURCH BELL WANTED FOR WYOMING MISSION

A young and struggling church out here in Wyoming is in need of a church-bell; we are the first Church and only one in the town; at present our church building is under construction, but we are without a bell and the funds to purchase one. Speaking one day with one of our communicants, a woman from Scotland, she asked me if we would have a bell tower, and she informed me that now after living out here, away from any Church, she was "awearied of the ring o' the bell".

Who is willing to give us the bell?

INFORMATION BUREAU

While many articles of merchandise are still scarce and high in price, this department will be glad to serve our subscribers and readers in connection with any contemplated purchase of goods not obtainable in their own neighborhood.

In many lines of business devoted to war work, or taken over by the government, the production of regular lines ceased, or was seriously curtailed, creating a shortage over the entire country, and many staple articles are, as a result, now difficult to secure.

Our Publicity Department is in touch with manufacturers and dealers throughout the country, many of whom can still supply these articles at reasonable prices, and we would be glad to assist in such purchases upon request.

The shortage of merchandise has created a demand for used or rebuilt articles, many of which are equal in service and appearance to the new productions, and in many cases the materials used are superior to those available now.

We will be glad to locate musical instruments, typewriters, stereopticons, building materials, Church and Church school supplies, equipment, etc., new or used. Dry goods, or any classes of merchandise can also be secured by samples or illustrations through this Bureau, while present conditions exist.

In writing this department, kindly enclose stamp for reply. Address Information Bureau, THE LIVING CHURCH, 19 So. La Salle street, Chicago, Ill.

LIFE AND LIBERTY FELLOWSHIP

The first Congress of the Life and Liberty Fellowship, held on Friday last, attracted huge gatherings. High Churchmen, broad Churchmen, evangelicals, clerical and lay, and numbers of faithful women, representing a confraternity which has spread in two years throughout the length and breadth of the land, met together in an atmosphere of prayer and reliance on the guidance of God, and were in perfect agreement.

The morning session was preceded most fittingly by a corporate Communion at Christ Church, Westminster. The subject for discussion was the Spirit of Fellowship in the Movement. The Rev. J. Gough McCormick, who spoke first, recalled the manner in which the Movement and the Fellowship had come into being, and said that there were two principal factors that had made the Fellowship what it was. The first was prayer, which from the beginning had been put in the foreground of the Movement, not as a devotional exercise only, but as the main support upon which they consciously rested. The second principle was that the Life and Liberty Movement should be an "offensive" movement, for it was by offence and not by defence that they would be welded together. The cementing forces in a Christian offensive were mutual self-denial and unity of purpose.

At the evening session the result of the division on the Enabling Bill was made known, and this led to a demonstration such as the Church House has not witnessed for many a day. Canon Temple, who was the principle speaker, was naturally jubilant, and a most successful Congress was closed by the Bishop of Southwark giving the benediction.

THE NEW BISHOP OF LINCOLN

The bishopric of Lincoln has now been filled by the appointment of the Very Rev. W. S. Swayne, Dean of Manchester, who, it will be remembered, succeeded Bishop Welldon in that post on his transfer to the deanery of Durham last year. Although Dean Swayne's tenure of the Manchester deanery has been brief, his departure will be the cause of much regret, for he has already made himself a factor in the life of the city from which much was expected. His appointment to Lincoln will not be without its element of surprise, and perhaps disappointment, for many Churchmen who had confidently anticipated the elevation of a well-known London vicar (a definite Catholic) to that bishopric, associated as it will ever be with the revered memory of the saintly Bishop King. On the whole, however, the appointment may be regarded as satisfactory, and Dr. Swayne may be trusted to maintain the traditions of a see which in recent years has been singularly fortunate in its prelates.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT

Another appointment which has given widespread satisfaction is that of Dr. W. H. Hutton, Archdeacon of Northampton, to the deanery of Winchester, in succession to Dr. Furneau. Dr. Hutton had a most distinguished career at Oxford, which began with his winning the Stanhope Prize in 1881, when an undergraduate at Malvern, while in the following year he took a First Class in Modern History. Cambridge has also known him as a Select Preacher and as Lightfoot Examiner and Lecturer on Ecclesiastical History at Trinity College.

There are still four deaneries vacant—Salisbury, Manchester, Hereford, and Chester. Recent appointments appear to justify the hope that the Prime Minister is en-

LONDON'S "GREAT SILENCE" ON SECOND ARMISTICE DAY

Services in Many Churches—Great Majority for Enabling Bill—Life and Liberty Fellowship

The Living Church News Bureau } London, November 14, 1919 }

HE "Great Silence" enjoined by His Majesty King George for Armistice Day was majestic in its intensely impressive solemnity. In the metropolis, the hum of traffic was hushed as never before; pedestrians halted in their stride; police and soldiers stood at the salute, and in the silent streets women and even strong men sobbed as the two-minutes' hush brought to their minds the memory of the glorious dead.

St. Paul's Cathedral was thronged for the great service of thanksgiving in remembrance of those who had made the supreme sacrifice. Occupying prominent positions in the nave were two huge heart shaped wreaths of laurel, one from the War Office and one from the Admiralty, each simply and suitably inscribed with the names of officers and men of the military and naval forces who laid down their lives in the war.

The service, in which the Bishop of London, Archdeacon Holmes, and the Canons of the Cathedral took part, was highly impressive, the choral parts of the Communion service being sung to Palestrina's music. There were at least 300 communicants.

At Westminster Abbey there was also a choral celebration, the officiating clergy being Bishop Ryle, Archdeacon Carnegie (just returned from America), and others. At 11 o'clock the vast congregation stood in silence for two minutes, after which the "Last Post" was sounded and the national anthem was sung.

Many other churches in London held appropriate services, and few persons who participated in these acts of faith and thanksgiving are likely soon to forget the emotions then aroused.

ENABLING BILL AT SECOND READING

The large majority by which the Enabling Bill was read a second time in the House of Commons last Friday is deeply significant. It shows that Parliament feels the need of summoning to its aid the spiritual forces of the nation in the work of reconstruction, and it shows, too, that there is a new spirit of fellowship and generosity towards each other in the members of the different Christian communities in the land. As was expected, Nonconformist members voted for the bill, which was passed by a majority of 288, the figures being: for, 304; against, 16.

Speeches in support of the measure were made by Sir Edward Beauchamp, Sir J. Randles, and Sir W. Joynson-Hicks; but it was left to Sir Robert Cecil to offer the ablest defence of the bill. In a speech abounding with good points, he declared that there were abuses in the Church which required to be urgently dealt with—among others, unsuitable incumbents, the question of reorganization, and episcopal appointments. They were dealing, he said, with a measure the constitutional importance of which had been exaggerated, but the practical importance of which was overwhelming. It was essential not only for the Church but for the Christian life of the country that the bill should be passed. To say that unless they accepted a much more extensive measure they were to let the abuses in the Church continue, was a proposal which he (Lord Robert) hoped no House of Commons, least of all the present House of Commons, would ever accept.

Sir Bonar Law, continuing the debate, said that he was not speaking in any sense as the representative of the Government, but claimed that the right of the Church to come to Parliament was the best justification of the action of the Government in giving time for the bill. He was satisfied that the Church of England, as a whole, desired the change.

deavoring to break away from the bad tradition which looks upon deaneries as safe and snug retirements for latitudinarians.

DECISIONS FROM HEREFORD

The Bishop of Hereford has recently been placed in a somewhat embarrassing position, in that he has received requests from two clergymen in his diocese that he should sanction, or at least acquiesce in, proceedings which he considers are "confessedly illegal".

In the first case he was asked by the Vicar of All Saints', Hereford, to allow the introduction of incense into the service of vespers for the dead on All Souls' eve. The second request was for his lordship's consent to the preaching of a nonconformist minister in another parish. Concerning the latter, Dr. Henson had no difficulty, for he has already made it known that he is prepared to support the plan proposed by the Bishop of Norwich with regard to "inter-change of pulpits".

His reply to the Vicar of All Saints' will be read with interest. The Bishop says: "If I do not reject the suggestion as evidently inadmissible, it is because I must needs acknowledge that, in the present circumstances of the Church of England, the limits of what is legal have been found too strait for the legitimate needs of popular religion, and that episcopal authority is, as matters now stand with us, the only alternative to naked individualism." He holds, however, that there are two conditions which must govern his actions when he considers whether he "can rightly give such sanction as a bishop can give to what is illegal". These are (1) that the proposed innovation is congruous with the mind of the Church of England, and (2) that no substantial injustice is done to parishioners. Applying these conditions to the cases before him, he says, in regard to incense, that it is an "expressive symbol" which in no way conflicts with the mind of the Church, but he desires to be assured as to the attitude of the parishioners, as among their rights "none can be accounted more precious than that the public services should, always in the spirit, and as far as possible in the letter, be conducted according to the law." If he is satisfied on this point he will be willing "not indeed to sanction, but certainly to acquiesce in," the "innovation".

The Bishop's decision will be a welcome surprise to those incumbents in his diocese who had begun to fear that Dr. Henson would not release himself from the shackles with which his predecessor was bound. His lordship might make use of his argument, regarding the limits of what is legal being found "too strait", to justify his acquiescence in, if not his hearty support of, other "innovations" like the use of incense.

WITH THE FORWARD MOVEMENT IN THE CANADIAN CHURCH

Some Impressive Figures — The Movement in China — The Church in Newfoundland — Brotherhood — Canon Scott

The Living Church News Bureau
December 4, 1919

THE Anglican Forward Movement is being steadily pushed onward. Every diocese has a diocesan organizing secretary who is responsible for the work of preparation in that particular diocese. The Woman's Auxiliary has now 2,014 women's committees at work, distributing literature. These committees are now visiting over 195,000 Anglican families, the idea being to place the literature in the home and as far as possible to use the visit to secure its being read. In addition to this there is now a mailing list of 75,000 names to which special literature is being sent regularly. Up to date 29 kinds of literature have been issued, the total number of copies being nearly two and a half millions. An illustrated lantern lecture on the A. F. M. has been prepared and is to be circulated through the deaneries. The January number of the Mission World is likely to be a Forward Movement number, and Sunday school catechism on the A. F. M. is in course of preparation.

Inter-church Conventions in the interest of the Forward Movement are now being held in all the leading cities of Canada. Canon Gould, General Secretary of the M. S. C. C., Bishop Lucas, of Mackenzie River, and Dean Tucker, of London, Ont., are among the leading Anglicans taking part. The Hon. N. W. Rowell, of the Dominion Cabinet, has been speaking on Canadian Problems. One of the leading visiting speakers is Dr. J. Campbell White, of New York, well known formerly in connection with the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

The Forward Movement Reaches Honan

The Forward Movement too is reaching the foreign field of the Canadian Church. From the Canadian diocese of Honan, China, comes a programme issued by Bishop White of A Forward Movement for our Mission in Honan. It begins as follows:

"Conscious of the greatness and urgency of the opportunity in Honan at this time, and desirous of linking up this diocese with the Mother Church in Canada in the present Forward Movement campaign, we conclude that it is opportune for us to organize an Anglican Forward Movement in Honan, along the following lines:

"I. Time.

"A five-year's campaign beginning Advent, 1919.

"II. General Aims.

"(1) To deepen the spiritual life of the Church.

"(2) To stir up increased zeal for personal evangelism.

"(3) To promote practical methods of Bible study and Bible teaching throughout the Church.

"(4) To enlist every person connected with the Church in some systematic and definite work For His Sake, and particularly to seek out and prepare native leaders.

"(5) To develop a deeper sense of responsibility towards self-support, and the support of missions in general.

"III. Particular Objectives.

"(1) At least 5,000 members at the end of 5 years, one-half of whom shall be women.

"(2) At least 5,000 pupils in our schools.

"(3) An annual income of at least $5,000 from Christians toward the support of the work.

"(4) Every member to be a Bible reader either in the Chinese character or in the Phoenetic script.

"(5) Every member praying and working for individual souls.

"(6) Every member observing the Lord's Day.

"(7) Every Christian home observing daily family worship, and grace before meals.

"(8) Children of Christians to be carefully nurtured in the Christian Faith: baptism not to be deferred; children to be brought to Sunday school and children's services in the church; no child over eight unable to read; no unmarried daughter of a member to have bound feet; no child of a Christian to be betrothed to a heathen."

After outlining a plan of organization, and making some practical suggestions the programme closes with the statement that it was unanimously adopted by the Honan Missionary Conference on September 26th.

Progress in the Diocese of Newfoundland

The diocese of Newfoundland is an independent diocese of the Anglican Church, but more and more the friendly relationship between it and the Canadian Church is being steadily developed. It is now presided over by the first Bishop who is a native of the island. Its Cathedral at St. John's is one of the finest specimens of Sir Gilbert Scott's work as an architect. It has a large Church population, and progress seems to be the watchword all along the line. The past twenty years indeed have witnessed a remarkable development towards complete self-support. From figures recently issued by the indefatigable secretary-treasurer of the diocese, Canon Bolt, we learn that in 1898 Newfoundland had 46 missions and but five self-supporting parishes. The average amount then collected by the diocese from the 46 missions was $10,805. In 1918 (still excluding the five parishes) the 46 missions had become 29 missions and 30 parishes, from which a total of $42,280 was collected. Of this amount the 29 missions subscribed $12,085, so that the gain has been 30 parishes with their contributions amounting to $30,000. If the original five parishes are included there are to-day 35 parishes and 29 missions contributing $57,871 as against 5 parishes and 46 missions contributing $17,000 in 1898, the number of subscribers being increased three-fold.

The grant from the English Society for the Propagation of the Gospel has been reduced from $9,830 in 1898 to $1,140 in 1918. This year a Campaign for the educational institutions of the Church of England in Newfoundland (there are separate school systems for Anglicans, Romans, Methodists, and the Salvation Army) brought in pledges amounting to $362,000.

Synod of the Diocese of Kootenay

The little (in numbers, not in territory) diocese of Kootenay, of which the Right Rev. Dr. A. J. Doull is the indefatigable Bishop, has just held a successful synod. In the course of his charge the Bishop pointed out that the number of clergy serving in the diocese had decreased during the war from 37 to 23. He pleaded for a great revival of interest, to an awakening of all Churchmen to the great spiritual realities, to the importance of the Forward Movement, and the need of increasing clerical stipends.

Revived Interest in the Brotherhood of St. Andrew

There is a greatly revived interest in the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The headquarters office in Toronto has been reopened. A strong appeal was issued for the general observance of St. Andrew's Day by a large gathering of men and boys at the corporate communion. Chapters are being revived and new chapters organized in many parishes throughout the Dominion, as a practical part of the Forward Movement.

A Padre at Varsity

Canon Scott came to Toronto as University preacher, and his coming was hailed with delight by the students, especially the many who had met him "over there". Speaking of his visit, "Shrapnel Corners", the soldiers' section of a Toronto daily, wrote:

"In Convocation Hall, where seats were reserved for his old comrades, the 'originals', he took as his text: 'Where there is no vision the people perish.' A man of wide vision himself, he led his hearers to the hilltop. Vision, clear-headedness, shone out in his address. He instanced the dislike of the boys at the front, to polishing buttons, complaining, 'Will this win the war?' The Canon showed that the attention to these trifles of discipline, as well as to the greater things, was exactly what did win the war. He looked upon President Wilson as a man of vision—"The man who went and saw." 'He saw the whole world as a family,' he pointed out. 'We ought to think of the world in terms of humanity and all work towards the one vision—the family idea of mankind—the League of Nations."

Miscellaneous News Notes

Archdeacon Mackay, rector of All Saints', Ottawa, since its completion in 1899, died on November 23rd after a long illness.

A church will be erected in Notre Dame de Grace, a suburb of Montreal, upon the walls of which will be inscribed the names of every man who died for Canada in the great war. The church will be used by the combined congregations of the Anglican Church of the Good Shepherd and Trinity Church. Sixty thousand Canadians were killed.

The deanery of Toronto recently gave a complimentary dinner to its returned chaplains, which included Major Baynes-Reed, Major Macnamara, Captain Dykes, Captain Headley, and Captain Skey.

St. James' Church, Ingersoll, celebrated its golden jubilee on Advent Sunday. The Rev. Prof. T. G. A. Wright, of Huron College, London, has been appointed rector of All Saints', Whitby, Ont.

With the passing of Mrs. Robinson, the wife of the Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, of Japan, the first link in the chain of missionary workers of the Church of England from Canada has been broken. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson blazed a trail which has been kept open for thirty-one years.

parish buildings was even more fortunate, because those who saw the church knew instantly where to find those who would gladly serve them. He gave many illustrations of the way in which worship and service come together, and said that the worship and the pastoral work must be kept absolutely first, however skilful and numerous the organizations of the parish might become.

A BISHOP'S COMMITTEE

The Bishop's committee in this diocese was organized this week at a meeting of twenty-five laymen at the home of Bishop Burch. Major August Belmont was elected chairman, R. Fulton Cutting, vice-chairman, and Frank H. Merrill, secretary, on motion of Mrs. E. H. Harriman. The meeting was called to select an advisory board to act with the Bishop in plans for the Every-Name Campaign.

On motion of Mr. Cutting it was decided to make the committee a permanent body.

"This committee," said Bishop Burch, "will be a permanent body—a part of the staff of the Bishop and at his call at any time for counsel and action. It is a concrete expression of the prominent part the laity will properly take in religious affairs in the new day."

ADVENT SERVICE OF WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

Four hundred members of the Woman's Auxiliary attended the Advent service and meeting at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Tuesday, December 2nd.

The Bishop celebrated the Holy Communion, assisted by the Bishop of Anking, Archdeacon Pott, Canon Nelson, Canon Jones, and the Rev. E. Briggs Nash.

Dr. Burch spoke on Christian Optimism, and Dr. Huntington spoke on Political Conditions in China.

After luncheon in Synod Hall there was a missionary meeting, Bishop Burch presiding. Addresses were made by Miss Grace Lindley, on The New Auxiliary and the Church League of Service; the Very Rev. George B. Myers, on Cuba and Haiti; Archdeacon Stuck, on Alaska; the Rev. Francis S. White, on The Domestic Field.

PLANS FOR OLD TRINITY SCHOOL BUILDING

The Trinity School building at 90 Trinity Place has been sold to New York University and will be used as headquarters of the Wall street division of the University's School of Commerce.

Including purchase price and remodeling costs, the University charges in connection with the school will amount to $250,000. But it is felt that the cost will be justified, for it will bring together a large number of scattered classes and will give school accommodation for a waiting list of 2,500 pupils who are eager to learn the science and practice of modern business.

WASHINGTON IRVING MEMORIAL SERVICE

November 30th being the 60th anniversary of the burial of Washington Irving, a memorial service was held in Christ Church, Tarrytown. At this service the old service book of 1836 was used for the Communion service and the epistle and gospel were read from Irving's Prayer Book. An old, plated English flagon, chalice, and paten which Irving brought from London were used for the first time in many years. The rector, the Rev. Walter W. Reid, preached an historical sermon. This old church and rectory is covered with ivy which Sir Walter Scott gave to Irving at Abbotsford. Its first rector the Rev. Dr. Creighton, was president of the House of Deputies and was twice elected Bishop of New York and twice declined.

DR. SLATTERY SPEAKS ON THE INSTITUTIONAL CHURCH

Before New York Junior Clergy — Formation of Bishop's Committee — Advent Service of Woman's Auxiliary

New York Office of The Living Church }
11 West 45th Street }
New York, December 8, 1919 }

VERY large meeting of the Junior Clergy Missionary Association was held at Christ Church, Broadway and 71st street, on Tuesday afternoon, December 2nd, when the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Slattery made an address on The Institutional Church.

After a missionary intercession service the members were entertained at luncheon by the rector, the Rev. John R. Atkinson.

Dr. Slattery, upon request, has kindly furnished the following summary of his speech on this important and timely subject.

"Parishes may become institutional churches for various reasons. Sometimes the population so changes in the neighborhood that benevolent work for the community, apart from the conventional services, becomes necessary if the parish is to have any function at all. It was thus that the Good Will Industries started in a Boston parish. Other parishes have started institutional work in order to give their members opportunity for expressing Christian service. Still others, while maintaining all the usual routine of a parish church, find such grave need in the neighborhood that they are forced into additional expressions of parish life.

"It is not true that a secular settlement can do all the work which a religious settlement is doing. It is quite possible that a secular settlement is more economical and more efficient, but we cannot do our utmost for a man when we fail to emphasize his spiritual nature. Leaders in secular settlements have said that, were they to begin again, they would make them frankly religious. The only excuse for a Church settlement is that, while it is eager to do good unto all men, it longs finally to bring men to Christ through the Church and its services.

"The Church has always been a poet, creating new forms of service, teaching the city and the state how to serve. Thus hospitals are becoming general institutions, playgrounds are being counted municipal organizations, manual training is being taught in the public schools. When the Church need not continue certain tasks because the community as a whole assumes them, the Church needs to find, with God's help, some new thing to do for the benefit of mankind."

Dr. Slattery spoke of the varied institutional work carried on by Grace parish; its day nursery, its hospital (which is a home for the aged and for little children temporarily deprived of a mother's care), its industrial school, its art club, its choristers' school, its work among Italians (especially the training for citizenship), its lunch-rooms for men and women, etc. He spoke, in passing, of the physical advantage of a church like Grace Church which is surrounded by its parish buildings, so that the place of worship is hemmed in by the work of the congregation. We all revered, he said, Trinity Church for its unique situation in the midst of its churchyard, surrounded by the graves of its distinguished dead. There was a high sentiment in such an environment unique in the life of a great city, and yet, after all, he thought that a church surrounded by its

BISHOP LAWRENCE PREACHES AT ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

*In Church of the Advent, Boston —
He Retells Its History — Hymns for Children*

The Living Church News Bureau }
Boston, December 8, 1919 }

BISHOP LAWRENCE preached at the observance of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the parish of the Church of the Advent, on November 30th. The celebration of the parish festival continued all day, the solemn evensong and processional with the Bishop's sermon occurring at 4 P. M.

It was also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the consecration of the edifice, that service being one of the very first at which Bishop Lawrence officiated after being elevated to the episcopate. It was also the seventeenth anniversary of the installation as rector of the Rev. Dr. van Allen.

After congratulating rector and people, Bishop Lawrence spoke of the religious atmosphere of 75 years ago, when the parish was organized. "There was a prevailing habit of worship, to a great degree representing the Tory spirit of the element of the Church of England," said he. "It was without great inspiration or formality or uplift. It was conventional, cold, and the service partook of a dullness that we do not realize to-day. There was very little appreciation of the history and tradition and custom of the ancient Church, and the sermons were only of one stamp. Naturally those services didn't satisfy all, and among those who felt the limitations were the men and women who met in a hall on Merrimac street 75 years ago and organized this parish.

"There was a certain differentiation from other Episcopal churches in their idea of worship. There was a reality and a heartening to it and of a necessity a stronger emphasis on the sacramental principles and on doctrines of faith which found expression in symbolic forms in various ways. They were not in sympathy with the dullness of the other form of service. Theirs was the service of joyous expression of the Resurrection rather than emphasis on the atonement. That emphasis of the Resurrection was the background and there were other incidentals gathered around the fundamentals. The symbolism found emphasis in the richer expression of the altar and the flowers and the vested choir. This was the first church in Boston to have a vested choir.

"This provoked harsh criticism, and the bishop refused to make visitations, so that those who wished to become confirmed were obliged to go to other churches to have the rite conferred on them.

"The Church of the Advent had the privilege of beginning its days in unpopularity, and it was a privilege, for it solidified the parish. The parish became solidified in strength, courage of conviction, not only of the clergy, but also of the officers and people of the parish. Theirs was definite work along the lines of history, custom, and tradition, and tended to make the church more catholic than ever. The Episcopal Church was not a sect, but a Church with varying form of worship and ritual, and a Church with a broad conception of service, largeness, and charity."

HYMNS FOR CHILDREN

Last June a large Sunday school association in Greater Boston held a musical festival of Church Hymns in Norumbega Park. One thousand members of the various Sunday schools sang these hymns. In the additional hymns just announced for June 1920 I am interested in the fact that practically all of the hymns are from the hymnals of our Church.

The music committee has announced additional hymns for memory work, and invites parents to use these hymns in their homes during the coming winter, and so help the younger people in memorizing, and building around them an atmosphere of home associations. The complete list for the year 1919-1920 is as follows: Primary—"I think when I read that sweet story of old," "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Saviour, like a shepherd lead us," "O little town of Bethlehem." All other pupils—"The Son of God goes forth to war," "Joy to the world," "O God, beneath Thy guiding hand," "Come, Thou Almighty King," "How firm a foundation," "Now the day is over," "In the cross of Christ I glory," "Nearer, my God, to Thee." Additional for boys—"Stand up, stand up for Jesus." Additional for girls—"I love to tell the story."

GEORGE LONG, MISSION WORKER IN PHILADELPHIA, COLLAPSES

*Dying after Two Weeks' Illness —
Dedication of St. George's Mission—Campaign Mass Meetings
—Matriculation Service*

The Living Church News Bureau }
Philadelphia, December 8, 1919 }

GEORGE LONG, forty-two, nationally known as a mission worker and evangelist, rescuer of the "down-and-out" drug addicts and drunkards, and founder of the Inasmuch Mission, died on November 30th in his apartments in the mission building after a two weeks' illness. Himself a reformed drug addict and drunkard, he had sympathy and unflinching charity for others, similarly afflicted.

Death is attributed to a nervous collapse which necessitated his giving up all his evangelistic work and remaining in bed under medical treatment. His physical breakdown followed an evangelistic campaign in the James Evans Memorial Presbyterian Church, about two weeks ago. His friends and family, although he was known to be ill, had no premonition that this illness was to be his last.

Mr. Long is survived by his wife, who was Miss Edna Faulkner, of New York, whom he met while he was doing mission work in the old Jerry McAuley Mission, on New York's Bowery.

Burial services were held at the Mission on Thursday evening, December 4th, conducted by Bishop Rhinelander, the Rev. J. J. Moore, and the Rev. G. J. Walenta. Men of all walks of life were there, from the highest to the lowest, and many were the expressions of regret from former "down and outs" redeemed through Mr. Long. To accommodate the many not able to get in, Bishop Rhinelander announced that a memorial service will be held in one of the large churches of the city in the near future.

DEDICATION OF ST. GEORGE'S MISSION

As the culmination of eighteen years of effort on the part of the Rev. A. J. Arkin St. George's Mission (a description and picture of which appeared in a recent issue of THE LIVING CHURCH) was dedicated on Sunday, November 30th, by Bishop Rhinelander. The congregation, which completely filled the edifice, pledged its continued loyalty and support to the principles of sacrifice and service, of which the Church is an embodiment.

A class of forty-five children was confirmed by Bishop Rhinelander, who dedicated in turn the church building, the altar and sacred vessels, the font, the lectern, and the pulpit, almost all of these representing some form of sacrifice.

Taking as his text "Repent ye: for the Kingdom of God is at hand", Bishop Rhinelander said that God is always bending over His people. Men will reach Him by repenting, experiencing that change of heart which puts helpfulness alone as the motive for action.

CAMPAIGN MASS MEETINGS

At the close of the Nation-wide Campaign mass meeting at the Academy of Music, on November 19th, a lady went to President Bell, one of the speakers, and expressed her desire to give a scholarship of $500 to St. Stephen's College during the next academic year, to pay the entire fees of some young man, preferably from this diocese. The Bishop is asked to make the nomination of a proper man.

The second great mass meeting of the Campaign in this diocese was held on December 3rd, at the Metropolitan Opera House. High spiritual enthusiasm was a marked note. Mr. Reynolds D. Brown, chairman of the diocesan committee, presided. The speakers were Mr. George Wharton Pepper and Bishop Brent. A choir of several hundred voices led the singing.

MATRICULATION SERVICE

Nine students matriculated on November 19th, at the Philadelphia Divinity School. The Rev. George G. Bartlett, D.D., the Dean, presented the entrants, and Bishop Rhinelander made an address. Bishop Garland and the faculty were present in the chancel.

CHURCHWOMEN OPEN PROFITLESS CAFETERIA

Sixty employers, heads of shops and factories, attended on December 5th, an "inspection luncheon" in the cafeteria for working girls and women, opened in the Guild House of St. James' Church (Rev. John Mockridge, D.D., rector), on December 8th.

The cafeteria is the first "profitless luncheon" to be opened as such in Philadelphia. Its establishment is the result of a thorough survey made by Miss Jane S. Frey, social service worker of St. James' Church. Miss Frey found that there were no reasonable and attractive luncheon places in the section for the hundreds of working girls and women employed there, and the women of the church decided to open a profitless lunch room. They not only furnished the working capital, but they made most of its accessories with their own hands.

BROTHERHOOD ASSEMBLY

The annual meeting of the Philadelphia assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held in the Church of the Viour, West Philadelphia (Rev. Robert Johnston, rector), on Saturday afternoon and evening, November 29th. The Juniors occupied the programme for the afternoon, discussing the opportunity of the Junior the New Day, in his home, school, play, work, parish, and community. This was followed by evening prayer with an address by the rector, and at 5:30 the seniors conducted their annual business meeting, with the election of officers. After supper Franklin Spencer Edmonds led a conference on The Challenge of the New Day. Mr. Edmonds conducted a conference on this same subject at the recent Brotherhood convention at Detroit.

The men's corporate Communion on the First Sunday in Advent, St. Andrew's Day, was observed throughout the diocese with splendid attendance. EDWIN S. LANE.

CAMPAIGN DINNER HELD AT LA SALLE HOTEL, CHICAGO

On the Evening of December 1st — Speakers were Bishops Anderson and Wise and Mr. Lewis B. Franklin—Grace Church Development—Community House at Hinsdale

The Living Church News Bureau }
Chicago, December 8, 1919 }

As he rose to speak, and looked out over the great assemblage of 1,500 or 1,600 men and women crowded into the great banquet hall of the La Salle Hotel, Bishop Wise of Kansas paused and surveying the crowd exclaimed, "Some crowd, eh!" And it was a great crowd. Both of the banquet halls were filled, and after the dinner the tables were removed from the main banquet room. Chairs were brought in, and every guest was comfortably seated for the speeches of the evening.

Bishop Anderson spoke first. He apologized for doing this, remarking that he felt like the host who at the beginning of the meal carefully picked out the choice parts of the food for himself and gave his guests the remainder; then, as he said, having made his apology, he proceeded to take a big bite out of the apple. Bishop Anderson is always an impressive speaker, and he was at his best Monday night. He divided his subject into three heads: first the diocesan organization; second, the budget; third, the underlying purpose of the Campaign.

The first division gave him an opportunity to pay tribute to the splendid services done by Mr. George Gibson, diocesan chairman, the Rev. Earle H. Merriman, executive chairman, the Rev. Frank E. Wilson, chairman of the speakers' bureau, and others.

Under the second division he reviewed the sixteen divisions of diocesan need upon which the budget is passed. The first one of these sixteen needs is a living wage for the missionary clergy. "We propose," said the Bishop, "that every one of our missionary clergy shall receive at least a living wage. All in favor say 'Aye!' And there was an immediate roar of responsive 'Ayes'. That will cost you $15,000," cried the Bishop, and another storm of approval answered him.

On the third point the Bishop eloquently reviewed the contributions the Church has made to civilization, and brought a strong and clear indictment against the crass materialism which made the great war possible, and against the selfish paganism which threatens to engulf society.

Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, director of the every-member canvass, and treasurer of the newly organized National Council of the Church, was the next speaker. His were the eloquent words of a convinced and consecrated Churchman.

Bishop Wise had to catch a train, and spoke only a quarter of an hour, but he maintained his reputation as an episcopal Kansas cyclone. He spoke in behalf of the twelve million children who are receiving no religious education whatever.

The dinner was a huge success, and reflects great credit on those who planned it. The parishes and missions far out in the rural districts were well represented, and city and suburban parishes were there in force.

Mr. Charles W. Folds presided with his usual grace.

Your correspondent, who was unable to attend the dinner, because of his crippled condition, is indebted to the Rev. G. C. Stewart, D.D., for the foregoing report.

DEVELOPMENT OF GRACE CHURCH

Chicago Church people generally are very much interested in the restoration of Grace Church, which, with the carrying out of the Chicago Plan, will occupy a most strategic position. The rector, Dr. Waters, announces that the first step in the re-building programme has been taken this autumn by installing a fine steam heating plant for the parish house and chapel and making necessary permanent repairs. Plans for restoring church and chapel are ready for submission, and unless winter cold prevents, work on the piers for the columns and the re-inforced concrete floor will begin soon. The walls and tower of the old church, more solidly constructed fifty years ago than can be done to-day, are in prime condition, and will be retained. The interior will be changed and beautified by the erection of pillars and a clerestory, which will add dignity and flood the church with light.

The Chicago Plan Commission intends that the loop or business section be brought down to Twelfth street, or Roosevelt Road as it is now called, which is only three blocks north. The development of the Illinois Central properties, involving the expenditure of more than one hundred millions of dollars, will make this neighborhood the center of Chicago's hotel district.

GRACE CHURCH, HINSDALE

Not long ago we announced that the congregation of Grace Church, Hinsdale (Rev. L. C. Ferguson, rector), had acquired the property of the Presbyterian Church in the same village and is planning to make this property a community house, of which this actively growing suburb stands in immediate need. The rector in advising the people of Hinsdale of the plans of the congregation, now that they have possession of this valuable property, says that the whole programme is summed up in the one word "service".

"The Sunday school must have more room. In this village there is not one place for boys to congregate unless it be in a corner store or pool room. In this property we want to have a boys' club, with pool, billiards, good books, good pictures, and all the things which go along with a good boys' club. We are to have girls' organizations. In this village there is absolutely nothing for the working girls to do. We want to bring them all here, get them acquainted with each other, and give them a place where they can meet their young men friends and enjoy the evening with games, dancing, and amusement.

"Our Sunday evening club is of great importance to the village, and to the community life. Here on Sunday evening all people can meet and with an informal song service, hear some outsider give a fine address on a live topic of the day. All through the long months of the winter we are to carry on this Sunday night community meeting.

"Plans are being made to install an infant welfare station.

"We want to install a community nursery, with a reliable nurse, a place where women can bring their little ones and leave them while they go on a shopping tour.

"Then there is the Grace Church Guild Auxiliary, and this building will be their home.

"When the war closed, the American Red Cross and the United Charities had to give up their place of meeting in the public schoolhouse because the school needed the room. We offered them a place in our parish house and they are holding meetings there now. If the plan can be carried out I want them to have a permanent place of meeting in our parish house."

subscribers. A number of large subscriptions still to be reported. St. James', with about 100 reported, $4,000 for Nation-wide and parochial support about doubled. St. Mark's, 65 subscribers reported, $3,000. All Saints' Cathedral, 70 pledges give $2,600 as against $2,000 for local support, many new subscribers, many pledges of service, one for full time. Campaign methods well carried out and deemed great success. Kenosha assured of at least reaching its quota of $9,000 and also $11,000 for parochial support.

OREGON.—Twenty-five parishes and missions reporting out of forty-one in diocese report thirty-one per cent. of the grand total for the diocese pledged up to 6 P. M. Monday evening.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Up to 6 P. M. December 8th, on one year basis, 31 white and 3 colored churches report $86,862 subscribed. Remainder of the quota of $160,533 to be raised in first year confidently expected from remaining 70 white and 22 colored churches not yet reporting. Although pledges are made for only a single year it is understood that they will be renewed wherever possible for two following years.

VIRGINIA.—Quota of the diocese $270,000 per annum divided among 170 parishes. Incomplete returns from 84 parishes $164,000. Sixty-three parishes reported over the top already. Diocese as a whole will go well over the top.

WEST TEXAS.—The Bishop wires that all parishes and missions of diocese that have been canvassed went over the top, in some cases by several thousand dollars. Have had to postpone canvass of Corpus Christi and coast towns and parishes and missions without missionariae. Spirit of diocese is pentecostal and full of wonderful hope in place of disadvantages of flood and storm conditions. San Antonio parishes report fine response. St. Mark's, quota $8,559. reports pledges $10,500. Christ Church, quota $1,585, reports $1,300. St. Paul's, quota $473, reports $730. All report many prospects yet to be heard from.

SOUTHERN VIRGINIA.—Total quota including diocesan for three years about $670,000. Less than half parish reports in show $533,000 subscribed; estimated will reach $800,000 to $1,000,000.

MOBILIZATION POSTPONED.—The following dioceses postponed Mobilization Day until dates after January 1st: Michigan Iowa, Southern Ohio, Quincy, Dallas, Western Nebraska.

DEATH OF REV. J. H. YOUNG, D.D.

THE REV. JAMES HENRY YOUNG, D.D., Professor of Systematic Divinity in Seabury Divinity School, died suddenly of heart failure, on Tuesday, December 2nd. He had been in poor health for some months, and had been given leave of absence to seek change of climate, but an unexpected change in his condition made travel impossible.

Dr. Young was a man of solid scholarly attainments, a sound theologian, and a splendid teacher. His theology was of the best Anglican type. His knowledge was varied and valuable. He was especially well versed in natural science, and lectured on botany and astronomy to the students of the preparatory department of Seabury. He was a true mentor to his students; always keenly interested in their progress. Dr. Young's kind, gentle, and sympathetic disposition won for him many friends. His was a rare character, and his passing is a distinct loss to Seabury and to the Church.

James Henry Young was born in Fremont, Ohio, son of the Rev. Charles Huntington Young, in 1864. He was graduated from Kenyon College in 1887, and subsequently received the degrees of M.A. and D.D. from the same college. He studied divinity in Bexley Hall and the Philadelphia Divinity School, from which institution he was graduated in 1890. He was made deacon in 1891 and priest in 1892 by Bishop Leonard of Ohio.

Dr. Young's pastoral work was all done in his native state, where he held rectorates in Denison, Wyoming, Cincinnati, and Troy. In 1906 he became rector of Trinity Church, Tiffin, Ohio, and he held this rectorate until he went to the Seabury Divinity School, as instructor in divinity, in 1915, being made professor in 1918.

The funeral services, conducted by the Bishop of Minnesota and the members of the faculty of Seabury, were held in the Cathedral of Our Merciful Saviour, Faribault, Friday, December 5th. Interment was made in Maple Lawn cemetery.

ARKANSAS CONFERENCE ON RACIAL ADJUSTMENT

A LARGE GATHERING of white people and negroes attended the conference in Little Rock, Ark., on November 24th, which Governor Brough called to discuss problems of racial adjustment in the state. The morning session could not in any sense of the word be called a conference. It was a very large and tumultuous public meeting, held in the large reception room of the state capitol, at which more negroes were present than whites. People both white and black had got wind of the meeting and crowded into the capitol. Nothing was done but much was said. Bishop Winchester was present by special invitation, as were also the Roman Catholic Bishop of Little Rock and Jewish and Protestant ministers. Just when confusion became worst, and it seemed that the meeting was to become futile, Bishop Winchester suggested to Governor Brough that everybody join in the Lord's Prayer. This suggestion was received with vociferous applause, the Bishop afterward stating that this was the first time in his life that he had had a request for prayer to meet with an outburst of applause. This incident gave a new and entirely unexpected turn to the meeting, and did much to meliorate the remainder of the discussion.

Seeing that the morning session was entirely too large, Governor Brough announced that he would expect in the afternoon only those who had been specifically invited by letter. At this conference the sentiments of the morning were entirely laid aside, and the representatives of both races stood in the Governor's office while Bishop Winchester led in prayer for divine guidance. Bishop Winchester made a short address in which he stated the belief that if the races were to get along together there must be mutual confidence. He then outlined briefly the plan by which the Church cares for such matters through conferences of representatives of both races and suggested the adoption of a similar plan for the state. This met with instant and generous approval, and it was voted that the Governor be authorized to appoint a committee of 15, composed of seven leaders of each race, with the Governor himself as chairman, who should work together. Upon suggestion of Governor Brough the committee was enlarged to 17 members, eight from each race, with the Governor as chairman. To avoid all semblance of politics or political manipulation, the conference appointed one nominating committee from each group; and, before adjourning, Governor Brough formally and officially appointed the men whose names were suggested.

The representatives of the negroes were encouraged to mention matters which they felt should come before this committee, and many things were referred to it for consideration, such as a reform school for negro children, an agricultural college for negroes, and minor difficulties in connection with school matters. It was clearly demonstrated that the negroes have been the victims of an insidious propaganda to disturb good feeling.

Governor Brough was asked to call a conference of the governors of contiguous southern states to suggest similar action in their states. Thus these plans for racial adjustment bid fair to become the plans and methods of many southern states.

TRIENNIAL REPORT ON SOCIAL SERVICE

THE FIRST printing of the Third Triennial Report of the Joint Commission on Social Service, concerning which a notice was given in the Church press two or three weeks ago, is limited to two thousand copies, and more than three-fourths of these have thus far been distributed. If there is a sufficient demand, the Commission will be glad to consider a further edition of the report, which has already met with considerable favor in various quarters. One rector, in asking for additional copies for distribution among vestrymen and Brotherhood of St. Andrew members, writes: "Nothing could do more to give them a vision of the breadth and sanity of the Church's interest." Those who may desire copies, therefore, are urged to notify the Rev. F. M. Crouch, Executive Secretary, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City, at the earliest possible moment. Single copies will be sent free on application; larger quantities may be procured at fifty cents per copy, which is slightly less than the cost of publication.

DORMITORY BURNED

ON THE morning of December 1st the large dormitory building at Christ School, Garden, N. C., was completely destroyed by fire. No lives were lost, but the beautiful building and the equipment are an entire loss. Bedding, sheets, blankets, mattresses, etc., the accumulation of twenty years, were swept away. The fire began at 9:15 A. M., and all the pupils were in school. The cause is thought to have been a defective flue, as the third story burned first. There is an hourly inspection of the buildings, and the fire broke out only a few minutes after the 9 o'clock inspection. The fire spread rapidly, but the boys did brilliant service and saved the other buildings. The pupils are temporarily housed but mountain winters are bitterly cold, and Christ School cannot be carried on without a dormitory. The building was valued at $8,000, and there was $3,000 insurance.

DEDICATION OF TRINITY CHURCH, HOUSTON, TEXAS

THE NEW and beautiful church of Trinity Parish, Houston, Texas, was dedicated by Bishop Quinn on the Twentieth Sunday after Trinity. The building is of white sandstone, of gothic architecture erected under the supervision of Cram and Ferguson of Boston. Bishop Quinn preached and Bishop Aves assisted in the service. A beautiful altar cross, in memory of the Rev. R. E. L. Craig, a former rector, was also dedicated at this time. The story of Trinity parish is brief, yet full and interesting. In March, 1893, thirteen children were gathered together in the folk home for Sunday school instruction. The rector of Christ Church, the Rev. Henry D. Aves, encouraged and aided this work, of which his assistant, the Rev. Mr. W. W. Wynd, had especial oversight, and a room was found for its accommodation. The Rev. Henry Brown succeeded Mr. W. W. Wynd in 1896, his work being chiefly the care of Trinity and St. Mary's Missions. Mr. Brown continued until 1904, the mission becoming a parish, with him as its first rector, a small building being erected for the services. The Rev. Thomas J. Windham was rector from 1904 to 1909. The property was improved during this time, and the fine Christian spirit of its rector made an impression on the parish.

The turning point came with the arrival of the Rev. R. E. L. Craig, rector from February, 1910, to his death in August, 1916. During his incumbency the present splendid property was purchased, the little church building was removed, the rectory purchased, the grounds beautified, and the spiritual work developed and deepened.

In January, 1917, the Rev. Clinton S. Quinn became rector, and within a few months ground was broken for the new church and parish house. The organized work of the parish and the enthusiasm of its members under the example of its earnest, strenuous rector so commended itself to the diocesan council, meeting in the parish house in May 1918, that he was at that time elected Bishop Coadjutor. When Mr. Quinn was consecrated, in October, 1918, he was succeeded by the present rector, the Rev. Charles Clingman.

RICHARD HENRY NELSON, D.D., Bp. Anniversary at Schenectady

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, Schenectady, observed its 160th anniversary on the Sunday next before Advent and the two succeeding days by special services ending with a parish reception. The rector, the Rev. B. W. R. Tayler, D.D., preached two appropriate sermons. In the morning he spoke of its influence in the community through its continuous service and ministrations. In the evening the rector preached on the influence of the Church in the life of the nation, noting its great men of pre-revolutionary and post-revolutionary days. During the present rector's incumbency the parish has sent eight of its sons into the ministry and has three now preparing for

FOOT COMFORT ASSURED Brooklyn Man Solves the Problem

It is no longer necessary to suffer agonies that are caused by misfit shoes, for Mr. Simon, of Brooklyn, has proved that he can fit perfectly by mail. Simon's Ezwear shoes are built to give every possible foot comfort; they are soft and stylish and do not need breaking in. They fit like the proverbial old pair, the minute you wear them. Every pair is guaranteed to give satisfaction and to fit perfectly.

Mr. J. F. Simon will gladly send a free catalogue of over 500 styles of Ezwear shoes to all who write him, along with his scientific self-measuring blank. Write for your copy to-day, and give your feet their much-needed happiness. Address all communications to Mr. J. F. Simon, 1589 Broadway, Brooklyn, N. Y., and you will receive personal attention.

AN ARMY CHAPLAIN

What does he do in battle?

Information concerning this question and hundreds of others just as interesting is given in a book just off the press entitled "From Army Camps and Battlefields", by Captain-Chaplain Gustav Stearns. It contains 76 weekly letters fully illustrated from actual photographs of a chaplain's work at three battlefronts. The author was wounded by enemy shrapnel, but continued on duty. He was cited by General Pershing for gallantry in action. He preached to 4,000 wounded soldiers in one service, and buried over 50 fallen heroes in one day on the battlefield, under shellfire. The only book of its kind. Price $1.25. Postage, 10 cents.

Week of Prayer—Negro Convocation

CHRIST CHURCH, Little Rock (Rev. John Boden, rector), had an intensive week of prayer the last week of the Nation-wide Campaign. Prayer services were held daily in different homes.

THE FIRST negro convocation for Arkansas, held at St. Andrew's, Pine Bluff, on November 24th and 25th was eminently successful. Colored clergy came from various places in the Province, and topics of vital interest were discussed. The convocation was also successful financially, the offerings amounting to enough to pay expenses with an overplus of $20 for the Nation-wide Campaign.

Nation-wide Campaign—Retirement of Rev. C. A. Marks—Knights of Washington—The Diocesan Paper

THE NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN was most auspiciously started in St. Paul's parish, New Haven (Rev. Henry Swinton Harte, rector), by a month of Sundays at Church Campaign, beginning with Advent Sunday. The rector felt that something more definite was needed than the rather vague pledge of the Nation-wide Campaign to attend a service of worship weekly until Trinity 1920 unless conscientiously prevented. A stirring letter with a pledge card was addressed to the parishioners, and the parish as a whole has felt its effect. The attendance at morning service was one of the largest in years and again in the evening there was a large congregation. The every-member canvass is well under way and is now being completed. This canvass comprised a very careful visitation and census of the parish, over one hundred persons taking part.

A MEETING of the younger men of the New Haven parishes was held in St. Thomas' parish house, New Haven, on the 8th to consider a Nation-wide Campaign dinner for the younger men of the diocese some time near the end of the month.

IN THE recent retirement of the Rev. Charles A. Marks, rector of St. Matthew's parish, Wilton, after a rectorship of twelve years, the following interesting facts were brought to light: Mr. Marks had baptized one-fifth of those baptized since the organization of the parish in 1802, presented for confirmation one fourth of the total number confirmed, performed a little less than one half of the marriages, and buried one-fourth of those who had died during the century and more.

THE DECEMBER regimental meeting of the Knights of Washington, held in all Saints' parish house, New Haven, on the 8th inst., was a sort of belated farewell to the Rev. George Henry Heyn, lieutenant-general of the order, who has recently moved from New Haven to become rector of Trinity Church, Portland.

THE Connecticut Churchman, the diocesan paper, with the November issue comes out under a new staff of editors and with a forward policy aiming at a circulation of 5,000 copies. The Rev. C. Clark Kennedy assumes editorship, the Rev. Floyd S. Kenyon is managing editor, and there is an advisory board of five.

GEORGIA

F. F. REESE, D.D., Bishop

The Bishop—The Campaign

SINCE THE close of General Convention Bishop Reese has already gone twice to New York and once to Washington on important committee work. He has also attended a meeting of the board of regents of the University of the South, and has held conferences or preached in connection with the Nation-wide Campaign in most of the parishes and missions in the smaller towns.

DURING AN INTENSIVE WEEK in Christ Church, Savannah (Rev. John Durham Wing, D.D., rector), Holy Communion was celebrated daily and conferences were held in the afternoon. Similar services were held in St. John's Church (Rev. W. T. Dakin, rector), whose Sunday school presented the Campaign pageant. In St. Paul's Church (Rev. S. B. McGlothlin, rector), after a daily corporate Communion, there was a final meeting of instruction for canvassers among the men, and another for women. The every-member canvass in the Sunday school showed marked gain. In Christ Church, Frederica (Rev. D. Watson Winn, rector), the Campaign objectives have been three—to institute family prayers in every home, to bring the matter of holy orders before the young men, and to persuade the young women to give up the suggestive dances.

JOSEPH M. FRANCIS, D.D., Bishop

Dedication of Bedford Church

THE DEDICATION of St. John's Church, Bedford (Rev. A. Elliston Cole, rector), took place on Tuesday evening, November 5th, Bishop Francis officiating, a number of the diocesan clergy being present. The electric lights having failed, many candles added to the impressiveness of the service. A large parish reception followed.

On the following day, after Holy Communion, a service of devotion and instruction was conducted by the Bishop. The evening was given over to the Nation-wide Campaign, the Rev. Messrs. Holly and Burrows speaking.

St. John's Church was organized in 1906, and plans for a church building of Bedford tone were partly carried out within a short time. A few years later a stone rectory was added, and now a faithful and generous people worship in a completed temple.

Recent improvements involve an outlay of $12,000. There are many memorials, among them a number of windows, and a handsome stone altar and reredos, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dickinson.

A Chorister's Golden Jubilee

HIS GOLDEN JUBILEE as a chorister of St. Luke's Church, Baltimore, was recently celebrated by Mr. Frank S. Walsh. At a meeting of the vestry and congregation a set of hand-engraved resolutions was presented to him and he was given a purse of gold. St. Luke's choir is the oldest of its kind in Baltimore, and Mr. Walsh joined it as a small boy a few years after its organization.

NEBRASKA

ERNEST VINCENT SHAYLER, D.D., Bishop

Trinity Church, Norfolk

BISHOP SHAYLER confirmed his first class in the diocese at Trinity Church, Norfolk (Rev. J. E. Flockhart, rector), and at the same visit made an inspiring address to the newly organized men's club, about seventy-five gathering at the Commercial Club rooms. The club will meet monthly in these rooms until the parish house, for which the entire congregation is working, is built. The Bishop's talk stressed the Nation-wide Campaign, which has been fully organized in the parish for some time and is in full swing, with mass meetings and four-minute speakers. The Rev. George St. G. Tyner recently spoke in a crowded church on "The World Loses Its Vision". He said: "The devilishness of our civilization is creating a worse condition than the European war." Following this, the parochial committee held a meeting, enlisting the entire congregation in an every-member canvass.

PITTSBURGH

CORLIANT WHITEHEAD, D.D., LL.D., Bishop

Every-Member Service—The Campaign

TRINITY CHURCH, Pittsburgh, had an every-member service on the First Sunday of Advent, for which the clergy had been preparing during all November. In spite of stormy weather, the church was well filled, and there were more than three hundred communicants. A sermon by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Travers, on "A New Birth," was followed by a reconsecration of those present for the active life and work of the Church, they also assuming the obligation to observe the "Eighteen Weeks", an adaptation for local needs of the "Twenty Weeks" of Bishop Lawrence. A rather unique feature of the service was a roll call, conducted by means of printed slips and pencils in the pews, by means of which the rector discovered a large number desirous of being confirmed. Calvary Church, Pittsburgh, has also adopted the "Eighteen Weeks" plan.

THE LAST WEEK of the Nation-wide Campaign is being vigorously carried forward both at diocesan headquarters and throughout the parishes and missions.

RHODE ISLAND

JAMES DE WOLF PERRY, JR., D.D., Bp.

The Campaign

EVERY PARISH and mission in the diocese has been so occupied the last month with the Nation-wide Campaign that hardly anything else has been attempted. Great gatherings have been held in the larger parishes and much enthusiasm has been aroused. For the week preceding the canvass many devotional meetings have been held. Among the speakers from outside the diocese who made a deep impression was Mr. Lewis D. Franklin, the new treasurer of the Board of Missions. Many laymen have made effective four-minute speeches at the regular services on Sundays. If the Campaign does nothing else than develop this lay force it has been worth while. The visiting already done has developed in several places unexpected offers of invaluable service. An incredible amount of work has been done in a short time.

SOUTHERN OHIO

BOYD VINCENT, D.D., Bishop
THEO. I. REESE, D.D., Bp. Coadj.

The Campaign

SOUTHERN OHIO was one of the dioceses to postpone the Nation-wide Campaign and the educational and inspirational work began on December 7th. For two weeks training classes have been held in various parts of the diocese and a large number of lay workers, male and female, are ready to visit the various parishes and missions as four-minute speakers. This will continue until the diocesan convention, the last week in January. Then will come the financial campaign which will last one week. The Bishops have sent out a strong pastoral letter bearing upon the Campaign and calling upon every communicant for renewed consecration and greater effort. Last week regional conferences were held in Dayton, Columbus, Springfield, Cambridge, Portsmouth, and Cincinnati. At these conferences or training schools the four-minute speakers and other workers are recruited. Prayers were offered in all churches on December 7th for the success of the Campaign in other dioceses. The amount asked by the diocese as a result of the survey was considerably over a million dollars, but the cathedral chapter set the goal at $750,000.

surplus coal of the churches and schools has been requisitioned and taken to supply families who are without heat or even fuel to cook food. Street cars have been given up, business houses are being closed, stores are to be opened only for certain hours, and factories closed down. What little coal there is to be had is being used to keep the water plants running and electric light plants for certain hours. Families are doubling up and there is already great suffering among the poor people. Hospitals and public institutions harboring thousands of unfortunates, I am told, have less than two weeks' coal supply.

THE VESTRY of St. Paul's Church, Carlinville, have decided to carry out many needed improvements. In the spring the church will be done over in stucco, the basement decorated, and both church and rectory respouted. The rectory will be re-shingled and painted. The Woman's guild has placed an order for a pipe organ to cost $2,000, and has formed itself into a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. The junior guild has also been reorganized.

SACRAMENTO

W. H. MORELAND, D.D., Bishop
The Nation-wide Campaign

THE EVERY-MEMBER CANVASS has been postponed to January 18th in order to give further time to preparation. The Rev. Barr G. Lee, secretary of the diocesan committee, sends in a most encouraging report of progress. Bishop Moreland has been visiting some of the leading parishes, stirring and stimulating everyone by his powerful addresses. At Susanville and Benicia the campaign was given freshened interest. Benicia planned a parish dinner to launch the Campaign, but all plans there have been suspended for several weeks on account of a diphtheria quarantine. At Marysville the Bishop found excellent progress. Woodland and Galt were reached on a Sunday, and although St. Luke's at Woodland was a little slow, for local reasons, it is certain that the leading laymen there will do their part. Galt is wide awake. Vallejo gave Bishop Moreland a rousing reception and will give a good account of itself. Bishop Moreland found a splendid parochial committee at Napa and the Campaign thoroughly organized. Petaluma was found with four-minute speakers, well organized by its leading women and the men just organizing for work. St. Luke's at Auburn is one of the most enthusiastic and well advanced points, with four-minute speakers active on Sundays.

Wheatland will go over the top without fail. Ukiah gave Bishop Moreland a particularly enthusiastic reception and the expectation there is not only to wipe out local debts and pay all apportionments, but raise the Nation-wide quota as well. At Fort Bragg on November 23rd the church was crowded all day, the Bishop confirming twelve high school boys and instructing the people in the Nation-wide Campaign.

TEXAS

GEO. H. KINSOLVING, D.D., Bishop
CLINTON S. QUIN, Bp. Coadj.

The Nation-wide Campaign—Teaching Mission at Lufkin

CAMPAIGN CONFERENCES have been held in all the parishes and missions, and several diocesan conferences have occurred at central points, two at Houston and one at Austin. At Houston, the apportionment for the Campaign was unanimously adopted. It amounted to $156,000 for the three years, to which was added an estimated budget of $100,000 for diocesan missions, a total of $256,000 exclusive of regular diocesan expenses which amount to $13,600 this year. Local expenses and projects bring the total to nearly $400,000 to be raised in three years without outside help.

BISHOP QUIN recently conducted a teaching mission in St. Cyprian's Church, Lufkin, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Pettit. There was a daily Eucharist, a mission for children in the afternoon, and a mission for adults at night. One hundred and twenty-three crosses were awarded to as many children for perfect attendance, and it is estimated that at least one third of the total population of the town was reached in some way by the mission.

LATE SUMMARY FROM DR. PATTON

DR. PATTON wires from New York on Tuesday: Figures from North Carolina, Atlanta, West Texas and Oregon all indicate such success to date as will carry them over the top. Some reports from South coming over wire are almost too good to be true. Southern Virginia with $270,000 quota for general Church reports $533,000 subscribed, with one-fourth of diocese still to hear from. Fine reports from Maryland, Virginia, East Carolina, where quotas seem to be over-subscribed. Tell Milwaukee we are counting on them to make good and not let the South beat them. The above are all from which definite report has come so far.
